HANDBOOK FOR NEW JERSEY ASSESSORS

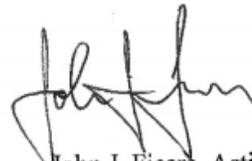

For nearly half a century, the Handbook for New Jersey Assessors has been an essential tool for New Jersey assessors to use on a daily basis. Once again, I am pleased to provide the annual update of the 2012 edition of the Handbook. New information has been included, such as statutory changes to disabled veteran exemptions and veterans deductions.

The Assessors' Handbook supplements the Real Property Appraisal Manual for New Jersey Assessors and New Jersey statutory law found primarily in Titles 54 and 40A. This material was edited and reviewed by Susan Dobay with the capable assistance of all units of the Property Administration/Local Property Section. For your convenience, this Handbook is available at the Division of Taxation's website for researching or printing at:

<https://www.state.nj.us/treasury/taxation/pdf/assessorshandbook.pdf>

As you know, property taxes continue to be a significant concern to the citizens of New Jersey. The statutory responsibility to fairly apportion the burden of property taxation remains of great importance to administrators, residents and business owners alike. This ready reference guide helps assessors and others cope with the many questions and problems they face in the daily discharge of their duties. It also continues to serve as a basic textbook for the training courses in property tax administration offered through Rutgers University, Center for Government Services.

I urge all New Jersey assessors and citizens to take advantage of the information contained in this book so that, in the interest of transparency to the taxpayers of this State, the laws are followed in a uniform manner to better serve the interests of all property owners in New Jersey.

Chapter 1 Introduction

101. Local Government in New Jersey.

101.01 Four Types of Local Government Units.

The basic units of local government in New Jersey are the county, municipality, school district, and special district.

101.02 County Government.

A number of counties in New Jersey date back to colonial times and were initially agents for the English monarchy. The original counties were subdivided periodically until Union, the last of the present 21 counties, was created by the State Legislature in 1857.

101.03 Classification of Counties.

For purposes of general legislation, counties are divided into six classes by population and geographic location:

Class	Population	Location
First	Over 550,000 and density of more than 3,000 persons per square mile	Any part of State
Second	Over 200,000	Not bordering on Atlantic Ocean
Third	50,000 to 200,000	Not bordering on Atlantic Ocean
Fourth	Under 50,000	Not bordering on Atlantic Ocean
Fifth	Over 125,000	Bordering on Atlantic Ocean
Sixth	125,000 or less	Bordering on Atlantic Ocean

The counties of New Jersey are classified as follows:

First:	Bergen, Essex, Hudson
Second:	Burlington, Camden, Gloucester, Mercer, Middlesex, Morris, Passaic, Somerset, Union
Third:	Cumberland, Hunterdon, Salem, Sussex, Warren
Fourth:	None
Fifth:	Atlantic, Monmouth, Ocean
Sixth:	Cape May

101.04 Apportionment of County Costs.

The revenue for county government comes from taxes on real and personal property. The amount to be raised for a county's budget is apportioned among the municipalities of the county based on the equalized value of real property and certain locally assessed personal property in each municipality.

101.05 Municipal Government.

Many municipalities of New Jersey also had their origins in the colonial period and are organized similar to their English counterparts. A few of the oldest communities in the State have special charters. Most municipalities today are organized as prescribed by State law. Unlike many western states, the entire area of New Jersey, except for the U.S. military reservation at Sandy Hook, is within the boundaries of an incorporated municipality. In New Jersey, the municipality is the "taxing district" for purposes of property taxation and the terms "municipality" and "taxing district" are often used interchangeably.

101.06 Classification of Municipalities.

New Jersey municipalities are classified in two ways: type of municipality and form of government.

101.07 Five Types of Municipalities.

Type is the name by which the municipality is commonly known. There are five types of municipality: city, town, borough, township, and village. Towns, boroughs, townships, and villages may be located in any part of the State with any population. Cities, by law, are further divided into four classes based on population and geographic location:

Class	Population	Location
First	Over 150,000	Not bordering on Atlantic Ocean
Second	12,000 to 150,000	Not bordering on Atlantic Ocean
Third	All cities not 1 st or 2 nd class	Not bordering on Atlantic Ocean
Fourth	Any population	Bordering on Atlantic Ocean

101.08 Forms of Municipal Government.

A number of forms of municipal government are prescribed by State law. Their organizational name frequently coincides with their municipal type. For example, most boroughs operate under the borough form of government and most townships under the township form. There are also optional forms of government organization which may be adopted by any type of municipality. For instance, the City of Newark operates under a mayor-council form, the Township of Teaneck under the council-manager form, and the Borough of Belmar under the commission form.

101.09 School Districts.

School districts were established in New Jersey during the nineteenth century when public education became the responsibility of government. Most school districts cover the same area as the municipality. However, State law provides for districts covering two or more municipalities and for regional districts. There are currently more than 600 school districts in New Jersey; approximately 61 of these are regional districts.

101.10 Classification of School Districts.

Most New Jersey school districts are either Type I or II.

1. In Type I (formerly Chapter 6, Title 18 of Revised Statutes) or “city” school districts, members of the board of education are appointed by the mayor or other Chief Executive Officer of the municipality. The school budget is prepared by the board of education and approved by the board of school estimate which consists of the mayor or Chief Executive Officer, two members of the board of education, and two members of the municipal governing body.

2. a. In Type II (formerly Chapter 7, Title 18 of Revised Statutes) or “non-city” school districts, members of the board of education are elected and the school budget is submitted to the voters for approval.

b. In consolidated and regional school districts, both all-purpose and limited purpose, membership on the board of education is apportioned among the participating districts according to population. Board members are elected and the school budget must be approved by the voters.
3. State-operated school districts conducted by a State district superintendent were authorized by statutory amendments in 1987.
4. A charter school* is a public school operated under a charter granted by the commissioner of the Department of Education (DOE), which is operated independently of a local board of education and is managed by a board of trustees. The board of trustees, upon receiving a charter from the commissioner, is considered to be a public agent authorized by the State Board of Education to supervise and control the charter school. See also section titled Local Government Property- County, Municipal and School District Property in this handbook.

*Some resources have defined charter schools as a hybrid public-private entity.

101.11 Apportionment of Regional School District Costs.

The annual or special appropriations for regional districts, including the amounts to be raised for interest upon, and the redemption of, bonds payable by the district, shall be apportioned among the municipalities included within the regional district, as may be approved by the voters of each municipality at the annual school election or a special school election, upon the basis of:

- a. the portion of each municipality's equalized valuation allocated to the regional district, calculated as described in the definition of equalized valuation in section 3 of P.L.2007, c. 260 (N.J.S.A. 18A:7F-45)*;
- b. the proportional number of pupils enrolled from each municipality on the 15th day of October of the pre-budget year in the same manner as would apply if each municipality comprised separate constituent school districts; or
- c. any combination of apportionment based upon equalized valuations pursuant to subsection a. of this section or pupil enrollments pursuant to subsection b. of this section.

*"Equalized valuation" means the equalized valuation of the taxing district or taxing districts, as certified by the Director of the Division of Taxation on October 1, or subsequently revised by the Tax Court by January 15 of the pre-budget year. With respect to regional districts and their constituent districts, however, the equalized valuations as described above shall be allocated among the regional and constituent districts in proportion to the number of pupils resident in each of them. In the event that the Equalized Table certified by the Director shall be revised by the Tax Court after January 15 of the pre-budget year, the revised valuations shall be used in the recomputation of aid for an individual school district filing an appeal, but shall have no effect upon the calculation of the property value rate, Statewide average equalized school tax rate, or Statewide equalized total tax rate.

101.12 Special Districts.

New Jersey laws authorize special districts to provide specific government services such as fire protection to portions of a municipality. The voters may be empowered to elect a governing body for the special district and approve the levying of a property tax to finance the costs of these services. Or the tax may be determined by the municipal governing body. Some special districts permit only special improvement assessments or taxes to cover the initial cost of installing facilities. Where property taxes for annual operating costs are authorized, they are based on the assessed valuation of taxable property in that portion of the municipality receiving the services. In 1990, individual statutes allowing for the creation of street lighting districts, sewerage districts, garbage districts and road districts etc. were repealed and consolidated under one or two statutes providing for their authorization generally.

101.13 Powers of Counties, Municipalities, School Districts, and Special Districts.

Counties, municipalities, school districts, and special districts of New Jersey are known as “creatures of the State,” that is, they have been created by the State Legislature and granted legal powers by State law. The State, at any time, may create new or abolish existing counties, municipalities, school districts, and special districts, or may alter their powers. Local government units and officers may perform only those activities and only within the limits authorized by State law or special charter.

102. Local Government Finances.

102.01 Sources of Local Revenue in the United States.

Traditionally, the general property tax has been the major revenue source for operating local governments throughout the United States. While still true, in recent decades the property tax has declined in importance nationwide as other local revenue sources have developed. These include municipal sales and income taxes; gross receipt taxes; charges for services, such as garbage collection and sewage disposal; licenses, fees, and permits; parking receipts; and aid, sometimes called “revenue sharing,” from county, state and federal governments.

103. Sources of Local Revenue in New Jersey.

The property tax has remained the mainstay of local finance in New Jersey. Few states exceed New Jersey in the reliance placed upon the property tax. Property tax revenue supports local government services for New Jersey residents, such as the public school system; municipal police and fire departments; emergency services; trash and snow removal; libraries; senior services; and many other local services. Some local governments also impose limited user fees for specific services, such as, special event parking surcharges and admissions surcharges for amusements to fund essential municipal services. In 2020, $8,713,906,508 was collected for local municipal purposes. The total amount collected for 2019 was $8,470,645,866 and in 2018 it was $8,290,914,566.

103.01 New Jersey Property Tax Procedure.

The steps in determining the tax on each property may be summarized as follows:

1. On or before January 10 of the tax year, each assessor files with the County Board of Taxation the Tax List (real property, personal property and exempt property) and Tax List Duplicate showing the assessed value of each property in the taxing district. Value is determined as of October 1 of the preceding year for real property and January 1 of the preceding year for certain locally assessed personal property.
2. Early in the calendar year, the municipal and county governing bodies and the local boards of education make up their respective budgets. Anticipated revenue from various sources is deducted from the budget amounts required. The amount remaining to be raised by a levy on real and personal property is reported to the County Board of Taxation.
3. Each County Tax Board apportions the amount to be raised by property taxes to support county government among the taxing districts in the county, adds to the respective county portion the amounts needed from property taxes to finance the municipal government and the school district, and divides the total levy by the assessed value of all taxable property to establish the local tax rate.
4. The tax rates are reported to the municipality which collects the property tax for the county, the school district, and itself.
5. If there are special district costs, the special district governing body reports the amount needed to the assessor, who calculates the tax rate for this purpose by dividing the amount to be raised by the total value of taxable property in the special district. This rate is applied to the properties in the special district.

6. The appropriate tax rate is multiplied by the assessment on each property to determine the taxes due for the current year for each property owner.

104. Legislative Limit on Municipal and County Budget Increases.

In an effort to curb the rising costs of county and local governments, laws limiting spending were enacted by the Legislature. It was recognized, however, that these governments could not be so constrained as to make it impossible to provide services to residents.

104.01 Municipal “Budget Caps.”

In the preparation of its budget, a municipality must limit any increase in said budget to 2.5% or the cost-of-living adjustment, whichever is less, over the previous year's final appropriations subject, in part, to the following exceptions:

1. Capital expenditures (See N.J.S.A. 40A:2.21 and 40A:2-22 for bondable requirements);
2. An increase due to an emergency situation (See N.J.S.A. 40A:4-20 and 40A:4-46), if approved by at least two-thirds of the governing body and the Director, Division of Local Government Services, not to exceed 3% of the previous year's final current operating appropriations;
3. All debt service;
4. Amounts, as approved, required for funding a preceding year's deficit;
5. Amounts reserved for uncollected taxes;

6. Amounts from new or increased construction, housing, health or fire safety inspection service fees imposed by State law, rule, regulation or local ordinance;
7. Amounts approved by referenda;
8. Amounts to fund free public libraries (See R.S. 40:54-1 through 40:54-29) and privately owned libraries and reading rooms (See R.S. 40:54-35);
9. Amounts for projects, facilities or public improvements for water, sewerage, parking, senior citizen housing;
10. Amounts for expenditures resulting from the impacts of a hazardous waste facility as per P.L. 1981, c. 279;
11. Amounts mandated due to natural disaster, civil disturbance or other emergency so declared by the U.S. President or the Governor;
12. Amounts mandated by court order, federal or State statute, or by order of a State agency as certified to the Local Finance Board;
13. Amounts for staffing and operating municipal courts;
14. Amounts for administering a joint insurance fund;
15. Amounts for implementing and maintaining a total property tax levy sale pursuant to P.L. 1997, c. 99.

Certification by Assessors.

• Forms CNC-1 and 2

All municipal assessors must provide to their County Tax Board by January 10 on Forms CNC-1 (Certification New Construction/ Improvements/ Partial Assessment) and CNC-2 (Itemized Breakdown Listing/ Supplement to Form CNC-1) the assessed value of new construction and improvements, the local municipal purpose rate, and the allowable increase to the budget cap for their municipality. This information may be abstracted from the Added Assessment List for the previous year. Also to be included are partial assessments on the current year's Tax List for new construction not included in the prior year's Added Assessment List. The certification should be made by January 10 in the tax year, and should not include values of properties transferred from exempt to taxable status, nor Omitted-Added Assessments for a prior year.

- Form CNC-3

Municipal assessors with fire districts in their municipalities must, prior to October 25th of the tax year, complete their portion of the CNC-3 Form, Certification of New Construction, Improvements and Partial Assessments in Fire Districts. This form is used to determine the value of new ratables for a fire district so the levy cap for the next tax year can be calculated. N.J.S.A. 40A:4-45.44 et seq. provides for a statutory exception to the budget cap imposed on fire districts. It uses, in part, the revenue generated by new construction and improvements in a fire district which were not reflected in the prior year's Tax List. N.J.S.A. 40A:4-45.45 provides that the fire district budget may not exceed the sum of: 1) new ratables; 2) the adjusted tax levy; and 3) the total waivers approved via referendum pursuant to N.J.S.A. 40A:4-45.46.

The assessor completes Lines 1 through 2c, provides the date and his or her signature, retains a copy of each form and then forwards the original CNC-3 forms to the municipal tax collector. The tax collector forwards one copy to the board of commissioners of the designated fire district and one copy of each fire district form to the Director, Division of Local Government Services, by November 1 of the current tax year.

If there are no added assessments, partial assessments, or new construction to report, assessors and collectors are still required to file this form entering the word "NONE" across the front of the form and dating and signing it.

The County Tax Administrator is not included in the Certification of New Construction for fire districts.

104.03 County “Budget Caps.”

In the preparation of its budget, a county may not increase the county tax levy to be apportioned among its constituent municipalities in excess of 2.5% or the cost-of-living adjustment, whichever is less, of the previous year's county tax levy, subject to the following exceptions:

1. The revenue amount generated by the increase in valuations in the county based on applying the preceding year's county tax rate to the apportionment valuation of new construction or improvements;
2. Capital expenditures, (See N.J.S.A. 40A:2-21 and 40A:2-22 for bondable requirements);
3. An increase due to an emergency (See N.J.S.A. 40A:4-20 and 40A:4-46), if approved by at least two-thirds of the governing body and the Director, Division of Local Government Services, not to exceed 3% of the previous year's final current operating appropriations;
4. All debt service;
5. Amounts for projects, facilities or public improvements for water, sewerage, parking, senior citizen housing;
6. Amounts mandated due to natural disaster, civil disturbance or other emergency as declared by the U.S. President or the Governor;
7. Amounts mandated by court order, federal or State statute, or by order of a State agency as certified to the Local Finance Board;
8. Funding to a county college in excess of the county tax levy required to fund the college in local budget year 1992;
9. Amounts appropriated for the cost of administering a joint insurance fund.

104.04 Certification by County Tax Administrators.

County Tax Administrators must review and correct Forms CNC-1 and 2 filed by the assessors and certify to their Chief Financial Officers and the Director of Local Government Services by January 31 the apportionment assessed valuation of all new construction or improvements in the county multiplied by the preceding year's county tax rate. This information may be abstracted from the aggregate of all Added Assessment Lists filed the previous year. Certification may also be included for partial assessments on the current year's Tax Lists for new construction not included in the prior year's Added Assessment List. This will help determine a portion of the amount excluded from a county's 2.5% Budget "CAP."

County Tax Administrators must also provide the aggregate equalized value of added and new construction ratables for all municipalities in the county multiplied by the prior year's county tax rate to their Chief County Financial officers by January 31. Certification of new construction for fire districts is not required by County Tax Administrators. Certification should also not include values of properties transferred from exempt to taxable status, nor amounts for Omitted-Added Assessments for a prior year.

104.05 Tax Levy Caps.

In preparation of an annual budget, no local unit, including municipalities, counties, fire districts, and existing solid waste collection districts with a tax rate of more than $.10 (ten cents) may increase the tax levy above 2% of the previous year's with the following exceptions:

1. Capital expenditure increases
2. Debt service increases
3. Emergencies – weather and “declared” emergencies
4. Pensions and health benefits

Regulations for these caps are administered by the Department of Community Affairs, Division of Local Government Services, Local Finance Board. Any questions about budget caps or tax levy caps should be directed to that agency.

105. The Position of Assessor.

105.01 General.

The assessor occupies a unique position within the framework of local government. Assessors, though selected and appointed by municipal officials, are public officers whose duties are imposed by and defined in State law. When assessing property for taxation, the assessor performs a governmental function as an agent of the Legislature. The position of assessor takes on a judicial quality in determining taxability and assessments of property. In discharging these duties, an assessor is not subject to the control of a municipality. The intent is that assessors, like judges, should be free to perform their duties without fear of local retaliation and should be immune from pressure and harassment. However, the assessor is subject to certain local requirements and to supervision at both the County and State levels of government.

105.02 Code of Ethics and Professional Behavior for Assessors.

The New Jersey Administrative Code referring to the Assessor Qualification, Examination and Tenure Act, contains the following statement concerning an assessor's actions:

"It should be noted that, for the assessor himself, professionalization carries with it both benefits and responsibilities. Municipal governing bodies should recognize the right of an assessor to be adequately compensated for his professional responsibilities. At the same time, an assessor must recognize the need to perform competently, diligently, and in conformity with the professional ethics that reasonably accompany his professional status. In observing professional ethics, the assessor must have in mind not only the avoidance of activities which will obviously and presently involve a conflict with his ethical official duties, but also the probability or possibility that such a situation will develop..."

The Association of Municipal Assessors of New Jersey has adopted the Code of Ethics published by the International Association of Assessing Officers for assessors affiliated with the New Jersey Association.

105.03 Only One Assessor Position is Authorized for Each Municipality.

New Jersey law currently authorizes only one position of assessor for each municipality. In the past, either a single assessor or a board of assessors was permissible. However, in 1982 boards of assessors were eliminated and the former secretary of each board or the individual having primary responsibility for the assessment function in each municipality was named assessor. Other members of the former boards of assessors were designated deputy assessors.

105.04 Assessment - Pilot Programs.

Gloucester County Assessor Pilot Program.

("Property Tax Assessment Reform Act" P.L. 2009, c. 118, approved August 18, 2009.)

Chapter 118, Public Law 2009 established the Gloucester County Assessor Pilot Program which transferred, over three years, municipal property assessment to the county. A full-time County Assessor was appointed by county government for a five-year term and is assisted by Deputy County Assessors. The positions of Municipal and Deputy Assessor and County Tax Administrator were eliminated. The pilot county is considered a taxing district for property assessment purposes.

The County Assessor is responsible to the county governing body for efficiencies of office and determines employment jurisdictions and directs the work of County Deputy Assessors. The County Assessor is also responsible for ensuring compliance with standards for staffing and equipping offices; for reviewing, revising and correcting Assessment Lists and for their public posting; for monitoring and correcting revaluations/reassessments and apprising the County Tax Board of their status; for preparing tables of aggregates and for equalization; for providing technical and professional assistance; and for any other task necessary to ensure the process of property valuation within the pilot county.

Chapter 118 authorized a Commission to study the structure, function, fiscal relationship and services delivery among the various levels of local government. The Commission was to report its findings to the Governor, Senate President and Assembly Speaker within three years. However, the results of the County Pilot Program were reported on within six years. Administrative code regulations at N.J.A.C. 18:17A were readopted and extended to September 7, 2024.

Real Property Assessment Demonstration Program.

P.L. 2013, C. 15 approved February 4, 2013. (Monmouth County)

Chapter 15, Public Law 2013 authorized a Real Property Assessment Demonstration Program which sought to create a more cost-effective, accurate process of property valuation through the county-wide uniform use of technology, and changes to the annual assessment calendar as it relates to municipal budgeting and tax appeals.

A participating county must meet strict criteria as to its municipal assessors' approval by vote of the program, its ability to finance program costs including computerization, and to provide the Director, Division of Local Government Services, Department of Community Affairs (DCA, DLGS) and the Director, Division of Taxation, its plan to implement the Demonstration Program, not less than 60 days prior to October 1.

Not more than four counties may participate in the Demonstration Program. Assessors in Demonstration Counties are required to take an additional 10 credit hours of continuing education courses pertaining to assessment function in the Demonstration County. Assessors who fail to satisfy this requirement will be barred from working in the Demonstration County.

P.L. 2017, c.306, signed into law on January 16, 2018, enabled Gloucester County to adopt the calendar used in Monmouth County as part of its Pilot Program.

P.L. 2018, c.94, approved August 17, 2018, expanded the number of counties which could utilize the alternate assessment calendar. Counties adopting the alternate calendar are not required to participate in the Assessment Demonstration Program as applied in Monmouth County's Pilot Program.

Three counties are now using the alternate calendar: Monmouth, Gloucester, and Burlington.

105.07 Office of Assessor an Appointed Position.

Assessor appointments are usually made by the local governing body or chief executive officer of the municipality. However, by law, if no qualified person holds office of assessor on October 1, the Governor is to notify the mayor or other chief executive officer of the governing body that 10 days after service of notice he/she will appoint an assessor. If, after 10 days, the vacancy still exists, the Governor is authorized to appoint an assessor to perform the duties of office.

105.08 Length of Term of Office and Filling Vacancies.

All assessors, including deputy assessors, are appointed for four-year terms of office beginning July 1 following their selection. For example: A term which began July 1, 2016, would end on June 30, 2020. Where a vacancy occurs in the office of assessor, other than at the expiration of a term, the vacancy is filled by appointment for the unexpired portion of the term.

Expired Term Example:

A tenured retiring assessor leaves office at the end of his/her four-year term on June 30, 2016. On July 1, 2016, the position is vacant and a new assessor is not hired until September 15, 2016. Even though a new assessor is employed by the municipality on September 15, 2016, he/she must be appointed until June 30, 2017, AND from July 1, 2017, continuing through June 30, 2021. If reappointed to a second four-year term commencing July 1, 2021, tenure would be obtained. Terms of less than four years only occur when filling unexpired terms.

Unexpired Term Example:

A non-tenured assessor is hired for a four-year term beginning July 1, 2013, through June 30, 2017, but dies in office on April 20, 2015. A new assessor is appointed May 15, 2015, and completes the deceased assessor's term, which ends June 30, 2017. His/her first full four-year term begins July 1, 2017, and ends June 30, 2021. If reappointed to a second four-year term beginning July 1, 2021, the assessor would obtain tenure.

105.10 Multiple Assessor Positions and Residency.

Recent law provides that a municipal assessor may be appointed in more than one taxing district, as long as the multiple appointments do not interfere with the proper discharge of statutory duties, nor conflict with obligations to the respective municipalities in which he/she serves. Earlier statute provided that a taxing district, by resolution or ordinance, may have required its officers or employees appointed after June 30, 1978, to be domiciliary residents of the municipality. However, such an ordinance or resolution must have included a provision that whenever the governing body or hiring authority determined special skills for certain positions were not likely to be found among residents of the municipality, then the residency requirements did not apply. The taxing district then advertised for other qualified applicants, and considered and appointed applicants in the following order: (1) residents of the county in which the municipality was located; (2) residents of counties contiguous to the county in which the municipality was located; (3) other residents of the State; (4) all other applicants.

The New Jersey First Act, approved May 17, 2011, effective the first day of the fourth month after enactment, makes legal domicile in New Jersey a requirement for government employment for hirees after the Act's effective date.

105.11 Compensation.

The assessor's salary, as well as funds to operate the office, are determined by municipal officials and provided for in the municipal budget. An assessor's salary may be increased, decreased or altered but may not be reduced during his/her term of office. The compensation of an assessor appointed in more than one municipality is not to be reduced due to the multiple appointments. Also, increases in compensation are not to be denied any individual because of service in more than one municipality.

105.12 Tax Assessor Certification Program.

Realizing New Jersey's property tax was a major source of local revenue, was likely to remain important in the foreseeable future, and that competent, equitable administration and levying of the property tax required the original assessment be made by a well-qualified individual, the Legislature passed a tax assessor qualification, examination and tenure law. Possession of a valid Tax Assessor Certificate is, in effect, a license to practice as an assessor in New Jersey.

105.13 Administration of the Certification Program.

The Director of the Division of Taxation is responsible for the tax assessor certification program. The Director, through Property Administration, reviews all applications for admission to assessor certification exams, and admits only those persons qualified in accordance with the law.

105.23 Standardized Classifications for Assessing Position.

Standardized classifications (titles) have been established by the Department of Personnel for positions in a municipal assessor's office under the Civil Service System. For each title classification, a job specification defines the position, gives examples of work, and states the minimum requirements applicants must meet. Job specifications may be obtained from the New Jersey Department of Personnel. <https://www.nj.gov/csc/seekers/about/categories/pdf/professional/OG05.pdf> <https://info.csc.state.nj.us/TitleList/TitleSearch.aspx>

105.24 Classification.

Each position in a municipality is examined and assigned to either the classified or unclassified service.

1. Unclassified service includes positions filled by election and appointment such as department heads. The office of municipal tax assessor is in the unclassified services.
2. Classified service includes competitive and non-competitive positions. Competitive positions are those for which the Merit System Board considers testing appropriate to determine the qualifications of applicants. Most positions in an assessor's office fall within this category. Non-competitive positions include those which are difficult to fill, such as janitorial or service occupations.

105.25 Other Personnel Services.

In addition to classifying assessing positions, the Department of Personnel conducts examinations, certifies job applicants, and enforces the laws and regulations in municipalities operating under the Civil Service System.

105.26 Removal Under Civil Service.

Once an employee satisfactorily completes a probationary period and obtains permanent status under Civil Service, he/she may be removed if incompetent, insubordinate, unfit for duty, a hazard to other employees or public services, charged with a crime of the first, second, third or fourth degree when job related, guilty of misconduct or other sufficient cause. The employee must be notified in writing of dismissal or discipline, the reasons for it and within 30 days have an opportunity for a hearing before the appointing authority. The employee has twenty (20) days in which to appeal to the Merit System Board. The Board may refer the matter to the Office of Administrative Law. The Board may thereafter adopt, reject or modify the decision of the Administrative Law Judge.

105.27 Dual Titles for Assessors (Non-Civil Service, Civil Service).

A person appointed to the position of municipal assessor may also hold a Civil Service position. For example, a person might be the appointed assessor, a position requiring reappointment after four years continuous service in order to acquire tenure, and Chief Assistant Assessor under the Civil Service Act, a position from which he/she may be removed only for reasons such as described in the foregoing section. A copy of the resolution of appointment and assessor card for each new assessor should be forwarded to the Division's Property Administration by the County Tax Administrator.

Lines of Authority for the Tax Assessor

As noted in sections 105.28 through 31, the assessor has responsibilities to the citizens of the municipality, to the municipal governing body, to the County Board of Taxation and County Tax Administrator, and to the Director of the Division of Taxation .

In Jeffers v. City of Jersey City, 8 N.J. Tax 313, 317 (Law Div. 1986), the court stated that, “for some purposes, assessors must be regarded as municipal officials, while, for other purposes they are state officials.” The position of the assessor straddles the line between local government and state government, for “[a]lthough his jurisdiction is local, his powers and duties are prescribed by the Legislature, and it is of paramount importance that the integrity of his office be in no way diluted by local interference,” Ream v. Kuhlman, 112 N.J. Super. 175, 190 (App. Div. 1970). For further discussion of this topic, see Arace v. Irvington, 75 N.J. Super. 258 (Super. Ct. 1962); Bd. of Taxation v. Belleville, 92 N.J. Super. 338 (Super. Ct. 1966) , aff’d, 95 N.J. Super. 327 (App. Div. 1967) ; Paterson v. Rooney Jr., Docket No. L-2266-72 P.W., decided June 20, 1973.

106. Conflict of Interest.

106.01 Assessors' Outside Activities.

Many assessors' positions are not full-time. Certain outside occupations for assessors otherwise employed have been proscribed under the County Board of Taxation Rules for County Boards of Taxation. No assessor may appear before the Board as an expert witness against another assessor or taxing district within the State, except to defend the assessment of his/her own taxing district. Assessors should avoid work activities outside their position as assessor from which a strong presumption of conflict of interest could be drawn.

106.02 Assessor Placing a Value on Property in which He/She has an Interest.

The assessor is required to value each parcel of property in the taxing district. This sometimes means the assessor must value a property in which he/she has a financial interest, creating a potential conflict of interest. One way to avoid this would be for the municipality to employ an outside appraiser. Another means to ensure objectivity would be for the County Board of Taxation, which by law reviews the assessments of all properties in the county, to direct particular attention to properties owned by the assessors under their jurisdiction. Also, if any taxpayer disagrees with the value an assessor has placed upon his/her own or any other property in the county, the taxpayer may appeal to the County Board of Taxation for a review of the assessment.

107. Joint Municipal Tax Assessor.

New Jersey statutes provide for the establishment of joint municipal assessor offices. By law, the governing bodies of any two or more municipalities may, by adopting similar ordinances within six months of each other, create and maintain the office of joint municipal assessor.

107.01 Agreement of Conditions of Operation.

The agreement adopted by the governing bodies of participating municipalities must provide for the appointment of a joint municipal assessor for a term of four years; for the appointment of other necessary personnel; for the apportionment of office operating costs, and expenses among the participating municipalities; for the addition of other municipalities in the same county and any other terms and conditions necessary for the establishment and maintenance of the joint tax assessor office.

The agreement must be approved by resolution of the governing bodies of the participating municipalities prior to its execution. Copies of pertinent ordinances, resolutions, agreements, as well as any amendments, must be filed with both the Director of the Division of Taxation, Department of the Treasury, and the Director of the Division of Local Government Services, Department of Community Affairs.

107.03 Apportionment of Costs.

Costs and expenses of a joint municipal assessor's office may be based on the apportionment valuations of each participating municipality as per the county abstract of ratables at N.J.S.A. 54:4-49. Costs may also be apportioned using the number of taxable properties, population, budgets and any other factors in the agreement establishing the joint office.

107.04 Personnel.

The joint municipal assessor's office should consist of an assessor and such subordinate personnel needed to carry out the assessment function properly in accordance with the law. Any assessor with tenure of office in a municipality entering into a joint municipal assessor arrangement is to be employed on the same basis as a member of the staff of the joint municipal assessor providing they were tenured as of July 27, 1967, the effective date of the Act. The salary of said assessor member may not be less than he/she was receiving at the time the joint agreement took effect. By law, all employees of a joint assessor's office are employees of the municipality having the largest apportionment valuation of those participating in the joint arrangement.

107.05 Tenure Lost and Tenure Gained for Joint Municipal Assessor.

Upon forming a joint district, tenure of assessors in each individual district is lost. A newly appointed joint municipal assessor serves for a four year term. If reappointed after serving four years as joint assessor, he/she then acquires tenure and holds his/her position during good behavior and efficiency, and may not be removed except for good cause after a hearing before the Director of the Division of Taxation.

107.06 Records to be Maintained Separately.

107.07 Termination of Joint Agreement.

Joint arrangements may be ended by resolution of the governing body of one of two participating municipalities or by two-thirds of the governing bodies of more than two participating municipalities. Ordinarily, termination of the office of joint municipal assessor may not take effect sooner than June 30 following the expiration of 12 full calendar months after adoption by the required number of municipalities. A joint municipal assessor's office may be terminated sooner only by unanimous agreement of the participating municipalities.

108.01 Common Sense Shared Services Pilot Program Act.

The Common Sense Shared Services Act implemented in 2013, concerns shared service agreements and joint contracts, in certain municipalities, for certain tenured local employees under the Uniform Shared Services and Consolidation Act. The Common Sense Act was expanded in 2018 via Assembly Bill A1100 P.L. 2018 c.140 and now includes more counties. The statutory requirement that every municipality must have a tax assessor and any necessary deputy tax assessor as per N.J.S.A. 40A:9-146 may be fulfilled by the sharing of tax assessors and deputy tax assessors under shared service agreements.

108.02 Pilot Program.

The pilot counties participating are Atlantic, Camden, Monmouth, Morris, Ocean, Sussex, and Warren. Pilot municipalities are those located in a pilot county that entered into a Shared Services Agreement. Local employees are tenured municipal assessors, tax collectors, clerks, chief financial officers, treasurers, and certain public works managers. These employees may be dismissed to effectuate sharing services in the interest of economy and efficiency. In pilot municipalities, tenure rights of tenured local employees will not prohibit sharing services and will allow for the dismissal of tenured employees not selected to be service providers under Shared Service Agreements.

108.03 Shared Service Agreements.

Shared Service Agreements must be filed with the Department of Community Affairs, Division of Local Government Services, together with an estimate of cost savings. No Shared Services Agreement can be adopted until copies of the agreement are provided to all affected employees at least two weeks before adoption of the resolution and a public hearing has been held. At the public hearing, an overview of the agreement terms and estimated cost savings are to be provided. The agent-party chooses, from among the pilot municipalities, one employee who was serving in a particular capacity prior to the Shared Services Agreements.

108.04 Dismissal.

Tenured tax assessors may be dismissed to effectuate sharing services. Such dismissal is considered to be in the interest of economy and efficiency. The pilot municipality must provide the assessor with a written copy of the Shared Services Agreement and a letter stating that the position of tax assessor was eliminated in the interest of economy and efficiency as a result of a Shared Services Agreement. If the Shared

Services Agreement is cancelled or expires within two years of a dismissal, the dismissed individual is to be reappointed to his/her former position with tenure.

109. County Boards of Taxation.

Each of New Jersey’s 21 counties has a County Board of Taxation to supervise the work of the County Tax Administrator, the municipal assessors and to perform appellate and other administrative functions relative to property taxation.

109.01 Composition of the Boards.

Each County Board of Taxation is to be composed of five members,* to be appointed by the Governor with the advice and consent of the Senate.

Each member must be a resident and citizen of the county in and for which he/she is appointed. Members are chosen because of their special qualifications, knowledge and experience in matters concerning the valuation and taxation of property, particularly of real property. At no time shall more than three of the members in a five-member board belong to the same political party.

Exception:

In counties having a population of more than 510,000 (according to the most recent Federal census) there are to be seven members of whom no more than four may belong to the same political party.

*Members are also known as commissioners

109.02 Officers of the Board.

President – Each County Board of Taxation selects one of its members as president. Some County Boards of Taxation appoint an annual vice president.

County Tax Administrator – The Board also appoints a County Tax Administrator and with the approval of the governing body of the county, other clerical assistants as necessary.

109.03 Length of Terms of Offices.

The term of office for County Boards of Taxation composed of five members (formerly three members) is three years. Counties having a population of more than 510,000 require a tax board composed of seven members (formerly five members) serving five-year terms.

Each term begins on May 1. Should the term of a member expire, that member continues to serve until his/her successor is appointed. When a member is unable to complete a term, the Governor proceeds with the appointment process to fill the unexpired term with the advice and consent of the Senate. If a vacancy occurs for reasons other than for expiration of the term, e.g. death or resignation, during a recess of the Legislature, the Governor fills the vacancy. That appointment will expire at the end of the next session of the Legislature, unless a successor is appointed and confirmed before the expiration of the legislative term.

109.04 Salaries.

The minimum salaries of County Tax Board members and County Tax Administrators are set forth by law based on the county's population. The salaries of members of County Boards of Taxation are paid by the State of New Jersey. The salaries of County Tax Administrators and other personnel employed by the County Boards of Taxation are fixed by the Board of Freeholders and are paid from county funds. The President of each County Tax Board receives an additional sum of $2,000 per year.

109.05 Qualifications of Board Members.

By law, County Tax Board members are chosen because of their special qualifications, knowledge and experience in matters concerning the valuation and taxation of property.

Each member must, within 24 months of appointment, furnish proof that he/she has received certificates indicating satisfactory completion of Rutgers University Center for Government Services training courses or that he/she possesses a tax assessor's certificate (CTA). The training courses cover the areas of Property Tax Administration; Fundamentals of Real Property Appraisal; and Income Approach to Value.

If any member does not furnish proof within the 24-month period, the County Tax Administrator must immediately notify the President of the County Board of Taxation and the Director of the Division of Taxation. The Director would then declare the position vacant, and notify the Governor that a vacancy exists. The Governor then appoints, with the advice and consent of the Senate, a different citizen and resident of that county to fill the unexpired term.

109.06 Responsibilities of the President of the County Board of Taxation.

The President presides over meetings of the County Board of Taxation, acts as presiding member or commissioner at appeal hearings, and as assignment officer in situations during which the commissioners sit separately while hearing tax appeals. The President of the County Tax Board is responsible for overseeing the writing of memoranda of judgments. Each memorandum must be under his/her signature, as well as the signature of all other members of the County Board of Taxation who rendered the judgment of that appeal. Each year on or before August 15, the President of the County Board is to forward a written report, Form TAS, to the Director of the Division of Taxation summarizing the disposition of the regular tax appeals.

Form TAS is available at the Division of Taxation's website at <http://www.state.nj.us/treasury/taxation/pdf/lpt/CountyTaxBoardHandbook.pdf>

109.09 Responsibilities of the Board.

The responsibilities of the County Board of Taxation fall into two major categories: administrative and appellate.

109.10 Administrative Duties.

The County Board of Taxation performs seven major administrative functions:

1. Supervision – The County Tax Administrator and the County Tax Board members, also known as commissioners, directly supervise municipal assessors in the performance of their duties. The Board may remove an assessor from office for failure to file his/her Tax List and Duplicate; it may request his/her removal by the Director of the Division of Taxation in other cases.

REFERENCES:

N.J.S.A. 54:1-36; 54:3-16.

2. Assessment – The County Board of Taxation, by resolution, establishes the percentage of true value at which all real property in the county must be assessed, i.e., county percentage level. In addition, the County Tax Board may upon its own initiative act as assessor, inspecting properties, and revising and correcting assessments. Once the Tax List is filed with the County Board of Taxation by the assessor, only the County Tax Board or the assessor under the direction of the Board may make corrections or alterations to the List. If a County Board of Taxation determines that a taxing district needs a revaluation or reassessment it may, with the approval of the Director of the Division of Taxation, order the municipality to undertake one.

N.J.S.A. 54:3-15; 54:3-16; 54:4-2.25 to 54:4-2.27; 54:4-46

3. Equalization – The County Tax Administrator ascertains the level of assessment in each taxing district and apportions or distributes the costs of county government equitably among the taxing districts in the county. The County Tax Administrator works in cooperation with the assessor and the Division of Taxation. The work is reviewed by the County Board of Taxation. The County Tax Board initiates all sales ratio SR-1A forms and reviews all sales ratio SR-3A forms, monitors their data input by local assessors and forwards the completed forms to Property Administration's Local Property Branch of the Division of Taxation.

N.J.S.A. 54:4-52, as amended by P.L. 2018, c. 94.

5. Electronic Data Processing – Under the MOD IV New Jersey Property Tax System, the County Tax Administrator designates the dates for submitting electronic processing program data. The County Tax Board receives copies of all data changes used for the construction of the tax rolls and satellite reports. Each Board may adopt procedures it considers necessary to implement the specifications in the E.D.P. program as adopted by the Director, Division of Taxation.

6. Certifications – In addition to certifying the County Equalization Table, the County Board of Taxation must by June 15 certify to the Director of the Division of Taxation the amounts of veterans and real property tax deductions allowed by all municipalities in the county, as well as to certify each January to the Chief Financial Officer of the county, the apportionment valuation of all new construction and partial assessments in the county multiplied by the preceding year's County Tax Rate.

7. Annual Report- Tax Appeal Statistics (TAS Form) – On or before August 15, each County Board of Taxation must file an Annual Report with the Director of the Division of Taxation for review. The Director prescribes the form of the Annual Report which must contain: the total number of appeals filed with the County Board by municipality; the disposition of the appeals; the character of the appeals filed with regard to property classification; the total of assessments involved in the appeals; the number of appeals in each filing fee category; and the total amount of reductions and increases of assessed valuation granted by the County Tax Board. This information must be broken out by municipality.

109.11 Appellate Duties.

By far the most important duty the County Board of Taxation has is to hear appeals from taxpayers and taxing districts and direct adjustments to assessments where warranted. Memoranda of judgments rendered are to be in writing and are to set forth the reasons on which the judgment was based, with copies sent to the assessor, the taxpayer, and also the collector where the amount of tax is revised. The County Board of Taxation may record all proceedings involving tax appeals, and if recorded, must furnish a transcript of the proceedings to any party to that appeal who requests it upon the payment of a reasonable fee.

109.12 Conflicts of Interest.

The Executive Commission on Ethical Standards, as advised by the Attorney General, has held that County Boards of Taxation are State agencies. Therefore, members of County Boards of Taxation are subject to the New Jersey Conflicts of Interest Law. This law requires every State agency to adopt a code of ethics to guide and govern the conduct of officers and employees in the agency.

109.14 Rules.

Through legislation enacted in 1973, all 21 County Boards of Taxation operate under a uniform set of rules first promulgated by the Director of the Division of Taxation on April 13, 1974. In drafting the Rules For County Boards of Taxation, the Director received the assistance of the Association of County Tax Board Commissioners and County Tax Administrators; the New Jersey Association of Municipal Assessors; and the New Jersey Bar Association. The rules cover such areas as employment requirements, organization, petitions of appeal, commercial and industrial or multi-dwelling appeals, filing fees, subpoenas, revaluation and assessments, Tax Lists and duplicates, SR-1A and SR-3A forms and conflict of interest. These rules help to ensure uniform operation of the Boards and treatment of taxpayers.

