Save Our Homes

As provided in Section 193.155(1), F.S., beginning in 1995, or the year after the property receives homestead exemption, an annual increase in assessment shall not exceed the lower of the following:

- a. Three percent of the assessed value of the property for the prior year; or
- b. The percentage change in the Consumer Price Index (CPI) for all urban consumers, U.S. city average, all items 1967 = 100 or successor reports* for the preceding calendar year as initially reported by the U.S. Department of Labor, Bureau of Labor Statistics.

The current successor report is the 1982 - 84 = 100 current series.

The CPI change amounts given in the chart at right are from the year prior to the year listed.

* The percentage changes shown are rounded to the nearest tenth of a percent. The income limitation amounts are based on the unrounded CPI data.

Two Additional Homestead Exemptions for Persons 65 and Older

Some county or city governments have adopted local ordinances, under Section 6(d) of Article VII of the Florida Constitution, and Section 196.075, Florida Statutes, allowing one or both of the additional homestead exemptions described below. Contact your local property appraiser for information on any ordinances passed in your county. These exemptions only apply to the tax millage a county or city levies when it adopts a local ordinance, and do not apply to the millage of school districts or other taxing units:

- An exemption not exceeding $50,000 to any person who has the legal or equitable title to real estate, maintains permanent residence on the property, is 65 or older, and whose household income does not exceed the household income limitation; or
- An exemption equal to the assessed value of the property to an owner who has title to real estate in Florida with a just value less than $250,000, has maintained permanent residence on the property for at least 25 years, is 65 or older and whose household income does not exceed the household income limitation.

The household income limitation shown in the chart to the right is adjusted each year on January 1, according to changes in the consumer price index (CPI).