109.15 The Open Public Meetings Act.

The Open Public Meetings Act, commonly known as the "Sunshine Law," controls meetings and deliberations of public bodies. "Public bodies" are defined as a body organized by law that is empowered as a multi-member voting body authorized to spend public funds or affect persons' rights. County Boards of Taxation are organized under the law and are subject to the Open Public Meetings Act because they have the power to affect property assessments for taxation which, in turn, affects the rights of persons.

109.16 Notice of Meetings Required.

Adequate notice is required for the public body's regular and special meetings. Normally 48 hours advance notice must be given by prominent posting, filed with an officer of the public body and provided to two newspapers. Publication of a legal notice is not required. An exception is made to the 48 hour advance notice requirement in situations where the matters to be discussed are of such urgency that waiting to give notice would result in substantial harm to the public interest. Even in these situations a three-fourths majority vote of the members present is required to initiate such a meeting.

109.18 Meetings are to be Open to the Public.

No public body is to fail to invite any of its membership to a meeting. All meetings are to be open to the public with the following exceptions: the public may be excluded from that portion of a meeting at which the public body discusses: (1) a matter which by Federal or State law or rule of the court is rendered confidential; (2) a matter in which release of information would impair a right to receive funds from the U.S. government; (3) disclosure of any material which constitutes an unwarranted invasion of individual privacy; (4) any collective bargaining agreement or negotiation; (5) any matter involving the purchase or acquisition of real property with public funds or investment of public funds where the discussion of the matter could hurt the public interest; (6) any tactics and techniques utilized in protecting the safety and property of the public if their disclosure would impair protection; (7) any investigation of violations or possible violations of the law; (8) any pending or anticipated litigation or contract negotiation in which the public body might become a party; (9) any matter involving the employment, appointment conditions or termination, evaluation or disciplining of any public officer or employee, unless such public officer or employee requests in writing that the matter be discussed at a public meeting; (10) any deliberations of a public body after a public hearing that may result in a specific civic penalty upon the responding party.

110. The Tax Court of New Jersey.

The Tax Court of New Jersey was established by legislation in 1978, and became operational July 1, 1979. The Tax Court replaced the Division of Tax Appeals and assumed jurisdiction over the hearing of appeals filed by taxpayers and taxing districts from rulings and judgments of County Boards of Taxation concerning assessments and equalization tables. For properties where the assessed value exceeds $1,000,000, a complaint may be made directly with the State Tax Court bypassing appeal to the County Tax Board. The Tax Court also hears complaints from rulings and determinations of the Director of the Division of Taxation, other State officials, and county recording officers with regard to Realty Transfer Fee matters.

Chapter 2 Constitutional and Statutory Basis of Assessing

201. The New Jersey Constitution.

The current State Constitution was adopted at the general election of 1947 and became effective January 1, 1948. New Jersey's two prior Constitutions date from 1776 and 1844 respectively. The Constitution of the State of New Jersey establishes the basis for the taxation of property within the State. The pertinent sections have been reproduced here to provide an understanding of the foundation from which all implementing statutes are derived.

201.01 Constitutional Excerpts Re: Assessment.

The New Jersey Constitution of 1947 at Article VIII, Section 1, Paragraphs 1 through 7 and Section 3, Paragraph 1 provides:

201.02 Section 1, Par. 1. Uniformity in Taxation; Farmland Assessment.

Property shall be assessed for taxation under general laws and by uniform rules. All real property assessed and taxed locally or by the State for allotment and payment to taxing districts shall be assessed according to the same standard of value, except as otherwise permitted herein, and such real property shall be taxed at the general tax rate of the taxing district in which the property is situated, for the use of such taxing district.

The Legislature shall enact laws to provide that the value of land, not less than 5 acres in area, which is determined by the assessing officer of the taxing jurisdiction to be actively devoted to agricultural or horticultural use and to have been so devoted for at least the two successive years immediately preceding the tax year in issue, shall, for local tax purposes, on application of the owner, be that value which such land has for agricultural or horticultural use. Any such laws shall provide that when land which has been valued in this manner for local tax purposes is applied to a use other than for agriculture or horticulture it shall be subject to additional taxes in an amount equal to the difference, if any, between the taxes paid or payable on the basis of the valuation and the assessment authorized hereunder and the taxes that would have been paid or payable had the land been valued and assessed as otherwise provided in this Constitution, in the current year and in such of the tax years immediately preceding, not in excess of two such years in which the land was valued as herein authorized. Such laws shall also provide for the equalization of assessments of land valued in accordance with the provisions hereof and for the assessment and collection of any additional taxes levied thereupon and shall include such other provisions as shall be necessary to carry out the provisions of this amendment.

201.03 Section 1, Par. 2. Exemptions.

Exemptions from taxation may be granted only by general laws. Until otherwise provided by law all exemptions from taxation validly granted and now in existence shall be continued. Exemptions from taxation may be altered or repealed, except those exempting real and personal property used exclusively for religious, educational, charitable or cemetery purposes, as defined by law, and owned by any corporation or association organized and conducted exclusively for one or more of such purposes and not operating for profit.

(As adopted in the general election of November 4, 1947.)

201.04 Section 1, Par. 3. Exemptions to Honorably Discharged Veterans.

Any citizen and resident of this State now or hereafter honorably discharged or released under honorable circumstances from active service in any branch of the Armed Forces of the United States shall be entitled, annually to a deduction from the amount of any tax bill for taxes on real and personal property, or both, including taxes attributable to a residential unit held by a stockholder in a cooperative or mutual housing corporation in the sum of $250 in each tax year, or if the amount of any such tax bill shall be less than $250, to a cancellation thereof. The deduction or cancellation shall not be altered or repealed. Any person hereinabove described who has been or shall be declared by the United States Department of Veterans Affairs, or its successor, to have a service-connected disability, shall be entitled to such further deduction from taxation as from time to time may be provided by law. The surviving spouse of any citizen and resident of this State who has met or shall meet his or her death on active duty in any such service shall be entitled, during her widowhood or his widowerhood, as the case may be, and while a resident of this State, to the deduction or cancellation in this subsection provided for honorably discharged veterans and to such further deduction as from time to time may be provided by law. The surviving spouse of any citizen and resident of this State who has had or shall hereafter have active service in any branch of the Armed Forces of the United States and who died or shall die while on active duty in any branch of the Armed Forces of the United States, or who has been or may hereafter be honorably discharged or released under honorable circumstances from active service in any branch of the Armed Forces of the United States shall be entitled, during her widowhood or his widowerhood, as the case may be, and while a resident of this State, to the deduction or cancellation in this subsection provided for honorably discharged veterans and to such further deductions as from time to time may be provided by law.

A continuing care retirement community shall receive a veterans' property tax deduction on behalf of eligible veterans. The amount of the property tax deduction shall be the dollar amount of the deduction multiplied by the number of eligible veterans receiving the property tax deduction immediately prior to moving into the continuing care retirement community. A person otherwise eligible for the veterans' deduction who is a resident of a continuing care retirement community shall receive the amount of the deduction to the extent of the share of the taxes assessed against the real property of the continuing care retirement community that is attributable to the unit that the resident occupies. The continuing care retirement community shall provide that amount as a payment or credit to the resident. That payment or credit shall be made to the resident no later than 30 days after the continuing care retirement community receives the property tax bill on which the credit appears. A veterans' property tax deduction shall not be paid on behalf of any eligible veteran who resides in a continuing care retirement community that is property tax-exempt. A resident receiving a payment or credit pursuant to this subsection shall not receive a veterans' property tax deduction on any other residence owned in whole or in part by the resident, or any residence in which the resident's spouse is living.

The surviving spouse of any citizen and resident of this State who has met or shall meet his or her death on active duty in any such service shall be entitled, during her widowhood or his widowerhood, as the case may be, and while a resident of this State, to the deduction in this subsection provided for honorably discharged veterans. The surviving spouse of any citizen and resident of this State who has had or shall hereafter have active service in any branch of the Armed Forces of the United States and who died or shall die while on active duty in any branch of the Armed Forces of the United States, or who has been or may hereafter be honorably discharged or released under honorable circumstances from active service in any branch of the Armed Forces of the United States shall be entitled, during her widowhood or his widowerhood, as the case may be, and while a resident of this State, to the deduction in this subsection provided for honorably discharged veterans.

Article VIII, Section I, paragraph 3 amended effective December 5, 2019.

201.05 Section 1, Par. 4. Homestead Exemption for Persons Age 65 or Over.

The Legislature may, from time to time, enact laws granting an annual deduction from the amount of any tax bill for taxes on the real property, and from taxes attributable to a residential unit in a cooperative or mutual housing corporation, of any citizen and resident of this State of the age of 65 or more years, or any citizen and resident of this State less than 65 years of age who is permanently and totally disabled according to the provisions of the Federal Social Security Act, residing in a dwelling house owned by him which is a constituent part of such real property, or residing in a dwelling house owned by him which is assessed as real property but which is situated on land owned by another or others, or residing as tenant-shareholder in a cooperative or mutual housing corporation, but no such deduction shall be in excess of $160.00 with respect to any year prior to 1981, $200.00 per year in 1981, $225.00 per year in 1982 and $250.00 per year in 1983 and any year thereafter and such deduction shall be restricted to owners having an income not in excess of $5,000.00 per year with respect to any year prior to 1981, $8,000.00 per year in 1981, $9,000.00 per year in 1982 and $10,000.00 per year in 1983 and any year thereafter, exclusive of benefits under any one of the following:

- a. The Federal Social Security Act and all amendments and supplements thereto;
- b. Any other program of the federal government or pursuant to any other federal law which provides benefits in whole or in part in-lieu of benefits referred to in, or for persons excluded from coverage under, a. hereof including but not limited to the Federal Railroad Retirement Act and federal pension, disability and retirement programs; or
- c. Pension, disability or retirement programs of any state or its political subdivisions, or agencies thereof, for persons not covered under a. hereof; provided, however, that the total amount of benefits to be allowed exclusion by any owner under b. or c. thereof shall not be in excess of the maximum amount of benefits payable to, and allowable for exclusion by, an owner in similar circumstances under a. hereof.

The surviving spouse of a deceased citizen and resident of this State who during his or her life received a deduction pursuant to this paragraph shall be entitled, so long as he or she shall remain unmarried and a resident of the same dwelling house situated on the same land with respect to which said deduction was granted, to the same deduction, upon the same conditions, with respect to the same real property or with respect to the same dwelling house which is situated on land owned by another or others, or with respect to the same cooperative or mutual housing corporation, notwithstanding that said surviving spouse is under the age of 65 and is not permanently and totally disabled, provided that said surviving spouse is 55 years of age or older. Any such deduction when so granted by law shall be granted so that it will not be in addition to any other deduction or exemption, except a deduction granted under paragraph 3 of this section, to which the said citizen and resident may be entitled but said citizen and resident may receive in addition any homestead rebate or credit provided by law. The State shall annually reimburse each taxing district in an amount equal to one-half of the tax loss to the district resulting from the allowance of deductions pursuant to this paragraph.

201.06 Section 1, Par. 5. Property Tax Credits.

The Legislature may adopt a homestead statute which entitles homeowners, residential tenants and net lease residential tenants to a rebate or a credit of a sum of money related to property taxes paid by or allocable to them at such rates, and subject to such limits, as may be provided by law. Such rebates or credits may include a differential rebate or credit to citizens and residents who are of the age of 65 or more years, or less than 65 years of age who are permanently and totally disabled according to the provisions of the Federal Social Security Act, or are 55 years of age or more and the surviving spouse of a deceased citizen or resident of this State who during his lifetime received, or who, upon the adoption of this amendment and the enactment of implementing legislation, would have been entitled to receive a rebate or credit related to property taxes.

(As adopted in the general election of November 4, 1975; as amended in the general election of November 2, 1976, amended December 2, 1976.)

201.07 Section 1, Par. 6. Property Tax Exemptions Authorized in Areas in Need of Rehabilitation.

The Legislature may enact general laws under which municipalities may adopt ordinances granting exemptions or abatements from taxation on buildings and structures in areas declared in need of rehabilitation in accordance with statutory criteria, within such municipalities and to the land comprising the premises upon which such buildings or structures are erected and which is necessary for the fair enjoyment thereof. Such exemptions shall be for limited periods of time as specified by law, but not in excess of 5 years.

(As adopted at the general election of November 4, 1975. Added effective December 4, 1975.)

201.08 Section 1, Par. 7. a. Distribution of Personal Income Tax Revenue.

No tax shall be levied on personal incomes of individuals, estates and trusts of this State unless the entire net receipts therefrom shall be received into the Treasury, placed in a perpetual fund designated the Property Tax Relief Fund and be annually appropriated, pursuant to formulas established from time to time by the Legislature, to the several counties, municipalities and school districts of this State exclusively for the purposes of reducing or offsetting property taxes. In no event, however, shall a tax so levied on personal incomes be levied on payments received under the federal Social Security Act, the federal Railroad Retirement Act, or any federal law which substantially reenacts the provisions of either of those laws.

201.09 Section 1, Par. 7. b.

There shall be annually credited from the General Fund and placed in a special account in the perpetual Property Tax Relief Fund established pursuant to this paragraph, which account shall be designated the Property Tax Reform Account, an amount equal to the annual revenue derived from a tax rate of 0.5% imposed under the "Sales and Use Tax Act," P.L.1966, c.30 (C.54:32B-1et seq.), as amended and supplemented, or any other subsequent law of similar effect, which amount shall be appropriated annually by the Legislature exclusively for the purpose of property tax reform.

(Article VIII, Section I, paragraph 7 added effective December 2, 1976; amended effective December 6, 1984; amended effective December 7, 2006.)

(As adopted in the general election of November 2, 1976; as amended in the general election of November 6, 1984.)

Municipal, public or private corporations may be authorized by law to undertake such clearance, replanning, development or redevelopment; and improvements made for these purposes and uses, or for any of them, may be exempted from taxation, in whole or in part, for a limited period of time during which the profits of and dividends payable by any private corporation enjoying such tax exemption shall be limited by law. The conditions of use, ownership, management and control of such improvements shall be regulated by law.

201.11 Constitutional Amendments.

Amendments to Constitutional provisions require not only the approval (3/5ths of the members of each house or by a majority of the members of each house) of both the N.J. Senate and Assembly but also a majority of the State's voters by referendum ballot at a general election.

201.12 Constitutional Standards for Property Valuation.

While the Constitution at Section 1, part 1, paragraphs 1 and 2, requires that property be assessed for taxation under “general laws and by uniform rules,” it authorizes different treatment of real and personal property, as well as qualified agricultural and horticultural land. All real property must be assessed according to the “same standard of value” except for qualified agricultural or horticultural land which is assessed based on its farm use. No specific Constitutional standard of value is provided for real property other than qualified farmland. The Legislature and Governor may adopt any standard of value as long as it is applied to all real property. The assessment of personal property is not bound by the “same standard of value” requirement for real property. The Legislature and Governor are free to divide personal property into classes and to establish different standards of value for the different classes, provided it is done by law and under uniform rules.

202. Property Tax Laws.

All statutes, to be valid, must conform to the provisions of the State Constitution. Property taxation statutes are found in Title 54 of both the Revised Statutes of New Jersey, 1937 and the New Jersey Statutes Annotated. The assessor should also have some familiarity with portions of N.J.S.A. Title 18, which deals with education, and N.J.S.A. Title 40, which covers the operation of counties and municipalities. Regulations and guidelines for new laws of importance to assessors are often issued by the Director of the Division of Taxation. The New Jersey Administrative Code is a comprehensive compilation of these rules and regulations which carries the force of law. Property tax guidelines are codified in N.J.A.C. Title 18.

202.01 Statutory Basis Real and Personal Property Valuation.

Title 54 of N.J. Statutes Annotated at Chapter 4, Article 1 provides, “All property real and personal within the jurisdiction of this State not expressly exempted from taxation or expressly excluded from the operation of this chapter shall be subject to taxation annually under this chapter. Such property shall be valued and assessed at the taxable value prescribed by law. Land in agricultural or horticultural use which is being taxed under the “Farmland Assessment Act of 1964,” P.L. 1964, c.48 (C.54:4-23.1 et seq.) shall be valued and assessed as provided by that act....”

202.02 Real Property Value Standards.

N.J.S.A. 54:4-2.25 provides, “All real property subject to assessment and taxation for local use shall be assessed according to the same standard of value, which shall be the true value of such real property and the assessment shall be expressed in terms of the taxable value of such property, which taxable value shall be that percentage of true value as shall be established by each County Board of Taxation as the level of taxable value to be applied uniformly throughout the county.”

202.03 True Value i.e. Market Value.

“True Value” is defined in N.J.S.A. 54:4-23 as the “...full and fair value of each parcel of real property situate in the taxing district at such price as, in his [the assessor’s] judgment, it would sell for at a fair and bona fide sale by private contract on October 1 next preceding the date on which the assessor shall complete his assessments...”

Taxable Value.

Real property is assessed for taxation at some *percentage of its true value established by each of the 21 county boards of taxation. Per N.J.S.A. 54:4-2.26, “Every percentage level of taxable value of real property established by a County Board of Taxation shall be expressed as a multiple of 10%, and no level so established shall be lower than 20% or higher than 100% of the standard of value.” Per N.J.S.A. 54:4-2.27, “Each County Board of Taxation shall, by resolution, establish the percentage level of taxable value of real property ... on or before April 1 of the year preceding the tax year, and the level so established shall be applied uniformly in such county for the purpose of assessing the taxable values to be used in levying taxes for the calendar year next succeeding the year in which such level was established. The level so established may be altered by any such board by establishing, on or before the date fixed by this section in any year, a new level; but the percentage level last established pursuant to this Act shall remain in full force and effect for a period of not less than 3 years and until altered as provided in this section. In the event that the County Board of Taxation for any county shall fail to initially establish the percentage level for such county, then until the same shall be done the level of assessment shall be 50% of the true value...” The true value multiplied by the county percentage level is known as the taxable value. The assessing date is October 1 of the pretax year. Property taxes paid in the tax year would be levied on the taxable value of real property as of October 1 pretax year.

* The county percentage level is currently 100% for all counties in New Jersey.

Common Level Value.

Common Level Value is the level of assessment in a municipality. It is expressed as a ratio, i.e., the average ratio of assessed to true market value of all real property in a municipality. Despite the true value requirement of the law, the courts have ruled that no property may be assessed for taxation above the common level in the taxing district.

202.05 Farm Property Value Standards - Land.

N.J.S.A. 54:4-23.2 provides, “For general property tax purposes, the value of land... [qualified farmland] shall “...be that value which such land has for agricultural or horticultural use.” N.J.S.A. 54:4-23.7 further provides that “...in valuing land which qualifies as land actively devoted to agricultural or horticultural use...consider only those indicia of value which such land has for agricultural or horticultural use...the assessor shall consider available evidence of agricultural or horticultural capability derived from the soil survey data at Rutgers, The State University, the National Co-operative Soil Survey, and the recommendations of value of such land as made by any county or State-wide committee which may be established to assist the assessor.”

202.06 Farm Property Value Standards - Structures.

N.J.S.A. 54:23.12 provides “All structures, which are located on land in agricultural or horticultural use and the farmhouse and the land on which the farmhouse is located, together with the additional land used in connection therewith, shall be valued, assessed and taxed by the same standards, methods and procedures as other taxable structures and other land in the taxing district, regardless of the fact that the land is being valued, assessed and taxed pursuant to P.L. 1964, c.48 (C.54:4-23.1 et seq.): provided, however, that the term “structures” shall not include “single-use agricultural or horticultural facilities.”

202.07 Personal Property Value Standards – True Value.

N.J.S.A. 54:4-2.44 provides, “The standard of value according to which tangible personal property used in business subject to taxation shall be assessed shall be the true value thereof. Such assessment shall be expressed in terms of the taxable value of the property.”

202.08 Personal Property Value Standards – Taxable Value.

N.J.S.A. 54:4-2.45 provides, “The true value of taxable tangible personal property used in business...shall be presumed to be the original cost of such property less depreciation as of the assessment date,...provided that the true value of depreciable property shall, so long as such property remains in use or is held for use, be presumed to be not less than 20% of its original cost.” The assessing date is January 1 of the pretax year.

203. Property Types Defined.

203.01 Real Estate/Real Property.

Most property will fall readily into either the real or personal category. Borderline cases must be considered carefully since the classification will have far-reaching consequences, particularly for equalization programs. Real estate consists of the land and any objects attached to the land in a permanent manner, such as trees, improvements, buildings, and permanent railroad trackage. Real Property includes the real estate and also incorporates the bundle of rights issuing from and exercised with ownership of property. Rights include the right to sell, lease, use, give away, enter/exit the property, and to refuse to do any of the above (also known as SLUGER).

203.02 Personal Property.

Personal property is defined by exception as all other property that is not considered real property. The common characteristic of personal property is its movability without damage to itself or to the real estate to which it may be attached. There are two categories of personal property, tangible and intangible. Tangible personal property is that which has physicality. The only tangible personal property currently taxed in New Jersey is that of local exchange telephone companies, excluding inventories, and certain personal property of petroleum refineries. Intangible personal property, such as cash, accounts receivable, and securities, is not subject to the property tax in New Jersey.

Fixture-is a tangible thing, which was previously personal property, but which has been attached to the land or installed in a structure on the land in such a way as to become part of the real estate. A thing is considered to be affixed to the building when it is attached to it by its roots, imbedded in it, permanently resting on it, or permanently attached to it by cement, plaster, nails, bolts, screws, etc. Examples: built in bookcases and cabinets, elevators.

Chattels-are usually defined and treated as personal property. Chattel Interest-is a non-ownership right in real estate such as a leasehold, an easement or a lien.

Net Lease-the tenant pays, in addition to the fixed rent, all property expenses normally incurred by the owner including real estate taxes, insurance, maintenance, repairs, and utilities.

Gross Lease-the tenant pays a flat rental amount and the landlord pays all property expenses incurred through ownership.

Ground Lease- also called a land lease, is simply a lease of the land only, usually for a relatively long period of time (50-99 years). It often involves an agreement in which a tenant is permitted to develop part of the property, such as by constructing a building on the land during the lease period. The ground lease tenant then owns the building for the duration of the ground lease term. At the end of the ground lease term, it either becomes the ground lease landlord's or the tenant razes the building and returns the ground to the ground lease landlord.

Space Lease- in a space lease, a tenant is leasing an area in an already constructed building and only owns its personal property, inventory, etc. and has no ownership interest in the building.

203.03 Three-Pronged Test – Real vs. Personal, Real Property Liability for Taxation.

All real property is subject to taxation in the taxing district in which it is located unless exempted by provision of law or by the State or Federal Constitutions. Real property is defined to mean all land and improvements including personal property affixed to them unless:

- a. 1. The personal property so affixed can be removed or severed without material injury to the real property;
2. The personal property so affixed can be removed or severed without material injury to the personal property itself; and

3. The personal property so affixed is not ordinarily intended to be affixed permanently to real property: or
- b. The personal property so affixed is machinery, apparatus, or equipment used or held for use in business and is neither a structure nor machinery, apparatus or equipment the primary purpose of which is to enable a structure to support, shelter, contain, enclose or house persons or property.

206. Legal Sources.

The laws of New Jersey affecting property taxation are found in several published sources.

206.01 Session Laws.

The “Session Laws” or “Pamphlet Laws” are laws passed each year during the legislative session and signed by the Governor. A separate volume is compiled annually in numerical order and indexed by subject matter. They are referred to by their chapter and year of enactment. For example, the two hundred and thirteenth law enacted in 2009 is known as Chapter 213 of the Laws of 2009. The abbreviated citation of this law would be L. 2009, c. 213.

206.02 Revised Statutes of New Jersey, 1937.

Periodic revisions bring together all of the general legislation in effect. The last revision took place in 1937 when existing State legislation was collected, codified, reauthorized, and published in five volumes as the Revised Statutes of New Jersey, 1937. Statutes enacted since 1937 have been collected in several supplements. The supplements are not cumulative; that is, they contain only the laws passed during certain designated years. The numbering system used in the Revised Statutes brings together all effective statutes concerning the same subject using a series of Titles, Chapters, and Sections. “Chapters” here should not be confused with “Chapters” for the Session Laws. All general statutes are grouped into fifty nine Titles; the Titles are divided into Chapters, and the Chapters into Sections. For instance, R.S. 54:4-3.25 means Revised Statutes of New Jersey, 1937, Title 54, Chapter 4, Section 3.25.

206.03 New Jersey Statutes Annotated.

New Jersey Statutes Annotated is a series of commercially published volumes. It includes all of the effective laws of the State usually using the same numbering system as the Revised Statutes of New Jersey, 1937. For example, N.J.S.A. 54:4-3.25 is the same law as R.S. 54:4-3.25. The New Jersey Statutes Annotated are updated with “pocket part” supplements printed every year for each volume of the series. The supplement is kept in a flap at the end of the volume and is cumulative; that is, it reprints all laws enacted and still in effect since the basic volume was printed. Included also are annotations concerning legal history, previous statutes, and court decisions.

206.04 Other Commercial Sources.

Westlaw and LexisNexis are online legal research services for lawyers and legal professionals. Information resources in these databases include case law, state and federal statutes, administrative codes, newspaper and magazine articles, public records, law journals, law reviews, treatises, and legal forms. Both companies require a paid subscription to access their databases. A number of other compilations of New Jersey tax statutes are published commercially such as Commerce Clearing House's New Jersey Tax Reports and Prentice-Hall's State and Local Tax Service and should be available on-line too.

206.05 Assessors' Law Manual.

The Assessors' Law Manual, was last revised in July 1998, and is no longer recommended as a reliable reference due to its outdatedness.

206.06 New Jersey Administrative Code.

The New Jersey Administrative Code (N.J.A.C.) is the official publication of the Office of Administrative Law (OAL) and contains all effective rules adopted by agencies. Each agency's body of rules is codified in a title of the Code. Each title contains a chapter table of contents and an index. Each individual chapter also contains a table of contents. The Code is annotated to provide the reader with a complete context in which to analyze the rules. Annotations include: legislative authority for the rulemaking; source and effective date of the rules; historical notes which discuss prior regulatory activity; Executive Order #66 (1978) expiration date; and case notes, (which are salient New Jersey Court and OAL cases, and Formal Attorney General Opinions).

206.07 Title 18 Department of the Treasury – Taxation.

Title 18 Department of the Treasury – Taxation, Subtitle F Local Property and Public Utility Branch covers Senior Citizen Deductions, Veteran Deductions, Disabled Veteran Exemptions, Farmland Assessment, Historic Site Exemption, Realty Transfer Fees, Assessor Qualification Law, County Tax Assessor Pilot Program, County Boards of Taxation, Railroad Property Tax, Tax Maps and general issues. All State agency rulemaking activities must be submitted to the Office of Administrative Law for review of technical, substantive and legal conformance with the requirements of the Administrative Procedure Act, N.J.S.A. 52:14B-1 et seq., and the Office of Administrative Law Rules for Agency Rulemaking, N.J.A.C. 1:30 Table 2.1 compares the legal citation methods for a single law.

207. The Path of Legislation in New Jersey.

Bill Drafting.

1. A legislator from either the Senate or Assembly may sponsor a bill at the suggestion of a constituent, interest group, public official or the Governor. The legislator may ask other legislators in the same House to join as co-sponsors. At the legislator's direction, the nonpartisan Office of Legislative Services (OLS) provides research and drafting assistance and prepares the bill in proper technical form.

207.02 Introduction of the Bill.

2. During a session, the sponsoring legislator gives the bill to the Secretary of the Senate or Clerk of the General Assembly, who reads the bill title aloud. This is known as the first reading. The bill is then printed and released to the public.

207.03 Committee Reference and Action.

3. The President of the Senate or Speaker of the General Assembly usually refers the bill to a committee for review, but may send it directly to second reading to speed consideration. When scheduled by the chair, the committee considers the bill at an open public meeting. The committee may report the bill to the House as is, with amendments, or by a substitute bill. If not considered or reported, the bill remains in committee.

207.04 Second and Third Reading.

4. When the bill is reported to the floor (or referred directly without committee review), its title is read aloud for the second reading. The bill may now be amended. When scheduled by the President or Speaker, the bill is given a third reading, debated and voted upon. To ensure thorough consideration, rules prohibit a second and third reading on the same day except by an emergency vote of three-quarters of the members.

207.05 House Vote.

5. A bill passes each House when approved by a majority of authorized members (21 votes in the Senate, 41 in the Assembly). When a bill is delivered to the second House, it will go through the same process of first reading, committee action, second reading and final vote. If the second House amends the bill, it is returned to the first House for a vote on the changes. A bill receives final legislative approval only when it passes both Houses in identical form.

207.06 Governor’s Action.

6. After legislative passage, the bill is sent to the Governor. The Governor may sign it, conditionally veto it (returning it for changes) or veto it absolutely. The Governor may also veto individual line items of appropriation bills.

207.07 Law.

7. A bill becomes law upon the Governor’s signature or after 45 days if no action is taken. However, should no action be taken on a bill passed within the last 10 days of a 2 year legislative session, (Pocket Veto) it fails to become a law. If vetoed, (Absolute Veto) a bill may become law if the Legislature overrides the veto by a two-thirds vote (27 in the Senate, 54 in the Assembly). A law takes effect on the day specified in its text or, if unspecified, the July 1 following its passage.

New Jersey Tax Court Reports are hardcover books containing written, published opinions of the Tax Court of New Jersey. The opinions in these books address decisions of County Tax Boards and the State Taxation Division concerning local property tax, income tax, sales tax, business taxes, rebates, and realty transfer fees and are identified by their case citations, N.J. Tax. The New Jersey Court System publishes new opinions daily for New Jersey Supreme Court, Appellate Division, and Tax Court online at: <https://www.njcourts.gov/attorneys/opinions.html>.

When a reviewing court strives to determine the legislative intent of any statute, the court looks to the language of the statute, the policy underlying the statute, the concept of reasonableness and the legislative history.

Citing Opinions: Published v. Unpublished.

There are two types of opinions delivered by the New Jersey Judiciary: published and unpublished. While both types of opinions are made available to the public via the Judiciary's website and the various legal databases, only published opinions are precedential and binding upon the courts. Unpublished opinions, pursuant to New Jersey Court Rule 1:36-3, are not precedential or binding on the court, but may be considered persuasive.

Many unpublished opinions concern matters that have been litigated in the past, and are applications of well-established legal principles to the facts of a specific case. A few unpublished opinions concern factual scenarios that are so unique, it is unlikely they would provide any benefit as precedents for future litigation. No matter the reason for a case being unpublished, an assessor should be cautious in relying on an unpublished opinion to determine his or her course of action. An unpublished opinion may present sound reasoning for a decision in a specific scenario and may be persuasive in an interpretation of the law in that case. However, unpublished opinions are not binding on anyone but the parties to the litigation decided, and cannot be cited as mandating an action under or an interpreting of the law.

Chapter 3 The Assessor's Office

301. Responsibilities of the Assessor.

The assessor's duties may be divided into these major functions:

1. Discovery and location of all real property and certain personal property used in business in the taxing district;
2. Listing and description of property in a systematic, convenient manner through MOD IV, N.J. Property Tax System;
3. Determination of taxability based on a wide variety of tax exemption and tax deduction statutes;
4. Valuation of property through an appraisal of each property and an assessment based on that appraised value;
5. Tax equalization responsibilities via district revaluation programs and for purposes of distributing State Aid to schools;
6. Defense of assessments upon appeal.

The assessor, in his/her work of discovering, describing, and valuing all taxable property, takes the first step in raising the bulk of the funds necessary to finance local government in New Jersey.

302. Organization of Staff and Work Assignments.

302.01 Organization and Size of Staff.

Staff should be well organized and of a sufficient size to allow delegation of work where appropriate to employee skills, experience and qualifications.

302.02 Lines of Authority.

Lines of authority and responsibility should be clearly defined. Staff members should know who they are expected to supervise and to whom they report.

302.03 Final Authority.

Final accountability for all assessment responsibilities in a municipality is with the assessor. When deputy assessors are appointed, the assessor is to oversee their work, as well as that of all subordinate employees.

302.04 Types of Organization.

The organization of an assessor's office often depends on the size and characteristics of the taxing district. Two types commonly used in assessors' offices are organization by function and by geography.

302.05 Functional Organization.

A functional organization is divided according to the type of work performed. For example, in a medium-sized district, one person might make all field inspections, another might complete all office clerical work, while a third might determine taxability and defend appeals. Advantages of such a plan are that staff members become expert in their area and all properties are treated alike. A disadvantage is that none of the staff may be familiar with the assessment process in its entirety. Also, in large taxing districts, functional organization may be cumbersome because of the traveling required of each field employee.

302.06 Geographical Organization.

In a geographic organization, the taxing district is divided into sectors by location. Each staff member makes field inspections, appraises properties, completes office clerical work, determines properties' taxability, and defends appeals for his/her own sector. The advantage is that each member works with a sector's properties from the beginning to the end of the assessment process. Travel and expense may be reduced. A disadvantage is the difficulty in obtaining equal treatment for properties among the various sectors of the taxing district because of individual judgments in applying assessment standards. Another disadvantage of geographic organization is that staff members may not attain a level of expertise, since they perform so many duties. Probably, some form of functional organization will be most useful. A geographic organization should be used sparingly and with care due to the problem of achieving equity, although it may be necessary when a large number of properties are involved. Regardless of the organizational form, the assessor should be aware of the difficulties of obtaining equalization throughout his/her taxing district and take steps to overcome them.

303. Office Records.

Good records are essential for the assessor to be able to locate, describe, and value properties in the taxing district.

303.01 Necessary Records.

The following records should be found in every assessor's office:

303.02 Public Records.

Under the “Open Public Records Act,” known as “OPRA,” any records required by law to be made, maintained or kept on file are “public records.” Agencies, departments or officials required by statute to maintain such public records are “custodians” of the records. At the municipal level, the custodian of records is the Municipal Clerk. Public records must be made available by the custodian for public inspection and duplication for a fee, subject only to reasonable controls as to time, place, copying, etc. OPRA requires a written request form to be submitted to the custodian. Contact the custodian for details in submitting the form.

303.03 Copies of Records; Fees; Special Service Charges.

Copies of a government record may be purchased upon payment of the fee prescribed. Except as otherwise provided, the fee for the duplication of a government record in printed form shall be $0.05 per letter size page or smaller, and $0.07 per legal size page or larger.

If it can be demonstrated that actual costs for duplication exceed the foregoing rates, the government agency is permitted to charge for the actual cost of duplication. The actual cost of duplication is the cost of materials and supplies used. It does not include the cost of labor or other overhead expenses associated with making the copy. Any information available on agencies’ internet websites is available with no OPRA request required for these records. Access to electronic records/non-print materials is free of charge. The public agency may charge for the actual costs of any needed supplies (such as computer discs). Whenever the format or volume of a government record is such that extraordinary time and measures are necessary to accommodate the request, the public agency may include a special service charge in addition to the duplication costs. Rates for duplication of records when the actual copying costs exceed foregoing rates are established in advance by municipal ordinance.

The requestor must be given an opportunity to review and object to the charge prior to it being incurred.

If the public agency does not maintain the record in the medium requested:

- The custodian of records shall convert the record to the medium requested;
- Or a copy must be provided in some other meaningful medium.

If a request for a government agency record is not in a medium or routinely developed or maintained by the agency, or requires substantial use of information technology, the public agency may include a special service charge in addition to the duplication costs.

303.04 Initial and Further Statements.

Initial Statement and Further Statement claims for property tax exemption of religious, charitable, educational and such other nonprofit corporations are maintained as public records at the County Board of Taxation, once filed by the assessor with the County Tax Board. It is good practice for the assessor to keep copies of all Initial and Further Statements.

303.07 Property Record Cards.

Property Record Cards are generally used by assessors to record a wide variety of individual property data. The public status of the Property Record Card is controversial and has been addressed by the courts on several occasions. Property Record Cards are not required to be maintained according to statute and, therefore, per the court are not public records. The court stated, however, it could find no reason why the information on Property Record Cards should be withheld from a person having a legitimate interest in the data. For example, the court indicated that in the context of a tax appeal, Property Record Cards should be available to taxpayers for inspection and duplication since they contain important information relating to assessments. The court held that any inspection of Property Record Cards would be permissible subject only to reasonable controls as to time, place, copying, etc. Property Record Cards are also mentioned in the New Jersey Administrative Code. Under N.J.A.C. 18:12A-1.9(h), at the request of a taxpayer-party, the municipality shall also furnish that party with a copy of the Property Record Card for the property under appeal at least one week prior to the hearing.

303.08 Other Documents.

Public standing is less clear with other documents, such as claims for tax exemptions, abstracts of deeds, and land value maps. However, the assessor is advised to permit examination of any records which are specifically requested.

303.11 Filing Systems.

Some characteristics of a good filing system are:

1. Simple – the system should be easy to install, easy to operate, and easily understood by inexperienced persons;
2. Revisable – the system should permit, without difficulty, the adjustment, addition, and deletion of records;
3. Logical – the system should ensure the sound, plausible grouping of related records;
4. Effective – the system should ensure speed in locating any record filed and the completeness of the record;

5. Economical – the system should represent the most return for the money.

303.12 Retention of Records.

No person having public records under his/her control or custody is permitted to destroy or dispose of those records without written consent of the Division of Revenue & Enterprise Services (DORES) in the Department of the Treasury. The records management, records storage, records disposition, and imaging and micrographic functions were transferred from the Division of Archives in the Department of State to the Division of Revenue in the Department of the Treasury in July 2012.

303.13 Records Retention Schedules.

Records retention schedules have been promulgated for many assessors’ records, and for records commonly found in the offices of County Boards of Taxation. The retention periods indicated in the schedules are based upon experience and legal requirements. However, county or municipal officials are not required to destroy any records they may desire to keep longer than scheduled. A request for authorization to dispose of records must be submitted to the Division of Revenue prior to their destruction.

304. Office Equipment and Space.

The municipal governing body is responsible for providing the assessor with the office equipment needed to perform his/her job. A saving of time, effort, and money can be made by a wise investment in equipment and computer systems that are adaptable to the changing needs of the assessor's office and which may serve several offices of the municipality. The New Jersey Property Tax System (MOD IV) is the current electronic data processing system and is effectuated through EDP centers and computerization. MOD IV is a statewide computer database used by assessors to keep every line item current as to value and other descriptive data. Computer Assisted Mass Appraisal (CAMA) systems are not currently employed on a statewide basis, but may be implemented by a municipality for use by its assessor.

It is desirable that the assessor's records be safely and conveniently located. Most of New Jersey's municipalities give the assessor's office space in the municipal building.

305. Relations with the General Public.

As a public official, one of the assessor's principal responsibilities is to establish good taxpayer relations. Every opportunity should be used to explain both the statutory requirements of the property tax laws and programs, and the methods used in arriving at individual assessments.

305.01 Personal Contact.

Courteous and efficient procedures should be maintained at all times whether answering a telephone, responding to email, or meeting with a taxpayer who visits the office. If the assessor's staff is polite and helpful, the relationship is earmarked for success. If their demeanor is elusive and defensive, the taxpayer is likely to adopt a hostile attitude. Even when the taxpayer comes into the office in an aggressive frame of mind, his/her attitude may well be ameliorated by courteous treatment.

305.02 Correspondence.

Prompt, understandable answers to correspondence help foster good relations with the public.

305.03 News Releases.

The assessor should use every opportunity to issue news releases describing aspects of his/her work which are of general interest. For example, the public advertisement that the Tax List is available for inspection might be accompanied by a news release describing the procedures which will be followed in translating the List into next year's tax bills.

- Simplicity.

In preparing a news release, the assessor should remember that many taxpayers are unfamiliar with the property tax. Technical words should be avoided or, where necessary, clearly defined.

- Length.

For the most effectiveness, a news release should be as brief as possible, while still telling the full story.

- Timing.

The assessor should learn the deadlines of various newspapers. Early filing of news releases will be appreciated by the editors and may result in more favorable treatment of a story.

- Accuracy.

Every news release should contain accurate, concise information.

- Composition.

A good news release gives a summary of the story in the first paragraph – preferably in the first sentence. This summary should include the following six points.

1. Who did it?
2. What was done?
3. When was it done?
4. Where was it done?
5. How was it done?
6. Why is it important?

Succeeding paragraphs in the release then give details. In general, the most important details should come earliest in the story. A release that buries the lead in the last paragraph can be misleading and lose its effectiveness if it is edited because of limited space in a newspaper. Always put the most important information in the first few paragraphs.

- Format.

The name, telephone number and email address of the release's preparer should be included on the top of the release, so the editor may check any questionable points.

- Speaking Engagements.

Many service organizations and clubs frequently have speakers on local subjects such as taxation. The assessor may contact an organization's program chairman to express his/her willingness to talk to a group.

306. Relations With Other Public Officials.

It is desirable that the assessor attend meetings of the governing body, since he/she is the "expert" on matters of local property taxation. In performing his/her duties, the assessor collects a wealth of information about the community. This information should be made available to other public officials so the municipal government can function as effectively as possible for the benefit of the general population. The assessor should work in concert with the municipal governing body, the board of education, the planning board, the building inspector, the tax collector, etc., to this end.

307. Public Agencies Which Assist the Assessor.

This is a brief summary of a number of public agencies available to help the assessor with his/her work.

307.01 Division of Taxation.

The New Jersey Division of Taxation oversees and coordinates local property tax procedures on a statewide basis. The Division also provides advisory and technical services to County Boards of Taxation and to local assessors. 307.02 Property Administration, Local Property Branch.

The Local Property Branch in the Division of Taxation is exclusively concerned with the many facets of property tax administration and assessment. 308. New Jersey Assessors' Continuing Education Program.

308.01 Requirements and Procedures.

All tax assessor certificates (CTAs) issued prior to July 1, 2000, expire within five years of that date and must be renewed in accordance with the procedure established in N.J.S.A. 54:1-35.25 b. Tax assessor certificates (CTAs) issued after July 1, 2000, expire five years following the date of issuance of the certificate and must be renewed in accordance with the procedure established in N.J.S.A. 54:1-35.25 b.

Prior to the first renewal date of the tax assessor certificate, proof must be furnished by the CTA holder that a total of at least 50 continuing education credit hours over the prior five year period were earned. Breakdown of credit hours is as follows:

- i. Twenty credit hours in property tax administration;
- ii. Twenty credit hours in real property appraisal; and
- iii. Ten credit hours in either property tax administration or real property appraisal.

Prior to each succeeding renewal date, the CTA holder must furnish proof of having earned at least 30 continuing education credit hours over the prior three year period. Breakdown of credit hours are as follows:

- i. Ten credit hours in property tax administration;
- ii. Ten credit hours in real property appraisal; and
- iii. Ten credit hours in either property tax administration or real property appraisal.

A CTA holder must retain documentation of the completed continuing education hours for at least five years in order to verify program attendance and/or activity completion. Each CTA holder must submit such documentation to the Division of Taxation upon request. The Division reviews the records of CTA holders at the end of a cycle or at the discretion of the Director, Division of Taxation, on a random basis, to determine compliance with continuing education requirements.

Documentation of continuing education requirements for courses, seminars and training programs approved by the Tax Assessor Continuing Education Eligibility Board (CEEB) consists of a “Uniform Continuing Education Form” CEU-3, attesting that the CTA holder attended an approved continuing education offering. The CTA holder is required to maintain his/her CEU-3s and must list the continuing education completed during the five/three-year licensing period on the Division provided renewal application form CEU-1. Falsification of any information submitted with the renewal application may result in penalties and/or the suspension or revocation of a license or certification.

One continuing education credit hour means 50 minutes of classroom or lecture time. All tax assessor certificates shall be renewed upon application to and by the Director, Division of Taxation upon payment of the $50.00 fee paid to the order of the Treasurer of the State of New Jersey and verification that the applicant has met the necessary continuing education requirements as provided in P.L. 1999, c.278.

When the holder of a tax assessor certificate has allowed the certificate to lapse by failing to renew the certificate, a new application and certificate is required. If application is made within six months of the expiration of the certificate, application may be made in the same manner as a renewal, but with the additional late renewal fee of $50.00.

The six-month period referred to above is to be used for the submission of all necessary documentation only. No courses attended during the six-month period will be credited to the prior continuing education cycle.

Additional continuing education credits earned beyond the required amount during each cycle cannot be applied to the subsequent continuing education cycle.

308.02 Continuing Education Course Topics.

The Continuing Education Eligibility Board (CEEB) approves only those continuing education activities and course topics as are considered to be consistent with the purpose of continuing education. Credits are classified as either Property Tax Administration or Real Property Appraisal.

Property Tax Administration covers the local government units of New Jersey, State Constitution and the statutory basis of assessing. Examples include real property tax deductions, exemptions, abatements, farmland assessment, revaluation and reassessment duties, the appeal process and sales ratio. Acceptable human resource courses or computer courses must be related to assessment duties or functions of assessor or County Board of Taxation at the municipal, county or State level.

Real Property Appraisal concerns the theory and techniques of valuing real property. Examples include the cost approach, sales comparison approach and income approach to value, land valuation, mass appraisal, Computer Assisted Mass Appraisal (CAMA), analysis of income and expense statements, capitalization methods and techniques, and ad valorem taxation.

Uniform Standards of Professional Appraisal Practice (USPAP) may be categorized as either property tax administration or real property appraisal.

The examples cited above are illustrative only and are not inclusive or exclusive of acceptable course topics.

The CEEB approves only such continuing education programs as are available and advertised on a reasonably nondiscriminatory basis to all certified tax assessors in the State. CEEB approval of all credits must occur prior to the start of the course or seminar.

The Continuing Education Eligibility Board (CEEB) may revoke approval of those continuing education activities and course topics considered to no longer be consistent with the purpose of continuing education.

The CTA holder may obtain continuing education credits for the following:

1. Training programs offered by State or Federal agencies or commissions;
2. Educational programs provided during professional trade organization conferences;
3. Colleges or universities accredited by the New Jersey Commission on Higher Education or any accrediting agency approved by the CEEB; community or junior colleges accredited by the New Jersey Commission on Higher Education; proprietary schools;
4. Seminars offered by assessor, real estate appraisal, municipal or county organizations;
5. Seminars offered by vendors of commercial products geared toward the assessing office or County Board of Taxation;
6. Participation, other than as a student, in property tax administration or property appraisal education programs, as approved by the CEEB;
 - i. Examples of activities for which credit may be granted including teaching real property administration courses and/or real property appraisal courses;
 - ii. No more than one-half of the total hours of credit required for a renewal cycle may be awarded for the activities qualifying under this section;
 - iii. Within each renewal cycle, credit can only be given once for the same exact course.

Effective January 1, 2003, the CEEB agreed to accept for continuing education purposes, for tax assessors' certificates, pursuant to N.J.S.A. 54:1-32.25(b), credits for real property appraisal courses which have been approved for continuing education by the New Jersey State Real Estate Appraisers Board.

Likewise, the New Jersey State Board of Real Estate Appraisers agreed to accept for continuing education purposes, for licensed and certified real estate appraisers, credits for real property appraisal courses which have been approved for continuing education by the CEEB in the Division of Taxation. This agreement shall not apply to any credits for continuing education courses which the State Real Estate Appraisers Board retroactively approves for an individual. This agreement shall not apply to credits for courses relating to assessment administration which are approved by the CEEB or any other course not consistent with the requirements of the Appraisal Qualification Board of the Appraisal Foundation.

311. The Assessor's Calendar.

Most work of the assessor must be performed in accordance with a calendar of dates, usually specified by law. The assessor also should have some knowledge of Tax Collectors' dates. The Work Calendar is prepared each year by Property Administration Local Property Tax Unit and is available at: <http://www.state.nj.us/treasury/taxation/pdf/pubs/workcalendar.pdf>

The assessor should note that the calendar dates in many cases are deadlines for filing completed lists, reports, or other documents. The preparation of these documents cannot be left until the statutory deadline. The assessor should estimate preparation time of each document and begin well in advance of the due dates. To simplify the use of this calendar as a daily check-off list for the assessor, the actions dealing with the pretax year, and the post-tax year have been consolidated into a single 12 month listing. Each item should be read carefully to make sure of the year concerned.

NOTE: The Monmouth County Real Property Assessment Demonstration Program calendar changes are available in section 105.04 of this Handbook. P.L. 2017, c.306, approved January 16, 2018, permitted Gloucester County to utilize these alternative calendar dates. P.L.2018, c.94 allowed all counties not currently using the alternate calendar to use it without requiring participation in the ADP Monmouth or Gloucester County Pilot programs. Monmouth, Gloucester and Burlington Counties are now utilizing this calendar.

NOTE: Tax Court Dates – Dates for filing complaints (appeals) with the Tax Court are not separately shown, but are in accordance with the following schedule: complaints to review any Equalization Table are to be filed within 45 days of the adoption or promulgation of the Table; complaints to review all other actions of a County Board of Taxation are to be filed within 45 days of the action to be reviewed; complaints to review actions by the Director of the Division of Taxation or any other State agency (other than an equalization table) are to be filed within 90 days of the action to be reviewed.

312. Assessment Lists.

Assessors must be familiar with a number of different assessment lists. In preparing and filing these lists, the assessor officially places his/her assessment on each property.

312.01 Tax Lists – Regular.

All regular assessments of real property and tangible personal property used in business must be entered on the Real Property Tax Assessment List and the Personal Property used in Business Tax Assessment List filed with the County Board of Taxation by January 10 of the tax year. The terms “Assessment List” and “Tax List” are used interchangeably in both the statutes and regulations.

312.02 Maintaining and Changing Tax Lists.

Assessors are required to keep their Assessment Lists current. County Recording Officers are required by law to provide the assessor with abstracts of deeds from property transactions affecting title. Statute also permits new property owners to present their deeds or other proofs of title for proper notation on the Tax List. Assessors are sometimes asked by attorneys, divorced parties, heirs or devisees etc. to change the names of property owners on the Tax List. It is important to recognize that a Tax List is not regarded as an official statement of ownership. In fact, the law provides, “...No assessment of real or personal property shall be considered invalid because listed or assessed in the name of one not the owner thereof, or because erroneously classed as the land of an unknown.” However, because accurate Tax Lists are necessary to the orderliness of the assessment function and to correct identification of persons responsible for payment of taxes, assessors should be careful to obtain adequate authorization for such changes.

The following documents may be used to support requests for name changes on a Tax List:

1. a new deed, properly executed;
2. a copy of a probated will, accompanied by a probate order;
3. a court order or a Surrogate's Letter of Administration;
4. a death certificate for the purpose of deleting the deceased's name;
5. a written statement of an attorney indicating ownership status and advising that change is warranted;
6. a written statement by a new owner showing evidence of title and notifying the assessor of the title change.

312.04 Form and Content of Personal Property used in Business Assessment List.

The Director of the Division of Taxation prescribes the form of the Personal Property used in Business Assessment List as authorized by law. However, since this List is usually small, the column headings and arrangement are preprogrammed into the database for production of the Real Property Tax List. Therefore, separate pages for business personalty need not be purchased from a commercial printer, but are printed automatically when the data processing system makes up the Personal Property used in Business Assessment List. The list is to contain the following:

- (a) Title: TANGIBLE PERSONAL PROPERTY OF TELEPHONE, PIPELINE AND MISCELLANEOUS TAX LIST
- (b) Name and number of taxing district and county. In addition to the page heading, the following information must be provided for each property on the Personal Property Tax List in the appropriate numbered column:

If the Director's Average Weighted Ratio exceeds the County Percentage Level, then the County Percentage Level is shown. For taxing districts which have effected a district-wide adjustment of taxable values for the tax year at issue, the County Percentage Level established for taxable values of real property is also used for tangible personal property. In no instance may the percentage figure in Column 6 exceed 100%.

6. Taxable Value of Tangible Personal Property Column-

- Reflects amounts obtained by multiplying the figures shown respectively in Column 4 by the ratios shown in Column 5. Amounts are those to which the tax rate is applied to develop the taxes payable by the owners of the personal property, as listed.

312.05 Assessor’s Affidavit.

Each assessor is required to complete and file with his/her Real Property Tax List and Personal Property Used in Business Tax List and their Duplicates the following Affidavit:

“I, as assessor of the..... of , do swear (or affirm) that the foregoing list contains the valuations of all the property liable for taxation in the taxing district in which I am assessor, and that such property has been valued without favor or partiality, at its taxable value and I have allowed only such exemptions as are prescribed by law.”

Where a “district-wide adjustment” of real property taxable valuations has been put into effect, the assessor must add to the affidavit the following statement:

“I do further swear (or affirm) that, for the tax year 20____, I have completed and put into operation a district-wide adjustment of real property taxable valuations and such taxable valuations conform to the percentage level established for such year expressing the taxable value of real property in the county.”

312.06 Filing the Assessment Lists.

The regular Real Property Tax List is prepared by the assessor in triplicate, with the original and the first copy being filed with the County Board of Taxation by January 10 of the tax year. The original is retained by the County Tax Board. The first copy, called the Tax Duplicate is returned to the assessor, who turns it over to the municipal tax collector for posting. The second copy of each List is retained in the assessor's office.

N.J.S.A. 54:4-36

312.07 Extending the Tax.

Statute provides that once the County Board of Taxation strikes the tax rates for the taxing districts, each assessor obtains the Tax Duplicate, either from the Board or the tax collector, and "extends" the tax. In actuality, the Data Centers perform this calculation by multiplying the taxable value of each property by the appropriate General Tax Rate for the district and entering the tax amount on the Duplicate List. General Tax Rates by County and Municipality are found on the Division of Taxation's website at: <http://www.state.nj.us/treasury/taxation/lpt/taxrate.shtml>

If special district taxes are to be levied, the assessor calculates the tax rate for special district purposes, unless the County Board of Taxation has already done so, by dividing the amount to be levied by the taxable value of all property within the limits of the district, and adding this rate to the rates certified by the County Tax Board. After taxes are extended, the assessor returns the Tax Duplicate to the County Board of Taxation which, by June 3 of the tax year, must correct and revise both the Tax List and Duplicate, and return the Duplicate to the tax collector, certified as the true record of taxes to be levied. Any extensions of taxes made prior to changes, revisions or corrections entered on the Real Property Tax List by the County Board of Taxation must be corrected before bills are mailed. In current practice, the extension of taxes is accomplished automatically by computer.

Chapter 4 Tax Deductions and Exemptions

401. Constitutional and Statutory Authority.

Tax deductions and exemptions are granted only by provision of the New Jersey Constitution or by general law. At present, deductions and exemptions granted by constitutional provision concern property of ~~war~~ active duty service veterans and their surviving spouses*; senior citizens, disabled persons and their surviving spouses; property of urban renewal corporations and property in blighted areas needing rehabilitation. Other exemptions are granted by general law and except for those exemptions granted by the State Constitution prior to 1947 to nonprofit religious, educational, charitable, and cemetery organizations, may be altered or repealed at any time by the State Legislature. Website access for the New Jersey Constitution and New Jersey Statutes Annotated N.J.S.A. may be found at: <http://www.njleg.state.nj.us/Default.asp>

The fundamental approach of New Jersey's Property Tax Laws is that all property bear its just share of the public responsibility of taxation. Statutes granting tax exemptions depart from that approach by providing preferential treatment which shifts the tax burden onto the nonexempt taxpayers in the taxing district. Therefore, the statutes granting tax exemption must be strictly construed.

PILOTS and Property Tax Relief Benefits.

Payments In-Lieu of Taxes or PILOTS are not considered property taxes as usually understood. PILOTS are defined as annual payments "in place of" or "instead of" property taxes otherwise due and are almost always less than what the traditional or conventional property tax payment would be. They are also referred to as "in-lieu payments," "in-lieu taxes," and "service charges (fees) in-lieu of taxes," or SILOTS.

Generally, PILOTS/SILOTS are made to compensate for some of the tax revenues lost on certain real estate due to the nature of its ownership or use. For example, the presence of State government tax exempt properties in a taxing district can impact the municipal ratable base. State PILOTS are often statutorily granted to municipalities with State-owned properties inside their borders as part payment for the cost of receiving municipal services. Occasionally, PILOTS are made voluntarily by nongovernmental tax exempt entities such as hospitals and nonprofit charitable organizations, again in recognition of receipt of municipal services. PILOTS are also commonly used in connection with revitalization projects undertaken to restore the economic viability of depressed areas. Local Redevelopment and Urban Renewal Laws recognize that successful redevelopment of areas in need of rehabilitation requires special tax incentives to encourage private investment.

New Jersey's Constitution at Article VIII, Section 1, Paragraphs 3 and 4 authorizes annual senior/disabled and veteran deductions and disabled veteran exemptions from the tax bills for taxes paid on real property. Because PILOTS are defined as "other than property taxes," they may not be deducted or exempted in this manner. Similarly, the Attorney General's Office has advised that "local special improvement assessments" are not property taxes in the constitutional sense, nor as commonly understood and, as such, are also not to be exempted, nor deducted. Article VIII, Section 1, Paragraph 5 authorizes rebates or credits to homeowners for property taxes paid and residential tenants for rents allocated to property taxes. With respect to property tax rebates/credits, at present the term "property tax" has been specifically defined to exclude "payments made in-lieu of taxes." [N.J.S.A.54:4-8.58]. As this definition is statutory, any change in the current meaning would have to be legislated.

Therefore, participants in PILOT Programs are not eligible for the aforementioned veteran, senior citizen/disabled person and homestead benefits.

*The State Legislature enacted the “Domestic Partnership Act” as P.L. 2003, c. 246, and established civil unions in P.L. 2006, c. 103. These laws provide that couples in domestic partnerships are entitled to certain, and those in civil unions the same, rights, privileges, and obligations as those in marriage. As such, any references to marriage may apply to domestic partnerships and equally apply to civil unions, and any references to spouses or husbands and wives may apply to domestic partners and equally apply to civil union partners.

402. Deduction-Senior Citizens, Disabled Persons, Surviving Spouses.

The New Jersey Constitution authorizes an annual $250 deduction from the real property taxes on a dwelling house owned and occupied by a person, 65 years of age or older or permanently and totally disabled; or the qualified surviving spouse, 55 years of age or older, of a senior citizen or disabled person; where annual income is $10,000 or less after permitted exclusions. General laws have been enacted to implement this constitutional provision, and regulations issued by the Director of the Division of Taxation.

402.01 Eligibility.

To qualify for the annual $250 Real Property Tax Deduction, a claimant must meet requirements of citizenship, property ownership, residency, income, timely application, and age or disability or widowhood/widowerhood as follows:

402.02 Citizenship.

An applicant for the Real Property Tax Deduction must be a citizen of New Jersey as of October 1 of the pretax year, i.e., the year prior to the tax year for which the deduction is requested. Per a ruling of the Attorney General's office this does not mean United States citizenship. If all other requirements are met, the assessor or collector should assume the applicant is a citizen of New Jersey.

402.03 Property Ownership.

A Real Property Tax Deduction applicant must own the dwelling for which the deduction is claimed on October 1 of the pretax year. Proof of legal title may be required of the applicant. Considered as qualifying ownership are: Executory contract for the purchase of property; a dwelling owned by a deduction claimant and assessed as real property, but situated on land owned by another; shares held by residents of cooperative or mutual housing associations per a 1988 voter-approved referendum; property owned by a partnership of which a deduction claimant is a member on his/her interest; property held by a guardian, trustee, committee, conservator, or other fiduciary for a deduction claimant; an interest arising from a probated will or the intestate laws of this State where the deduction claimant has legal title to such property, whether individually, jointly or as a life tenant, i.e., having a life estate, life rights or life tenancy in a dwelling.

Ownerships Defined.

Tenancy by the entirety - ownership of property by spouses or civil union partners. Spouses or civil union partners are treated as one person. Neither is allowed to break the tenancy by disposing of, conveying or mortgaging his/her interest without the signature of the other spouse. Upon the death of either, the property passes to the survivor. In New Jersey, a tenancy by the entirety is automatically created when a deed conveys property to spouses or civil union partners unless another type of co-ownership is specifically created. If spouses or civil union partners divorce, a tenancy in common would result.

Tenancy by the entirety in a tenancy in common or joint tenancy - a tenancy by the entirety may also exist in concert with other forms of co-ownership. For example, a property is deeded to a husband, wife, and a third party, and there is no specification of the type of ownership of the parties. The law will assume the overall ownership to be a tenancy in common, with the husband and wife assumed to hold one half undivided interest under a tenancy by the entirety, and the other half undivided interest held by the third party.

Dower (Wife) and Curtesy (Husband) - a surviving spouse's right to receive a life estate in one-half (1/2) of the real property owned by the deceased spouse was abolished in New Jersey on May 28, 1980 per N.J.S.A. 3B:28-1.

Tenancy by the severalty - sole ownership. Severalty means that the owner's interest is severed or separate from that of any other person.

Tenancy in common - an undivided ownership interest in property by two or more persons. When property is conveyed to more than one person, not being spouses or civil union partners, New Jersey law assumes the ownership to be a tenancy in common unless otherwise stated in the deed. One owner would be free to sell his/her interest as he/she sees fit and the new owner would become a new tenant in common with the other owner or owners. Co-owners may have unequal ownership interest but they are entitled to equal use and possession. Upon the death of one tenant in common, there is no right of survivorship among the other tenants in common. But the deceased tenant's property would pass to his/her heirs.

Joint tenancy with right of survivorship - ownership of property by two or more persons. All owners have a right to equal use and enjoyment of the entire property during their lives. On the death of a joint tenant, his/her ownership interest passes to the surviving joint tenants. Property can be conveyed by deed by all co-tenants. The deed must specifically create a joint tenancy in its grant, otherwise a tenancy in common is assumed.

Life tenancy, a.k.a. life estate, lifetime right - a life tenant is entitled to all the rights of ownership during the term of the life tenancy. He/she may not materially destroy or injure the property. He/she must keep the property repaired, pay the property taxes, mortgages, & any loans etc. He/she may sell, mortgage or lease the life interest. But upon his/her death, the sold, mortgaged or leased rights of others will automatically terminate. A life estate is not an estate of inheritance, that is, the right cannot be passed onto the owner's heirs. It exists only during the lifetime of a particular person.

Reversion and Remainder Interests- a reversion is an underlying ownership interest that continues in the grantor of a life estate after the life estate has been conveyed to the life tenant but which does not become effective until the end of the life estate. A life estate with a reversionary interest simply reverts back to the original fee simple owner (reverter) when the life estate ends.

A remainder interest is created in a person(s) other than the grantor and who is called a remainderman, a.k.a. remainderperson. A remainderman has an underlying ownership interest in the real property, but has no right to possess or use it until the life estate terminates.

The reversion or remainder interest is future interest and is subject to the life estate.

Condominium ownership - a condo owner has an individual ownership interest (fee ownership) in his/her dwelling unit which can be deeded, mortgaged, refinanced, insured, leased and taxed separately from the other dwelling units. He/she also has an undivided ownership interest with the other residence owners of the condo's public or common areas, elements and facilities such as lobbies, stairwells, elevators, walkways, lawns, gardens, tennis courts, swimming pools, driveways, parking areas, recreational land areas, etc. Each unit owner is also taxed on his/her proportionate share of the common areas, elements and facilities.

Condominiums are not limited to residential dwellings. Commercial office structures, parking spaces, campsites, hotels, and others have utilized the condominium form of ownership.

Cooperative or co-op ownership - is a form of ownership in which a corporation holds title to property and leases the property to shareholders in that corporation. Persons wishing to occupy units owned by the corporation sign an agreement for stock and enter into a proprietary lease. In the proprietary lease, the shareholder agrees to pay a proportionate share of expenses incurred by the corporation for property taxes, maintenance, etc., based on the total amount of stock he/she owns. The shareholder's right or interest in the co-op is considered to be personal property, not real property. He/she owns shares of stock in the corporation, i.e., personal property and has a leasehold, i.e., personal property. His/her right is one of occupancy or residence in the dwelling rather than ownership of it. Co-op owners qualify for property tax deductions by specific constitutional and statutory amendments.

Continuing Care Retirement Community (CCRC) a.k.a. Life Plan Community- a residential facility primarily for retired persons addressing a continuum of aging care needs from independent living, assisted living and skilled nursing all in one community, where lodging, nursing, medical or other health related services are provided pursuant to an agreement effective for the life of the individual or for at least a year or more with payment of an entrance fee with or without periodic charges.

For eligibility for New Jersey property tax relief programs, the agreement must require the resident to bear separately from other charges a proportionate share of the property taxes assessed upon the CCRC attributable to the unit the resident occupies.

Not all residential health care facilities in N.J. are CCRCs. New Jersey CCRCs are required to be registered with the Dept. of Community Affairs. See link below

https://www.state.nj.us/dca/divisions/codes/publications/pdf_ccrc/ccrc2011.pdf

Some CCRCs are fully property tax exempt as hospital purpose facilities under N.J.S.A.54:4-3.6 and not eligible for property tax relief program benefits.

Executory Contract - is a contract that has not been fully performed, or for which there remains something to be done by both parties, often times as part of a larger transaction; it may be memorialized in an informal letter agreement, by memorandum, or by oral agreement. An executory contract may be sufficient for ownership in certain, but not all, New Jersey real property tax benefit programs.

Limited Liability Company- commonly called an LLC, combines elements of both partnerships and corporations. Its business structure is similar to a corporation, but less formal. Under the New Jersey Limited Liability Company Act, an LLC will be classified as a partnership for New Jersey income tax purposes, unless otherwise classified for federal income tax purposes, in which case the LLC is then classified as it is for federal income tax purposes, e.g., corporation or a disregarded single entity, sole proprietor (single owner). You can form a New Jersey LLC with just one owner.

Ninety nine (99) Year Lease - some NJ courts have equated these leases with ownership rights.

Trusts.

The $250 Senior/Disabled/Survivor Deduction, the $250 Veteran Deduction, the Homestead Property Tax Benefit (Credit) , Property Tax Reimbursement (Senior/Disabled Tax Freeze) and the Disabled Veteran Exemption all provide property tax relief for properties held in trust for qualified claimants. Right to claim the aforesaid benefits extends to property title to which is held by “a guardian, trustee, committee, conservator or other fiduciary for any person who would otherwise be entitled” to claim such benefit.

A trust is a fiduciary relationship in which one party, the trust creator or trustor (also known as a settlor, grantor, founder, or donor) gives property (real or personal) to another party, the trustee, who has an equitable obligation to keep or use the property for the benefit of a third party, the beneficiary. The trustor may also be the trustee or the trustee may also be the beneficiary, but there must always be at least two parties to a trust. This is because a person cannot have an obligation to himself or herself, as would be the case if he or she was the trustor, trustee, and sole beneficiary. However, if there are multiple beneficiaries, then the sole trustee may also be a beneficiary.

There are many classifications of trusts, each of which may be further divided into subcategories that will determine their treatment for taxation and in legal disputes. For the purposes of property tax benefits, there are two main types of trusts that the assessor will encounter:

1. “Living” Trust (inter vivos): A trust that is created and in effect during the trustor's lifetime.
2. Testamentary Trust: A trust that is created through the will of a deceased person and is not operative until the will is probated.

A further distinction may be made between revocable and irrevocable trusts. A “living” trust may be either revocable or irrevocable, while a testamentary trust must be irrevocable, since it will come into existence only upon the death of the trustor.

Irrevocable Trust.

A trust into which a grantor deposits assets for use by a beneficiary where the terms of the trust cannot be modified or abrogated without permission of the beneficiary. That is, when a grantor sets up an irrevocable trust, he/she completely relinquishes ownership of the assets placed in the trust. As a result, an irrevocable trust is not usually considered part of the grantor's estate for Estate Tax purposes.

Revocable Trust.

A trust for which the provisions can be altered or canceled dependent on the grantor. During the life of the trust, income earned may be distributed to the grantor, and only after death does property transfer to the beneficiaries, either outright or distributed under a continuation of the trust. This is also referred to as a "revocable living trust." A revocable trust that continues after the death of the settlor-beneficiary becomes an irrevocable trust.

Trusts on the Tax List.

As per N.J.S.A. 54:4-24, "the assessor shall make a list in tabular form of the names of the owners ... of each parcel.... Property held in trust shall be assessed in the name of 1 or more of the trustees as such, separately from his individual assessment." This is because property held in trust is legally owned by the trustee, as noted in the previous section. If other information needs to be reflected, such as the beneficiary's name, it can be listed in the "additional owners" field. For assistance in the proper formatting, please contact the MOD IV vendor.

Partial or Multi-Ownership and Prorated Deductions.

Where title to a dwelling is shared by a claimant with other owners, he/she is eligible for the Real Property Tax Deduction on his/her share of the real estate tax bill. Unless some other situation is shown to exist, each owner is assumed to hold an equal ownership interest in the property. Regardless of the number of claimant-owners, the total deduction on such dwelling may not be more than $250 for 1983 and thereafter. Per N.J.S.A. 54:4-8.46 “Where title to property...is held by claimant and another or others...claimant shall not be allowed a deduction in an amount in excess of his proportionate share of the taxes assessed against said property...” See also Section on Aggregate Deduction.

In the first four examples all owners are deduction claimants.

EXAMPLE:

2 owners

1 Senior Citizen	$125.00
1 Disabled Person	+ $125.00
Deduction	$250.00

EXAMPLE:

3 owners

1 Senior Citizen	$83.33
1 Disabled Person	$83.33
1 Surviving Spouse	+ $83.34
Deduction	$250.00

EXAMPLE:

4 owners

4 Senior Citizens	$62.50
Or Disabled	$62.50
Persons or	$62.50
Surviving Spouses	+ $62.50
Deduction	$250.00
Or any combination thereof

EXAMPLE: 1 Senior Citizen with 75% ownership	$187.50
1 Senior Citizen with 25% ownership	+ $62.50
Deduction	$250.00

In the next three examples not all owners are deduction claimants.

EXAMPLE: Total annual taxes - $3,000.00

2 property owners where only one owner is a deduction claimant.

$$3,000 \div 2 = $1,500$ taxes, claimant receives full $250.00 tax deduction.

EXAMPLE: Total annual taxes- $3,000.00

4 property owners where two owners are deduction claimants.

$$3,000 \div 4 = \750 taxes, each deduction claimant receives $125.00 of the $250 tax deduction.

Although this almost never occurs:

EXAMPLE: Total annual taxes - $800.00

4 property owners with equal ownership interest where only one owner is deduction claimant.

$$800 \div 4 = \200 taxes, deduction amount of $250 restricted by proportionate tax payment to $200.

402.08 Ineligible Ownership.

A Real Property Tax Deduction is not permitted on a dwelling in which the claimant has only an estate for a term of years, a leasehold interest or an interest of any other nature less than an estate in fee. Property owned by a corporation or a limited liability company, LLC, is not entitled to a deduction.

402.09 Residence.

A senior citizen, disabled, or widowed/widowed (surviving spouse) Real Property Tax Deduction applicant must meet two residence requirements as of October 1 of the pretax year. A third condition of residency is required of a surviving spouse deduction applicant.

1. Residence in New Jersey. A Real Property Tax Deduction claimant must have been domiciled in New Jersey for at least one year immediately preceding October 1 of the pretax year. An applicant need not have resided in the same dwelling for which the deduction is claimed, nor in the same municipality or county during that time, as long as he/she was domiciled in this State for one year immediately prior to pretax year October 1.

EXAMPLE: State residence begins June 1, 2017 through June 1, 2018. Residence in claimed dwelling October 1, 2018, pretax year establishes deduction for tax year 2019.

EXAMPLE: State residence begins November 1, 2017, through November 1, 2018. Residence in claimed dwelling October 1, 2018, means ineligible for deduction for tax year 2019. Residence in claimed dwelling October 1, 2019, pretax year establishes deduction for tax year 2020.

Seasonal or temporary residence, regardless of duration, does not constitute domicile for purposes of this deduction. Absence from this State for 12 months is considered prima facie evidence of abandonment of domicile.

Domicile Defined. A domicile is any place you regard as your permanent home - the place to which you intend to return after a period of absence (as on vacation abroad, business assignment, educational leave, etc.). A person has only one domicile, although he/she may have more than one place to live. Once established, your domicile continues until you move to a new location with the intent to make it your permanent home and to abandon your New Jersey domicile. Moving to a new location, even for a long time, does not change your domicile if you intend to return to New Jersey. Some proofs of domicile are New Jersey voter registration, New Jersey motor vehicle registration and driver's license, and resident tax return filing.

Prima Facie Defined. A fact presumed to be true, unless disproved by some evidence to the contrary.

2. Residence in the Dwelling House. A Real Property Tax Deduction applicant must reside in the dwelling for which the deduction is claimed on October 1 of the pretax year. "Dwelling house" means the dwelling where the claimant makes his/her principal and permanent home. For example, where a rental apartment is the claimant's principal place of residence and a cottage or bungalow is occupied during vacations, the vacation residence is not eligible for a deduction.
3. Residence as a Surviving Spouse. A surviving spouse of a deceased senior citizen or disabled person Real Property Tax Deduction recipient must reside in the same dwelling for which the deduction was originally granted, and the survivor's property tax deduction may apply only to that dwelling.
4. Partial Occupancy. Where a claimant owns property but resides in or occupies only a portion of it, the Real Property Tax Deduction is applied to the taxes due from that portion of the property occupied as the dwelling.
5. Residences of Husband and Wife. A claimant may receive only one Real Property Tax Deduction on the dwelling owned and used as the principal place of residence. A husband and wife, both meeting all eligibility requirements, even if they own more than one property, are granted only one deduction for their principal residence.

402.10 Income.

A Real Property Tax Deduction applicant must establish that his/her anticipated income from all sources for the tax year for which the deduction is claimed will not exceed $10,000 after excluding income under ONE of the following three income categories:

1. The Federal Social Security Act and all its amendments and supplements; or
2. Any other Federal government program or Federal law which provides benefits in whole or in part in-lieu of Social Security benefits or for persons excluded from Social Security coverage, including but not limited to the Federal Railroad Retirement Act and Federal pension, disability and retirement programs; or
3. Pension, disability or retirement programs of any state* or its political subdivisions or agencies, for persons not covered under (1) Social Security, provided that the total benefit excludable under (2) or (3) is not in excess of the maximum benefit excludable in similar circumstances under (1) Social Security.

State, its Political Subdivisions or Agencies pensions, disability, or retirement programs: These benefits are not limited to the State of New Jersey. For example, when a New Jersey resident is receiving a New York City pension, it is viewed as being part of the third category of Excludable Income as set forth in these Guidelines.

402.11 Definitions.

“Income” includes but is not limited to: salaries, wages, bonuses, commissions, tips, and other compensations before payroll deductions, all dividends, interest, *realized capital gains, royalties, income from rents, business income and, in their entirety, pension, annuity and retirement benefits. Dividends, interest, *realized capital gains, pensions, annuities and retirement benefits must be included in full, without deductions, even though they may be wholly or partially exempt for Federal income tax purposes.

*Realized capital gain from the sale or exchange of real property owned and used by a claimant as his/her principal residence, and on which he/she received a senior citizen, disabled person or surviving spouse property tax deduction is not to be included as income when calculating the $10,000 income limit.

“Business Income” means gross income derived from a business, trade, profession or from the rental of property after deductions of the ordinary and necessary expenses of the business, trade, profession or property rental as allowed under the Federal Internal Revenue Code and regulations.

“Disability Income” is excludable by law when calculating deduction income limits for benefits received under a Federal, State or political subdivision program to the extent of the maximum benefits available under the Federal Social Security Act. Any other disability income than that received under a Federal, State or political subdivision program is to be evaluated based on its proper treatment for Federal income tax purposes.

“Marital Income” Where both husband and wife are entitled to Social Security benefits, government retirement pensions or government disability pensions, each is permitted his/her own exclusion from one of the categories of excludable income subject to the maximum limitations provided by law. Income received by a Real Property Tax Deduction claimant and spouse is combined in establishing eligibility for the deduction unless they are living apart in a state of separation, whether under judicial decree or otherwise.

“State of separation” means a permanent and indefinite period of separation and does not include temporary periods of separation such as separate vacations, business trips, hospitalizations, etc.

“Family Income” In determining a claimant’s income, family members’ incomes, other than a spouse, are not to be combined with the income of the claimant.

“Federal Internal Revenue Code Income Definition Applicable”
Except as otherwise indicated, the definition of income under Federal Internal Revenue Code and regulations is the basis for computing income levels for purposes of determining deduction entitlement.

“Income Guidelines” Guidelines to aid in determining income eligibility are issued annually by the Division of Taxation, Property Administration, and are available on the assessors’ portal and the Division’s public website at: <https://www.state.nj.us/treasury/taxation/pdf/lpt/2020incomeguidelines.pdf>

402.12 Timely Application - No Retroactive Claims; Personal Deduction.

Claimants must apply for the deduction on Form PTD, found at: http://www.state.nj.us/treasury/taxation/pdf/other_forms/lpt/ptd.pdf.

“Claim for Real Property Tax Deduction on Dwelling House of Qualified New Jersey Resident Senior Citizen, Disabled Person or Surviving Spouse/Surviving Civil Union Partner” is also supplied by each municipality. Forms may be filed with the assessor from October 1 through December 31 of the pretax year, i.e., the year prior to the calendar tax year or with the tax collector from January 1 through December 31 of the calendar tax year. For example, for a property tax deduction claimed for tax year 2018, the pretax year filing period would be October 1 - December 31, 2017, with the assessor. The tax year filing period would be January 1 - December 31, 2018 with the collector.

NOTE: No application for a previous tax year is to be permitted by the assessor, tax collector or governing body. An executor, administrator, etc., may not apply for a deduction on behalf of the estate of a decedent who died without having filed PTD application since this deduction is considered to be a personal one and the estate is a separate legal entity. Age.

Age requirements for the Real Property Tax Deduction differ among Senior Citizens, Disabled Persons and Surviving Spouses.

1. Senior Citizen. A senior citizen must be 65 or more years of age as of December 31 of the pretax year. Proof of age should be attached to the application in the form of an original or photocopy of a birth certificate, baptismal record, family bible page, official census record, marriage certificate, court record, social security record, military discharge or other record, immigration document, insurance policy, or some similar record. Where photocopying of an original immigration document is not permitted, the assessor or collector should abstract the appropriate information and attach the abstract to the application.

2. Disabled Person. There is no age requirement to be met by a disabled person.
3. Surviving Spouse. A surviving spouse must be at least 55 or more years of age on or before December 31 of the pretax year and had to have been at least age 55 at the time of death of the deceased spouse. Proof of age or date of birth should be documented with an original or photocopy of a birth, baptismal or marriage certificate, death certificate or any other similar official record.

402.15 Surviving Spouse.

A surviving spouse is the unremarried widowed or widowed partner of a marriage, who was at least 55 years of age as of December 31 of the pretax year and at the time of the deceased spouse's death, where the decedent spouse during his or her life received either a senior citizen or disabled person's Real Property Tax Deduction. A qualified surviving spouse is eligible for a deduction on the same dwelling for which the deceased spouse received a property tax deduction. Proofs on file should include a copy of a death certificate of the decedent spouse, documentation of survivor's age and the marriage certificate.

402.16 Aggregate Real Property Tax Deduction Limited.

By law, the aggregate Real Property Tax Deduction from taxes levied on a dwelling may not be more than $250 for 1983 and thereafter. Statute does not preclude more than one owner - claimant, whether title is held as tenancy in common or joint tenancy, from requesting the deduction, but no more than one full Real Property Tax Deduction per property is allowed in any year. An individual senior/disabled/widow(er) deduction claimant who also qualifies as a veteran deduction claimant is entitled to both the $250 Real Property Tax Deduction and the $250 Veteran's Property Tax Deduction. Where title to a dwelling house is held by both a Real Property Tax Deduction claimant as a senior citizen, disabled person, or surviving spouse and by a Veteran Property Tax Deduction claimant or his/her surviving spouse either as tenants by the entirety, joint tenants or as tenants in common, the $250 Real Property Tax Deduction claimant and the $250 Veteran Property Tax Deduction claimant are each entitled to the applicable deduction, even if the aggregate amount exceeds $250, provided that it does not exceed each claimant's proportionate share of the total taxes assessed against the property.

EXAMPLES:

1 owner	2 owners
$250 Senior Citizen Deduction	$125 Senior Citizen Deduction
+ $250 Veteran Deduction	$125 Senior Citizen Deduction
$500 Aggregate Amount	+ $250 Veteran Deduction
	$500 Aggregate Amount

2 or 3 owners

$250 Senior Citizen Deduction
 $250 Veteran Deduction
 +$250 Veteran Deduction
 $750 Aggregate Amount

EXAMPLE:

A senior citizen and his disabled sister equally own and reside in a 2-family dwelling. The 2 unit dwelling is one block and lot and one line item on the assessment/tax list. The senior citizen receives a $250 Real Property Tax Deduction. If the disabled sister also applied and qualified for a Real Property Tax Deduction, the maximum deduction each brother and sister could receive would be $125, even though there are 2 dwelling units.

In addition, a recipient of a Real Property Tax Deduction may also receive any homestead credit or property tax reimbursement provided by law.

403.02 Municipality Supplies Claim Forms; Reproducible; Cost State Reimbursed.

Each taxing district is required to provide application forms for the use of claimants. However, pursuant to P.L. 1997, c.30, the State will annually reimburse each district an additional 2% over the cost of the actual deductions to offset administrative expenses. The forms are promulgated by the Director, Division of Taxation and may be reproduced for distribution, but may not be altered without prior approval.

403.03 Filing Claim Forms; Under Oath.

Claimants applying for the Real Property Tax Deduction for the first time must file "Claim for Real Property Tax Deduction on Dwelling House of Qualified New Jersey Resident Senior Citizen, Disabled Person or Surviving Spouse/Surviving Civil Union Partner," Form PTD, with the assessor on or after October 1 and not later than December 31 of the pretax year or with the tax collector between January 1 and December 31 of the calendar tax year. After approval of initial application, claimants must timely submit "Annual Post-Tax Year Income Statement of Qualified New Jersey Resident Senior Citizen, Disabled Person or Surviving Spouse," Form PD5, by March 1 every year thereafter to retain the deduction. Assessors and tax collectors and their assistants are authorized to administer the oath which may be required of applicants, but no charge may be made for this. All declarations of deduction claimants are considered as if made under oath and subject to penalties for perjury if falsified.

403.04 Accepting Claim Forms.

All applications for Real Property Tax Deduction should be accepted, if filed within the prescribed time periods, whether or not the claimant appears qualified. This allows a claimant to file an appeal with the County Board of Taxation if he/she feels his/her application is denied incorrectly.

403.05 Processing Claim Forms.

By Assessors. Assessors should maintain complete files of all approved and disapproved PTD applications and their supporting documents, and note approved claims in the records. Supporting documents remain the property of each assessor's office. Tax collectors should note contingent tax liabilities for each claimant's deduction amount should it later be disallowed based on excess income, change of ownership or residence or failure to meet any other prerequisites.

By Collectors. Where a PTD application is filed with and a deduction allowed by the tax collector, he/she is to determine the amount of the claimant's tax reduction and offset the amount against the tax then unpaid. The tax collector should transmit the application, together with all attachments or photocopies, to the assessor. The assessor is then to review the application and, if approved by him/her, it will have the same force as if originally filed with him/her.

403.06 Continuing Deduction.

A Real Property Tax Deduction, once granted, continues in force from year to year without further applications as long as a recipient remains eligible. Each assessor may, at any time, inquire into a recipient's right to continue the deduction and require a new application or such proof as he/she considers necessary to determine continued entitlement. Also, every deduction recipient, by law, is to inform the assessor of any change which might affect his/her ongoing entitlement to the deduction. However, every year after initial application is approved, a deduction recipient must file with the tax collector by March 1 an Annual Post-Tax Year Income Statement, PD5, verifying his/her income for the preceding tax year did not exceed the maximum allowed and that the income he/she anticipates for the ensuing tax year will not exceed it. Each collector may require such proof as he/she considers necessary to verify the statement.

403.07 Post-Tax Year Income Statement Required.

On or before March 1 of the post-tax year, that is, the year following the calendar tax year, a deduction recipient must file with the tax collector, Form PD5, a statement of his/her income for the tax year. If the statement is not timely filed or satisfactorily documented, or if the income exceeds the permitted maximum, the deduction must be disallowed. The deduction amount previously granted would then be payable by its recipient to the taxing district by June 1 of the post-tax year. If not paid by that date, the taxes become delinquent, a lien on the property and a personal debt of the homeowner.

403.08 Post-Tax Year Income Statement Filing Deadline Extended.

Where a tax collector is satisfied that failure to file an income statement by March 1 was due to a claimant's illness or medical problem, he/she may grant a filing extension to no later than May 1 of the post-tax year. The claimant must provide the collector with a physician's statement that the claimant was physically incapacitated and unable to file by the original March 1 filing deadline. If the Real Property Tax Deduction is then disallowed for untimeliness, income etc., taxes in an amount equal to the deduction must be paid on or before June 1 or where filing extension to May 1 was granted no later than 30 calendar days after the Notice of Disallowance was mailed. If unpaid, the taxes become delinquent, a lien is placed on the property and a personal debt is created.

Disallowing Claim Forms.

If application for Real Property Tax Deduction is disapproved, a Notice of Disallowance, Form PD 4, must be sent to the claimant by regular mail giving the reason or reasons for denial and advising the claimant of his/her right to appeal to the County Board of Taxation on or before April 1.

1. Application Denied By Assessor.

Where an initial application for property tax deduction, Form PTD, is denied by the assessor, he/she must forward a Notice of Disallowance, Form PD 4, to the claimant on or before June 1 of the tax year.

2. Application Denied By Collector.

Where an initial application for property tax deduction, Form PTD, is denied by the tax collector, he/she must forward a Notice of Disallowance, Form PD 4, to the claimant within 30 days of receipt of the application.

3. Application Denied By Collector Per Post-Tax Year Statement.

Where the deduction is denied by the tax collector because the claimant failed to timely file the Post-Tax Year Income Statement, Form PD 5, or because claimant's—annual income exceeded/will exceed the $10,000 limit, he/she must forward a Notice of Disallowance, Form PD 4, to the claimant on or before April 1 of the post-tax year or, where filing extension to May 1 has been granted, not later than June 1 post-tax year.

403.10 Change in Ownership or Residence; Tax Liability Proration, Lien.

When a Real Property Tax Deduction recipient transfers ownership, sells or ceases to occupy his/her dwelling as his/her principal residence during the tax year, a post-tax year income statement must be filed to verify deduction entitlement for that portion of the tax year prior to the sale, transfer or change in residence. Any tax liability is to be prorated by the tax collector based on the number of days during the tax year that entitlement to the property tax deduction ceased.

EXAMPLE: Qualified property tax deduction recipient sells the claimed dwelling house on May 3 of the tax year. Proration of the $250 deduction is calculated as:

(May 4 to December 31)

242 days of non-ownership	X $250 deduction = $165.75
365 days in year

$250.00 Deduction
-$165.75 Deduction to be repaid to municipality
$ 84.25 Prorated Deduction amount allowed

Failure to timely file or document the income statement or if income exceeded the allowable annual $10,000 maximum, the full property tax deduction for that tax year is to be denied and taxes in an amount equal to said deduction must be paid on or before June 1 of the post-tax year or, where filing extension has been granted no later than 30 calendar days after the Notice of Disallowance was mailed. If unpaid, the taxes become delinquent, a lien on the property and a personal debt of the claimant.

403.11 Death of a Property Tax Deduction Claimant/Recipient.

The Director of the Division of Taxation has promulgated the following guidelines:

1. Where a qualified claimant applies for property tax deduction during October 1 -December 31 of the pretax year and dies prior to January 1 of the ensuing tax year, the deduction for such tax year should be disallowed.
2. Where a qualified claimant applies for a deduction between October 1 - December 31 of the pretax year and dies on January 1 of the tax year or thereafter, the deduction for such tax year should be allowed. There is no need for proration nor filing of Post-Tax Year Income Statement, except as noted below.
3. Where a qualified claimant applies for deduction during the tax year, is granted deduction, and dies during that tax year, there is no need for proration nor filing of Post-Tax Year Income Statement, except as noted below.
4. Where an established qualified claimant who has been receiving deductions dies after December 31 of the pretax year (i.e. during tax the year or thereafter) and prior to filing a Post-Tax Year Income Statement, the deduction should be allowed for the tax year if all prerequisites have been met as of October 1 of the pretax year. There is no need for proration and no Post-Tax Year Income Statement need be filed, except as noted below.

5. Where a qualified claimant dies after filing a Post-Tax Year Income Statement, there is no need for proration and no Post-Tax Year Income Statement need be filed during the year following such tax year, except as noted below.

EXCEPTION: If the surviving spouse, heirs-at-law, or assigns of the deceased deduction recipient sell or transfer title to the dwelling house during the tax year of recipient's death, the deduction ceases as of the sale or transfer date and the tax collector should prorate the deduction based on the number of days remaining in the tax year following the date of sale or transfer. The prorated amount constitutes a lien against the dwelling.

NOTE: Deduction stays in place on tax roll for tax year of death, unless sold or title transferred as per exception.

403.12 Appeals.

An aggrieved claimant may appeal the denial of a Real Property Tax Deduction in the same manner as appeals from assessments generally. If a claimant's deduction is disallowed by an assessor or collector at a date too late to permit the filing of an appeal with the County Board of Taxation on or before April 1* of the current year, then, the claimant would be entitled to appeal at any time on or before April 1* of the succeeding year. If the appeal is filed in time to permit it to be calendared and heard by the County Tax Board during the year immediately following the year to which the appeal relates, the board may hear and decide the appeal for that tax year. The appeal should indicate the nature and location of the property, the reasons for complaint and the relief sought. 404. Tax Deduction Applied to Added and Omitted Assessments.

404.01 Added Assessments.

A Real Property Tax Deduction may be applied to an Added Assessment levied on a dwelling house where all deduction prerequisites, including having legal title to the improved property as of pretax year October 1, have been met and the aggregate amount of the deduction claimed against the total taxes on the entire property does not exceed $250 for 1983 and thereafter. The amount of deduction is subtracted from the amount of taxes on the Added Assessment List after apportioning the assessment as provided by law.

Only one deduction may be received on the dwelling which constitutes the principal residence. The deduction may not be divided between two or more residences.

405. Deduction - Veterans, Veterans' and Servicepersons' Surviving Spouses.

New Jersey's Constitution provides for a deduction of up to $250 from taxes levied on real and personal property owned by: qualified active duty service veterans, their surviving spouses, and the surviving spouses of servicepersons who served and died on active duty. Unlike the $250 Senior/Disabled Real Property Tax Deduction, the $250 Veteran Property Deduction does not have to be for a principal residence. The Veteran Deduction can apply to any real property the veteran owns, e.g., business property, residential rental property, vacant land, even farmland. General laws have been enacted to implement the constitutional provisions and administrative regulations have been promulgated by the Director of the Division of Taxation.

405.01 Eligibility.

To qualify for the $250 Veteran's Property Tax Deduction, a claimant must meet requirements of citizenship, residency, active duty service in United States Armed Forces, honorable discharge, real or personal property ownership, timely application, and surviving spouse where warranted as follows:

405.02 Citizenship.

The veteran applicant must be a citizen of New Jersey as of October 1 of the pretax year, i.e., the year prior to the tax year for which deduction is requested. The Constitutional and statutory language requiring a veteran and a veteran's surviving spouse to be "citizens of this State" means New Jersey citizenship, not United States citizenship.

405.03 Residence in New Jersey.

The Veteran Property Tax Deduction applicant must be a legal or domiciliary resident of New Jersey as of October 1 of the pre-tax year.

Domicile Defined.

Domicile is any place you regard as your permanent home - the place you intend to return to after a period of absence (as on vacation abroad, business assignment, educational leave, etc.). A person has only one domicile, although he/she may have more than one place to live. Your domicile, once established, continues until you move to a new location with the intent to make it your permanent home and to abandon your New Jersey domicile. Moving to a new location, even for a long time, does not change your domicile if you intend to return to New Jersey. Some proofs of domicile are New Jersey voter registration, New Jersey motor vehicle registration, driver's license and resident tax return filing.

Seasonal or temporary residence in this State is not sufficient. Absence from this State for 12 months or more is prima facie evidence of abandonment of domicile. In Roxbury Twp. v. Heydt, the Tax Court of New Jersey held that duration of a military serviceperson's residence in New Jersey was not a significant factor in determining domicile in view of duty reassignment practices of the Armed Forces. The burden of proving legal domicile is on the deduction claimant.

Prima Facie - a fact presumed to be true, unless disproved by some evidence to the contrary.

405.04 Active Service in the United States Armed Forces.

When a service member is “called up” for duty he or she is considered mobilized or activated. Not all mobilized personnel are actually deployed. Deployment refers to the moving of personnel to military operations sites, usually overseas. Some mobilized personnel remain local. In most cases, written orders will state the call up authority and type of duty performed.

A Veteran Property Tax Deduction applicant must have served full-time active duty in the Armed Forces of the United States. The Armed Forces of the United States includes:

1. Air Force
2. Army
3. Army Transport Command
4. Coast Guard
5. Marine Corps
6. Navy
7. Women’s Army Corps (As of July 1, 1943)
8. Regularly established women’s auxiliary units of the Coast Guard, Marine Corps, and Navy, together with Nurses, when on active duty with any of the above listed military service branches.

Reserve Unit Personnel of the following units when detailed for and on active duty with the above listed service branches are also included:

1. Air Force Enlisted Reserve
2. Coast Guard Regular Reserve

3. Coast Guard Reserve
4. Dental Reserve Corps of the Navy
5. Enlisted Reserve Corps
6. Marine Corps Reserve
7. Marine Corps Reserve Force
8. Medical Reserve Corps of the Army
9. Medical Reserve Corps of the Navy
10. National Naval Volunteers
11. National Guard of the United States
 - a. Air National Guard of the United States
 - b. Army National Guard of the United States
12. Naval Auxiliary Reserve
13. Naval Militia
14. Naval Reserve
15. Naval Reserve Force
16. Officers' Reserve Corps of the Air Force
17. Officers' Reserve Corps of the Army
18. Officers' Reserve Corps of the Navy
19. Organized Reserve
20. Public Health Service
21. Regular Army Reserve
22. Reserve Corps of the Public Health Service
23. Reserve Officers Training Corps
24. Students' Army Training Corps (World War I)
25. United States Maritime Service or Merchant Marines (during World War II only)
26. United States Army Transport Service (Transportation Corps during World War II)
27. United States Naval Transportation Service (during World War II)

Maritime Service - Merchant Marines.

On January 19, 1988, the “American Merchant Marine in Oceangoing Service during the Period of Armed Conflict, December 7, 1941, to August 15, 1945,” was determined to be “active duty” under Public Law 95-202 for all laws administered by the Veterans Administration. Although not part of the United States Merchant Marine, Civil Service crew members aboard U.S. Army Transport Service and Naval Transportation Service vessels in oceangoing service or foreign waters are also in this approved group.

An “active duty” determination was also made regarding eligibility for New Jersey’s veterans’ property tax benefits. To qualify for the New Jersey property tax deduction or exemption, the following is required:

1. Employment by the War Shipping Administration or Office of Defense Transportation or their agents as merchant seamen documented by the U. S. Coast Guard or Department of Commerce (Merchant Mariner’s Document/Certificate of Service), or by the U. S. Army Transport Service (later redesignated U. S. Army Transportation Corps, Water Division) or the Naval Transportation Service as a civil servant; and
2. Satisfactory service as a crew member during the period of armed conflict, December 7, 1941; to August 15, 1945, aboard
 - a. merchant vessels in oceangoing, i.e., foreign, intercoastal, or coastwise service (46 USCA 10301 and 10501) and “near foreign” voyages between the United States and Canada, Mexico, or the West Indies via ocean routes, or
 - b. public vessels in oceangoing service or foreign waters.

405.05 Ineligible Service.

“Active duty for training” or “field training” as a member of a Reserve Component of the Armed Forces of the United States during the pendency of the Vietnam conflict is not considered “active duty” or “active service,” and such military service is not eligible military service for purposes of receiving Veterans Tax Deductions and Exemptions. In a 1973 Deputy Attorney General opinion, excerpting the Military and Veterans Law, N.J.S.A. 38A1-1(i) “Active duty” is defined as full time duty in the active military service of the United States, other than active duty for training.

“Active duty for training” is defined as “full time duty in the active military service of the United States with or without pay for training purposes, including the initial period of training required by 10 U.S.C. 511(d) for enlisted members of the Army National Guard of the United States and Army Reserve and, with respect to the Army Reserve annual training, attendance at Army service schools...field training exercises or maneuvers under 10 U.S.C. 672(b), 672(d) or 673.”

“Annual training” is defined by the Army Regulation to mean “a period of full time training duty for members of the Army National Guard and a period of active duty for training for members of the Army Reserve required to be performed each calendar year, including duty performed at summer encampments, and field exercises and maneuvers.” The provisions of 10 U.S.C. Si 1(d), Reserve Enlistment Program of 1963, state that each person enlisted in a reserve component program shall perform an initial period of active duty for training of not less than four months to commence, so far as practicable, within 180 days after the date of enlistment. See also: 32 U.S.C. 502.

Duty performed by a member of the organized militia other than active duty or active duty for training is characterized as “inactive duty training.”

N.J.S.A. 38A: 1-6 provides “Federal laws and regulations relating to and governing the Armed Forces of the United States shall insofar as the same are applicable and not inconsistent with the State Constitution, apply to and govern the military forces of this State.”

In Township of Dover v. Sciorzo, the Superior Court of New Jersey, Appellate Division, held that the term “active service in time of war” was not self-defining and unambiguous. The Director of the Division of Taxation's construction was reasonable and the court must defer to that construction. Therefore, "active duty for training" as a member of the Reserves or National Guard is not a qualifying service for purposes of New Jersey property tax benefits. However, Guard and Reserve members may qualify for benefits when they are called into active service or deployed by Presidential or Congressional Order.

The Newark Riots of 1967.

Although the National Guard was activated by the Governor for riot control, the President's offer to federalize the Guard was declined, and therefore this service is not qualifying for property tax benefit purposes.

Incarcerated Veterans.

Per the New Jersey Department of Military and Veterans Affairs, incarcerated veterans' VA benefits are stopped until released from incarceration. A pre-existing DD214 honorable discharge status would not be changed and benefits are reinstated after release.

The following organizations are not considered Armed Forces of the United States:

1. American Red Cross
2. New Jersey State Guard
3. New Jersey State Militia
4. Salvation Army
5. Women's Army Auxiliary Corps (Prior to July 1, 1943)
6. YMHA, YM-YWCA
7. National Oceanic & Atmospheric Administration (NOAA)

Civilian employees of the United States and civilians serving in civil defense units, such as air raid precautions, auxiliary police and fire service, and coast guard reserves, are not eligible for the Veteran's Property Tax Deduction.

A property tax deduction cannot be granted based on a disenrollment certificate or any form of release terminating temporary service in a military or naval branch of the Armed Forces on a voluntary or part-time basis without pay.

A release from or deferment of induction into active air, military, or naval service, such as a “Discharge from Draft” form used in World War I, does not indicate active duty in the Armed Forces of the United States.

405.06 Active Duty Service.

On January 21, 2020 Senate Bill 2599 was signed into law by Governor Phil Murphy as P.L. 2019, c.413. The enactment provided that honorably discharged veterans or their surviving spouses who are citizens and residents of New Jersey do not need to have served during a specific war period or other period of emergency to receive the annual $250 property tax deduction or the 100% property tax exemption,

The Veteran Property Tax Deduction and Disabled Veteran Property Tax Exemption applicants must have actively served in the Armed Forces of the United States and been honorably discharged. No specific length of time is prescribed. Any active service in the Armed Forces of the United States, no matter how brief, is sufficient.

405.07 Federalized Service- Postal Strike.

On March 18, 1970, the US Postal Strike began in New York City. The strike spread throughout the northeast (including New Jersey) and across the United States.

President Richard M. Nixon declared a national emergency when it became apparent that the strikers were not returning to work. On March 23, 1970, by Executive Order 11519, the President authorized and directed the Secretary of Defense to order into active military service any or all units of the Reserve Components necessary to restore essential postal services. President Nixon's order to send troops into New York City was named "Operation Graphic Hand."

The striking peaked on March 23 and 24, 1970. During this period mail service in 13 States was disrupted to some extent. The US Postal Service employed 750,000 postal workers; 200,000 went off the job. Postal workers began returning to work on March 25, 1970, and the following day postal authorities cancelled requirements for military augmentation of the post offices.

Demobilization was completed on April 4, 1970.

Because the Armed Forces were activated by the President, the term federalized is applied to the Armed Forces Reserves and the National Guard Service members who participated and they are eligible for benefits.

405.08 Honorable Discharge.

A veteran claimant must have been honorably discharged or released under honorable circumstances from full-time active duty. All discharges, except those designated as “dishonorable,” “undesirable,” “bad conduct,” by sentence of “general court martial,” “by sentence of summary court martial,” or other similar indicator that the discharge or release was not under honorable conditions, qualifies the claimant as a veteran.

General Discharge under Honorable Conditions is a qualifying discharge.

Clemency Discharge is a “neutral” discharge according to the U.S. Justice Department. Although it is not less than honorable, it is something other than honorable, as such, it does not meet the requirement of honorable discharge.

There is no provision for deduction for military personnel on active duty in the Armed Forces, prior to discharge. Members of the Armed Forces of the United States having continuous military service and who are still in the service do not qualify for deduction as confirmed by Attorney General Opinion No. 31 - 1951. An honorable discharge or release under honorable circumstances is required. However, an honorably discharged U. S. war veteran does not lose his/her deduction by reentering into the military service.

Records.

The National Archives and Records Administration, National Personnel Records Center, 9700 Page Avenue, St. Louis, MO 63132-5100 is responsible for storing and maintaining veterans’ service and health records.

Fire at the National Personnel Records Center in 1973 destroyed between 16-18 million Official Military Personnel Files, largely for Army and Air Force personnel from WWII and Vietnam era. There were no duplicate backup files. In those instances, the Records Center uses alternate sources to reconstruct basic service information.

Standard Form 180 can be used to request Military Records from the National Personnel Records Center. Service Members can also request their records electronically at <http://vetrecs.archives.gov> Click on the link for vetrecs and fill out the requested information.

An Armed Forces Discharge Certificate (DD214) may be obtained by filling out a DD Form 2168 and sending it to one of the following offices:

Property Tax Deduction- Eligible/Ineligible Ownership.

Eligible Ownership.

A veteran claimant must have legal title, i.e., full or partial ownership interest, in the property for which the deduction is claimed. The ownership criteria is met by:

1. An executory contract for the sale of land under which the veteran claimant takes possession.
2. Partnership property to the extent of the veteran claimant's ownership interest as a partner up to a tax levy of $250.
3. Shareholders of co-ops or mutual housing corporations to the extent of the veteran claimant's proportionate share of taxes assessed against the real property.
4. Property held by a guardian, trustee, committee, conservator, or other fiduciary for any person otherwise eligible.

5. Joint tenants, tenants in common, or tenants by the entirety on their interest, but the tax deduction for any one claimant may not exceed the taxes due on his/her proportionate share. The interests of joint tenants and tenants in common are equal unless the deed provides otherwise. If property is held by husband and wife, as tenants by entirety, each is considered to own a full interest. For example, if a husband and wife hold title to a property and both are veterans, a double deduction, or $500, is permitted.
6. Property in which the claimant has an estate for life, life tenancy or life time rights.
7. Interest arising from a probated will or the intestate laws of this State provided care is taken to ensure that the claimant is a legal owner of full or fractional interest in such property.
8. Continuing care retirement community residents based on their share of the property taxes assessed against the unit they occupy.

Ineligible Ownership.

Corporate property and limited liability companies, LLCs, are not eligible.

405.10 Ownership Change After October 1 Does Not Affect Entitlement.

Eligibility for a veteran's property tax deduction is established as of October 1 of the pretax year. Once established as of October 1st a deduction prevails for the whole of the ensuing tax year despite any change in title to the property which may occur between October 1 and December 31 of the pretax year or at any time during the calendar tax year. Unlike the $250 Senior/Disabled Property Tax Deduction law, the $250 Veteran's Property Tax Deduction statute does not provide for proration of the deduction.

The law also does not provide for transfer of the deduction from one property to another when a veteran sells his/her property after October 1st and buys a new property, even if the change occurs in the same taxing district.

To obtain the benefit of the deduction, an adjustment of the property taxes must be made at closing by applying the proper debit and credit. The reconciliation of this issue is a private matter between buyer and seller.

When a veteran sells his/her property and buys another, this timeline shows how deduction continues where property ownership changes.

TAX YEAR 2018

Veteran applies for and receives Veteran's Property Tax Deduction for Old Avenue property for tax year 2018, based on eligibility requirements met on pretax year October 1, 2017.

EXAMPLE 2

TAX YEAR 2019

Veteran sells Old Avenue property after October 1, 2018, but deduction stays in place on Old Avenue for tax year 2019. If veteran sells the Old Avenue property before the deduction appears on his/her tax bill, the deduction may be adjusted for at closing or settlement.

EXAMPLE 3

If Veteran acquires ownership of New Avenue property after October 1, 2018, having owned Old Avenue property as of pretax year October 1, 2018, the veteran is not eligible for deduction on the New Avenue property for tax year 2019. An adjustment of the property taxes at settlement is needed to give the veteran credit for the deduction on Old Avenue property for tax year 2019.

EXAMPLE 4

If Veteran acquires ownership of New Avenue property on or before October 1, 2018, veteran is eligible for deduction on the New Avenue property for tax year 2019 and an application must be filed for New Avenue.

EXAMPLE 5

TAX YEAR 2020

If Veteran acquires ownership of New Avenue property after October 1, 2018, veteran is not eligible for deduction for 2019 on New Avenue. Veteran must file an application on or after October 1, 2019 for New Avenue to qualify for deduction on that property for tax year 2020.

405.11 Death of Veteran Deduction Recipient.

Where a deduction claim has previously been filed and a claimant veteran, surviving spouse of a veteran or serviceperson dies after October 1 of the pretax year, the deduction should be allowed for the whole of the ensuing tax year if all other prerequisites were met as of October 1. Proration is not required.

405.12 Timely Application - No Retroactive Claims.

Claimants must apply for the deduction on Form V.S.S. "Property Tax Deduction Claim by Veteran or Surviving Spouse/Civil Union or Domestic Partner of Veteran or Serviceperson" available on the Division of Taxation's website at:

http://www.state.nj.us/treasury/taxation/pdf/other_forms/lpt/vss.pdf or the Municipal Tax Office. Forms may be filed with the assessor by December 31 of the pretax year or with the tax collector between January 1 and December 31 of the calendar tax year. For example, for veteran deduction claimed for tax year 2018, pretax year filing would be made October 1, 2017, through December 31, 2017, with the assessor and January 1 - December 31, 2018, with the collector.

NOTE: No application for a previous tax year is to be permitted by the assessor, tax collector or governing body. See also Section on Application Procedures.

405.13 Eligibility of Surviving Spouses of Veterans and Servicepersons.

To qualify for a property tax deduction as the surviving spouse of a veteran or serviceperson, the surviving spouse must have been married to the veteran or serviceperson at the time of death, and at death the veteran or serviceperson himself or herself must have met the requirements for deduction of citizenship, residence, active duty military service, (and for veterans' honorable discharge). In addition, the surviving spouse, as of October 1 of the pretax year;

1. must not have remarried;
2. must be a legal resident of New Jersey;
3. must have full legal title or a fractional ownership interest in the property;
4. must prove that the deceased was a citizen and resident of New Jersey at death; and
5. must timely apply for the tax deduction.

405.14Surviving Spouse Defined.

“Surviving spouse” means a resident of this State who is the surviving wife or husband (i.e. widow or widower) of:

1. a citizen and resident of this State who serves and dies while on active duty in any branch of the Armed Forces of the United States; or
2. a citizen and resident of this State who has had active duty service in any branch of the Armed Forces of the United States and who dies while on active duty in a branch of the Armed Forces of the United States; or
3. a citizen and resident of this State who has been honorably discharged or released under honorable circumstances from active duty service in any branch of the Armed Forces of the United States.

*The status of surviving spouse ceases upon remarriage. Subsequent divorce does not restore surviving spouse status. While the Federal Government allows reinstatement of prior surviving spouse status upon dissolution of a second marriage, the State of New Jersey does not. However, for New Jersey, annulment of a second marriage would restore status as a surviving spouse. This statutory understanding of surviving spouse was upheld at appeal in Superior Court of New Jersey as Pruent-Stevens v. Township of Toms River. Pruent-Stevens then petitioned the State Supreme Court to have her appeal heard, but was denied, leaving the Division’s longstanding interpretation that surviving spouse status is lost upon remarriage intact.

405.15 Surviving Spouses Who are Veterans.

A qualified surviving spouse of a deceased veteran or deceased serviceperson who is also a qualified veteran himself/herself is eligible for a $250 property tax deduction under each status, or $500. See also Section on Aggregate Deduction.

405.16 Ineligible Surviving Spouses - Surviving Spouses of Non-Resident Veterans and Servicepersons.

Constitutional and statutory provisions granting veterans' property tax deductions limit eligibility to veterans or servicepersons who are legal residents of this State. Accordingly, the surviving spouse of a veteran or serviceperson, though himself/herself a New Jersey resident, is not entitled to a deduction if the deceased veteran or serviceperson, at the time of death, was not a legal resident of this State.

405.17 Aggregate Veteran's Property Tax Deduction.

A veteran tax deduction of $250 in the aggregate is allowed per individual qualified claimant. While the deduction may be applied to property in any taxing district and may be divided among two or more properties, the total veteran's deduction per person may not be more than $250. An exception is made for surviving spouses of veterans who are veterans themselves where a double deduction totaling $500 is permitted. In the case of multi-owned property, each veteran claimant is eligible for his/her full $250 deduction provided their proportionate share of taxes paid is $250 or more. The tax deduction granted to veterans and their surviving spouses is in addition to all other deductions and exemptions for which the claimant may qualify.

EXAMPLE:

4 deduction claimants
All qualified veterans
1/4 ownership interest each
Total property taxes equal $6,000
Eligible for 4 veteran deductions totaling $1,000
Total property taxes payable $5,000

405.18

Continuing Deduction.

Once granted, a Veteran's Property Tax Deduction continues in force from year-to-year, without further applications, as long as a claimant remains eligible.

However, the assessor may inquire into a claimant's right to continue the deduction at any time. Annually as of October 1, the assessor should examine all deduction claims for changes in:

1. New Jersey domicile or legal residence in this State;
2. property ownership;
3. marital status of surviving spouse claimants.

The assessor may require such proof as he/she considers necessary to determine a claimant's continued eligibility. A claimant must, by law, inform the assessor of any change in status which would affect his/her continued right to the deduction.

406. Applying for Veteran Property Tax Deduction.

406.01 Application Claim Form Used, Municipality Supplies Claim Forms; Reproducible; Cost State Reimbursed.

Form V.S.S. "Property Tax Deduction Claim by Veteran or Surviving Spouse/Civil Union or Domestic Partner of Veteran or Serviceperson." V.S.S. applications are to be supplied by the municipality for claimants' use. However, pursuant to c. 30, P.L. 1997 the State will annually reimburse municipalities 2% above the actual deduction amounts for administrative costs. V.S.S. forms are promulgated by the Director, Division of Taxation and may be reproduced for distribution, but may not be altered without prior approval. V.S.S. forms can also be found on the Division of Taxation's website at:

http://www.state.nj.us/treasury/taxation/pdf/other_forms/lpt/vss.pdf

406.02 Filing Claim Forms - No Retroactive Applications.

Veteran Property Tax Deduction claimants must make written application for the deduction. V.S.S. applications should be filed with the assessor by December 31 of the pretax year or with the tax collector between January 1 and December 31 of the calendar tax year. Per N.J.S.A. 54:4-8.13 retroactive application is not permitted.

406.03Overpayment Refunded.

If the resulting reduction in the property taxes due exceeds the taxes already paid, the municipal governing body may, at its discretion, permit a refund, without interest, upon the request of the deduction claimant.

REFERENCES:N.J.S.A. 54:4-8.12 and 8.13*N.J.A.C. 18:27-2.24; 18:27-3.2*406.04*Accepting Claim Forms.

All applications for Veterans' Property Tax Deductions should be accepted, if filed within the prescribed time periods, regardless of whether or not the claimant appears qualified. This allows a claimant to file an appeal if he/she feels his/her application is denied incorrectly.

406.05Processing Claim Forms.

If initially filed with the collector, the application and accompanying documents or their photocopies then must be forwarded to the assessor for review and approval. Approval by the tax collector does not relieve the assessor of examining the application and determining whether the deduction should be allowed. No application for a previous tax year is to be permitted by the assessor, tax collector or governing body.

406.06Disposition of Claim Forms.

Assessors should maintain complete files of all approved and disapproved applications, together with supporting documents. Supporting documents remain the property of each assessor's office.

406.08 Proofs - Surviving Spouse of a Veteran or Serviceperson.

The same documentation required for a Veteran's Property Tax Deduction is required for surviving spouses receiving the deduction through the deceased veteran. Additionally a marriage license or death certificate of the decedent may be requested. For surviving spouses of servicepersons the following must be documented:

1. the death of the serviceperson while on active duty per U. S. Veteran's Administration Certificate. Past proof that a serviceperson died such as a photostatic copy of the War Department telegram or an official letter notification etc. is no longer necessary;
2. that the service was in the Armed Forces of the United States,
3. that the serviceperson had served active duty.

NOTE: The Veteran's Administration can certify marital status, residency and service periods.

406.09 Appeals.

An aggrieved claimant may appeal the denial of a deduction as a veteran, as the surviving spouse of a veteran or serviceperson in the same manner as for appeals from assessments generally. However, where an application for a Veteran's Property Tax Deduction is disallowed by the assessor or collector at a date too late to permit the claimant to file an appeal with the County Board of Taxation on or before April 1* of the current year, then, the claimant would be entitled to file an appeal at any time on or before April 1* of the succeeding year. If the appeal is filed in time to permit it to be calendared and heard by the County Tax Board during the year immediately following the year to which the appeal relates, the Board may hear and decide the appeal for that tax year. The appeal should include the nature and the location of the property, the reasons for complaint and the relief sought.

*NOTE: The appeal deadline for Burlington, Monmouth and Gloucester County residents only is January 15 of the tax year.

NOTE: The statutory authorities for veterans' deductions and veterans' exemptions N.J.S.A. 54:4-8.10 and 54:4-3.30 are read together "in pari materia."

406.11 Property Tax Deferral for Active Wartime Military Service Personnel.

Public Law 2015, chapter 277, approved January 19, 2016, was amended by P.L.2016, c.63, approved November 14, 2016. The enactment[s] provide[s] for a deferral from local property taxes while a New Jersey resident serviceperson is deployed or mobilized for active service in time of war. Application for the deferral is made via the municipal tax collector on Form AMSPTD, Active Military Service Property Tax Deferral. The deferred property tax payments will become due within 90 days of the last date of the deployment/mobilization and do not include any tax payments that were delinquent prior to deployment or mobilization. Interest on late deferral payments will be assessed back to their original due date. Sewer, water, electric and other municipal charges may not be deferred. Property that is owned by other than the deployed/mobilized serviceperson and his/her spouse or civil union partner is also ineligible for tax deferral and includes as ineligible corporations, limited liability companies and partnerships.

Form AMSPTD:

http://www.state.nj.us/treasury/taxation/pdf/other_forms/amsptd.pdf

New Jersey also provides an Income Tax exemption of $6,000 for tax year 2019 and $3,000 for tax years' 2018 and 2017 for veterans. Check the Division of Taxation's website at:

www.state.nj.us/treasury/taxation/military/vetexemption.shtml for more information. Taxpayers can also call the Division's Customer Service Center at 609-292-6400.

407. Exemption - Disabled Veterans, Surviving Spouses of Disabled Veterans and Surviving Spouses of Servicepersons.

Qualified New Jersey resident active duty veterans having certain service-connected disabilities described in the law or having been declared totally or 100% permanently disabled by the United States Veterans' Administration a.k.a. U.S. Dept. of Veterans' Affairs are granted full tax exemption on their dwelling house and the lot or curtilage on which it's located, as of the date the veteran acquires the property, or as of the date his/her total or 100% permanent disability is declared, whichever is later. The surviving spouse of such New Jersey resident disabled veteran, who at time of death was lawfully entitled to exemption, is eligible, on making proper claim, for the same exemption as the deceased spouse, while widowed or widowed, a State resident and the legal owner and actual occupant of the dwelling house to be exempted or any other dwelling thereafter acquired, and used as the principal residence. (The surviving spouse of a deceased serviceperson who was a citizen and resident of this State and who had active duty service in the U.S. Armed Forces and died on active duty may also qualify for the full property tax exemption.) The surviving spouse of a disabled veteran or serviceperson who would have become eligible had he or she lived is qualified to receive the exemption based on the broadening of the tax exemption on January 10, 1972. The January 10th broadening of the exemption via passage of P.L. 1971, c.398 concerned the character of the qualifying wartime service-connected disability and added the phrase “or from other service-connected disability declared by the U.S. Veteran’s Administration or its successor to be a total or 100% permanent disability and not so evaluated solely because of hospitalization or surgery or recuperation.”

Changes to U.S. Department of Veterans Affairs a.k.a. Veterans Administration Documentation Procedure.

Veteran claims, once processed regionally in Newark and Philadelphia, are now being processed in a National Work Queue (NWQ), and disability certifications are being issued from all over the United States. Many documents are being issued from a major federal distribution center in Wisconsin.

These certifications can also be obtained by the veteran through a web portal called ebenefits. Because of this, the certification formats are not standardized, but they usually have the following information in common under the heading VA Benefits Information:

Service-connected disability-Yes or No

Your combined service-connected evaluation is _____%

Are you entitled to a higher level of disability due to being unemployable?-Yes or No

Are you considered to be totally and permanently disabled due to your service-connected disabilities? – Yes or No

<https://www.ebenefits.va.gov/ebenefits/homepage>

The New Jersey Department of Military & Veteran Affairs is aware of this change and is assisting with the documentation problems.

NOTE: A raised seal is no longer required to authenticate a 100% permanent disability. See sample certifications, next following.

Disability.

A service-connected disability as declared by the United States Veterans Administration from:

1. paraplegia, sarcoidosis, osteochondritis resulting in permanent loss of the use of both legs or permanent paralysis of both legs and lower parts of the body;
2. hemiplegia involving permanent paralysis of one leg and one arm on either side of the body, resulting from injury to the spinal cord, skeletal structure, or brain, or disease of the spinal cord not resulting from any form of syphilis;
3. total blindness;
4. amputation of both arms or both legs, or both hands or both feet, or the combination of a hand and foot;
5. other service-connected disability declared by the Veterans' Administration to be a total or 100% permanent disability and not so evaluated because of hospitalization or surgery and recuperation.

The disability must have been sustained through:

1. enemy action;
2. accident; or
3. disease contracted while in active duty service.

NOTE: Paraplegia or hemiplegia resulting from locomotor ataxia, or other forms of syphilis of the central nervous system, or from chronic alcoholism, or other forms of disease resulting from the veteran's own misconduct are not grounds for a disabled veteran's tax exemption.

NOTE:Although the foregoing enumerated disabilities are statutory language from 1948 as amended, confidentiality concerns have arisen because of recent laws protecting an individual's health information. Veterans have been reluctant to complete those portions of the DVSSE Disabled Veteran Property Tax Exemption Claim identifying specific disabilities and several Veterans' Service Officers have voiced concerns on their behalf. As a result, application claim form DVSSE was revised deleting specific disabilities such as paralysis, but retaining the general 1971 statutory amendment requiring 100% permanent and total disability as rated by the U.S. Dept. of Veterans Affairs aka Veterans Administration (VA).

Note: U.S. Veterans Administration & U.S. Dept. of Veterans Affairs are the same agency.

407.05 Property Ownership and Occupancy.

In an October 2012 Tax Court decision, Wellington and Pangilinan v. Township of Hillsborough, 27 N.J. Tax 37 (Tax Ct. 2012), the Division of Taxation's longstanding position that full ownership of the primary dwelling by the disabled veteran was required in order to qualify for property tax exemption was invalidated.

The Court stated that it could "identify no principled reason why a disabled veteran should lose an exemption because he elects to hold title to his residence as a joint tenant with a parent, child, other relative, caretaker, business partner, creditor, stranger, or, as is the case here, former spouse."

An earlier Court in Hennefeld v. Township of Montclair, 22 N.J. Tax 166 (Tax Ct. 2005) held, “a qualified disabled veteran who shares ownership in his or her ‘dwelling house’ as a joint tenant, is only entitled to a proportionate share of the disabled veteran’s exemption. This is true regardless of whether the joint tenants are the same-sex, the opposite sex, or married but hold title as joint tenants instead of tenants by the entirety.” As per the Wellington ruling, partial ownership does not vitiate exemption but is to be calculated based on that percentage which reflects the veteran’s proportionate share of ownership in the subject property.

REFERENCE:

N.J.S.A. 54:4-3.33

Wellington and Pangilinan v. Township of Hillsborough, 27 N.J. Tax 37 (Tax Ct. 2012).

Hennefeld v. Township of Montclair, 22 N.J. Tax 166 (Tax Ct. 2005).

A. Ownership.

1. A disabled veteran must have ownership, fully or in part, of the property for which exemption is claimed.
2. A disabled veteran and spouse, taking property title as tenants by the entirety, meet the full ownership requirement.
3. A disabled veteran possessing a dwelling as a vendee under executory contract for purchase of the land where the dwelling on the land is his/her principal residence is regarded as having qualifying ownership. The executory contract is considered to be a mortgage for the unpaid balance of the purchase price.
4. A disabled veteran who owns a dwelling unit in a condominium property meets the ownership prerequisite.
5. A disabled veteran having a life estate, life tenancy or lifetime rights to a property fulfills the ownership requirement.

Multi-Unit Property Ownership.

A multi-unit building such as a duplex must be at least partially owned by the veteran, but only that portion owned by and utilized as the veteran's dwelling unit would be exempted.

EXAMPLE:

Assessed Value: $300,000

Annual Property Tax: $5,725.00

- Property Owner #1 (non-veteran) 50% Ownership
Assessed Value: $150,000 Share of property tax: $2,862.50
- Property Owner #2 (disabled veteran): 50% Ownership
Assessed Value: $150,000 Share of property tax: $2,862.50
- Owner #2 (disabled veteran) is exempt on $150,000 of assessed value on the property; zero tax owed.
- Owner #1 (non-veteran) is taxed on $150,000 of assessed value total property tax= $2,862.50 owed by non-veteran to be billed for the year.

EXAMPLE:

Assessed Value: $100,000

Annual Property Tax: $2,000

- Property Owner #1 (disabled veteran) 25% Ownership
Assessed Value: $25,000 Share of property tax: $500.00
- Property Owner #2 (non-veteran) 25% Ownership
Assessed Value: $25,000 Share of property tax: $500.00
- Property Owner #3 (non-veteran) 25% Ownership
Assessed Value: $25,000 Share of property tax: $500.00
- Property Owner #4 (non-veteran) 25% Ownership
Assessed Value: $25,000 Share of property tax: $500.00

Owner #1 (disabled veteran): is exempt on $25,000 of assessed value on the property; zero tax owed.

Owners #2, 3, & 4 (non-veterans) are taxed on a combined total of $75,000 total property tax= $1,500.00 owed by non-veterans to be billed for the year.

B. Occupancy.

1. The disabled veteran must occupy the dwelling as his or her legal or domiciliary residence in New Jersey.
2. Full exemption applies to a one-family owner occupied building or structure, i.e. dwelling house, together with its lot or curtilage and the necessary out-houses or appurtenances.

Multi-Unit Property Occupancy.

3. Where part of a multiple-unit building or structure is occupied by a veteran, the assessment on the lot or curtilage and veteran-occupied portion of the building or structure is to be aggregated to exempt that percentage of assessment in proportion to or as compared with the assessed value of the entire building or structure. For example, if a disabled veteran occupies one-half of a two-family dwelling and the aggregate assessment on the lot or curtilage and building or structure is $300,000, the exemption allowed is 50% of the aggregate assessment or $150,000.

For MOD IV

The foregoing examples would be reflected as two line items on the tax rolls having the same block and lot but with an “X” qualifier for the exempt portion line item.

C. Ineligible Ownership.

1. Mutual housing corporations and cooperative dwelling units do not qualify for exemption as they are considered to be personal property not realty.
2. Property titled to a corporation or limited liability company LLC or limited liability partnership are ineligible.

407.06 Exemption Prorated.

Partial or prorated exemption is permitted for the remainder of any taxable year as of the date of property ownership or the date of the 100% permanent and total disability rating provided all other eligibility requirements are met. For example, where a dwelling house is acquired on February 14th of the tax year, the assessed value is to be prorated so that 44/365 of the total assessment would be taxable and 321/365 would be exempt.

407.07 Curtilage.

“Curtilage” means the enclosed space of ground and buildings immediately surrounding a dwelling house. The State Division of Tax Appeals (1971) held that 51 acres owned by a disabled veteran across the road from where he/she resided with his/her family were not includable in the “curtilage”. This land was used by the veteran to raise and train horses.

The Division cited Italian-American Building and Loan Association v. Russo, 131 N.J. eq. 319 (1942), to the effect that a “curtilage is a piece of ground within the common enclosure belonging to a dwelling house and enjoyed with it for its more convenient occupation.”

This interpretation was reaffirmed in McTague v. Monroe Twp. where 2 acres of a 40 acre parcel were exempted as reasonable for the fair enjoyment of the residence.

407.08 Exemption After Tax List is Filed.

Where exemption eligibility occurs when it is no longer possible to change the Tax List, by written confirmation to the local government and the tax collector that the totally and permanently disabled active duty veteran meets the conditions for exemption, an assessor can request cancellation of the remaining taxes for the year of application. Often a resolution is brought before the governing body to formalize the cancellation. The municipal tax collector ultimately cancels the taxes. The assessor's statement of approval, along with the governing body's resolution, is then forwarded to the County Board of Taxation. In this manner, the disabled veteran is able to receive the benefit of exemption provided by law, even though the Tax List is finalized.

407.09 Ownership or Occupancy Change.

A disabled veteran's right to property tax exemption ceases by reason of change in ownership or occupancy in the dwelling house as of the first day of the month following the date of such change. The same is true for the surviving spouse of a disabled veteran. If the disabled veteran acquires ownership of another dwelling house, then that dwelling and the lot or curtilage is eligible for the tax exemption in the same manner as his/her former home, upon proper application, but no more than one exemption at a time is allowed. If a surviving spouse moves from the claimed dwelling and acquires ownership of another principal residence, he or she is entitled to exemption on the new dwelling. The tax exemption on the former residence ceases the first day of the month following the change.

407.10 Surviving Spouses.

A deceased disabled veteran, who qualified for a property tax exemption at the time of death, eligibility status inures to the surviving spouse if the survivor meets all of the following requirements:

1. Widow or widower must not be remarried; See Note* at 405.14
2. Widow or widower must be a citizen and resident of New Jersey;
3. Widow or widower's principal or permanent residence must be the claimed dwelling;
4. Widow or widower must be legal owner, fully or in part, of the dwelling;
5. Widow or widower must apply for the exemption with the municipal assessor;
6. Widow or widower must verify the deceased veteran was declared by the United States Veterans' Administration to have had a qualifying active duty service-connected 100% permanent and total disability as described in statute;
7. Widow or widower must verify that the deceased veteran was entitled to a property tax exemption at the time of death, meeting all criteria of active duty service, honorable discharge, residency, ownership etc. or would have been entitled had the broadening of the definition of disability (via c.398, P.L.1971) to include total or 100 % permanent disability been in effect during the veteran's lifetime.

407.11 Statute Broadened.

Although it was formerly necessary for the disabled veteran to have been receiving the property tax exemption on the dwelling house while living for the surviving spouse to qualify, such is no longer true. If the deceased veteran would have been entitled to exemption, then the surviving spouse is entitled to the exemption provided he/she meets all applicable eligibility criteria as a surviving widow/widower.

407.12 Posthumous Disability Ratings.

If a veteran dies while waiting to get his or her disability rating and the VA retroactively grants the 100% total and permanent disability rating posthumously, that rating satisfies the active duty—service connected disability criterion. The surviving spouse of any N.J. resident veteran who was honorably discharged and, after the veteran’s death, is declared to have suffered a service-connected disability as provided in N.J.S.A. 54:4-3.30(a) is entitled, on proper claim made, to the same exemption the deceased would have become eligible for. The exemption continues during the surviving spouse's widowhood or widowerhood and while a resident of New Jersey during the time that the surviving spouse is the legal owner and actually occupies the dwelling house or any other dwelling house thereafter acquired.

407.13 For Surviving Spouses of Deceased Servicepersons the Following Must be Documented.

- The death of the serviceperson while on active duty in the U.S. Armed Forces per U.S. Veteran’s Administration Certificate.

- That the serviceperson had active duty service.
- That the survivor is the lawful spouse of a serviceperson who died while in active service in a branch of the U.S. Armed Forces and who at the time of death was a resident of New Jersey.
- That the survivor spouse remains unremarried. See Note*405.14
- That the survivor is a resident of New Jersey.
- That the survivor owns legal title, fully or in part, to the premises which constitute the dwelling house and survivor's principal place of residence.

407.14 Ownership Exception for Surviving Spouse of a Serviceperson.

The widow or widower of a New Jersey resident serviceperson who died on active duty in the Armed Forces of the United States is entitled to property tax exemption on a dwelling house used as a principal residence. It has been ruled that a qualified surviving spouse is entitled to exemption despite that the deceased serviceperson did not own legal title to the dwelling house.

407.19 Taxes Refunded.

RETROACTIVE REFUNDS - Although statute N.J.S.A.54:4-3.32 states that the governing body of each municipality, at its discretion, may return all taxes collected on property which would have been exempt had proper claim in writing been made, please remember that the statutory amendments are prospective and retroactive refunds cannot be made prior to the date of Public Law 2017, chapter 367 which was January 16, 2018 unless the veteran served during specific wartime service periods in specific statutory geographic locations/conflict zones. After P.L.2017, c.367 on January 16, 2018 up until the passage of P.L.2019, c.413 and receipt of Constitutional approval effective December 4, 2020 veteran applicants for the 100% Disabled Veteran Property Tax Exemption were no longer required to have served in specific geographic locations/conflict zones but, were still required to have served during a specific wartime period. After December 3, 2020 wartime service is not required. The Disabled Veteran Property Tax Exemption can begin as soon as all eligibility prerequisites are met. Active Duty Military Service, Honorable Discharge, and VA Certification of 100% permanent & total disability are still required.

For qualified veterans who have been declared by Veterans Administration to be service connected totally or 100% permanently disabled pursuant to statutory amendment for tax year 1972 and thereafter, no tax refunds may be made for any year prior to tax year 1972. For qualified veterans having certain service-connected disabilities described in the law (generally characterized as paralysis or loss of limbs), no refund of taxes may be made for any year prior to tax year 1948.

Appeals.

An aggrieved claimant may appeal the denial of a property tax exemption as a disabled veteran, as a surviving spouse of a disabled veteran or deceased serviceperson in the same manner as for appeals from assessments generally. However, if an application for the property tax exemption is disallowed by an assessor at a date too late to permit the claimant to appeal to the County Board of Taxation on or before April 1* of the current year, then, the claimant is entitled to file an appeal at any time on or before April 1* of the succeeding year. If the appeal is filed by the claimant in time to permit it to be calendared and heard by the County Tax Board during the year immediately following the year to which the appeal relates, the Board may hear and decide such appeal for that tax year. The appeal should explain the nature and location of the property, the reasons for complaint and the relief sought.

*NOTE: The appeal deadline for Burlington, Monmouth and Gloucester County residents only is January 15 of the tax year.

408. Public/Government Property Tax Exemption.

General.

The fundamental approach of New Jersey statutes is that all property bear its just share of the public obligation of taxation. Statutes granting tax exemption represent a departure from that approach. Therefore, exemptions from the local property tax are to be strictly construed and the burden of proof is on the taxpayer claiming exemption. At the same time, exemption statutes must also be construed reasonably so as not to defeat their legislative intent. However, local property tax exemptions favoring government entities are given a more liberal construction. N.J.S.A. 54:4-3.3 reads, in part, “Except as otherwise provided [(in 54:4-1 et seq.)] and [(54:4-3.6f)] the property of the State of New Jersey; and the property of the respective counties and municipalities, and their agencies and authorities, school districts and other taxing districts used for public purposes...shall be exempt from taxation...” In an Opinion of the Attorney General’s Office, dated June 25, 1979, the above statute was explained as follows: “The statute provides for a twofold approach regarding publicly owned property. On the one hand, property owned by the State of New Jersey is exempt from the Local Property Tax Law. On the other hand, property owned by a public body other than the State (school districts, counties and municipalities) is entitled to tax exempt status for local property tax purposes only if such property is used for ‘public purposes.’ Thus, the statute provides that State property is exempt regardless of use while the property owned by a lesser public entity must not only be owned by such entity but also used for public purposes.” (see Leasehold Taxation Act N.J.S.A.54:4-2.3 et seq. and 54:4-4-1.10).

Public Purpose and Tax Exemption.

The concept of public purpose is a broad one. Generally speaking, it connotes an activity which serves as a benefit to the community as a whole, and which, at the same time, is directly related to the functions of government. Moreover, it cannot be static in its implications. To be serviceable it must expand when necessary to encompass changing public needs of a modern dynamic society. Thus, it is incapable of exact or enduring definition. In each instance where the test [of public purpose] is to be applied, the decision must be reached with reference to the object sought to be accomplished and to the degree and manner in which the object affects the public welfare.

Roe v. Kervick, 42 N.J. 191 (1964), (citations omitted)

Government tax immunities serve an important role in our society. They facilitate the provision of essential government services and create incentives for private entities to serve the public welfare. However, unauthorized exemptions from local property taxation can unduly burden particular communities that, by no choice of their own, are host to government agencies. It is, therefore, imperative that governmental immunities be subject to searching judicial review.

REFERENCES:

Twp. of Holmdel v. N.J. Highway Authority, 190 N.J. 74 (2007)

A basic test of public property exemption, is whether the property is used for government or public purposes, that is, does the use relieve the burden of government?

NOTE: A Rule of Statutory Construction- When reviewing exemption claims of government property, remember that a specific statute takes priority over a general statute. For example: Property of a County Improvement Authority would be reviewed in accordance with N.J.S.A. 40:37A-85 or a County Park Commission with N.J.S.A.40:37-201.1 rather than N.J.S.A.54:4-3.3.which applies to County Government generally.

Federal.

Prior to 1944, N.J.S.A. 54:4-3.3 provided tax exemption for real and personal property of the United States. The provision was repealed in 1944 and State law today contains no tax exemption for Federal Government property. Any such exemption must now be found in Federal law. The “supremacy clause of the United States Constitution and the doctrine of “sovereign immunity” precludes the levying of local property taxes on the Federal Government and, as a general rule, most Federal property is tax exempt. But immunity cannot be granted simply because a tax has an effect on the United States. Exemption is limited to taxes falling directly on the United States, i.e., the Federal Government or an entity so closely connected to that Government the two cannot be viewed as separate. In exempting a private contractor, the contractor “must actually stand in the Government’s shoes.”

Use of Federal property by a contractor in a for-profit business can be a taxable use. Where Federal property is leased to private enterprise, the leasehold is subject to taxation under New Jersey law. Federally owned property may be taxed locally only with the consent of the Government as expressed by some act of Congress. For instance, for real property owned by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation and the Farmers Home Administration permission to tax has been granted. Where possible, assessors should access the United States Code for the particular entity to see if Congress has waived immunity to allow taxation. For example, Title 12 U.S.C. S1768 permits real property of Federal credit unions to be taxed by the State, territory, locality “to the same extent as other similar property is taxed”. Title 12 U.S.C. S1825 and S1725 also waives tax immunity for real property of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation (FDIC) and the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation (FSLIC). By contrast, the National Credit Union Administration’s property tax immunity has not been waived by Congress and remains tax exempt under the Supremacy Clause of the United States Constitution. Again, generally speaking, Federally owned personal property whether leased to or used by private persons is probably not taxable. Competent legal advice should be obtained before taxing any real or personal property of the Federal Government.

408.03 Taxable Property Acquired by Federal Government - Start of Exemption - No Application Required.

Federal property is exempt immediately upon acquisition. The Federal Government is not required to file applications for exemption with the assessor. The appearance of the United States Government as grantor or grantee on abstracts of deeds routinely provided assessors by county registrars or clerks would serve to give the assessor notice.

408.04 State.

Property owned by the State of New Jersey is exempt from the local property tax. The constraints of public use are not imposed upon it. In the absence of a clear expression by the Legislature that a particular category of State property should be taxed, that property will be exempt. However, State owned property leased to a private entity for nonpublic purpose is taxable to the lessee under the Leasehold Tax Act, N.J.S.A. 54:4-2.3 to 2.13.

408.05 Taxable Property Acquired by State Government.

If State government acquires property after January 1 of the year either by purchase or condemnation from a non-exempt owner, the State is required to pay the property taxes for the remainder of the year. The Report of Eminent Domain Revision Commission of New Jersey (April 1965) recommended, as follows: “When municipalities adopt their annual budget and establish their local tax rate, they anticipate the payment of taxes which they have assessed. The taking of ratables during the year by tax exempt agencies who do not assume liability for such taxes for the period subsequent to the taking, severely disturbs the local municipal finance. The lost revenue must be reflected in the tax rate of the succeeding year.

The Commission feels that this is an injustice and that payment of taxes for the entire year during which the taking occurs should be assessed to the municipality.”

408.06 Taxable Real Property Acquired by State; Start of Exemption – No Application Required; Farmland Acquired by State.

Real property acquired by the State, a State agency, or an authority created by the State, by purchase, condemnation or otherwise, becomes tax exempt on January 1 of the calendar year following the date of acquisition, provided the municipal assessor is given written notice of the acquisition by certified mail on or before January 10 of that year. And, if real property is acquired between January 1 and January 10 in the tax year and the prescribed notice is given on or before January 10 that year, it becomes tax exempt as of the date acquired. Initial and Further Statement Exemption Applications need not be filed by State Government. The acquisition of land valued, assessed and taxed under the Farmland Assessment Act of 1964, by purchase, eminent domain or otherwise, is not exempt from the rollback taxes (Section 3 of Chapter 243, Laws of 1970, approved October 28, 1970) except as follows: If the land is acquired by the State pursuant to a Green Acres Bond Act and is assessed in accordance with the provisions of the “Farmland Assessment Act of 1964” at the time of acquisition by the State, rollback taxes may not be applied. This only applies to State owned property. Where the county or municipality owns land bought with Green Acres Trust dollars given by the State, rollback taxes can be assessed. The right of possession, subject to Chapter 214, Laws of 1970, or vesting of title, whichever occurs first is to be the acquisition date for such real property. However, notwithstanding the provisions of any law, rule, or regulation to the contrary, land which is valued, assessed and taxed under the provisions of P.L. 1964, c. 48 (C.54:4-23.1 et seq.) and is acquired by the State, a local government unit, a qualifying tax exempt nonprofit organization, or the Palisades Interstate Park Commission for recreation and conservation purposes shall not be subject to rollback taxes. As used in this section, “acquired,” “local government unit,” “qualifying tax exempt nonprofit organization,” and “recreation and conservation purposes” mean the same as those terms are defined pursuant to section 3 of P.L. 1999, c. 152 (C.13:8C-3).

“Recreation and conservation purposes” means the use of land for beaches, biological or ecological study, boating, camping, fishing, forests, greenways, hunting, natural areas, parks, playgrounds, protecting historic properties, water reserves, watershed protection, wildlife preserves, active sports, or similar use for either public outdoor recreation or conservation of natural resources or both...”

If the former owner paid taxes for the current tax year, in full or in part, beyond the date of acquisition by the State, its agencies, or authorities, the owner is to be reimbursed for the taxes he/she paid beyond that date. If the taxes for the remainder of the year have not been paid by the owner, or were reimbursed to the owner, the State, its agencies or authorities is to pay the municipality taxes due for the real property it acquired.

408.08 In-Lieu of Payment is Rolled into Consolidated Municipal Property Tax Relief Aid Program (CMPTRA).

In 1977, New Jersey Statutes at N.J.S.A. 54:4-2.2a et seq. defined tax exempt State property and authorized State in-lieu of tax payments to compensate municipalities for the cost of providing local services to the State property situated within their boundaries.

In fiscal year 1995-1996, the State in-lieu of tax payment program was integrated with 13 other State Aid to Municipalities programs to become the Consolidated Municipal Property Tax Relief Aid Program (CMPTRA). At that time, the programs were: Legislative Initiative Block Grant Program; Supplemental Municipal Property Tax Relief Aid; Formula/Hold-Harmless Aid; Additional Urban Aid; Municipal Revitalization Aid; Business Personal Property Tax Replacement Aid; Safe and Clean Neighborhood Aid (3 programs); Municipal (URBAN) Aid; Payments in-lieu of Taxes on State Property; Municipal Purposes Taxes Assistance Aid; Insurance Premiums Taxes; Payments to Replace Telecommunications Franchise Taxes; Financial Business Taxes; and Payments in-lieu of Taxes, Class II Railroad Property. The aid amount for the 14 separate programs was combined and has been held at the 1995-1996 level since that time.

The CMPTRA Program is administered by the New Jersey Department of Community Affairs, Division of Local Government Services, PO Box 803, Trenton, NJ 08625-0803. CMPTRA Program staff may be reached directly at telephone number (609) 292-6110 or by email at dlgs@dca.state.nj.us. Their website for Municipal Aid information is <http://www.nj.gov/dca/divisions/dlgs/>.

NOTE: As of the time of this writing, “in-lieu” payments have been incorporated into other municipal aid funding (CMPTRA) using 1994 as base year.

409. Local Government Property.

409.01 County, Municipal and School District Property.

Most property owned by counties, school districts*, and municipalities and their respective agencies and authorities and other taxing districts used for public purposes which includes stadiums and arenas or for the preservation or exhibit of historical data, records, or property, is exempt from local property tax. Applications for exemption, Initial and Further Statements, Forms I.S. and F.S., need not be filed for properties owned by county, or municipal governments or any subdivision thereof. As with federally owned property, deed abstracts would apprise the assessor of government ownership.

NOTE: A public school is defined as a school that is open to the public, funded by the public and accountable to the public. Charter schools meet all three tests. They must be open to all students on a space available basis including students with disabilities or limited English proficiency. Charters cannot select students based on skills, ability or past performance, have a selective admissions policy, charge tuition, and/or have a religious focus or affiliation. A charter school is a public school and is managed by a board of trustees. The board of trustees are public agents authorized by the State Board of Education to supervise and control the charter school.

NOTE: Some have interpreted a charter school to be a unique type of hybrid having characteristics of both public and private schools.

*NOTE: The courts have adopted a more liberal attitude towards tax exemptions sought by governmental agencies and the requisite of use for public purpose is accorded a liberal construction, one reasonably broad enough to accomplish legislative aims.

409.02 School Districts.

N.J.S.A.54:4-3.3 provides in pertinent part, "...the property of ... school districts ... used for public purposes, or ... school district property which is leased to a nonprofit organization which is exempt from taxation under R.S. 54:4-3.6, for use by that organization in its exempt functions; school district property which is leased to another board of education or governmental agency; ... shall be exempt from taxation under this chapter, ..."

409.03 County and Municipal Governments, Property Use-Public v. Private.

Until 1903, properties owned by counties were exempt from municipal taxation. A public use condition for exemption first appeared in L. 1903, c. 208 which contained the language "when used for public purposes." The public use requirement has remained, despite numerous amendments and general tax revisions. Case law supports the interpretation that in addition to public ownership there must be public use.

Stadiums and Arenas Amendment.

In November, 2016, Assembly Bill No. 2574 amended N.J.S.A. 54:4-3.3 and N.J.S.A. 54:4-2.12. P.L. 2016, c. 65 clarifies and reaffirms that stadiums and arenas owned by government entities are entirely exempt from property taxation. The bill reaffirms that when government entities enter into private-public arrangements and lease property to for-profit entities to achieve stadium and arena uses, such property, including any leasehold interest in such property, remains entirely tax exempt.

409.04 No Apportionment Between Public and Private Use for County or Municipality.

There is no statutory authority to allow for an apportioning between an exempt public use and a non-exempt private use in N.J.S.A.54:4-3.3. In the New Jersey Tax Court decision Ocean County v. Dover Township, 3 N.J. Tax 434 (1981), where one-third of a county owned building was occupied by a private commercial tenant for private, for-profit use the entire building was taxable [to the county][emphasis added].

The New Jersey Superior Court, Appellate Division in County of Essex v. City of East Orange, 214 N.J. Super 568, (App. Div. 1987) reiterated that there is no statutory basis for apportionment under N.J.S.A. 54:4-3.3. The Court cited Ocean County v. Dover Township which noted "When there is to be an apportionment, the Legislature has specifically provided for it." Given as an example where the apportionment was permissible was N.J.S.A. 54:4-3.6 which provides that when any portions of buildings used for colleges, schools, academies or seminaries are leased to profit-making organizations the leased portions are to be taxed and the remaining portion is exempt. From this and other specific provisions was inferred a legislative intent that there be no apportionment when an exemption is claimed under N.J.S.A. 54:4-3.3 as that section does not authorize it. The Appellate Court in Essex v. East Orange held that the property must be totally taxed and further opined that although N.J.S.A. 54:4-3.3 does not specify that the property be "exclusively" used for public purposes, it seems clear that the use must be exclusive for exemption as otherwise property not used for public purposes will be exempt, a result not allowable under N.J.S.A. 54:4-3.3.

Again in Borough of Paramus v. County of Bergen, 27 N.J. Tax 215 (Tax Ct. 2013) the Court found that the assessment may not be apportioned between the publicly and privately used portions of a county owned building under N.J.S.A. 54:4-3.3, and, as well, that the Leasehold Taxing Act, N.J.S.A. 54:4-2.3, had no application to the facts in that case because the county is taxable. [The Leasehold Taxing Act is applied when property ownership is held by the State or Federal government where the requirement for exemption is ownership alone. In these instances, the tax liability is passed onto the lessee.]

409.05 Exception- Leased School District Property- Apportionment Permitted for Certain Properties.

Whenever a portion of school district property is leased to an organization other than those described in R.S.54:4-3.3, that portion shall be subject to taxation and the remaining portion only shall be exempt.

409.06 Incidence of Tax: Where the Tax Liability Falls or Who Pays.

Leasehold Taxation Act does not apply to county and municipally owned property. It applies to State and Federal property.

Egg Harbor City v. Atlantic County, 10 N.J. Tax 7 (Tax Ct. 1988), explained there are at least four different situations involving the use of publicly owned property:

1. the publicly owned property is used by a governmental or public entity for public purposes;
2. the publicly owned property is used by a private entity to accomplish a public purpose;
3. the publicly owned property is used for private purposes; and
4. the publicly owned property is used by the government agency for a public purpose, but the government agency employs a private company to accomplish the purpose for it.

Under the first two situations, the property is exempt from local property taxation. Under the third situation, the property is subject to local property taxation. The fourth situation is clearly analogous to the first two, and the property is exempt from local property taxation. The fact that the government agency employs a private company to carry out its public purpose should not result in local property taxation.

Center for Molecular Medicine and Immunology v. Twp. of Belleville, 357 N.J. Super. 41 (App. Div. 2003) quoting from Jamouneau v. Local Government Bd., 6 N.J. 281 (1951). When county property is devoted to a private purpose, the county is the proper taxpayer against which the assessment should be made.

The land is not in public use and therefore is taxable, Jamouneau v. Division of Tax Appeals, 2 N.J. 325 (1949), but the obligation upon the municipal owner to pay the land tax out of its land rental is not unreasonable,..... It is not, as appellant appears to contend, a grant of tax exemption. It is a retention of the tax obligation as a burden on the owner to be met from the annual rent charges.... (There is nothing novel about the obligation of a municipality to pay taxes on property owned by it and not devoted to a public use.) Newark v. Township of Clinton, 49 N.J.L. 370 (Sup. Ct. 1887)

As explained in Borough of Paramus v. County of Bergen, 27 N.J. Tax 215 (Tax Ct. 2013), nothing in N.J.S.A. 54:4-2.3 (Leasehold Tax Act) even remotely impacts on the requirement for exemption under N.J.S.A. 54:4-3.3 that county property be used for public purposes. N.J.S.A. 54:4-2.3 by its terms is applicable when the leasing of tax exempt property does not make the property taxable. In this case the leasing does make the property taxable [to the governmental entity] so no assessment may be made on the basis of the tenancy. Also, in County of Essex v. City of East Orange, 7 N. J. Tax 346 (Tax Ct. 1985), it was held that the Act "applies to property which is tax exempt by virtue of its ownership. As such, it would apply to federally owned property where there is no requirement of public use." Because the exemption statutes at issue require that the property be used for a public purpose, the Leasehold Act has no application to these facts. The nature and use of the leased spaces will either render the property wholly exempt or wholly taxable [to the government entity]. [] Emphasis added.

In Martin v. Collingswood, 36 N.J. 447 (1962), the Camden County Park Commission "leased" to appellant Martin a portion of its property to operate a "milk bar." From 1957 - 1959 the land and building were assessed for local taxation against Martin under N.J.S.A. 54:4-2.3. Per the court there were 2 hypotheses the case permitted. First: the "lease" was for a private purpose. Second: the "lease" was made to further a public purpose the commission was authorized by statute to achieve either by direct operation of the facility or by arrangement with a private operator. Upon the premise that the "lease" was for private use, it was contended statute would not authorize taxation and reaches a lease transaction only if "the leasing * * * does not make the real estate taxable." The exemption given the park commission by N.J.S.A. 54:4-3.3 would fail if the property were used for a private purpose rather than the public purpose for which the exemption was intended. And that if the transaction made the property taxable to the park commission, as it would if the use were private, it follows there was no warrant for a further assessment against a "lessee."

The alternate hypothesis is that the "lease" was made by the commission to further the public purpose the Legislature assigned to it. The court was satisfied the statute did not apply because the Legislature intended the property's use for the public purpose must not be burdened with taxation. The court cited Walter Reade, Inc. v. Township of Dennis, 36 N.J. 435 (1962), There, as here, the public agency was empowered to furnish the public use either directly or through an arrangement with a private operator. The court said, it would be odd to authorize the agency to choose between these methods and then encumber the choice with tax consequences which, realistically, must ultimately be assumed by the agency in the fixing of "rentals." The court thought it dispositive, upon the hypothesis stated above, that the commission furnished the public use by a method the Legislature authorized. The court stated that upon both possible approaches it explored, N.J.S.A. 54:4-2.3 does not apply.

409.07 Taxable Real Property Acquired by Local Government; Start of Exemption; October 1 Pre-Tax Year Ownership Required.

In City of Trenton v. Ewing Township, 23 N.J.Tax 295, 299 (Tax Court 2006), the Court held “There is no indication, however, that as finally enacted, N.J.S.A. 54:4-3.3b was intended to expand the exemption for entities other than those specifically enumerated in the statute, when property is acquired after the valuation date of the pretax year. I therefore conclude that, because Trenton... (i.e. municipality)...did not acquire the property until November 2005, it is not eligible for exemption for tax year 2006.” Therefore, local government property is not afforded tax exemption in the same manner as the State, a State Agency, or an Authority as per N.J.S.A. 54:4-3.3a and 54:4-3.3b. A municipality is considered a political subdivision.

409.08 Exception to October 1 Pre-Tax Year Ownership: Blue Acres Property Tax Exemption.

Blue Acres Property Tax Exemption exempts certain properties acquired by municipalities from county, school, and fire district taxes immediately upon acquisition.

Public Law 2013, Chapter 261 applies to areas designated as flood-prone and allows parcels of real property acquired by municipalities using federal, county, municipal, or State program funds to acquire real property situated in flood-prone areas of the municipality to become tax exempt immediately on the date of acquisition by the municipality rather than as of October 1, pre-tax year. The grant of right of possession and/or vesting of title to the municipality is considered the acquisition with respect to such real property.

The municipality must provide written notice of intention to purchase flood properties to county, school board and board of fire commissioners. Written notice must be within 15 calendar days of budget adoption or within 15 days of receipt of government funds for flood property purchases.

District tax due, County tax due, School tax due means those respective amounts assessed, less the respective proportionate amounts of the taxes no longer owed by the municipality due to the Blue Acres Exemption. Property owners who have paid property taxes are to be reimbursed by the municipality for the amount of taxes paid beyond the date of municipal acquisition. Disputed refund amounts are to be determined by the New Jersey Tax Court.

The municipality is entitled to a credit against the next installment of taxes to be paid to county, school district or fire district if the municipality has paid any taxes beyond the date of acquisition.

With regard to “Blue Acre Zones,” assessors should be aware of a municipality’s intention to acquire parcel(s) of real property situated in a flood-prone area of a municipality and cooperate with the tax collector and County Tax Board so that any debit or credit of property taxes paid by a municipality for a period beyond the date of acquisition may be recorded.

409.12 New Jersey Highway Authority.

The New Jersey Highway Authority transferred its projects and functions to the New Jersey Turnpike Authority. The Legislature reaffirms that all existing facilities and property, and their operations, and management, of the Turnpike Authority and of the New Jersey Highway Authority, as transferred to the Turnpike Authority, are considered public and essential governmental functions and are exempt from local taxes and assessments.

Property owned by the New Jersey Highway Authority, the operator of the Garden State Parkway, now under the N.J. Turnpike Authority, used for "projects" of the Authority is exempt from taxation. Property not used for "projects" may be assessed and taxed locally. "Projects" includes all of the facilities listed above for turnpikes as well as traffic circles, grade separations, and such adjoining park or recreational areas and facilities as the Authority, and the Department of Environmental Protection find necessary to promote the public health and welfare and find feasible for development. The courts have ruled that the lessees of lands and buildings operated as restaurants located on the Garden State Parkway are exempt from local property taxation under the provision of N.J.S.A. 54:4-2.3 et seq.

410.01 Taxable Leases, Assessment Procedure.

Usually tax exempt real property leased to an individual whose property is not exempt, is listed as the property of the lessee, rather than the owner, and the leasehold estate is assessed as taxable real estate as of the effective date of the lease. Leasehold estates beginning during the year should be entered on the next Added Assessment List filed after the effective lease date. Any such assessment is to be that proportion of the full amount of the assessment that the number of days the lease is in effect in the tax year bears to 365.

411. Tax Exempt Real Property; Activity Conducted for Profit; Tax Liability of Private Party.

When tax exempt real property is used by a private party in connection with a for-profit activity and the use does not render the real property taxable pursuant to N.J.S.A. 54:4-2.3, i.e., the Leasehold Act or otherwise, the real property is to be assessed and taxed as real property of the private party. The private party is liable for taxation as though he/she owned the property or any portion of it, unless the owner consents to its taxation. “Use” means the right or license, express or implied, to possess and enjoy the benefits from any real property, whether or not that right or license is actually exercised.

412. Educational, Religious, and Charitable Organizations.

412.01 General.

Property tax exemptions are authorized by the State Constitution at Article VIII, Section 1, Paragraph 2.

In New Jersey property tax exemptions were first codified under the laws of 1851.

Legislative classifications for taxation/exemption must be based on features inherent in the property itself or in the purposes to which it is put. Exemptions cannot be based on the personal status or vocation of the property owner.

Per N.J.S.A. 54:4-3.6 and the Courts, real property tax exemption for educational, religious, and charitable entities is generally determined by: purpose of the organization; use of the property; absence, presence, degree and use of profit; timely ownership of the property; incorporation of the organization or its authorization to operate; extant buildings; and timely application.

412.02 Exempt Buildings.

The following buildings are exempt from property taxation:

1. All buildings actually used for colleges, schools, academies or seminaries, provided that if any portion of such buildings are leased to profit-making organizations or otherwise used for purposes which are not themselves exempt from taxation, said portion shall be subject to taxation and the remaining portion only shall be exempt;

2. All buildings actually used for historical societies, associations or exhibitions, when owned by the State, county or any political subdivision thereof or when located on land owned by an educational institution which derives its primary support from State revenue;
3. All buildings actually and exclusively used for public libraries, religious worship or asylum or schools for adults and children with intellectual disabilities;
4. All buildings used exclusively by any association or corporation formed for the purpose and actually engaged in the work of preventing cruelty to animals;

Parsonage.

Parsonage under N.J.S.A. 54:4-3.6 is defined as “the buildings, not exceeding two, actually occupied as a parsonage by the officiating clergymen of any religious corporation of this State, together with the accessory buildings located on the same premises.”

House of Worship/Parsonage – it is not within the Legislative intent to grant tax exemptions to every building used and occupied by those having personal religious convictions. Property tax exemptions are not based on the status or vocation of its owners or occupants, but rather the use to which the property itself is devoted.

Derivative Exemption

Derivative Exemption Refuted

In Congregation Chateau Park Sefard v. Township of Lakewood the N.J. Tax Court disagreed with the current understanding in Borough of Chester v. World Challenge, Inc., and Mesivta Ohr Torah v. Lakewood that the parsonage exemption is “a derivative exemption” requiring the “association of the parsonage with an exempt church.” Per the Chateau

Court, statute does not concern ownership or tax-exempt status of any building other than the parsonage itself. It concluded that parsonage exemption is not contingent on ownership or exempt status of the house of worship in which the parsonage's clergy officiates. This Tax Court construed "church" not as an exempt building but a religious congregation. This Court felt that the denial in World Challenge was based on the organization's worship and charitable services being located in New York, not New Jersey. Therefore, per the Court, in the present matter, the holding in World Challenge is not contradicted as the clergy of the subject parsonage officiates at religious services in New Jersey for a congregation that practices its faith in this state. This decision treats the parsonage exempt as a stand-alone exemption.

Where the activities are regular and continuing, as opposed to sporadic and occasional the individual may be considered an officiating clergy. 412.04

Caretaker Housing, a Derivative Exemption.

Is the house principally a private residence and subject to local property taxation as such or is it used in the work of the exempt entity and, therefore, also exempt? Exemption of caretaker housing is a derivative exemption. It cannot stand alone independent of a qualifying exempt religious, charitable or hospital organization. The standards for this derivative exemption were set forth in Township of Clinton v. Camp Brett-Endeavor, Inc., 1 N.J. Tax 54 (Tax Ct. 1980). The court held that a two-fold test applied:

1. Is the residence predominantly used as an integral part of the operation of the exempt entity, or does it serve primarily as a convenience to the tenant?
2. Is the residence reasonably necessary for the proper and efficient operation of the exempt entity?

In Camp Brett-Endeavor, the court concluded that the residence met the two-fold test for exemption because it was used as an integral part of the summer camp's operation. The residence included an administrative office where camp business meetings and staff interviews were held and camp records were stored for safe-keeping. A school teacher and his family used the residence full-time while serving in the capacity of summer camp director; director of certain weekend programs throughout the year; and as a year-round caretaker due to a high incidence of vandalism. The court determined there was a need for a year-round presence at the camp for security and maintenance reasons. That the camp director commuted to a full-time teaching job some distance away supported the idea that the residence was of greater benefit to the camp than a convenience to the director.

Application of the two-fold test was reaffirmed in St. Ann's Catholic Church v. Borough of Hampton, 14 N.J. Tax 88 (Tax Ct. 1994) where the court found that the evidence did not show a need for a caretaker's residence as security for the church and cemetery and for cemetery access. Here the caretaker performed part-time maintenance work for the church as to the furnace, exterior lighting, replacing outlets, repairing pews and kneelers, mowing the grass and plowing snow in the cemetery. The caretaker did not need to be residing on the church property to perform these duties. No church functions took place on the residential property. Per the Court, "... [T]he (exempt entity) must demonstrate a compelling need for such maintenance and caretaking...and an integration of those activities with the exempt functions of the entity..." The court held that while the caretaker's presence may have been convenient for the church, it was not necessary for the operation of the church. Convenience was not the test; the test was reasonable necessity.

Pompton Lakes Senior Citizens Housing Corp. v. Borough of Pompton Lakes, 16 N.J. Tax 331 (Tax Ct. 1997): A 100 unit senior citizen housing project sought a property tax exemption under N.J.S.A. 54:4-3.6 for a residence occupied by the project's superintendent. The superintendent's responsibilities included supervision of all custodial, maintenance, and ground workers and the alarm systems for the housing complex. Although the court concluded that the superintendent's residence was an integral part of the operation of the housing complex and reasonably necessary for the operation, the claim for exemption was denied because the housing project itself was not exempt under N.J.S.A. 54:4-3.6 and was not organized or used exclusively for a charitable purpose. An exemption was granted under N.J.S.A. 55:14K-37 with an agreement between the housing sponsor and the municipality for PILOT payments. The court ruled, "Because the Housing Complex does not qualify for charitable exemption under N.J.S.A. 54:4-3.6, the superintendent's residence cannot, on a derivative basis, so qualify."

Township of Sandyston v. Angerman, 134 N.J. Super. 448 (App. Div. 1975). At issue was the tax exempt status of a residence located in the Delaware Water Gap National Recreation Area, owned by the United States government. The Appellate Division, Superior Court determined that a lease agreement and not a license existed between the National Park Service and Mr. Angerman, creating a landlord/tenant relationship. "The sole purpose of the agreement was to provide a private dwelling for the defendant and his family, in consideration of the undertaking to repair and restore the house...” Mr. Angerman also agreed to check the park area for forest fires or other property damages. There was nothing to indicate that it was necessary for the defendant and his family to reside in the house in order to repair and restore it, any more than it would be essential for a building contractor and his employees to reside in any residential building which he contracted to repair and restore. Since this was a lease for private use, the defendant Angerman was subject to taxation by the local government.

The court decided in Washington Cemetery Association v. Township of South Brunswick, 1 N.J. Tax 157 (Tax Ct. 1980) that housing for a superintendent and laborers on already exempt cemetery lands was also exempt since it was essential to the operation and maintenance of the lands for cemetery purposes, rather than employee convenience. The laborers and superintendent were required to be on call 24 hours a day to provide prompt interments dictated by the religious beliefs of the cemetery’s clients which required burial within 24 hours of death. Security was also cited as a reason for the workers to live on the grounds.

412.05 Faculty Housing.

Faculty Housing – A nonprofit corporation operating a boys’ private day school sought property tax exemption for 7 faculty houses. The New Jersey Supreme Court held that the absence of a profit making arrangement in the rental contract; desirability of providing housing at or near the school and whether providing housing for faculty furthered the educational purposes of the school were factors in deciding tax exemption. The Court also stated where occupancy of a faculty member or, more particularly, the administrative head of the institution is required to be on or nearby the institution’s campus for faculty meetings, conferences and necessary social engagements adjunct to academic life, the residence will be exempt. It was stipulated that the availability of faculty housing facilitated in obtaining and retaining competent faculty members. Only the head master and 9 of a total of 47 teaching staff were provided with low rental accommodations. Seven faculty houses were granted exemption.

Two rent-free residences were occupied by two rabbis who served as the Assistant Dean of Students and the Director of the Sephardic Institute. One of the rabbis was required to be readily available for student emergencies and both homes contained office and counseling facilities not available on campus. Approving the exemption the Court reasoned, the two rabbis usually would be housed on campus but there was no room. Further it was necessary for education, discipline and morality to have the two rabbis housed in premises close to the school. The Court found the two premises to be an integral part of the school and necessary to its proper functioning.

Charitable Housing/Housing for the Disabled/Moral and Mental Improvement of Men, Women and Children.

Charitable Purpose: There is no precise definition as to what constitutes a charitable activity. Although the activity may be laudable whether it constitutes a charitable purpose depends upon the manner in which the particular property is used to accomplish that end.

REFERENCES:

Presbyterian Homes of the Synod of N.J. v. Division of Tax Appeals, 55 N.J. 275 (1970).

A key characteristic is that it is typically an undertaking by which government is relieved from a burden it would otherwise have to perform. When an entity provides charitable service that government itself would otherwise have to provide, provides that service at a lower cost, and serves a number of individuals who are not supported by government subsidies, government is relieved of burden and charitable exemption should apply. Entitlement to exemption depends upon circumstances, charges and public betterment. Mere billing of clients for services does not in itself disqualify charitable use. Despite organization's receipt of government support on a fee for services basis, exemption was not invalidated because rents were either not charged or were below market; residents who were no longer able to pay were not evicted; services provided to the homeless were not available via the for-profit housing market; service entity was not conducted for profit, nor were its buildings operated for profit.

2. The use test, the buildings must be actually used for charitable purposes;
3. Level two organizational test, must be used in the work of one or more other corporations organized and conducted for charitable purposes;
4. Level one and two not-for-profit tests, taxpayer's operation and uses of buildings, together with the operation and use of same by any other corporation must not be conducted for profit.

- a. All of the property for which the exemption is claimed must be owned and used by a nonprofit corporation;
- b. The property must be used in connection with its curriculum, work, care, treatment and study of intellectually disabled men, women or children;
- c. The corporation must conduct and maintain research or professional training facilities for the care and training of the above persons;

- d. The buildings or lands on which they stand and the organization using and occupying them must not be conducted for profit, except, where the benevolent work carried on therein is supported partly by fees and charges received from or on behalf of beneficiaries using or occupying the buildings, the exemption is extended to those buildings provided the building is wholly controlled by and the entire income therefrom is used for said charitable, benevolent or religious purposes.

A nonprofit corporation that cared for the mentally retarded was eligible for property tax exemption; it was not required to be considered charitable where fees and charges were received where the building was wholly controlled by the nonprofit organization and the entire income therefrom was used for benevolent purposes. Community Access Unlimited v. City of Elizabeth, 21 N.J. Tax 604 (Tax Court 2003).

“Moral and mental improvement of men, women and children” elements of statute under N.J.S.A. 54:4-3.6 read, “...all buildings actually used in the work of associations and corporations organized exclusively for the moral and mental improvement of men...” And also, “...all buildings owned or held by an association or corporation created for the purpose of holding the title to such buildings as are actually and exclusively used in the work of 2 or more associations or corporations organized exclusively for the moral and mental improvement of men...”

To qualify as a moral and mental improvement entity, a property must generally meet four criteria:

1. the entity owning the property must be organized exclusively for the moral and mental improvement of men, women and children;
2. the property must be used in the work of the entity organized for moral and mental improvement;
3. neither the owning entity nor the property must be operated for profit;
4. the entity claiming the exemption must own the property and be authorized to carry out the purposes for which the exemption is claimed.

Whether property qualifies as a moral improvement entity based on exclusive organization is determined by a statement of purpose in the owning entity’s certificate of incorporation. The corporation that owned property housing mentally ill tenants was not exclusively organized for moral and mental improvement and did not qualify for exemption on that ground. Purpose clause in certificate of incorporation indicated corporation was organized exclusively for charitable and/or education purposes

1711 Third Avenue, Inc. v. City of Asbury Park, 16 N.J. Tax 174 (Tax Court 1996).

Advance Housing, a 501(c)(3) not-for-profit supportive housing and services provider for the mentally disabled which received funding from HUD, New Jersey Department of Health, the county, private donations and client rents, claimed property tax exemption. Advance Housing argued it was eligible for exemption under 3 provisions of N.J.S.A.54:4-3.6, i.e., for individuals with disabilities; moral and mental improvement of men, women, and children; and charitable purposes. Tax Court denied exemption because the residences were not used for charitable purposes, the housing component was “not integrated with the counseling and support services” and that a necessary institutional aspect to the housing program was lacking. Appellate Court reversed and granted exemption based on its organization and operation for charitable purposes. The organization did not require its residents to participate in services which did not count against conferring tax exempt status. The Court noted Advance Housing’s mission was to deinstitutionalize disabled individuals and promote independent community living. Nine defendant municipalities then appealed to State Supreme Court which affirmed the Appellate Court.

In its decision the Supreme Court set forth certain principles as to whether a nonprofit organized for charitable purpose is actually using the property for a charitable purpose.

1. The charitable work done by the private entity will spare government an expense that ultimately it must bear.
2. The private entity must not be engaged in a seeming commercial enterprise.
3. The property must be used in a manner to further the charitable purpose.

4. The receipt of government subsidies or funds is not contraindicative of a charitable purpose.
5. Financial support and recognition by the State of a private entity's charitable work may be indicative that its property is used for a charitable purpose.
6. The private entity in carrying out its charitable mission through the use of its property is addressing "an important and legitimate governmental concern."

412.07 Exempt Land.

The land the exempt buildings are erected on, up to 5 acres per building, is also exempt from taxation, provided it's necessary for the fair enjoyment of the property and devoted to the same purposes as the buildings. The relationship of land acreage to building number has had differing legal interpretations depending on the individual character of the property. For example, several buildings could be located on 5 or fewer acres or they could be situated such that 5 acres would be necessary for each. With the exception of cemeteries, graveyards, burial grounds and privately owned recreational or conservation land, and certain urban gardens (see pertinent sections in this chapter) vacant land is not exempted even though titled to an otherwise exempt association or corporation. In the absence of buildings used for one of the exempt purposes specified by statute, land cannot be exempted.

412.09 Eligibility.

To qualify for exemption each organization must meet all of the following criteria. Wherever there is doubt as to eligibility, the burden of proof is on the applicant.

412.10 Existing Buildings.

The property must include buildings. The intention of an eligible organization to construct a building at a future date does not qualify vacant land for exemption, nor does the open-air use of land even if for an organization's stated purposes. (Exceptions: cemeteries, graveyards, burial grounds, privately owned conservation recreation lands and certain urban gardens.)

412.11 October 1 Ownership.

The property must be owned by the organization on the statutory assessing date - October 1 of the pretax year. This requirement has been interpreted to mean full legal title to the property, not merely an equitable interest.

For example, purchasers of exempt property who are already owners of property granted exemption as a: college, school, academy, seminary; historical society owned by the State, county or a political subdivision; public library, church, parsonage, asylum, school for the intellectually disabled; first aid squad; building for prevention of cruelty to animals; building used for moral and mental improvement of men, women and children; religious or charitable purpose buildings; hospitals; property used in work of a fraternal organization.

412.13 Exempt Use Test - Reasonable Necessity.

The accepted test for determining whether property is used in the work of an entity organized for an exempt purpose is whether the property is “reasonably necessary” for such purpose. Rather than just a convenience the use must be an integral part of the operation of the exempt organization and reasonably necessary for the proper and efficient operation of the exempt organization.

412.14 Actual Use.

With respect to “actual use,” Grace and Peace Fellowship Church, Inc. v. Cranford Twp., 4 NJ. Tax 391 (Tax Court 1982) concluded, “For local property tax exemption to apply, there must be actual public use of the building in accordance with exemption statute or the building must be ready to provide such public use and mere intention to use for exempt purpose at some time in future will not suffice.” Here the property was under construction and though utilized for occasional prayer, it was considered incidental use and exemption was disallowed. Holy Cross Precious Zion Glorious Church of God, 2 N.J. Tax 352 (Tax Court 1981), determined a fire damaged property under renovation ineligible for exemption with the explanation “where taxpayer had never occupied or used property for its exempt purposes, fact that its intent as of assessing date was to use the subject property exclusively for religious purposes would not qualify it for exemption for property ‘actually and exclusively’ used for various religious purposes.” This interpretation of “actual use” is of longstanding; Institute of Holy Angels v. Fort Lee, 80 N.J.L. 545, 77 A. 1035 (1910) Longport v. Bamberger Seashore Home, 91 N.J.L. 330, 102 A. 633 (1917) YMCA v. Orange, 3 NJ. Misc. 404, 128 A. 580 (Sup. Ct. 1915); all set forth the same understanding held in Grace and Peace. All properties in the above cases where their stated exempt use had never begun or had ceased were found to be ineligible.

In Paper Mill Playhouse v. Millburn Twp., 7 N.J. Tax 78 (Tax Court 1984), though the property was destroyed by arson fire, exemption was retained. The following distinction was made, “The issue here, however, is not an exemption predicated upon construction of a new building on property which had not previously been exempt. Rather, the issue concerns the exemption of a theater building in the course of reconstruction on property which had been exempt prior to its destruction by fire...(T)here is no such indication of an abandonment of the exempt use...Further, the prompt manner in which the Paper Mill acted to reconstruct its theater, and Paper Mill’s continuing activities in support of its offsite presentations of the children’s theater activities, all join in support of the proposition that its exemption was not lost as a result of an arsonist’s activity.”

City of Newark v. Block 322, 17 N.J.Tax 103 (1997), states that a church which did not have a certificate of occupancy did not preclude it from the tax exemptions in N.J.S.A. 54:4-3.6 where it was shown that the church used the property for nonprofit purposes during the relevant period.

Pursuant to the “continued exempt character” exception, property which is previously exempt from property tax, under statute governing property tax exemptions for nonprofit organizations, at the time it commences construction will not lose said exemption even if, for a limited time period, it is not in actual use. The Court in Paper Mill Playhouse v. Millburn Twp., 7 N.J. Tax 78 (Tax Court 1984) intended to create an exception to the “actual use” requirement where previously exempt property is not in such actual use for a discrete construction period. In those cases, the court will grant a “continued character” exception during the construction period, and where reasonable, assume the previously exempt use will continue upon completion of the aforementioned period. (see Job Haines Home for the Aged v. Township of Bloomfield, 19 N.J. Tax 408 (Tax Court 2001).

412.16 Exclusive Use and Incidental Non Exempt Use.

An exclusive use requires that the “principal or primary” use of the property be the exempt use. An occasional or incidental nonexempt use or activity does not, by itself, void a property tax exemption.

N.J.S.A. 54:4-3.6 clearly contemplates that associations and corporations organized for exclusive purposes are exempt only when ‘actually and exclusively used in the work’ of the associations and corporations. Property is actually and exclusively used in the work of an association or corporation if the property is reasonably necessary for one of the purposes enumerated in N.J.S.A. 54:4-3.6. “Merely because an association leases a portion of its property, does not necessarily mean that it is no longer exclusively used for one of the purposes enumerated in N.J.S.A. 54:4-3.6...If the property being leased is not used for a purpose enumerated in the act, then the corporation or association loses its tax exempt status.

However, if the property leased is used for one of the purposes in the act, then the lessor - corporation is entitled to maintain its exemption and the lessee shoulders the tax burden.” (P.L. 2001, c. 18).

Multi-Use.

In 1994, the New Jersey Tax Court remarked as follows relative to the amendment of N.J.S.A. 54:4-3.6, “There is absolutely no suggestion that, when the Legislature separated the pertinent portion of N.J.S.A. 54:4-3.6 into three parts, one for entities formed for moral and mental improvement purposes, another for hospital purposes, and another for religious or charitable purposes, it intended to eliminate the preexisting exemption for multipurpose entities. The sole purpose of the 1985 amendment to N.J.S.A. 54:4-3.6 was to permit a partial exemption for entities organized for moral and mental improvement purposes. As the intent of the Legislature in 1983 and 1985 was to make it easier to qualify for the hospital and moral and mental improvement exemptions, it would defy common sense to conclude that, with no explanation, the Legislature simultaneously intended to make it more difficult to qualify by limiting the exemption to single purpose entities...(statutory construction will not turn on ‘literalisms, technisms or the so-called formal rules of interpretation; it will justly turn on the breadth of the objectives of the legislation and the commonsense of the situation’).”

412.18 Nonprofit Use.

Neither the buildings, the land they are situated on, nor the owner-organization may be operated for profit. If any part of a building is used for profit, the entire building loses its exempt status, except for those buildings cited below:

1. Where a building property tax exempt as a college, school, academy or seminary is leased, in part, to a nonexempt profit-making organization, the leased portion of the building is subject to tax. The portion of the building used for college, school, academy or seminary purposes continues to be exempt.

Exception: A college, school, academy or seminary may lease out part of its property or building without losing even a portion of its tax exempt status if the lease arrangement meets these conditions:

- a. income derived from the lease agreement must be used for the exempt purposes of the educational organization;
 - b. income derived from the lease agreement cannot result from a primarily profit-seeking transaction, and must be of a “de minimus” nature, not materially affecting the exempt purpose of the educational entity;
 - c. the lease cannot be more than 4 consecutive months in duration.
2. Buildings used in the work of associations and corporations organized exclusively for hospital purposes may be leased, in part, to profit making organizations, but the leased portions are taxable, while the remainder of the buildings are exempt.
 3. Buildings used in the work of associations and corporations organized exclusively for moral and mental improvement purposes may be leased, in part, to profit-making organizations; the leased portions are taxable and the remaining buildings exempt.
 4. Buildings used in the work of religious or charitable associations and corporations organized exclusively for religious purposes may be leased to profit making organizations; the leased portions are taxable and the remaining buildings exempt; also if any portion of a building is used for a different exempt use by an exempt entity that portion is also exempt.

5. Where a charitable, religious, or benevolent organization derives a portion of its income from fees and charges resulting from the use of its property, exemption should be granted provided:
 - a. the entire income is devoted to the authorized purposes of the organization, and
 - b. the building is wholly controlled by the charitable organization.

Dominant Motive Test Historical Precedent Superseded by Paper Mill Playhouse v. Millburn Twp. 95 N.J. 503 (1984)

In the past, Kimberley School v. Montclair, 2 N.J. 28 (1949) “dominant motive test” was the standard for exemption, in particular with regard to nonprofit. In applying the dominant motive test, the background and nature of the school’s organization; character and nature of the membership of its board of trustees or governing body, particularly where former private owners were represented; its income compared with its operating costs; excess income over costs, and actual and possible use of such excess; the existence and extent of its accumulated surplus and its intended purpose; tuition charged compared with similar schools; teachers’ and officials’ salaries compared with similar schools, public and private; and any other factors bearing upon the dominant motive in the conduct of the school were looked at. Kimberley School was considered nonprofit because tuition rates were not excessive, excess income over expenses was not unreasonable, salaries were low, property owners were not compensated and assets upon corporate dissolution went to other nonprofit educational institutions.

As excerpted from AHS Hospital Corp., v. Town of Morristown, 28 N.J. Tax 456 (Tax Ct. 2015): The 2011 New Jersey Supreme Court in International Schools Services, Inc. v. West Windsor Twp. held that tax exemption cases, including Kimberly School, are necessarily limited to their facts and are not controlling. While Kimberly School remains good law, it is not the standard by which contemporary courts must determine whether the Hospital qualifies for property tax exemption under N.J.S.A. 54:4-3.6. The Court in AHS Hospital Corp. v. Town of Morristown also stated that the statutory test as set forth in Paper Mill v. Millburn Township is the standard for determining whether an organization qualifies for exemption.

The New Jersey Supreme Court, in Paper Mill Playhouse v. Millburn Township, 95 N.J. 503 (1984) held that to secure an exemption under N.J.S.A. 54:4-3.6, the following three criteria must be met, also known as the three prong test: (1) organizational prong - a corporation must be organized exclusively for the exempt purpose; (2) use prong - its property must be actually and exclusively* used for the tax exempt purpose; (3) profit prong - its operation and use of its property must not be conducted for profit.

(*The 2nd prong use requirement has since been amended to delete exclusivity and now provides for actual exempt use only in most areas of N.J.S.A. 54:4-3.6.)

NOTE: Federal 501(c) (3) status is not controlling with respect to New Jersey property tax exemptions.

412.19 Incorporation.

The organization must be incorporated or otherwise organized under the laws of New Jersey or any other state, and authorized to carry out the purposes for which exemption is claimed. Once a corporation is authorized to operate in this State, even though not incorporated under New Jersey law, it is considered to have met the corporate/organizational criteria for exemption. As of May 2011, the Department of State maintains an online directory of government agencies which provide resources to assist nonprofit organizations including available funding sources, volunteer opportunities, various forms, tax relief etc. (See Nonprofit Information Center: <http://www.nj.gov/state/nonprofit.html>). Incorporation or registration to do business is done through the Department of the Treasury, Division of Revenue and Enterprise Services, (DORES) Business Services Bureau (609) 292-9292. 412.20 Application.

Organizations must apply for real property tax exemption with the assessor on forms supplied by the municipality as prescribed by the Director, Division of Taxation in accordance with the following procedure. Separate applications must be filed for each parcel of property.

Initial Statement. An “Initial Statement,” Form I. S., must be filed in duplicate with the assessor on or before November 1 of the pretax year. The Initial Statement establishes eligibility under the requirements of the various exemption statutes. A copy of this form can be found at the Division of Taxation’s website at:

http://www.state.nj.us/treasury/taxation/pdf/other_forms/lpt/initialstment.pdf

Further Statement. “Further Statement,” Form F.S., must be filed in duplicate with the assessor not later than November 1 of every third succeeding year. The Further Statement reaffirms that an exemption, granted for past years, should remain in effect. Further Statements show:

- a. whether there was any change of use of the property, initially determined as tax exempt, during any 3-year period which would defeat the exemption; and
- b. whether any new or additional property was acquired for which a tax exemption is claimed, showing initially the new or additional property’s right to the exemption. A copy of this form can be found at the Division of Taxation’s website at:

412.21 Reviewing I.S. and F.S. Forms, Copy to County Tax Board.

Every Initial and Further Statement should be checked carefully by the assessor. The assessor should:

1. review Initial and Further Statement applications, Forms I. S. and F. S., as to which statute exemption is requested under.
2. review Initial and Further Statement applications, Forms I. S. and F. S., for explanation of organization's purpose(s).
3. review organization's certificate of incorporation, articles of association, charter or bylaws for statement of goals, objectives etc.
4. use of property should coincide with stated purpose(s) on application forms and in charter or bylaws and, use should be a permitted one per statute under which exemption is requested.
5. review financial data e.g. federal income tax returns etc. relative to nonprofit/profit status.
6. review purchase, acquisition dates in light of October 1 pretax year ownership criteria.

Each assessor may, at any time, inquire as to whether exemption should be continued and may require a Further Statement or such proofs as he/she considers necessary to determine the claimant's exemption standing. In the event of a claimant's failure to comply with the legal requirements, or where doubt as to entitlement exists the assessor should deny exemption and remove the property from the Exempt Property List. A Denial Notice should be provided the claimant advising of the right to appeal the disallowance. One copy of each approved form should be forwarded, together with the Exempt Property List, to the County Board of Taxation by January 10 of the year for which exemption is granted. The other copy should be retained by the assessor.

NOTE: Applications for exemption need not be filed on behalf of properties owned by Federal, State, county, or municipal governments or by any subdivision thereof.

412.22 Failure to File Further Statement.

While statute at N.J.S.A. 54:4-4.4, does suggest the necessity of the Further Statement by stating “...not later than November 1 of every third succeeding year, said assessor shall obtain a “further statement” under oath from each owner of real property for which tax exemption is claimed,...” the significance of the directive is unclear since the courts have repeatedly held that failure to file the Further Statement is of no consequence to eligibility for exemption. As noted in Emanuel Missionary Baptist Church v. Newark, 1 N.J. Tax 264 (Tax Court 1980), “The language of N.J.S.A. 54:4-4.4 does not permit the construction that the statement thereby contemplated is a condition precedent to the allowance of an exemption under N.J.S.A. 54:4-3.6. While exemption statutes are strictly construed against the exemption claimants, Princeton Univ. Press v. Princeton, 35 N.J. 209 (1961), the principle of strict construction must never be allowed to defeat the evident legislative design. Princeton Twp. v. Tenacre Foundation, 69 N.J. Super. 559 (App. Div. 1961), quoted approvingly in. Boys Club of Clifton. Inc. v. Jefferson Twp., 72 N.J. 389, 398, (1977). The evident legislative design is set forth with great particularity in N.J.S.A. 54:4-3.6.” N.J.S.A. 3.6c also allows leeway where an application is not timely filed.

412.23 Property Tax Refunded by Governing Body as per N.J.S.A. 54:4-3.6c.

The governing body of a municipality may, by ordinance, where good cause is shown why a timely application was not filed, return all taxes collected on one or more properties owned by associations or corporations organized exclusively for charitable or religious purposes which would have been exempt under N.J.S.A. 54:4-3.6 if a timely claim had been made. No refund is to be made if more than 3 years have passed since the last date of filing a timely application. No interest is to be paid by the municipality on any refund of this type.

414. Urban Farming and Gardening.

Public Law 2011, chapter 35, as amended by Public Law 2011, chapter 171 allows nonprofit corporations and associations located in any city of the first, second, third or fourth class to transform vacant properties into fruit and vegetable gardens.

414.01 Eligibility.

The land, less than five acres in area, must actually be used to cultivate and sell fresh fruit and vegetables and may be owned or leased by a duly incorporated nonprofit organization or association. The nonprofit's cultivation of previously vacant land, as well as the sale of fresh fruits and vegetables, must be among its principal purposes. This is considered a public use and warrants the property tax exemption. The produce may be sold to further the mission of the nonprofit entities. The nonprofit organization is authorized to sell fresh produce either on the land that was conveyed, off that land, or both, provided that the sales are related and incidental to the nonprofit purposes of the organization and the net proceeds received are used to further those purposes. The nonprofit organization may not be controlled, directly or indirectly, by any agricultural, commercial, or other business.

415. Property Acquired by Exempt Organizations.

415.01 Taxable Property Purchased After October 1 Remains Taxable.

Property must be eligible for exemption as of the pretax year October 1 assessing date. If an exempt organization purchases taxable property after the October 1 assessing date, no exemption can be granted until the next following tax year. For example, real property owned by a nonexempt taxpayer on October 1, 2017, is liable for taxes for 2018. Purchase of this improved property in November 2017 by a qualified exempt organization does not gain it exempt status during 2018. If the exempt organization continues its ownership and exempt use of the property through October 1, 2018, exemption can be granted for tax year 2019 provided that neither use nor ownership changes after October 1, 2018.

415.02 Exempt Property Purchased After October 1 Remains Exempt – Application Considered Timely Filed.

Where owners of certain exempt properties acquire other exempt property, exemption remains in effect even though the acquiring exempt owner did not have ownership of the new exempt property on October 1 of the pretax year. Properties exempt under N.J.S.A. 54:4-3.6 or 54:4-3.26 which apply for exemption may be considered timely filed despite the acquisition being subsequent to October 1 of the pretax year, and the exemption may be granted, subject to the following conditions being met:

1. the applicant and subject property meet all other requirements for exemption; and
2. the subject property was exempt from taxation when acquired by the exempt applicant.

416. Exempt Property Ceases to be Exempt - Added and Omitted Assessments.

Properties listed on the tax roll as exempt on October 1 which later cease to be exempt become assessable as Added or Omitted Added Assessments.

416.01 Exempt Property Valued.

Although exempt property is taxed at zero dollars ($0), assessors must determine accurate taxable assessed values so that should exemption cease proper tax payments will be obtained. Also accurate valuing of exempt property ensures the correct basis for any “in-lieu” of payments.

416.02 Ownership or Use Change.

When property ceases to be exempt because of a change in use or ownership, the property is to be assessed as omitted property. The County Board of Taxation, by resolution, directs the assessment to be made and entered on the Tax Duplicate in the same manner as other omitted property. Any such assessment is to be entered on the Added Assessment List of the municipality where the property is located as an “Omitted Added Assessment.”

416.04 When Exemption Ceases Affects Time of Assessment.

If exemption ceases during any tax year, property is assessed and taxed as of the first day of the month following the date the exemption ceased, for the proportionate part of the remainder of the year. If use or ownership changed after October 1 in any year and before January 1, the property becomes taxable as of the first day of the month following such change in use or ownership.

The “Added Assessment List” for the year in which the assessment is made is then filed with the County Tax Board on or before October 1 in the subsequent tax year. However, the tax rate applied should be the tax rate for the year in which the exemption ceased. If the exemption ceased between January 1 and October 1 in any year, the property is assessed and taxed as of the first day of the month following the date the exemption ceased, for the proportionate part of the tax year remaining.

EXAMPLES:

Ownership changes from exempt to nonexempt between October 1 and January 1 in any year. Change occurs on October 25, 2018.

Total Assessed Value from 2018 Exempt List is $200,000.

Total Assessed Value from 2019 Exempt List is $200,000.

2018 Tax Rate is $3.60/$100

2019 Tax Rate is $3.80/$100

2018 $200,000 X 2/12 = $33,333 X .036 = $1,200

2019 $200,000 X 12/12 = $200,000 X .038 = $7,600

$8,800

Ownership changes from exempt to nonexempt between January 1 and October 1 in any year. Change occurs on April 3, 2019. Tax rate same as above.

2019 $200,000 X 8/12 = $133,333 X .038 = $5,066.67

Upon the assessor's investigation of an exempt building that had been vandalized, he/she realized that the property had not been used for exempt purposes for the past two years as well as the current year, 2019.

Total Assessed Value from 2017 Exempt List is $400,000.

Total Assessed Value from 2018 Exempt List is $400,000.

Total Assessed Value from 2019 Exempt List is $400,000.

2017 Tax Rate is $3.85/$100

2018 Tax Rate is $3.90/$100

2019 Tax Rate is $4.00/$100

The assessor should make an Omitted Assessment in the 2019 Omitted Assessment List for the year the property was found to no longer be used for exempt purposes and one prior year.

2018 $400,000 X 12/12 = $400,000 X .039 = $15,600

2019 $400,000 X 12/12 = $400,000 X .040 = $16,000

416.05 Appeals with No Tax Payment Required.

Organizations seeking tax exemption for class 15D, 15B and 15F (exempt property) are not required to satisfy the pre-appeal tax payment provisions of N.J.S.A. 54:3-27 to pursue an appeal to a County Board of Taxation or a direct appeal to the Tax Court per N.J.S.A. 54:51A-3, where exemption qualification is the subject of the appeal.

However, in City of Newark v. Block 322, property taxes were assessed to Apostolic Church of Deliverance. Although the church qualified for a tax exemption under N.J.S.A. 54:4-3.6 on the basis that its premises were used for nonprofit purposes, the taxes assessed against it were affirmed pursuant to N.J.S.A. 54:3-21 because the church failed to file timely appeals of the assessments. The failure to timely challenge the assessments was fatal to the church's claim of tax exemption.

The following property is exempt from taxation: "All buildings and structures located in this State and used exclusively by a nonprofit association or corporation organized under the laws of this or another state for the production and broadcasting of educational television or educational radio programs; the land whereon the buildings and structures are erected and which may be necessary for the fair enjoyment thereof, and which is devoted to the foregoing purpose, and no other purpose, and does not exceed 30 acres in extent; the furniture, equipment and personal property in said buildings and structures if used and devoted to the foregoing purpose. The foregoing exemption shall apply only where the association or corporation owns the property in question and is authorized to carry out the purpose on account of which the exemption is claimed."

417.01 Application.

The association or corporation must file an application for exemption Initial Statement, Form I.S., with the municipal assessor on or before November 1 pretax year and Further Statement, Form F.S., every third year by November 1 after exemption approval.

418. District Superintendent of Religious Organizations.

Property tax exemption is granted on the dwelling house and lot or “curtilage” on which it’s erected where the dwelling is actually occupied as a residence by a clergyman who is a district superintendent of any religious association or corporation, and to the accessory buildings on the same premises, if proper application is made.

“Curtilage” means the enclosed space of ground and buildings immediately surrounding a dwelling house.

“District Superintendent” means one who supervises a group of established congregations, rather than someone who occupies an executive position in a religious corporation, and does not include an officer of a missionary corporation whose interests are worldwide.

418.01 Eligibility.

To qualify for exemption, all of the following must be met.

1. Ownership. The property must be owned by the religious organization.

2. Occupancy. The property must be occupied as a residence by the district superintendent of the religious organization.
3. Application. Organization must apply for exemption with the municipal assessor on Initial Statement, Form I.S., on or before November 1 pretax year and on Further Statement, Form F.S., every third year by November 1 after exemption approval.

NOTE: The residence of a district superintendent of a religious organization may be validly exempted even if the organization is not incorporated under New Jersey law.

419. Volunteer Aid and Relief Organizations.

Property tax exemption is granted to all real and personal property of any association or organization used for the purpose and in the work of providing volunteer aid to the sick and wounded of armies in wartime and/or carrying on a national and international system in peacetime to relieve suffering caused by pestilence, famine, fires, floods, or other great national calamities. The American Red Cross is such an organization.

419.01 Eligibility.

To qualify for exemption the following conditions must be met:

1. Ownership. The organization must have legal or beneficial* ownership of the property.

Equitable Title vs. Legal Title: equitable title is a beneficial interest in the property that allows the holder the right to also acquire legal title if certain conditions are met, while legal title is apparent ownership without, necessarily, the beneficial interest or the full and complete title. In most real estate transactions, the grantee will receive both legal and equitable title in the property for full fee simple interest. However, the two titles may be separated in certain cases, such as in the creation of trusts. In these situations, the legal title will be held by the trustees, who administer the property, while equitable title will be held by the beneficiaries, who have the right to use the property. Historically, the differences in the two forms of title were the method by which relief could be sought in cases in which the holder of title was wronged; equitable title was under the jurisdiction of the courts of equity, while legal title was subject to courts of law. Today, an equitable estate is, for all intents and purposes, a legal estate.

*Beneficial Interest is a right or expectancy in a property without legal title to that property, such as the beneficiary of a trust having the right to use a parcel of real property held by the trust but not owning that real property himself or herself.

2. Nonprofit Use. No part of the property may be used for pecuniary profit.
3. Application. The organization must apply for the exemption with the municipal assessor on Initial Statement, Form I.S., on or before November 1 pretax year and on Further Statement, Form F.S., every third year by November 1 after exemption approval.

NOTE: The organization need not be incorporated to qualify for exemption.

NOTE: Red Cross: Excerpt from the U.S. Supreme Court decision at 385 U.S. 355(1966)

“...On the merits, we hold that the Red Cross is an instrumentality of the United States for purposes of immunity from state taxation levied on its operations, and that this immunity has not been waived by congressional enactment. Although there is no simple test for ascertaining whether an institution is so closely related to governmental activity as to become a tax-immune instrumentality, the Red Cross is clearly such an instrumentality....By statute and Executive Order there devolved upon the Red Cross the right and the obligation to meet this Nation's commitments under various Geneva Conventions, to perform a wide variety of functions indispensable to the workings of our Armed Forces around the globe and to assist the Federal Government in providing disaster assistance to the States in time of need. Although its operations are financed primarily from voluntary private contributions, the Red Cross does receive substantial material assistance from the Federal Government. And time and time again, both the President and the Congress have recognized and acted in reliance upon the Red Cross' status virtually as an arm of the Government..."

The American Red Cross is to be treated as a Federal entity, so exemption would be immediate based on the history and the 1966 Supreme Court decision. The American Red Cross was renamed the American National Red Cross in 1893 to emphasize its national scope and is so referenced in its charters. The American Red Cross was chartered by Congress in 1900 as a nonprofit rather than a government agency. In 1905, it was rechartered as a semi-governmental agency whose governors were appointed by the U.S. President. Congress has authorized the American National Red Cross as the agency to carry out the purposes of the Geneva Convention for the United States.

420. Military Purpose Property; Veterans' Organizations.

Revised Statute, R.S. 54:4-3.5, provides that the real estate or personal property owned by any organization under State jurisdiction and used for military purposes; and any building, real estate, or personal property used by an organization composed entirely of veterans of any war of the United States is exempt from taxation.

420.01 Eligibility.

To qualify for exemption all of the following conditions must be met:

1. Ownership. Property used for military purposes must be owned by an organization under the jurisdiction of the State of New Jersey. For property used by an organization composed entirely of veterans, ownership is not specified in the statute but is assumed to be a requirement.
2. Use. The property must be used for military or charitable purposes or be used by any organization composed entirely of veterans of any war of the United States.
3. Income. For military purpose property, all income derived from the property, above the costs of maintenance and repair, must be used exclusively for military or charitable purposes. As per statutory amendment P.L. 1996 c. 82, no property shall lose or be denied exemption from taxation because of use of the property for an income-producing activity that is not the organization's primary purpose, as long as all net proceeds* from that activity are used in furtherance of the primary purpose of the organization or for other charitable purposes.

*NOTE: Black's Law Dictionary definition of "net proceeds" is gross proceeds, less charges which may be rightly deducted.
4. Prorated Exemption. In 1981, the New Jersey Tax Court held that where part of the property owned by an organization composed entirely of veterans is leased to a nonexempt tenant, only that portion of the premises used by the veteran's organization is to be exempt.
5. Application. The eligible organization must apply for exemption on Initial Statement, Form I.S., with the municipal assessor by November 1 pretax year and on Further Statement, Form F.S., every third year by November 1 after exemption approval.

421.02 Veteran Organizations including Non-Vets.

Under N.J.S.A. 54:4-3.25, as amended by P.L.1996, c. 82, real and personal property used by bonafide national war veterans organizations or posts, or bonafide affiliated associations, whether incorporated or unincorporated, is exempt even though the organization is not composed exclusively of war veterans, if the following conditions are met:

1. Date Established and Membership. Organization must have been existing and established as of June 18, 1936. Organization's membership need not be composed entirely of veterans of any war of the United States.
2. Ownership. Organization(s) must have legal or beneficial ownership of the property. See section 419.01 for definition of terms.
3. Use. Exemption does not require property be exclusively devoted to the purposes for which the veteran claimant entity was organized or that it be free from use for pecuniary profit.
4. Income. Exemption is conferred in an otherwise proper case, even though the property is devoted to commercial pursuits carried out in the building by the owner-organization itself. In accordance with amendment resulting from P.L. 1996 c. 82, no property shall lose or be denied exemption from taxation because of the use of property for an income-producing activity that is not the organization's primary purpose as long as all net proceeds* from that activity are used to further the primary purpose of the organization or for other charitable purposes.

NOTE: Black's Law Dictionary definition of "net proceeds" is gross proceeds, less charges which may be rightly deducted.

5. Prorated Exemption. Prior to the 1996 Amendment it was held exemption should be denied where a building, or parts thereof are permanently occupied as residences or used for commercial pursuits by individuals or groups other than the claimant veteran organization.
6. Application. The veterans' organizations must apply for exemption with the municipal assessor on Initial Statement, Form I.S., by November 1 pretax year and make Further Statements on Form F.S. every third year by November 1 after exemption approval.

426. Fraternal Organizations.

426.01 Purpose, Organizational Structure.

“All real and personal property used in the work and for the purposes of one or more fraternal organizations or lodges, or any association or society organized on the lodge plan, or affiliated associations, whether incorporated or unincorporated, is exempt from taxation under this chapter, if the legal or beneficial ownership of such property is in one or more of said organizations, lodges, associations or societies, and no part of such property is used for pecuniary profit, provided that each such organization, lodge, association or society is also organized and operated in substantial part for charitable or educational purposes and demonstrates these aims in its programs and activities.”

426.02 Ownership.

Real property of a fraternal organization may be owned directly by the fraternal organization itself or by a separate entity composed of members of the fraternal organization. See section 425.01 for definition of legal or beneficial ownership as noted above.

426.03 Use.

Operated in “substantial part for charitable or educational purposes” means the charitable and/or educational activities are planned and executed on a regular, continuous basis as opposed to occasionally or sporadically and are evidenced by the local organization’s participation in such activities on a national, state, and local level. Examples of such activities are: drug abuse programs, cultural programs for teens and senior citizens, public safety programs, and health clinics in poverty areas. 427.02 Historic Sites; Exemption.

As per N.J.S.A. 54:4-3.52:

a. Any building and its pertinent contents and the land on which it is erected which may be necessary for its fair enjoyment, owned by a nonprofit corporation, which is certified to be an historic site to the Director, Division of Taxation by the Commissioner of Environmental Protection, as hereafter provided, is to be exempted from real property taxation by the Division of Taxation's Director after a determination by the Director that the property meets the criteria in N.J.S.A. 54:4-3.54b in section 2 of Public Law 2004, chapter 183.

b. The municipal tax assessor is to annually certify to the Director, Division of Taxation, that each property certified for historic site real property tax exemption continues to qualify under the criteria set forth in N.J.S.A. 54:4-3.54b.

c. The Director, Division of Taxation, by rule or regulation, sets an annual fee, to be collected by the municipal assessor from the historic site owner, for review of the real property tax exemption status of the historic site. The fee is not to exceed $50 per year and is to be used to offset the cost to the municipal assessor for review and certification to the Director.

427.03Use Criteria.

In Town of Morristown v. Woman's Club of Morristown, the State Supreme Court explained, "nothing in the statute requires that the property be used in any way with respect to its historical purpose apart from action necessary to maintain historic site status. Nor do any of the unrelated statutes regarding historic sites impose a use requirement."

427.05 Dates of Applicability.

The historic site exemption applies to any site that, after July 1, 1999, the Director, Division of Taxation, determines to be eligible for a historic site real property tax exemption pursuant to Public Law 2007, chapter 157, and to any site for which the applicant applies for historic site real property tax exempt status after July 1, 1999. This is not applicable to historic sites that have been determined by the Director to be eligible for a historic site real property tax exemption on or before July 1, 1999, or to any applications for which historic site real property tax exempt status were made on or before July 1, 1999.

427.06 Certification.

Before an application for historic site real property tax exemption under P.L. 2007, c. 157, may be approved, certification as a historic site must be obtained.

1. The Commissioner of the Department of Environmental Protection must certify after consulting with the Historic Preservation Office to the Director, Division of Taxation, on the form designated “Certificate of Historic Site” (issued to the applicant by the Commissioner) that the building and its pertinent contents and the land on which it is erected:
 - Has material relevancy to the history of the State and its government warranting its preservation as a historical site;
 - Must be in the event of a restoration of substantially the same kind, character and description as the original;
 - Meets all other conditions as the Commissioner may, by law, require to be declared to be a historic site.
2. The Director, Division of Taxation, must certify the applicant owner’s building to be a historic site qualified for a real property tax exemption whenever the property:
 - Has material relevancy to the history of the State and its government warranting its preservation as a historical site;

- Is listed in the New Jersey Register of Historic Places;
 - In the event of a restoration and/or rehabilitation that such work has or will be done in accordance with the United States Secretary of the Interior's Standards for Treatment of Historic Properties;
 - Is open to the general public and freely available to all people, without discrimination as to race, creed, color, religion or other protected classes under the Law Against Discrimination, N.J.S.A. 10:5-1 et seq. under reasonable terms and conditions, including, but not limited to, a nominal fee, to ensure the preservation and maintenance of the site, for a minimum of 96 days per year.
3. Before an initial determination of historic site real property tax exemption status can be made, pursuant to N.J.S.A. 54:4-4.4, each exemption claimant owning real property shall provide to each municipal assessor an Initial Statement (Form I.S.)
- http://www.state.nj.us/treasury/taxation/pdf/other_forms/lpt/initialstment.pdf
- under oath as prescribed by the Director, Division of Taxation. The applicant must supply and certify to the Director the information set forth above on such form or forms to be certified by the applicant as the Director may provide.

427.07 Inability to Meet 96-Day Requirement.

If the applicant claims that the building cannot be open to the public for at least 96 days per year, the following conditions must be met:

- The municipal governing body where the building is located passes a resolution specifying the number of fewer days in support of the nonprofit corporation's application for fewer days, such resolution to be forwarded within seven days to the Director;
- The Director approves a fewer number of days after considering the municipal governing body's resolution and the following information, which must be supplied by the nonprofit corporation owning the building on a request form prescribed by the Director.

- a. Financial condition and resource information of the nonprofit corporation and a statement explaining why the 96-day requirement is not feasible;
- b. Whether or not the request is temporary because of a short-term constraint regarding the public's physical access to the building, and if so, documentation by the applicant explaining in detail the nature and reason therefore;
- c. If the property relies on volunteers to manage public access, the name and address of each volunteer;
- d. A detailed statement of the impact upon the public interest in restricting access to the real property historic site to the lesser number of days.

427.08 Initial and Further Statement Applications Filed with the Assessor.

Pursuant to N.J.S.A. 54:4-4.4, annually on or before November 1 the historic site real estate tax exemption applicant must submit to the municipal assessor an Initial Statement on the Division of Taxation's Form I.S., if one has not been filed previously. Thereafter, on or before November 1 of every third succeeding year, the historic site real estate tax exemption recipient must submit to the municipal assessor a Further Statement for which a historic site tax exemption is claimed on the Division's Form F.S., https://www.state.nj.us/treasury/taxation/pdf/other_forms/lpt/further.pdf

except that no Further Statement need be filed in the same calendar year in which an Initial Statement was filed.

427.09 Annual Reviews.

Pursuant to N.J.S.A. 54:4-4.4, each assessor may at any time inquire into the right of an exemption recipient to continue exemption. He/she may require the filing of a Further Statement on Form F.S. at a time other than the third-year update specified in N.J.S.A. 54:4-4.4. The assessor may also require the submission of such proof as he/she considers necessary to determine the right of the recipient to continue the exemption. All Further Statements must include whether:

- There was any change of use of the property initially exempted which would defeat the right of exemption;
- Any new or additional property was acquired for which a tax exemption is claimed and the justification for the exemption.

The municipal assessor must obtain the I.S. and F.S. Forms in duplicate from the property owner and file the duplicate copy with the County Board of Taxation with his/her Exempt Property List on or before the following January 10. The municipal assessor is to collect an annual fee of $50 from the historic site owner granted an exemption, to offset the cost of the assessor's review of the real property tax exemption status for purposes of certification to the Director, Division of Taxation. The review must be conducted on or before January 30, annually.

427.10 Tax Exempt Status Report.

On or before January 30, annually, the owner of the previously certified historic site eligible to receive a historic site real property tax exemption after July 1, 1999, and to any historic site for which application is made for real property tax exempt status as a historic site after July 1, 1999 must submit a properly executed certification and Status Report on Form S.R. to the municipal assessor, the Historic Preservation Office in the Department of Environmental Protection, and the Director, Division of Taxation, that contains the following:

1. Evidence that the property was open to the public for a minimum of 96 days during the preceding calendar year, unless less time is approved by the Director. Acceptable evidence includes proof of public notification or advertisement and a brief summary of visitation statistics. The summary must include:

- A list of days the property was open to the public;
 - The total number of hours each day that the building was in use;
 - The hours of each day that the property was open to the public;
 - The number of visitors on each of those days;
 - The names of the employees or volunteers who served in any capacity to assist the public on each of the specified days;
 - A copy of the visitor sign-in lists that the property owner must make available to the public at a place prominent on the property;
 - A statement that a sign clearly advertising that the building is open for public access and easily read at a distance of 100 feet, is displayed outside the building;
2. A copy of any amendments or modifications to the current nonprofit corporation bylaws;
 3. Evidence that the exemption claimant, if an organization, has current nonprofit status pursuant to N.J.S.A. 15A:1-1 et seq. and is qualified for tax exempt status under the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, 26 U.S.C. Section 501(c);
 4. A brief description of any physical restoration or rehabilitation undertaken in the preceding calendar year, with photographs documenting the current condition of the building;
 5. A description of any physical restoration or rehabilitation anticipated to be taken in the subsequent calendar year.

All certifications required, as well as the Status Report submitted to the municipal assessor, must be signed by an officer of the nonprofit organization and be dated and contain the following language: "I certify that: I am an officer of (name of the organization if incorporated) and am authorized by the organization to sign this certification and status report; or I am authorized by (name of the organization) to sign this certification and status report. I also certify that the information contained herein is true to the best of my knowledge and am aware that if any of the information is knowingly false, I am subject to any punishment under the law for making a false statement under oath."

If the Status Report indicates any physical restoration or rehabilitation, the municipal assessor must inspect the property to determine if a substantial change has occurred. If there is a substantial change, the assessor must notify the Historical Preservation Office of the Department of Environmental Protection in writing of the inspection results. The Historical Preservation Office will then make its own determination as to whether the property no longer qualifies for historic site preservation status due to a substantial change. If the Office finds that the property is no longer eligible for historical site preservation status, it will then forward its determination to the Commissioner who will cancel the property's historical site certification in accordance with N.J.S.A. 54:4-3.54 and N.J.A.C. 18:41-3.3(a), and inform the Director, Division of Taxation, and the Historical Preservation Office. Upon completion of each required annual review by January 30, the municipal assessor must certify to the Director that each property previously qualified under N.J.S.A. 54:4-3.54b, for a historic site real property tax exemption, continues to be qualified for its exempt status under these statutory provisions.

427.11 Tax Exempt Interim Status Report.

On or before August 31, annually, the nonprofit corporation that owns the building certified as a historic site must submit to the Historic Preservation Office in the Department of Environmental Protection, the municipal assessor, and the Director, Taxation Division, an Interim Status Report that contains current calendar year information as specified in N.J.A.C. 18:41-3.1(e) and (f) up to the date of the report's submission. The Director may request any additional information necessary to clarify the information previously provided by the nonprofit corporation in the Interim Status Report. The Director, Division of Taxation, must by September 15 of each year certify that the real property for which a tax exemption is claimed pursuant to N.J.S.A. 54:4-3.54a et seq., has met all of the qualifications for a historic site real property tax exemption.

If an owner and real property are not yet qualified for exemption because the property was not open to the public for at least the number of days required pursuant to N.J.A.C. 18:41-2.1(a) 2iv by August 31, but is otherwise qualified, the Director may certify the number of days the property was open by August 31, and that the owner and property will be qualified for such exemption if the property is open to the public for at least the required number of days by December 31. The Director then delivers such certification to the property owner and the assessor of the taxing district in which the real property is located. Form S.R. can be found here: http://www.state.nj.us/treasury/taxation/pdf/other_forms/lpt/sr.pdf

427.12 Cancellation of Historic Site Certification and Property Which Ceases to be Exempt.

Upon cancellation by the DEP Commissioner of a certification as a historic site pursuant to N.J.S.A. 54:4-3.54c, the Commissioner, no later than the next business day, must notify the Director of Taxation and the municipal assessor where the historic site is located. Any historic site real property tax exemption granted after July 1, 1999, or a historic site that is not in compliance with N.J.S.A. 54:4-3.54b is null and void, and the site owner is liable for the real property taxes to the taxing district for each tax year during which the historic site property was not in compliance.

Whenever any real property is, by law, exempt from taxation and the right to such exemption ceases by reason of a change in use or ownership, the property is assessable as omitted property as provided in N.J.S.A. 54:4-63.26 thru 63.29.

427.13 Appeals.

An applicant for historic site certification, or a nonprofit organization that is denied an application for certification or has certification canceled, has the right to appeal said denial or cancellation to the Commissioner, Department of Environmental Protection. Appeals pertaining to historic site certification status are made to the DEP Commissioner, and not to the County Board of Taxation.

An applicant for historic site real property tax exemption or the owner of a nonprofit organization that is denied an application for exemption or has an exemption canceled has the right to appeal such determination by the Director, Division of Taxation by way of an administrative hearing as the Director may prescribe pursuant to N.J.S.A. 54:50-3.

A nonprofit organization that has its historic site real property tax exemption canceled or otherwise voided by the municipal assessor has the right to appeal the cancellation or voidance to the County Board of Taxation. Appeals to the County Board of Taxation may address any or all of the following subjects:

- The organization's purpose;
- The property's ownership as of October 1 of the pretax year;
- Incorporation of the organization or its authorization to operate in New Jersey;
- Land area or existing buildings;

- Timely application for historic site real property tax exempt status as of November 1 of the pretax year.

428. Automatic Fire Suppression Systems.

To encourage property owners' voluntary installation of automatic fire suppression equipment and help defray the cost of those required by law to install it, property tax exemption is provided to the extent such equipment enhances the market value of the property in which it is installed. Exemption applies to a fire suppression system installed in a residential, commercial or industrial building, once certified by the enforcing agency.

“Automatic fire suppression system” means a mechanical system designed and equipped to detect a fire, activate an alarm, and suppress or control a fire without human intervention. Such a system activates as a result of a predetermined temperature rise, rate of temperature rise, or increase in the level of combustion products.

“Enforcing agency” means the municipal agency provided for under the State Uniform Construction Code Act 52:27D-119 et seq.

428.01 Certification Required.

The local code enforcing agency, upon application, is to review and grant or deny certification of the system. An automatic fire suppression system is exempt from taxation when the equipment, facility, or system installed is designed primarily for purposes of automatic fire suppression, as guided by regulations set forth by the Commissioner of the Department of Community Affairs. The certification must identify the system and its cost.

428.02 Applying for Certification and Exemption.

Certification as an automatic fire suppression system is to be applied for to the local enforcing agency on Form FSS, Claim for Property Tax Exemption for Automatic Fire Suppression Systems, supplied by the enforcing agency and promulgated by the Director, Division of Taxation. The enforcing agency may, at any time, inquire into the claimant's right to exemption, and may require a new application or proofs it feels necessary to continue the exemption. The enforcing agency has the right to inspect the premises for which exemption is claimed. The FSS form can be found on the Division of Taxation's website at:

428.03 Claimant, Assessor, Enforcing Agency to get Certificates.

The approved certificate itself is given to the claimant. A copy of the certificate is sent to the assessor of the municipality where the building having the automatic fire suppression system is located. A copy of the certificate is also retained by the enforcing agency.

428.04 Assessor to Allow Exemption, Year After Certification.

Once the assessor receives a copy of the enforcing agency's certification that the automatic fire suppression system is a qualified system, then it becomes eligible for tax exemption.. Exemption begins in the tax year following the year in which certification was granted. The assessor should reflect the exemption on the Tax List as a partial exemption. The Tax List should show the full assessed value and, in a separate column, the amount of the exemption, as well as a separate net assessed valuation of the property.

N.J.S.A. 54:4-3.133

428.05 Exempt Amount.

The owner of a building equipped with a properly certified automatic fire suppression system is entitled to annual exemption on the assessed value of the building in an amount equal to the value of the fire suppression system. The assessor should first determine the assessed value of the property including the automatic fire suppression system and then determine the assessed value of the property excluding or minus the fire suppression system. The difference between these two figures indicates the amount of exemption accorded the system.

428.06 Certificate Revoked.

The enforcing agency, after notice to the Fire Suppression System (FSS) certificate holder, may revoke the certificate when:

1. the certificate was obtained by fraud or misrepresentation;
2. the exemption claimant failed substantially to proceed with construction, reconstruction, installation or acquisition of an automatic fire suppression system;

3. the mechanical system is no longer used for the primary purpose of automatic fire suppression, and is used for a different primary purpose;
4. the claimant so departed from the equipment, design and construction previously certified that in the enforcing agency's opinion the system is not suitable and reasonably adequate for providing automatic fire suppression.

Appeal.

A person aggrieved by an action of the assessor may appeal to the County Tax Board or to the New Jersey Tax Court as appropriate. A person aggrieved by the action of the Director, Division of Taxation, may seek a review before the Director. A person aggrieved by the action of the enforcing agency may seek a review before the board of appeals. Board of appeals means the municipal or county board provided for under the State Uniform Construction Code Act.

Sales Ratio Usability of Property with a Certified Fire Suppression System.

Where property having an automatic fire suppression system exemption is sold, the assessor should attach a copy of the approved certification or application to the SR-1A form. The property assessment reported on the SR-1A form should be the full assessment including the assessed value of the system. This information should be carefully reviewed to determine the usability or nonusability of the sale. Generally, it's assumed there is a reasonable relationship between the full assessed value of the sold property and the selling price.

429. Renewable Energy Systems Exemption.

429.01 Definitions.

Public Law 2008, chapter 90, also known as the Renewable Energy Systems Exemption, was approved on October 1, 2008. Chapter 90 exempts certain renewable energy systems from real property taxation and defines “renewable energy system” as “any equipment that is part of, or added to, a residential, commercial, industrial, or mixed use building as an accessory use, and that produces renewable energy onsite to provide all or a portion of the electrical, heating, cooling, or general energy needs of that building.” The term “renewable energy” is also defined and includes solar, wind, wave or tide action hydropower, photo-voltaic and geothermal technology and biomass facilities. This exemption applies to newly installed or pre-existing renewable energy systems. The “local enforcing agency” means the enforcing agency in any municipality provided for under the “State Uniform Construction Code Act,” P.L. 1975, c. 217.

REFERENCES:

N.J.S.A. 54:4-3.113a et seq.

429.02 Eligibility.

Property - whether residential, commercial or industrial - must first be certified by a local enforcing agency (usually the municipal construction code official) as a qualifying renewable energy system. Certification must be made by the local enforcing agency upon written application. The local enforcing agency may at any time inquire into the right of the claimant to the property tax exemption and has the right to make an inspection of the premises which are the subject of the claim for exemption. A copy of the certification is to be provided to the municipal assessor.

429.03 Limited Partial Exemption Calculation.

The property owner does not receive a property tax deduction in his/her tax bill for the “added value” of the renewable energy system. Nor would the retail value of the renewable energy system necessarily transfer identically into the assessed value. However, the owner of real property which is equipped with a certified renewable energy system is eligible for a limited exemption. The annual exemption is the difference between the total assessed value of the property before and after the renewable energy system has been installed. For example, a property’s assessed value is $300,000. After installing a renewable energy system, the municipal assessor determines the new total assessment value of the property is $330,000. This increased amount of assessed value resulting from the renewable energy system of $30,000 is exempt from property taxation. The property owner would be paying property taxes on an assessment of $300,000 of net taxable value.

429.04 Exemption Takes Effect Year After Certification

The exemption from taxation for the renewable energy system becomes effective for the tax year following the year in which certification has been granted and thereafter during its use primarily for such purpose.

429.05 Application.

The application for Certification of Renewable Energy System(s), Form CRES, is found at the Division of Taxation’s website at:

http://www.state.nj.us/treasury/taxation/pdf/other_forms/lpt/cres.pdf

430. Air and Water Pollution Facilities and Devices.

430.01 Pollution Abatement or Prevention Equipment.

Any equipment, facility or device constructed or installed and used primarily for abating or preventing pollution of the atmosphere or waters of this State which is certified to be an air or water pollution abatement facility by the Division of Air Quality or Division of Water Quality, respectively, and the Commissioner of the Department of Environmental Protection, (DEP) is exempt from taxation.

N.J.S.A. 54:4-3.56

430.02 Certification, Exemption Following Year.

The Commissioner of the Department of Environmental Protection (DEP) certifies a facility as an air or water pollution abatement facility when he/she finds the equipment, facility or device constructed or installed, or to be constructed or installed, is designed primarily for controlling or abating air or water pollution and is suitable and reasonably adequate for such purpose. The certificate must identify the facilities, their cost and be in such form and detail as the Commissioner prescribes. The certificate is to be sent to the applicant with a copy to the assessor of the taxing district where the facilities are located and installed. Tax exemption becomes effective for the tax year following the year in which certification is granted and thereafter during the facility's or equipment's use primarily for such purpose. Claim Forms for Exemption of Air or Water Pollution Abatement Facilities are available at the New Jersey Department of Environmental Protection's website at :

430.03 Certificate Revoked.

The Commissioner of the Department of Environmental Protection, after giving notice to a pollution abatement certificate holder and an opportunity for a hearing, may revoke the certificate when:

1. the certificate is obtained by fraud or misrepresentation;

2. the exemption claimant fails substantially to proceed with construction, reconstruction, installation or acquisition of pollution control facilities;
3. the previous structure or equipment or both is no longer used for the primary purpose of pollution control and is used for a different primary purpose;
4. the claimant so departed from the equipment, design and construction previously certified that in the Commissioner's opinion the primary purpose of such installation is no longer to prevent pollution; or the installation is not suitable and reasonably adequate for that purpose;
5. performance of the equipment as installed is not, in the Commissioner's opinion, suitable and reasonably adequate for the primary purpose for which certified; and in-lieu of revocation, the Commissioner may modify the certificate in accordance with the facts.

The Commissioner must forward a copy of the notice of revocation or modification of any certificate to the assessor of the taxing district in which the equipment is located.

431. Improvement to Water Supply or Sewerage Disposal System on Agricultural and Horticultural Lands.

431.01 Improvement Value Exempt.

The value of any "improvement" to real estate, to the extent the improvement enhances the value of the property, is exempt from taxation. An "improvement" or "improvement to real estate" means any structure, machinery, equipment, device or facility necessary to the installation or maintenance of a potable water supply system or a water-carried sewerage disposal system. Such improvements apply only to those located on land in agricultural or horticultural use.

Application.

433. Conservation or Recreation Land.
(Green Acres Tax Exemption Act)

433.01 Legislative Rationale.

The Legislature finds “that natural open space areas for public recreation and conservation purposes are rapidly diminishing; that public funds for the acquisition and maintenance of public open space should be supplemented by private individuals and conservation organizations; and that it is therefore in the public interest to encourage the dedication of privately owned open space to public use and enjoyment.”

433.02 Eligibility.

To qualify for exemption, the property must meet the following conditions:

Lands and improvements must be actually and exclusively used for conservation or recreation purposes, owned and maintained or operated for public benefit by a nonprofit 501c3 federal tax exempt organization and certified by the Commissioner of the N.J. Department of Environmental Protection (DEP) as such.

433.03 Certification.

The property must be certified by the Department of Environmental Protection’s Commissioner as a recreation or conservation area benefiting the public. Certification may be granted only after application is made to the Commissioner and a public hearing held to establish equal access to all citizens and public benefit.

Change of Use or Ownership – If the use of a tax-exempt property changes to a use other than public recreation and conservation or is sold to an entity that is not an eligible nonprofit organization, then the property is no longer eligible for tax exemption and is subject to rollback taxes. 433.06 Assessor to Exempt.

Tax exemption for certified recreation or conservation land and improvements is to be granted in accordance with N.J.S.A. 54:4-4.4 filing provisions for Initial and Further Statements.

Court decisions have held that the Department of Environmental Protection is not empowered to exempt property from taxation but rather to verify conservational/recreational use. “State Department of Environmental Protection (DEP) does not have the authority to grant a Green Acres property tax exemption, but may only certify that certain property is being used for the public benefit for conservancy and recreation.” Black United Fund v. City of East Orange, 17 N.J. Tax 446 (Tax Court 1998).

434. Cemeteries, Burial Grounds, Graveyards; Pet Cemeteries.

434.01 Cemeteries.

Lands used or intended for use as cemeteries and buildings for cemetery use erected on the land, mausoleums, vaults, crypts, or structures intended to hold or contain bodies of the dead or their ashes and solely devoted to or held for that purpose are exempt from taxation. No limit is imposed on the area of a cemetery to be exempt. The land used or dedicated to cemetery purposes is a question of fact in each case where proof plainly indicates that the property is actually used as a cemetery or within reasonable contemplation thereof. Lands being cleared and prepared for cemetery use may be in reasonable contemplation of cemetery use and may be exempt; but brush and swampland not needed for burial in a reasonable number of years, together with failure to obtain municipal permits, might be evidence to defeat a claim for exemption.

434.02 Graveyards and Burial Grounds.

Lands used or intended for use as graveyards, or burial grounds and cemeteries and buildings for cemetery use are exempt from taxation. The exemption for graveyard, or burial ground, is limited to 10 acres. A “graveyard” is defined as that plot next to a church used for burial of parishioners; the term “burial ground” remains undefined.

434.03 Application.

Cemetery associations or other owners must apply for exemption with the municipal assessor on Initial Statement, Form I.S. by November 1 pretax year and on Further Statement, Form F.S., every third year by November 1 after exemption approval.

2. Manufacture or sale of vaults as defined in the Act and manufacture or sale of private mausoleums or any private sarcophagus;

437. Other Property Tax Benefits - Homestead Benefit Program.

State Budgetary restrictions may affect both the Homestead Benefit and the Property Tax Reimbursement program. All property tax relief program information here is based on current law and is subject to change.

437.01 Information for Homeowners Age 65 or Older and/or Disabled on December 31, 2017.

Taxpayers age 65 or older and/or disabled on December 31, 2017, may be eligible for a 2017 New Jersey Homestead Benefit if their domicile or permanent legal residence is New Jersey and they meet the following:

- Owned and occupied a home in New Jersey that was the principal residence on October 1, 2017;
- Have New Jersey gross income for 2017 of $150,000 or less before exemptions and deductions. Income not subject to New Jersey Gross Income Tax such as Social Security, Railroad Retirement benefits, or unemployment compensation is not included. View list of other nontaxable income at <http://www.state.nj.us/treasury/taxation/njit12.shtml> The $150,000 income limit applies to a single individual, a married/civil union couple living in the same residence, and a married/civil union partner maintaining a residence separate from his/her spouse/civil union partner.

- The home must be subject to local property taxes, and 2017 property taxes must be paid.

437.02 Information for Homeowners Under Age 65 and/or NOT Disabled on December 31, 2017.

Eligibility requirements, filing procedures, and benefit amounts are the same as above EXCEPT for income.

- Applicants must have New Jersey gross income for 2017 of $75,000 or less before exemptions and deductions. Income not subject to New Jersey Gross Income Tax such as Social Security, Railroad Retirement benefits, or unemployment compensation is not included. View list of other nontaxable income at: <http://www.state.nj.us/treasury/taxation/njit12.shtml>. The $75,000 income limit applies to a single individual, a married/civil union couple living in the same residence, and a married/civil union partner maintaining a residence separate from their spouse/civil union partner.
- The home must be subject to local property taxes, and 2017 property taxes must be paid.

437.03 Ineligible Applicants.

- Taxpayers who were not homeowners on October 1, 2017, are NOT eligible for a 2016 Homestead Benefit, even if they owned a home for part of the year.
- New Jersey residents are not eligible for a Homestead Benefit if no property taxes are paid on their dwellings. Homeowners completely exempt from paying property taxes on their principal residence include certain 100% permanently and totally disabled war veterans and their unremarried surviving spouses/surviving civil union partners/surviving domestic partners.
- Homeowners who made Payments-in-Lieu-of-Tax (PILOT) payments which are not considered property taxes.

- Tenants will not receive rebates for 2017.
- Property owners are not eligible for benefits on vacation or second homes or residential rental property.

437.04 Benefit Amount.

The Homestead Benefit for 2016 is a credit applied to the May 2019 property tax bills. However, any Homestead Benefit will be issued in the form of a check (or direct deposit) if (1) the principal residence was in a co-op or continuing care retirement community or (2) the application stated that the principal residence on October 1, 2017, is no longer owned by the applicant.

Homestead Benefit amounts are based on an applicant's income, filing status, property taxes, and if the applicant was age 65 or older or blind or disabled for tax year 2017. The State Budget mandates that the 2017 benefit will be calculated using 2006 property taxes. As per the Budget, the 2017 benefit amount cannot exceed the homestead rebate paid for 2006 unless there was a change in an applicant's filing characteristics. "Filing characteristics" means a reduction in income range, a change in age/disability or filing status, or an increase in ownership.

The Homestead Benefit is in addition to the State's other property tax relief programs. The total amount of all property tax relief benefits received from Homestead Benefit, Property Tax Reimbursement, Property Tax Deduction for Senior Citizens/Disabled Persons, and Property Tax Deduction for Veterans cannot exceed the amount of property taxes paid on the applicant's principal residence for the same year. By law, if applicants receive a larger benefit amount than they are eligible for, they will be required to repay any excess. Amounts owed can be deducted from the applicant's Homestead Benefit, income tax refund or credit before the payment is issued.

438. Another Property Tax Benefit - Property Tax Reimbursement.
(Senior/Disabled Tax Freeze)

438.01 General Information.

Residents who receive Homestead Benefits and/or property tax credits or deductions may also receive the Property Tax Reimbursement (Senior/Disabled Tax Freeze). The Property Tax Reimbursement Program reimburses eligible senior citizens and disabled persons for property tax increases. The amount of reimbursement is the difference between the property taxes due and paid for the "base year" (the first year that all the eligibility requirements are met) and the amount due and paid for the current year for which reimbursement is claimed if the amount paid for the current year is greater. See Property Tax Reimbursement Definitions: <http://www.state.nj.us/treasury/taxation/ptr/defin.shtml>

The total of all property tax relief benefits received, Property Tax Reimbursement, Homestead Benefit, Property Tax Deduction for Senior Citizens/Disabled Persons, and Property Tax Deduction for Veterans cannot exceed the amount of property taxes (or rent/mobile home park site fees constituting property taxes) paid on the principal residence for the same year. Applicants will be required to repay any excess. The amount owed can be deducted from any Property Tax Reimbursement, income tax refund or credit, or Homestead Benefit before payment is issued.

438.02 Eligibility Requirements.

The following requirements for the base year and each succeeding year, up to and including the year for which reimbursement is claimed must be met:

1. Taxpayer is age 65 or older or receiving Federal Social Security disability benefits; and
2. Taxpayer lived in New Jersey continuously for at least the last 10 years, as a homeowner or renter;
3. Taxpayer owned and lived in the home (or leased a site in a mobile home park on which he/she placed a manufactured or mobile home that he/she owns) for at least the last 3 years;
4. Taxpayer paid the full property taxes (or site fees if a mobile home owner) due on the home for the base year and for each succeeding year, up to and including the year for which the reimbursement is claimed; and

5. Taxpayer met the income limits for the base year and each succeeding year, up to and including the year for which the reimbursement is claimed.

Ineligible Applicants.

If the taxpayer's residence is in a multiple-unit building of more than four units that he/she owns, the taxpayer is not eligible for a Property Tax Reimbursement. Also, the residence is not eligible if the building has four units or less but more than one commercial unit. Vacation or second homes are ineligible, as well as rental property that is not owner-occupied.

NOTE: The amount appropriated in the FY 2020 State Budget for property tax relief programs affected reimbursement payments for 2019. Applicants were eligible for 2019 reimbursement payments if their income did not exceed $70,000 and they met all the other program requirements.

All property tax relief program information provided here is based on current law and is subject to change.

Chapter 5 Rehabilitation, Redevelopment, Abatements, Limited Exemptions and “Zone” Options

501. Constitutional Authority.

Property tax abatements and exemptions in rehabilitation and redevelopment areas draw their authority from two paragraphs in the New Jersey Constitution.

ARTICLE VIII, SECTION I, PARAGRAPH 6

“The Legislature may enact general laws under which municipalities may adopt ordinances granting exemptions or abatements from taxation on buildings and structures in areas declared in need of rehabilitation in accordance with statutory criteria, within such municipalities and to the land comprising the premises upon which such buildings or structures are erected and which is necessary for the fair enjoyment thereof. Such exemptions shall be for limited periods of time as specified by law, but not in excess of 5 years.” (As adopted at the general election of November 4, 1975.)

ARTICLE VIII, SECTION III, PARAGRAPH 1

“The clearance, replanning, development or redevelopment of blighted areas shall be a public purpose and public use, for which private property may be taken or acquired. Municipal, public or private corporations may be authorized by law to undertake such clearance, replanning, development or redevelopment; and improvements made for these purposes and uses, or for any of them, may be exempted from taxation, in whole or in part, for a limited period of time during which the profits of and dividends payable by any private corporation enjoying such tax exemption shall be limited by law. The conditions of use, ownership, management and control of such improvements shall be regulated by law.” (As adopted at the general election of November 2, 1947.)

N.J. Constitution Article VIII, Section One, Par. 6 & Section Three, Par. 1

501.01 Introduction.

New Jersey recognizes the need to encourage economic growth through rehabilitation and redevelopment of real property. Local Redevelopment and Urban Renewal Exemption/Abatement Laws operate in concert to restore the vitality of depressed areas and to increase municipal ratables upon which property taxes are levied. Their purpose is to gain maximum participation of the private sector in the revitalization of the State's distressed communities. Redevelopment is a public-private partnership with municipal government agencies, developers, local communities and property owners. Through redevelopment, communities can re-use existing underutilized or abandoned sites and buildings, clean up environmentally contaminated areas, create new jobs and business opportunities and environmentally sustainable neighborhoods with "green" building construction, and address critical housing needs, all of which support important statewide objectives. Granting tax abatements and exemptions provides incentives for economic expansion. The Laws recognize that successful clearing, replanning, development and redevelopment of blighted areas require the use of special financial arrangements to obtain adequate private investment. In 1992, the Local Redevelopment and Housing Law (LRHL) was enacted. The LRHL consolidated and updated New Jersey's urban renewal statutes, including the Blighted Areas Act and the Redevelopment Agencies Law. The Local Redevelopment and Housing Law works as an umbrella statute over exemption and abatement statutes and programs. This statutory consolidation continues the original public purposes of the predecessor enactments, the restoration of deteriorated, neglected properties to productive use.

Historically, taxes collected from abated and exempt properties were not allotted to the county or the school districts. The old Fox-Lance Laws required all Payments in Lieu of Taxes to be used for municipal purposes. For this reason, when calculating a municipality's apportionment share of the county tax burden, certain abated properties were not included. To include properties which by law could not contribute to those county taxes was considered unfair. Nevertheless, the tax burden shifted in the counties where abated properties were located. Taxes of residents in municipalities with abatement projects were reduced and the loss was made up by other county residents.

Later Abatement/Exemption Laws of the 1960s either deleted or omitted requirements that abated or exempted property values be included in the equalization process. As noted, it was believed that providing relief from the county tax burden would encourage the granting of municipal abatements and thereby facilitate rehabilitation in areas in need.

In the early 1990s, the various Abatement and Exemption Laws were updated and consolidated. For county tax apportionment, the current Five-Year Tax Exemption and Abatement Law requires partial inclusion of exempt and abated property values in a municipality's aggregate valuation for equalization purposes, but the present Long Term Laws have had no such requirement. A recent amendment to the Long Term Tax Exemption Law, P.L. 2003 C. 125, now requires that each municipality entering into a financial agreement for abatement must remit 5% of the annual service charge to the county. Statutes do not address the treatment of abated/exempted properties with regard to school taxes or to equalization for purposes of State school aid.

Some of the more common abatement and exemption programs are:

Long Term Tax Exemption Law (N.J.S.A. 40A:20-1 et seq. P.L. 1991, c.431)

Five-Year Tax Exemption and Abatement Law (N.J.S.A. 40A:21-1 et seq. P.L. 1991, c.441)

Housing and Mortgage Finance Agency Project Tax Exemption Law (N.J.S.A. 55:14K-37 P.L. 1983, c.530)

Urban Enterprise Zone Residential Tax Abatement Law (N.J.S.A. 54:4-3.139 et seq. P.L. 1989, c.207)

Environmental Opportunity Zone Act (N.J.S.A. 54:4-3.150 et seq. P.L. 1995, c. 413)

Department of Community Affairs provides guidance regarding “smart growth” and municipal planning. Redevelopment plans must be adopted and considered in relation to the Master Plan and zoning ordinances.

The Municipal Assessor’s Role.

Abatement and/or exemption programs provide for municipal flexibility in negotiating tax exemptions and in- lieu of tax payment formulas with urban renewal and local redevelopment entities. One of the assessor’s primary responsibilities begins after a municipality is designated, via ordinance, as an area in need of redevelopment and/or rehabilitation. The assessor must record and track in the New Jersey Property Tax System (MOD IV) all exemptions and abatements to ensure that all taxable and exempt property is accounted for.

501.02 General Terms - Abatement & Exemption Defined.

An area must be designated “in need of rehabilitation or redevelopment.” The area may be the entire municipality or a delineated geographic area within a municipality.

“Abatements” represent that portion of the assessed value of a property as it existed prior to construction, improvement or conversion.

“Exemptions” represent that portion of the assessor’s full and true value of any improvement, conversion alteration, or construction not regarded as increasing the taxable value of property.

502. Five –Year Exemption and Abatement.

502.01 Purpose.

As with all abatement/exemption programs generally, the purpose of the Five-Year Exemption and Abatement Law is to provide an incentive for private industry to invest capital in real property, to establish commercial and industrial centers, to aid homeowners in improving their property and to generate property purchases to ensure stable ratables.

502.02 Enabling Ordinance Required.

The decision to implement an abatement/exemption program is discretionary on the municipality’s part. The municipal governing body must pass an enabling ordinance in order to implement the statutory options. The ordinance should identify the eligible or ineligible dwellings and commercial, industrial structures. It should state the amount of exemptions and/or abatements to be granted. The ordinance should also include the type of construction, e.g., new or reconstruction, improvement or conversion to be abated or exempted for each structure. Criteria may differ among various neighborhoods, zones, areas or portions of the “rehab” area.

An enabling ordinance is valid for ten (10) years. The enabling ordinance may be revised and a new ordinance adopted before the 10-year period expires. Any amendments would not affect any exemption/abatement in force prior to the revision. When drawing up the ordinance, the municipality's specific intent should be expressed along with statutory provisions.

502.03 Eligible Properties.

Properties Eligible for a Five-Year Exemption or Abatement:

Dwelling is defined as a building or part of a building used, to be used or held for use as a home, residence, including accessory buildings on the same premises, and the land needed for their fair enjoyment. Dwelling also includes individual residences in cooperatives or condominiums, but not common elements. A residential dwelling includes a structure of no more than four residential units and is Property Class 2 in the NJ Property Tax MOD IV System;

Multiple Dwelling means a building or structure as defined in the "Hotel and Multiple Dwelling Law" (N.J.S.A. 55:13A-1 et seq.). Multiple dwelling includes for improvement or construction "general common elements" and "common elements" of a condominium, cooperative, or an apartment (more than 4 family) or hotel and is classified as Property Class 4C, multi-family, in the New Jersey Property Tax MOD IV System;

Commercial or Industrial Structure means a structure or part thereof used for manufacturing, processing or assembling material or manufactured products, or for research, office, industrial, commercial, retail, recreational, hotel or motel facilities or warehousing purposes or for any combination thereof which the municipal governing body determines will maintain or provide gainful employment, assist in economic development, expand commerce and enhance the tax base. These properties are Property Class 4A, commercial, and 4B, industrial, in MOD IV.

502.04 Ineligible Improvements and Properties.

- Ordinary painting, repairs and replacement of maintenance items are ineligible for exemption and abatement.
- Repairs for fire or other property damage for which an insurance payment was received by any person for a three year period immediately preceding application for exemption and abatement are also ineligible.
- Tax delinquent properties or taxpayers owing penalties for nonpayment are not permitted exemption or abatement.
- Licensed gambling casinos are not eligible for exemption/abatement or tax agreement.

If abatement is permitted for new construction or conversion alteration, the total of all abatements granted during the five-year period cannot exceed the full cost of the construction or conversion alteration.

502.05 Applying for Exemption/Abatement & Filing Deadline.

No exemption or abatement is to be granted except upon written application filed with and approved by the municipal assessor within 30 days (including Saturdays and Sundays) of completion of the improvement, conversion alteration or construction. The assessor's review is to ensure that the application conforms to the municipal enabling ordinance and/or tax agreement. Late claims are cause for denial. Application "Form E/A-1 (Rev. 8/2015) is prescribed by the Director, Division of Taxation and may be provided by the municipality for claimant's use. The E/A-1 Form is also on line at the Division website:

<http://www.state.nj.us/treasury/taxation/pdf/lpt/ea1.pdf>

No exemption application is to be approved if filed after the tenth (10) year of the implementing ordinance unless the ordinance, is readopted.

A financial agreement is generally required with an in-lieu of tax payment and should accompany the E/A -1 form when it is filed with the municipal assessor. In lieu of tax payments and financial agreements are typically associated with multiple dwelling and commercial and industrial projects. Exemptions/abatements for flat dollar amounts of taxable value for one and two family dwellings do not require financial agreements or PILOTS.

502.10 Exemption/Abatement Options for Dwellings & Multiple Dwellings.

Municipalities, via ordinance, may choose a statutorily set dollar amount of assessed value to be exempt; $5,000 or $15,000 or $25,000 of full and true value of improvements or conversions for each dwelling unit. Existing dwellings must be at least 20 years old. With flat dollar amount exemptions, there are generally no PILOT payments. The property assessment cannot be less than the assessed value existing immediately prior to the improvements, unless abatements are also granted or there is damage to the property which warrants a value reduction. If authorized by enabling ordinance, annual abatement per property is limited to no more than 30% of the annual amount of exemption granted. Different percentages up to 30% may be applied for each year.

502.11 Exemption Options for Commercial, Industrial Properties.

For commercial or industrial improvements, full and true exempt property value stated by municipal ordinance is based on the assessors' full and true value. Improvements may not increase the property value for five years. The assessment must not be less than the existing assessment prior to improvement, unless damage to the structure warrants a reduction. Most exempted commercial/industrial properties are under tax agreements for in-lieu tax payments based on one of three formulas.

Cost – payment is based on 2% of the project's cost, that is, the cost or fair market value of direct labor, all construction materials, land acquisition and preparation, and architectural, surveying, legal, contractors, and engineering fees.

Gross Revenue – payment is based on 15% of the project's annual gross revenue, including gross rental plus other income, by contributions to taxes, insurance, etc. if paid by the tenant. The tax agreement should be specific in these matters.

Tax Phase-In – payment is based on a graduated percentage of the taxes otherwise due as:

1st full year	0 % – zero taxes
2nd full year	not less than 20% of the taxes otherwise due
3rd full year	not less than 40% of the taxes otherwise due
4th full year	not less than 60% of the taxes otherwise due
5th full year	not less than 80% of the taxes otherwise due

502.13 Applying Added Assessments.

On January 13, 2008, P.L. 2007, Chapter 268 took effect. The amendment was in response to New Jersey Tax Court decision Seventy-five P-B Corporation v. Town of Phillipsburg, 18 N.J. Tax 71 (Tax Court 1999), and, in part, reversed that decision. Before Chapter 268, all 5-year exemptions/abatements began the next full tax year following the year of the project's completion and Added Assessments were applicable in the interim period between completion and January 1. The c. 268 amendment now provides that Five-Year Tax Abatements/Exemptions commence as of the date of a project's completion, except for projects subject to tax agreements.

Non Tax Agreements - After c. 268 Amendment. Now exemption or abatement becomes effective immediately upon completion of the project, or portion of the project, and continues for five annual periods (365 days) from that date, except for tax agreement projects which remain under the January 1 prior provisions. There is no interim Added Assessment upon completion, except for projects under tax agreements. Any tax to be paid for the year in which the project is completed and for the four subsequent years is to be prorated based on the assessed value of the property for the current tax year, minus the prorated abatement amount, plus any portion of the assessed value of the improvement, conversion, or construction, not exempted, also prorated.

Tax Agreements –After c. 268 Amendment. The amendment allows exemptions and abatements to commence for the tax year following project completion (next January 1) when the municipality and taxpayer enter into a tax agreement. Additional value exceeding the exempt amount (i.e., not exempt) would be subject to an Added Assessment at completion of the project in the intervening period before January 1.

Additional assessment over the amount exempted should be treated as an Added Assessment. If provided for, an abatement should be calculated and excluded before the Added Assessment is imposed. By law, the amount of the abatement is no more than 30% of the exemption. Forms E/A 2.1, 2.2, and 2.3 help calculate the increased exemption/abatement.

502.14 Review of Application Form E/A 1 with In-Lieu Tax Payments.

For a Five-Year Exemption/Abatement, form E/A – 1 should be filed with the municipal assessor within 30 days of the completion of the improvement, conversion alteration, or construction. Any financial agreement must also be filed with the E/A -1 form. Based on the statement checked in Section II, the assessor must review and ascertain the appropriateness of the application. If approved, the assessor determines the amount of assessed value for exemption/abatement. The E/A-1 form is available on the Division of Taxation website at:

<http://www.state.nj.us/treasury/taxation/pdf/lpt/ea1.pdf>

Forms E/A 2.1, 2.2, 2.3 and 2.4 are calculation worksheets which assist the assessor.

502.15 Recording and Tracking Exemption/Abatement without In-Lieu Tax Payments.

Limited exemptions and abatements with a statutory set dollar amount of $5,000, $15,000, or $25,000 and without in-lieu tax payments are reported on the Tax List with the appropriate letter code and dollar amount. They are reflected as one line item on the Tax List. Also tracked in the New Jersey Property Tax System, but not printed on the Tax List, is the beginning year and the number of valid years for each limited exemption and abatement.

The letter codes are:

- G Commercial/Industrial Exemption
- I Dwelling Exemption
- J Dwelling Abatement
- K New Dwelling/Conversion Exemption
- L New Dwelling/Conversion Abatement
- N Multiple Dwelling Exemption
- O Multiple Dwelling Abatement

Two fields record and track limited exemptions and abatements. Field 5 is nine characters and accepts the assessed value of the limited exemption/abatement. Field 29 is two characters. The first character accepts one alpha character designating a specific limited exemption or abatement. The second character is numeric and accepts numbers 1 through 5 for the number of years a limited exemption/abatement is valid. The number 5 will not count down. Internally, the system calculates five years from the beginning year to produce the “Abatement Exemption Audit Trail.” The system accommodates four limited exemption/abatements per property record. On an annual basis at the time of consolidation, the “Abatement Exemption Audit Trail for the Year Ending NNNN” may be generated. The Audit Trail is created after consolidation and before production of the Tax List. The Audit Trail identifies properties with limited Exemption/Abatement by code letter and displays the following fields:

- Block-Lot-Qualifier;
- Land Description-Building Description-Additional Lots;
- Property Class;
- Owners Name-Street Address-City-State-Zip-Bank Code;

- Beginning/Ending Year- Limited E/A Code-Assessed Value of Exemption (This repeats four times);
- EXPIRED.

When exemption/abatement ends as of 12/31 of the current Tax Year and is the same as the Tax List year following consolidation, the word “expired” prints instead of the end year and the assessor must manually remove the exempt code and amount and adjust the line item’s assessed value to include the previously exempted amount as taxable.

When exemption closes during the Tax Year, the exemption is valid as filed and should be left on the Tax List. “Expired” is key for assessors to use the Added Assessment List so taxes are collected for the months after exemption ceases. Again, assessors must then manually remove exempt codes and amounts and revise the line-item assessed value to include the previously exempted amount as taxable.

502.16 Reporting and Tracking Exemptions and Abatements with In-Lieu Tax Payments.

A limited Exemption/Abatement with “in- lieu tax payments” is carried on the Tax List as both a taxable and an exempt line item. The taxable portion (usually land) and any improvement value existing before structural changes is recorded with the property class code. The total assessed exempt value appears on the Exempt List with the same block and lot as the taxable portion and an X qualifier and property class 15F to denote exemption.

Exempt Property List (EPL) codes are:

Part 1 ownership	24	other
Part 2 general use	17	C441 PL 1991
Part 3 specific use	994	5 year tax agreement

Assessors should place the beginning and ending dates of exemption in the initial and further filing date fields respectively. On the Tax List the property appears in sequence with the taxable portion, the original block, lot and qualifier, followed by the exempt portion with the original block, lot, qualifier and an “X” in sixth position in the qualifier field. The word “exempt” is shown in the taxable value field. The New Jersey Property Tax System MOD IV accepts only one “X” qualification code per line item. If there are two or more exemptions on the same block and lot, assessors must contact the State for coding and recording instructions.

502.17 MOD IV Five Year Report.

The EPL code is hard coded in MOD IV programming to create the Chapter 441 Exempt Property List. The List is filed at the County Board of Taxation along with the regular Exempt Property List on January 10.

Administrator then completes Part B and calculates the assessed value to be equalized and included in the County Equalization Table, Column 5.

502.20 Billing for Payments In-Lieu of Taxes (PILOTs).

Payments “in-lieu” of taxes (PILOTs) are currently calculated outside of the NJ Property Tax System MOD IV by the collector or finance officer based on one of the three forgoing formulas. (See section 502.11) In-lieu of property tax payments are made to the taxing district per the financial agreement between the municipality and abatement applicant in quarterly installments according to the same schedule as real property taxes. PILOT payments are not considered property taxes for purposes of property tax relief programs.

503.03 “Redevelopment and Rehabilitation Area” Defined.

“Redevelopment” means clearance, replanning, development and redevelopment; the conservation and rehabilitation of any structure or improvement, the construction and provision for construction of residential, commercial, industrial, public or other structures and the grant or dedication of spaces as may be appropriate or necessary in the interest of the general welfare for streets, parks, playgrounds, or other public purposes, including recreational and other facilities incidental or appurtenant thereto, in accordance with a redevelopment plan.

“Redevelopment area” or “area in need of redevelopment” means an area determined to be in need of redevelopment pursuant to sections 5 and 6 of P.L. 1992, c. 79 (C.40A:12A-5 and 40A:12A-6) or determined heretofore to be a “blighted area” pursuant to P.L. 1949, c. 187 (C.40:55-21.1 et seq.) repealed by this Act. A redevelopment area may include lands, buildings, or improvements which of themselves are not detrimental to the public health, safety or welfare, but the inclusion of which is found necessary, with or without change in their condition, for the effective redevelopment of the area of which they are a part. By designating an area in need of redevelopment and adopting a redevelopment plan, a municipality gains the ability to offer Long Term Exemption. A municipality which has an “Urban Enterprise Zone” per the New Jersey Urban Enterprise Zone Authority is also permitted Long Term Tax Exemption. Areas in “need of redevelopment” can also qualify as areas in “need of rehabilitation.”

“Rehabilitation” means an undertaking, by means of extensive repair, reconstruction or renovation of existing structures, with or without the introduction of new construction or the enlargement of existing structures, in any area that has been determined to be in need of rehabilitation or redevelopment, to eliminate substandard structural or housing conditions and arrest the deterioration of that area. “Rehabilitation area” or “area in need of rehabilitation” means any area determined to be in need of rehabilitation pursuant to section 14 of P.L. 1992, c.79 (C. 40A:12A-14). The governing body must take specific action for areas “in need of redevelopment or rehabilitation” to be recognized.

503.04 Urban Renewal Entities and Projects.

The municipal governing body which adopts a redevelopment plan, in accordance with the "Local Redevelopment and Housing Law," P.L. 1992, c.79 (N.J.S.A. 40A:12A-1 et seq.), may enter into a financial agreement with an urban renewal entity for the undertaking of a project. An urban renewal entity may be authorized, by the agreement, to undertake housing, senior citizen housing, low and moderate income housing, business, industrial, commercial, administrative, community, health, recreational, educational, cultural, and/or welfare projects, or any combination thereof in a single project within a designated area. The municipality retains all necessary authority and control of the redevelopment area. The undertaking of a project by an urban renewal entity is a delegation of municipal power, to be exercised subject to law and the terms of the agreement. An "urban renewal entity" may be organized on either a nonprofit or limited profit basis and may be incorporated or unincorporated such as a partnership or association. Its name must include the words "urban renewal." The urban renewal entity's certificate of incorporation or other charter must identify the type of project that it will undertake, specify that it will undertake no other business while it is subject to a financial agreement, declare that it serves a public purpose and is subject to regulation by the municipality in which its project is to be located. Further, it must state that it is subject to the limitation of any dividends, limitations on the transfer of ownership of the project and must obtain the consent of the Commissioner of Community Affairs prior to any transfer of a project containing housing units to any entity other than another urban renewal entity. The charter document must cite the authority of the municipality in the event of the urban renewal entity's financial difficulties, and provide for supervision of project housing units by the Commissioner of Community Affairs. Approval by the Department of Community Affairs is required before the certificate of incorporation or other charter may be filed with the Secretary of State or a County Clerk.

Urban renewal entities have authority to accept grants and loans, mortgage property, and obtain government-sponsored insurance or loan guarantees. Urban renewal entities can operate only so long as the financial agreement with the municipality remains in effect.

503.09 Two Options for Calculating Payments In-Lieu of Taxes and Service Charges.

In-lieu payment must be determined in either way as follows: (1) a percentage of annual gross revenue which must not be more than 15% for low and moderate income housing, not less than 10% for other projects; or, (2) at municipal option or where annual gross revenue cannot be reasonably ascertained, a percentage of total project cost which is not more than 2% for low and moderate income housing and not less than 2% for all other projects.

In either case, this amount is to be charged for the initial stage of the exemption period, which lasts between six and 15 years.

- During the second stage between one and six years, the payment must be that initial amount or 20% of total taxes otherwise due on the land and improvements; whichever is greater.
- During the third stage, one and six years, the payment must be the greater of the initial amount or 40% of taxes otherwise due on the land and improvements;
- During the fourth stage, one and six years, the greater of the initial amount or 60% of taxes;
- During the final stage of not less than one year, the greater of the initial amount or 80% of taxes.

The urban renewal entity is entitled to credit for the amount, without interest, of the real estate taxes paid on the land during the previous four calendar quarters. The service charge must not be less than the total taxes paid during the last full year in which the property was subject to taxation. Minimum and staged increases in the annual service charge over the term of the financial agreement are not to apply to qualified subsidized housing.

Any financial agreement may allow the municipality to levy an annual administrative fee, not to exceed 2% of the annual service charge.

Each municipality which enters into a financial agreement on or after the effective date of P.L. 2003, Ch. 125 (July 9, 2003) shall remit 5% of the annual service charge to the county.

Under either method of calculating PILOT payments, the maximum period for a Long Term Tax Exemption is 30 years from project completion, or not more than 35 years from the execution of the financial agreement between the municipality and the urban renewal entity.

503.10 Exemption where Project's Transferred/Sold or Where Qualified Condominiums Sold.

Agreements are to provide that the municipality must approve transfer of the project to another urban renewal entity which owns no other project at the time of transfer, and that the tax exemption will continue as long as the new entity accepts the obligations of the financial agreement. If the project includes condominium units, the municipality may consent to the sale of units to purchasers (who own no other unit at the time of transfer).

Financial agreements may permit conveyance of condominium units. Regardless of whether the condominium is residential, commercial, or industrial, the tax agreement continues in effect for the units sold. For residential condos, exemption continues in effect for owner-occupied units. For non-owner occupied units, the governing body may, by resolution, require either that the tax exemption lapse or that it continue subject to a higher in-lieu payment.

503.11 Excess Profits of Limited Dividend Entities and Nonprofit Entities.

Urban renewal limited dividend entities under financial agreements for tax exemption are subject to profit restrictions. Limited dividend entities are required to pay an additional annual service charge in the amount of any profits that exceed the allowable net profits for the accounting period. This must be paid within 120 days of the close of the entity's fiscal year. The entity may maintain a reserve against vacancies, unpaid rent and contingencies in an amount established in the financial agreement not exceeding 10% of the last full fiscal year's gross revenues. Urban renewal nonprofits under financial agreements are required to pay over their net profits to the municipality within 90 days of the close of the fiscal year.

The entity may maintain a reserve against vacant and unpaid rentals in an amount established in the agreement not to exceed 10% of the entity's gross revenues for the last full fiscal year. At termination of financial agreements, reserve amounts are to be paid to the municipality.

503.12 Authority for Audit and Modifications to the Financial Agreement.

The Local Finance Board in the Division of Local Government Services has authority to audit or investigate an urban renewal entity which owns a housing project in financial difficulties and to order implementation of a financial plan, including placing the entity under the control of the Department of Community Affairs. The financial plan may make modifications to the financial agreement with the consent of the municipal governing body, even if the entity does not consent.

503.14 Termination of Tax Exemption.

Tax exemption applies only as long as the urban renewal entity and its project are subject to the provisions of the Long Term Exemption statute. In no event shall the exemption extend more than 35 years from the date of execution of the financial agreement.

1. Notwithstanding the provisions of sections 12 and 13 of P.L.1991, c.431 (C.40A:20-12 and C.40A:20-13) to the contrary, the governing body of a municipality may agree to continue a tax exemption for a State or federally subsidized housing project beyond the date on which existing first mortgage financing is fully paid so long as the project remains subject to affordability controls pursuant to:

- a. project-based federal rental assistance, authorized pursuant to section 8 of the United States Housing Act of 1937 (42 U.S.C. s.1437f), or other federal or State project-based assistance;
- b. the Uniform Housing Affordability Controls promulgated by the New Jersey Housing and Mortgage Finance Agency; or

An urban renewal entity may one year after project completion, notify the municipal governing body that it is relinquishing the project's tax exempt status as of a specified date. If the project includes housing units, the urban renewal entity must obtain the consent of the Commissioner of the Department of Community Affairs. As of the date specified, the tax exemption service charges and profit and dividend restrictions end. The termination date is considered the close of the entity's fiscal year. It must pay over to the municipality the amount of its accumulated reserves and excess net profits.

503.16 Reporting and Tracking Long Term Exemptions.

A Long Term Exemption is carried on the Tax List as both a taxable and an exempt line item. Taxable land and any improvement value existing before the structural change is recorded on the Tax List with the appropriate property class code. The total assessed value exempted appears on the Exempt Property List with the same block and lot as the taxable portion with the addition of an X qualifier and exempt property class 15F.

The Exempt Property List code for this type of exemption is:

Part 1 ownership	29	Urban Renewal Entity
Part 2 general use	13	Redevelopment and Rehabilitation C. 431, P.L. 1991
Part 3 specific use	048	In – Lieu Tax

Assessors should place the exemption’s beginning date in the initial filing date field and the ending date in the further filing date field. On the Tax List the property appears in sequence with the taxable portion having the original block, lot, qualifier and the taxable amount, followed by the exempt portion with the original block, lot and qualifier with an “X” in the sixth position in the qualifier field. If there are two or more exemptions on the same block and lot, without condominium qualifiers, assessors must contact the State for instructions to code and record the information.

504. Urban Enterprise Zone Residential Tax Abatements.

504.01 Urban Enterprise Zones Generally.

The Urban Enterprise Zone Program (UEZ) was enacted in 1983 as P.L. 1983, c.303 to provide tax incentives for businesses in economically distressed urban centers as Corporate Business Tax credits, Sales and Use Tax exemptions and Unemployment Tax rebates. It originally authorized ten zones by the New Jersey Urban Enterprise Zone Authority: Camden, Newark, Bridgeton, Trenton, Plainfield, Elizabeth, Jersey City, Kearny, Orange and Millville/Vineland (joint zone). In 1994, the Act was amended to add ten more zones to the program. Of the ten new zones, six were predetermined: Paterson, Passaic, Perth Amboy, Phillipsburg, Lakewood, Asbury Park/Long Branch (joint zone). The four remaining zones were selected on a competitive basis. They are Carteret, Pleasantville, Union City and Mount Holly. Amendments in 1996 included seven additional zones. East Orange, Guttenberg, Hillside, Irvington, North Bergen, Pemberton and West New York. A further amendment in 2002 created three more zones, Bayonne City, Roselle Borough, and a joint zone consisting of North Wildwood City, Wildwood City, Wildwood Crest Borough, and West Wildwood Borough. The latest amendment in 2004 included Gloucester City and New Brunswick for a total of 32 zones in 37 municipalities.

NOTE: On December 31, 2016, UEZ designation expired for five zones - Bridgeton, Camden, Newark, Plainfield, and Trenton. However, on May 31, 2018, Governor Murphy signed Senate Bill 846 (SCSIR) into law as P.L. 2018, c.19., which immediately reinstated each expired UEZ until 2023.

504.02 UEZ Residential Tax Abatement Purpose.

The Urban Enterprise Residential Tax Abatement Law was adopted to encourage development of new single-family housing in municipalities designated as Urban Enterprise Zones. The intent was to provide housing convenient to the business district to revitalize neighborhoods, improve vacant land and under-utilized structures. Buildings converted to residential housing may include commercial, industrial or under-used school buildings.

504.03 Qualified Municipality and Qualified Residential Property Defined.

Even though an Urban Enterprise Zone is usually about 30% of the municipality, the entire municipality in which a UEZ is located is a “qualified municipality” for residential property tax abatement purposes. A municipality can qualify for abatement under this law even if the development is not in the designated “zone” as long as a UEZ or part of a UEZ is designated for the municipality. “Qualified residential property” means a building, to be used or held for use as a home or residence, including accessory buildings located on the same premises and condos, co-ops and horizontal property regimes. Unlike the 5 Year Exemption/Abatement Law, the Urban Enterprise Residential Abatement Law does not give separate definitions to the terms “abatement” and “exemption”.

“Abatement” is defined as an exemption from real estate taxes.

504.04 Enabling Ordinance.

The municipal governing body may determine, by ordinance, that one or more areas in the municipality are in need of rehabilitation and that one or more buildings or structures could be converted to qualified residential use, or that vacant land could be used for construction of qualified residential property. This determination must be made in accordance with Department of Community Affairs regulations (N.J.A.C. 5:22) that take into account the existence of blighted areas, deterioration and age of the housing stock, supply of and demand for housing in the municipality, and property tax arrearages on residential property. Ordinance must provide for a property tax abatement term of five years, an application procedure with approval method by assessor or ordinance, a method for computing in-lieu payments (PILOT's) and a requirement that units be owner-occupied or if not, have annual PILOT payments increased by 1%.

When an urban redevelopment project, approved pursuant to N.J.S.A. 40:55C-58, includes construction of qualified residential property located in a qualified municipality which adopts an ordinance to allow for UEZ abatements, the urban renewal corporation or association carrying out the project may, upon its completion, apply for abatements on behalf of prospective purchasers of dwelling units whether owner-occupied or investor-owned.

504.07 Financial Agreements.

Approved abatements require a financial agreement between the qualified municipality and the applicant in accordance with the enabling ordinance.

Annual PILOT payments are to be computed as:

- Method 1
Payment may be computed as two percent (2%) of the cost of the improvements or conversion alterations, as appropriate for five years following completion and in the sixth and all subsequent tax years following completion, 100% of the equalized taxes otherwise due;
- Method 2
Payment may be computed as a portion of the real property taxes otherwise due, as:
 1. First tax year following completion, no payment in-lieu of taxes otherwise due;

2. Second tax year following completion, not less than 20% of taxes otherwise due;
3. Third tax year following completion, not less than 40% of taxes otherwise due;
4. Fourth tax year following completion, not less than 60% of taxes otherwise due;

504.09 Filing Deadline and Abatement Start Date.

Applications must be filed with the municipal assessor within 30 days, including Saturdays and Sundays, following completion of the structure, improvements, or conversion alterations and allowed by him/her if consistent with enabling ordinance and statutory requirements. Each application must be accompanied by a financial agreement between the applicant and the qualified municipality. An approved abatement takes effect upon issuance of a Certification of Occupancy (CO). Abatement is to be recorded as a permanent part of tax records and indicate a termination date.

504.10 Denial of a UEZ Residential Abatement.

There is no standard Denial Form. Application may be denied if:

- Municipality is not a qualified Urban Enterprise Zone;
- Municipality does not have an enabling UEZ Residential Tax Abatement ordinance;
- Property is not a qualifying residential property;
- Application is filed late.

Assessors must notify applicants of denial in writing, including their right to appeal.

504.11 Billing for Payments In-Lieu of Taxes (PILOTs).

All payments “in-lieu” of taxes are currently calculated outside of the NJ Property Tax System (MOD IV) by either the collector or the finance officer as per the respective financial agreements and enabling ordinances.

PILOTs are paid to the municipality. No portion of the payment is provided to the county or school district. They are to be made in quarterly installments according to the same schedule as real property tax payments.

504.12 Recording and Tracking Five Year UEZ Residential Tax Abatements in MOD IV.

UEZ Residential Tax Abatements are reported and printed on the Tax List with code letter “U” and abated dollar amount. Also tracked in MOD IV but not printed on the Tax List is the beginning year and total number of years for each abatement.

There are two fields to record and track limited exemptions and abatements. Field 5 is nine characters which accepts the assessed value of limited exemptions/abatements. Field 29 is two characters, the first character accepts one alpha character designating a specific limited exemption or abatement and the second character is a numeric field which accepts the numbers 1 through 5, the years a limited exemption/abatement is valid. On an annual basis at the time of consolidation, the “Abatement Exemption Audit Trail for the Year Ending NNNN” may be generated.

The Audit Trail is created after consolidation and before production of the Tax List. The Audit Trail identifies the properties with limited Exemption/Abatement by code letter and displays the following fields.

- Block-Lot-Qualifier
- Land Description-Building Description-Additional lots
- Property Class
- Owner’s Name-Street Address-City-State-Zip-Bank Code
- Beginning/Ending Year- Limited E/A Code-Assessed Value of Exemption (This repeats four times)
- EXPIRED

When the ending year of the exemption/abatement is the same as the Tax List year following consolidation, the word “expired” prints instead of the ending year and assessors must manually remove the exemption code and amount and revise the assessed value of the line item to include the previously exempted amount as taxable. When the exemption expires during the tax year, it is proper to leave the exemption on the Tax List as it was valid when the List was filed. “Expired” is the key for assessors to use the Added Assessment List to collect taxes for the months following the expiration of the exemption. Do not use the increment function when establishing the Added Assessment. Assessors must manually remove the exemption code and amount for the following tax year.

505. Environmental Opportunity Zones (EOZs).

505.01 Purpose.

Properties which are underutilized or abandoned because of contamination are a burden on society and municipal services. These properties' remediation, revitalization and redevelopment bring tax ratables and jobs. To encourage remediation of contaminated property the Environmental Opportunity Zone Act provides real property tax exemption.

In addition to the E.O.Z. Act, there are several other remediation laws:

- Brownfield and Contaminated Site Remediation Act (N.J.S.A. 58:10B-1 et seq.);
- Industrial Site Recovery Act (N.J.S.A. 13:1K-6-1 et seq.);
- Spill Compensation and Control Act (N.J.S.A. 58:10-23.11 et seq.);
- Solid Waste Management Act (N.J.S.A. 13:1E-1et seq.);
- Underground Storage of Hazardous Substances Act (N.J.S.A. 58:10A-22 et seq.);
- Water Pollution Control Act (N.J.S.A. 58:10A-1 et seq.);
- Federal Clean Air Act.

505.06 Financial Agreement and Payments In-Lieu of Property Taxes (PILOTS).

EOZ exemption requires a Financial Agreement, as per enabling ordinance, between applicant and municipality. During the exemption period the qualified real property's PILOT payments are:

First Year	No in-lieu tax payment otherwise due
Second Year	Not less than 10% of taxes otherwise due
Third Year	Not less than 20% of taxes otherwise due
Fourth Year	Not less than 30% of taxes otherwise due
Fifth Year	Not less than 40% of taxes otherwise due
Sixth Year	Not less than 50% of taxes otherwise due
Seventh Year	Not less than 60% of taxes otherwise due
Eighth Year	Not less than 70% of taxes otherwise due
Ninth Year	Not less than 80% of taxes otherwise due
Tenth Year	Full amount 100% of taxes due at the remediated value of the property

Taxes otherwise due are determined using the assessed value at the time of exemption approval by the assessor and are not to include any improvements made in the Environmental Opportunity Zone during the exemption term. In-lieu of real property tax payments are to be paid quarterly to the municipality in accordance with the schedule for real property taxes. Where the exemption term extends beyond 10 years, the municipality may provide a different payment schedule, not to exceed the length of exemption. At the end of the tenth and all subsequent years, unless extended, the exemption expires and the full real property taxes at the remediated property value are due.

506. NJ Housing and Mortgage Finance Agency (NJHMFA) Tax Exemption.

506.01 Purpose.

Changing economic conditions reduce the availability of private sector financing for construction of new housing, conversion of non-residential structures to housing, rehabilitation and improvement of existing housing and transfer of existing housing for rental tenants and owner occupants. New Jersey Housing and Mortgage Finance Agency programs assist in revitalization of urban areas; develop housing initiatives, provide flexible finance vehicles; support affordable rental and for-sale housing for low and moderate income residents, first-time and urban homebuyers, citizens in senior and assisted living facilities and special needs residents.

Notwithstanding the above provisions of this section to the contrary, the governing body of a municipality may agree to continue a tax exemption for a State or federally subsidized housing project, beyond the date on which the eligible loan made by the agency on the project is fully paid, so long as the project remains subject to affordability controls pursuant to: (1) project-based federal rental assistance, authorized pursuant to section 8 of the United States Housing Act of 1937 (42 U.S.C. s.1437f), or other federal or State project-based assistance; (2) the Uniform Housing Affordability Controls promulgated by the New Jersey Housing and Mortgage Finance Agency; or

(3) the rent and income limits established by the federal Low Income Housing Tax Credit program pursuant to section 42 of the Internal Revenue Code (26 U.S.C. s.42).

508. Special Local Improvements, Special Assessments, and Special Improvement Districts (SIDS).

A local improvement is one where the cost or a portion of the cost may be assessed on the lands in the vicinity which benefit from that local improvement.

REFERENCES:

N.J.S.A. 40:56-1

The statute further provides that special assessments may be imposed upon the parcels of real estate affected by the local improvement:

“All assessments levied under this chapter for any local improvements shall in each case be as nearly as may be in proportion to and not in excess of the peculiar benefit, advantage or increase in value which the respective lots and parcels of real estate shall be considered to receive by reason of such improvement.” N.J.S.A. 40:56-27.

Some examples of local improvements are curbing, sidewalks, paving, decorative lamp posts.

N.J.S.A.40:56-25 requires that upon completing the improvement project and the assessment officer’s determination of the benefit assessment, a hearing must be held for all interested parties. Notice of the hearing is to be published in a newspaper in the area at least 10 days in advance and hearing notices are to be mailed to real estate owners affected by the special improvement assessment.

N.J.S.A.40:56-30 requires that upon report of the assessment officer to the governing body, a second properly publicized hearing must be conducted at which assessments can be adjusted before they are finalized and confirmed.

If dissatisfied with the final assessment as confirmed by the governing body, N.J.S.A.40:56-54 provides the property owner assessed for benefits may, within thirty (30) days after assessment confirmation, appeal to the Superior Court for resolution by serving written notice of such appeal upon the tax collector and a duplicate upon the clerk of the governing body.

The justification for a municipality to levy a special assessment is the benefit or enhancement of value which the improvement confers upon property so assessed. Gabriel v. Paramus, 45 N.J. 381, 384, (1965). Although local assessments are sometimes denominated as special taxes for the payment of the cost of certain kinds of public improvements and are generally sustained under the exercise of the power of taxation, nevertheless such local assessments differ from general taxes:

“[Local assessments] are not a tax at all in the constitutional sense or as taxes are generally understood, although it has been said that ‘assessments for local improvements form an important part of the system of taxation.’ Assessments as distinguished from other kinds of taxation are those special and local impositions upon the property in the immediate vicinity of the municipal improvements, which are necessary to pay for the improvement, and are laid with reference to the special benefit which the property is supposed to have derived therefrom. 14 McQuillin, Municipal Corporations, (3rd ed.), sec. 38.01, pp. 11 to 15.” In re Public Service Electric & Gas Co., 18 N.J. Super. 357, 363 (App. Div. 1952).

Similarly, a Special Improvement District (SID), Business Improvement District (BID), Pedestrian Mall, Downtown and Main Street areas or commercial mixed use corridor permits a special assessment for the cost of improvements for property owners who benefit from the improvements. Such districts were authorized by statute in 1984 and are formed by municipal ordinances. Assessment revenues are utilized, for example, for improvement upgrades and maintenance, marketing, and security. The municipal executive officer may create or appoint an advisory board to the local governing board or a management corporation. The corporation sets the agenda and determines the budget and assessment amount. Improvement Districts are a means for property and business owners in a community to organize as a single entity to enhance or expand municipal services through these special local assessments. Municipal ordinance may exempt residential properties from the special assessments. The State provides technical assistance and support via the New Jersey Department of Community Affairs see <http://www.state.nj.us/dca/>

Each property in the designated district is coded in the New Jersey Property Tax System (MOD IV) with Special Taxing District code "S". The "S" is used regardless of the specific type of improvement district. If there is more than one Special Improvement or Business Improvement District, a two character numeric field is used for further delineation, as for example, the first district would be "S01" and the second district would be "S02".

508.02 Calculating a Rate and Billing for an Improvement District.

Improvement District costs are billed to properties which are part of a district. The New Jersey Property Tax MOD IV System calculates the aggregate assessed value of the district. By statute the district's officers provide the "amount to be raised by taxation" to the municipal assessor. A rate for the Improvement District is calculated by dividing the amount to be raised by taxation by the aggregate assessed value of the property in the district. The rate is then applied to the assessed value of each property in the district to calculate the special assessment. The special district budget is provided to the County Tax Administrator and the special district tax rate is calculated and recorded with the other rates for the Abstract of Ratables. The rate and the taxes are printed on the tax bill.

509. Revenue Allocation District (RAD), Economic Redevelopment, and Economic Growth Grants (ERG, EGG).

509.01 Purpose.

Another district intended to combat deteriorating infrastructure and attract and retain business through private investment and redevelopment by using an incremental tax was created by the Revenue Allocation District Financing Act, N.J.S.A. 52:27D-459 et seq., (P.L. 2001, c.310). The RAD Act was superseded by the "New Jersey Economic Stimulus Act of 2009 (P.L. 2009, c.90).

Some basic steps in the RAD/ERG process include:

- Apply for approval to create the district.

- Municipality adopts ordinance to establish the district and to designate the managing agent, e.g., municipality, county, improvement authority, etc.
 - Ordinance must contain map of the proposed area which may not exceed 15% of total taxable property assessed within municipality (20% w/approval of DCA’s Local Finance Board.)
 - Prepare preliminary plan for Board approval.
 - Upon receipt of two-part plan approvals, bonds can be issued, again upon approval from the Board, to finance project costs.
- See N.J.S.A. 52:27D- 489a to 489n for more comprehensive redevelopment in certain areas.

509.02 Designated Areas and Projects.

The municipal governing body may by ordinance establish a RAD/ERG District. The total taxable value in all designated districts must not exceed 15% of the total taxable property assessed in the municipality determined by the local assessor. However, by request of the governing body approval may be given for up to 20% of the total taxable property assessed in the municipality as approved by the assessor. Statutory authority further provides for the designation of “qualifying economic redevelopment and growth incentive areas as:

- Planning Area 1 (metropolitan)
- Planning Area 2 (suburban)
- Transit Village (part of a municipality)
- Federal Land approved for closure under a Federal Base Realignment Closing Commission Action determined by the Commissioner of Transportation

- A Pinelands Regional Growth Area, town management area or village redevelopment plan of the New Jersey Meadowlands Commission

Within these areas a municipality may approve specific improvement projects including buildings, real and personal property, land and lands under water, riparian rights, space rights, air rights or any interest therein undertaken by a developer.

509.03 Financing and Property Tax Increments.

The municipal governing body located in a qualifying Economic Redevelopment or Growth Grant Area (ERG & EGG) may adopt an ordinance to establish a program to provide incentive grants to reimburse developers for all or a portion of financing gaps for redevelopment projects. No local Economic Redevelopment and Growth Grant Program can take effect until the Local Finance Board in the Department of Community Affairs approves the ordinance. The ordinance must define by block and lot all the properties included in the designated area. Economic Development and Growth Grants are also available at the State level through the New Jersey Economic Development Authority. There are several funding mechanisms for area improvements. When a “Property Tax Increment” is used for financing, the municipal assessor and County Tax Administrator are required to maintain base assessment information, annual changes in the base information, the apportionment of shared budgets and calculation of the tax rate.

509.04 Determining the Property Tax Increment.

The assessed value of each property and the aggregate assessed value of the designated area are recorded. The assessor designates each property in the district with the code letter “D” in the special taxing district field. The

New Jersey Property Tax System (MOD IV) provides the aggregate assessed value of the district on an annual basis. Because MOD IV does not provide for the base assessment of a RAD/EGG area, the assessor must find a way to record the base assessment information. The Property Tax Increment is equal to the difference between the total assessed value of a RAD/EGG district for the base year and the current assessed value of the district. If there is more than one RAD/EGG in the district and they have different base years a separate calculation is made for each RAD/EGG district and the Property Tax Increment for each RAD/EGG is totaled. The current year aggregate assessed value of the RAD/EGG district will change every year, but the base year value of the RAD/EGG district will remain constant until the implementation of a revaluation or reassessment. No adjustments are made to the base year total for appeals or “corrections of errors.”

municipality within the Growth Zone, by ordinance, opts-in to such program within 90 calendar days of the enactment of P.L. 2013, c. 161.

510.07 Exemption Requirements.

The exemption is dependent upon the real property owner making improvements to the real property after the enactment of P.L. 2013, c. 161; and the Department of Community Affairs, Division of Codes and Standards, in consultation with the eligible municipality, issuing a final Certificate of Occupancy within 10 years of the date of enactment of P.L. 2013, c. 161.

510.08 Exemption Period.

The exemption period extends for a period of 20 years. The first 10 years, immediately subsequent to the issuance of a Certificate of Occupancy, the Garden State Growth Zone Development Entity is exempt from the payment of property taxes on the improvements to the eligible property. Thereafter, the Garden State Growth Zone Development Entity pays the municipality in-lieu of full property tax payments in an amount equal to a percentage of taxes otherwise due, as follows:

Eleventh Year	Not less than 10% of taxes otherwise due
Twelfth Year	Not less than 20% of taxes otherwise due
Thirteenth Year	Not less than 30% of taxes otherwise due
Fourteenth Year	Not less than 40% of taxes otherwise due
Fifteenth Year	Not less than 50% of taxes otherwise due
Sixteenth Year	Not less than 60% of taxes otherwise due
Seventeenth Year	Not less than 70% of taxes otherwise due
Eighteenth Year	Not less than 80% of taxes otherwise due
Nineteenth Year	Not less than 90% of taxes otherwise due
Twentieth Year	100% of taxes otherwise due, and each year thereafter.

Payment to County

An amount not less than five percent (5%) of all payments is paid to the county in which the municipality is located.

510.09 Termination of Exemption.

Upon termination of the exemption granted, the project, all affected parcels, land, and all improvements made are assessed and subject to taxation as are all other taxable properties in the municipality.

510.10 Property Owners Who Do Not Qualify as a Garden State Growth Zone Development Entity.

Owners who don't qualify as a Garden State Growth Zone Development Entity may still be eligible for a tax exemption for improvements. Municipalities must consider the assessor's full and true value of the improvements as not increasing the value of the property for a period of five years, notwithstanding that the value of the property to which the improvements are made is increased thereby.

510.11 Sale of Property.

Any exemption obtained under this Act is fully transferable upon the sale of the real property, as long as the new owner meets all requirements for exemption.

Chapter 6 Real Property Assessment

601. Basis of Real Property Value.

601.01 Constitutional Value Standard.

The uniformity clause of New Jersey's Constitution requires that all real property, unless exempted or excepted, must be assessed according to the same standard of value.

601.02 Statutory Provisions.

Statutes define the standard of value as the "true value" of the property, that is, the price at which, in the assessor's judgment, each parcel of real property "would sell for at a fair and bona fide sale by private contract on October first next preceding the date on which the assessor shall complete his assessments..."

Every valuation of real property must be based on some sort of appraisal. Numerous methods are available. The method depends on the purpose for which the appraisal is made. For example, the value of property for insurance purposes, the value for investment purposes or the value of utility property for determining rates to be charged is not the same as the value for taxing purposes. In appraising a property for tax assessment purposes, the appraisal must be made in accordance with the basis of real property value recognized by State law, as interpreted by the courts.

601.03 Taxable Value.

Each County Board of Taxation establishes, on or before April 1 of the pretax year, the percentage of true value at which real property will be assessed. The percentage selected must be a multiple of 10%. When this percentage is applied to the “true value” of a property, the result is the “taxable value” of the property. All twenty-one County Boards of Taxation have selected 100% as the percentage of true value at which assessments are to be expressed. Historically, the selection of a percentage of less than 100% would not have relieved the assessor of the responsibility for finding the true value. Once the percentage level was established, it remained in effect beyond the minimum three year period until it was changed by the County Tax Board. If a County Board of Taxation failed to set a percentage level, the percentage automatically became 50%.

601.04 Judicial Interpretations.

The Constitution and statutes provide the basis of property valuation. Judicial interpretations of the statutes define further the methods which may be used to arrive at a property value for tax purposes. The following principles and methods have come to be generally accepted by the courts.

601.05 Willing Buyer – Willing Seller.

The courts have held that property must be assessed on the basis of the price, in terms of money, which it would bring in a private sale by an owner who is willing, but not forced to sell, to a purchaser who is willing, but not forced to buy property.

Gibraltar Corrugated Paper Co. v. North Bergen Township, 20 N.J. 213 (1955).

601.06 Stability of Value.

The courts have indicated that property value changes relatively slowly, and that values arrived at by one or more of the three Approaches to Valuation may not reflect the true value of the property. For example, abnormal market conditions of short duration, abnormal construction costs or income conditions have been held to cause inaccurate true property value.

601.07 Property Valued in Condition Held.

Property must be valued for tax purposes in the “condition in which it is held” by the owner on the assessment date, October 1 of the pretax year for the next calendar tax year. An assessment would be considered invalid if it were based on anticipated or future use. However, the courts have also held that alternative uses to which the property might be put while in its present condition should be considered in arriving at a value. (Highest and Best Use)

601.08 Assessments at the “Common Level.”

The courts have ruled that despite the “true value” requirement of the law a dominant principal of equality of treatment and burden must prevail. No assessment may be sustained at a ratio to true value which is above the “common level” of all assessments in the taxing district. Absent other evidence, the courts accept the Average Assessment-Sales Ratio determined by the Director of the Division of Taxation for School Aid purposes as the “common level” for the district. A common level ratio for each municipality is published annually on April 1 by the Director, Division of Taxation and may be obtained from the Division’s website at:

601.09 Limits of Value.

The market value of a property is usually found somewhere between the highest and lowest figures obtained from the three Approaches. The range between the high and low estimates is known as the “limits of value.”

603. Recognized Approaches to Value.

The validity of three methods for estimating property value for tax purposes is recognized: Market Data or Sales Comparison Approach; Replacement/Reproduction Cost or Summation Approach; and Income or Capitalization Approach. The courts have indicated that the result of a single Approach, in itself, is not to be considered an absolute determinant of the true value of a property. Whenever possible all three Approaches should be used in the final determination of value for tax purposes.

603.01 The Sales Comparison Approach or Market Data Approach.

The Sales Comparison Approach analyzes the actual sale prices paid for comparable, real property in an effort to estimate the sales value of the subject property if it were placed on the market. When using the Comparison Approach:

1. The sales must be bona fide. That is, they must represent sales by a willing seller to a willing buyer. If the sale is not considered bona fide, it should be disregarded. For example, a sale between members of the same family would probably not reflect the true value of the property.

2. The sales must be of comparable property. If the property sold differs in any substantial way from the property being appraised, adjustments are made to compensate for the differences. Common adjustments are the date of the sale, the location of the property, desirability or undesirability of the neighborhood; type of construction and number of rooms, number of baths, general condition, age, and living area.

The Sales Comparison Approach is useful for the appraisal of land where the adjustment of sale prices for differences is fairly simple. The adjustments for buildings can be more difficult. The more specialized a structure, the less use can be made of the Comparison Approach in estimating its value.

603.02 The Replacement Cost Approach.

The Replacement Cost Approach uses current building costs, and standards of material and design to estimate the cost of creating a building having the same utility as that of the subject property. An allowance then is made for depreciation. A value for the land is determined separately and added to the value developed for the building.

Current construction costs per square or cubic foot are available from a number of sources such as Marshall and Swift and RS Means for various types of construction. The Replacement Cost Approach frequently makes use of cost conversion factors which indicate the trend of building costs over a period of time and for different locations.

The Real Property Appraisal Manual for New Jersey Assessors, issued by the Local Property Branch, contains real property cost data for New Jersey, classed according to type and use for buildings and other kinds of real improvements. Each class is graded from the poorest construction to the best. A unit cost, usually on a square foot basis, is computed for each type of property. While the Replacement Cost Approach can be used for all types of structures, it is of no value by itself in valuing land.

The Reproduction Cost Approach.

The Reproduction Cost Approach is based on a determination of the cost of reproducing an exact duplicate or replica of the building at current prices, and deducting from that cost a sum for the depreciation or loss in value resulting from the fact that the subject building is not new, and finally adding the land value which is separately determined, to the depreciated value of the building. The Reproduction Cost Approach uses the same materials, construction standards, design, layout and quality of workmanship, embodying all the deficiencies, super adequacies and obsolescence of the subject building. This Approach is commonly used for historic property. The assessor should note that the cost of reproducing the building is not necessarily the current value of the building. Careful attention should be paid to estimating obsolescence and other forms of depreciation, guides for which are contained in the Real Property Appraisal Manual for New Jersey Assessors.

603.03 The Income Approach or Capitalization Approach.

The Income Approach or Capitalization Approach requires an analysis of the income produced by a property in order to estimate the sum which a person might prudently invest in the purchase of the property. The Income Approach is used in the appraisal of income-producing properties, such as stores, or apartment houses. A detailed budgetary study must be made of the property. Gross annual income is either determined from actual figures or is estimated. Annual expense figures are obtained from the owner. Rents, operating expenses, and fixed charges of the subject property are analyzed and adjusted. The expenses then are subtracted from the gross income. The resultant net income is capitalized at an interest rate which the property investor can expect as a reasonable return. The capitalized value of the net income represents the present value of the property by this Approach.

Capitalization Rate- An overall capitalization rate is an “income rate for a total real property interest that reflects the relationship between a single year’s expected net operating income and the total property price or value...” The overall capitalization rate is “used to convert net operating income into an indication of overall property value.”

In using the Income Approach, the assessor must be sure that the income utilized can be traced strictly to the property itself, and not to the business which is conducted on the premises.

By law, the assessor should require the owner of income-producing property to furnish income data (“Chapter 91 Request”). If the owner refuses, the assessor may value the property at that amount which he/she believes it may be worth.

Chapter 91 Request.

The courts have defined income-producing property as property producing rental income. Properties that are owner occupied and not leased are not income-producing property and therefore are not subject to the provisions of Chapter 91.

When requesting information from owners of property subject to Chapter 91:

1. The assessor must provide the owner of income-producing real property with a written request made by certified mail to render a full and true account of the income received from the property;
2. The assessor must provide the owner with a copy of the statute N.J.S.A. 54:4-34. It must be included with the request;
3. The property owner is required to respond to the assessor’s written request within 45 days;
4. Failure on the part of the property owner to respond to the assessor’s request within 45 days will result in the assessor valuing the property at such amount as he or she may from any property information available to him/her;
5. Motions to dismiss taxpayer appeals for refusal or failure to comply with N.J.S.A. 54:4-34 must be filed no later than the earlier of 180 days after filing of the complaint or 30 days before the trial date.

Steps in the Income Approach.

1. Determine the gross income of the property. If there is reason to believe that the actual current gross income does not represent a true picture of the future earning capacity of the property, a stabilized estimate of gross income should be used.
2. Establish the effective gross income by deducting an allowance for vacancies and collection loss (unpaid rents) from the gross income.
3. Find the net income by deducting allowable operating expenses from the effective gross income. In analyzing expense statements, the assessor must exercise care. Not all expense items are allowable in the Income Approach or the expenses listed may be higher or lower than normally expected. If this appears to be the case, only reasonable expense figures should be used.
4. Capitalize the net income to arrive at a value for the property.
Capitalization Rate- An overall capitalization rate is an “income rate for a total real property interest that reflects the relationship between a single year’s expected net operating income and the total property price or value...” The overall capitalization rate is “used to convert net operating income into an indication of overall property value.
Several methods of capitalization are available. The selection of a particular method depends largely upon the characteristics of the future income expected from the property. Direct capitalization and straight capitalization with straight line or sinking fund recapture are examples.

The Band of Investment technique is used to calculate an overall capitalization rate. “This technique is a form of ‘direct capitalization’ used ‘to convert a single year’s income estimate into a value indication.’ The technique includes both a mortgage and equity component.” The Band of Investment technique has been accepted by the Tax Court as a method of calculating market capitalization rates. 604. Building Assessment.

604.01 Approaches to Value.

Wherever possible, all Three Approaches to Value should be used in the valuation of every property. Residential and farm properties are usually appraised through the use of the Replacement Cost Approach and the Comparison Approach. If information is available, the assessor may also consider using the Income Approach. More frequent use is made of the Income Approach in the valuation of commercial and industrial properties.

604.02 The Replacement Cost Approach.

This Approach estimates the cost of creating a building having the same or equivalent utility as the subject building, as nearly as current prices and standards of material and design will allow.

605. Steps in using the Real Property Appraisal Manual For New Jersey Assessors.

1. Measure the subject property. Measuring begins at the right front corner of the building and proceeds around it in a clockwise direction until the point of beginning is reached again. Measure all indentations and protrusions as they appear.
2. Inspect the subject property, recording building data on a property record card. Building notes should include such items as the age of the property, any major alterations, approximate cost, and date of their completion.
3. Classify the building according to type and grade. This is the most important step in using the Real Property Appraisal Manual for New Jersey Assessors. Compare the descriptive data on the property record card of the subject property with the base specifications listed in the Real Property Appraisal Manual for each class of property. The classification selected for the subject property should be one requiring the least number of additions and deductions due to variations from the base specifications. The assessor should consider quality of construction materials and workmanship in determining the grade of the structure.

4. The present physical condition of the building is not a factor in determining classification. Any loss in value due to poor physical condition should be covered by adjustments under depreciation, not by a change in building classification.
5. Complete the calculations, including determination of areas; cubic contents if necessary; unit construction costs; additions and deductions; and depreciation and obsolescence.
6. Review the final appraised value of the property by checking it against available sales. A re-inspection of the property is helpful.

Following these steps in order will enable the assessor to obtain maximum performance from the Real Property Appraisal Manual for New Jersey Assessors.

605.01 Unit Construction Costs.

To figure the construction cost of any structure, assessors must have knowledge of present building costs. Construction costs are expressed as a unit cost per square foot (sq. ft.) of building area or per cubic foot of building volume. The principal source of unit construction cost figures for the assessor is the Real Property Appraisal Manual for New Jersey Assessors. The Manual provides a variety of unit construction cost figures based on a range of building characteristics, such as building use, quality of construction, type of materials used, number of floors, and size of floor area. For example, the cost of constructing standard grade, class 16, wood frame, two-story, single-family dwelling, with 1,000 square feet of 1st story floor area, is given in the Manual as $71.62 per square foot. Adjustments to the base unit costs are made through additions or deductions for building features for that particular class of building.

REFERENCES:

Real Property Appraisal Manual for New Jersey Assessors.

605.02 Cost Conversion Factors.

Base year unit cost figures contained in the Manual, June 2002, are kept up-to-date with annual cost conversion factors on line at the Division of Taxation, Local Property website at:

<http://www.state.nj.us/treasury/taxation/lpt/referencematerials.shtml>

A cost conversion factor provides an adjustment to bring the base cost figures in the Manual into line with building costs for a specific year in a specific geographic area based on a building's structure/use. For example, the October, 2018 cost conversion factor for a wood frame residential dwelling situated in Middlesex County is 1.74. While the Manual and the cost conversion factors have been prepared carefully, the assessor should make periodic checks of actual construction costs in his/her area. Records of buildings completed may be examined to determine unit costs. Local architects and builders may be consulted for their opinions of building costs.

Because the cost conversion factors are county based, the assessor may develop his/her own adjustment or cost conversion factor to bring the Manual into line with the actual local costs.

605.03 Depreciation.

Depreciation is the loss in value from all causes in any structure. There are three principal types:

1. Physical Depreciation or deterioration is the loss in value which results from the aging process. All objects decline in value due to the wear and tear of age or constant use. Proper maintenance may lessen the rate of loss, but will never completely stop physical depreciation.
2. Functional Obsolescence is the loss in value caused by factors inside the subject property. Overtime the functional design of one era may become less valuable than that of a later era. For example, a four-story office building without an elevator would be functionally obsolescent. Even though well-maintained, the value of the building would decline because access to the upper stories would be more difficult.
3. Economic Obsolescence is the loss in value caused by factors outside the subject property. Changing neighborhood characteristics and the presence of undesirable properties contribute to economic obsolescence. For example, an apartment house located near a sewage disposal plant would suffer from economic obsolescence if the plant frequently gave off unpleasant odors.

The Real Property Appraisal Manual for New Jersey Assessors provides policy which guides assessors in estimating physical depreciation and functional and economic obsolescence. Wherever possible, guideline depreciation should be checked against local data.

Material Depreciation of Structure Between October 1 and January 1.

Where real property is destroyed by fire, natural disasters, e.g., storms, tornados and earthquakes, or intentional demolition so that its value is materially depreciated after October 1 and before January 1 of the following year and the assessor is notified before January 10th, the assessor must value the property as it stands on January 1. However, if property is removed or destroyed subsequent to January 1, or if the assessor is not timely notified prior to January 10, property must be valued as it existed on pretax year October 1st, the statutory assessment date.

606. Land Assessment.

606.01 Sales Comparison Approach.

The Sales Comparison Approach is commonly used in the valuation of land. The process is the same as with buildings; sales of comparable parcels are used to estimate the value of a subject land parcel which has not been sold. A major difficulty with this Approach is that there are often not enough comparable land sales as to location, date of sale, and condition of land. Available sales must be adjusted to accommodate for differences.

Hovbros Cinnaminson Urban Renewal, LLC v. Twp. of Cinnaminson, 2014 N.J. Tax Unpublished, decided July 8, 2014. (Site improvements included in vacant land value).

606.02 Allocation Method.

At times, it may be impossible to find comparable sales of vacant land or sales which can be adjusted satisfactorily. This is particularly true in central business districts and other built-up areas. Here, an Allocation Method is used. In the Allocation Method, the value of the entire property is estimated by the Income or Comparison Approaches; the value of the structure on the land is found by the Replacement Cost Approach and is deducted from the total value. The remaining amount is assumed to be the land value.

606.03 Land Residual Technique.

The Land Residual Technique is important where there are no unimproved or vacant land sales to support land value. When the building value on income producing real estate is known or can be estimated and represents the “highest and best use” of the land, the Land Residual Technique may be used to develop a land value. Here the net income amount imputable to the property’s building is subtracted from the overall net income. The remaining income is imputable to the land portion of the property. Net income imputable to the land is then capitalized into a land value by applying a capitalization rate.

Real Property Appraisal Manual for New Jersey Assessors.

606.04 Abstraction Method.

The Abstraction Method involves using the Cost Approach to help in estimating a land value from sales of improved properties. The appraiser subtracts the contributory value or depreciated cost of the improvements from the sale price, yielding an indicated land value for the property. This method should be used cautiously and is helpful in limited circumstances.

606.05 Anticipated Use/Development Method.

Anticipated Use/Development Method is used primarily for transitional land, typically farmland that is to be developed. It is hypothetical in nature, as it requires the appraiser to forecast the variables used to estimate a value for the parcel before development. In this method, first estimate the number of lots that can be subdivided in the parcel and the price they would sell for, which gives a projected sales price for the developed lots. From this total value, all costs of development are deducted, such as site improvements, marketing, entrepreneurial profit, overhead and sales expenses. This leaves an indicated value for the raw land.

606.06 Ground Rent Method.

Ground Rent Method uses the Income Approach to value. The ground rent produced by a parcel is capitalized into an indication of value by an appropriate capitalization rate derived from the market. Rental data comparisons utilized can be on a per-square foot, front foot, or acre basis. From the yearly gross rent, net operating expenses are deducted to produce a gross income which is then capitalized into value.

606.07 Unit Land Values.

Unit land values provide a simple, uniform measurement of value which may be applied to all properties in a stated location. Two types of unit are used, the value per unit of area and the value per front foot:

1. Area Units – Area Units such as per acre or per square foot are applicable wherever it is assumed that, within the parcel, every plot or lot of land has the same value regardless of its location. For example, farmland is valued in terms of dollars per acre for each type of soil. The location of the land within the farm has little bearing on its value. Industrial land frequently is valued per square foot of area with each square foot having the same value for industrial purposes.
2. Front Foot Units – Front Foot Units of land value are used wherever, within a single parcel, the value of the land varies depending on its location on the parcel. For example, in commercial and residential areas the land at the front of the parcel, having ready access to the street, is usually considered more valuable than the rear portion of the parcel. To develop a front foot value, a standard depth is assumed and all land value data is tabulated on the basis of lots of that depth.

Standard depth tables show the variation in value as the depth of the lot increases.

606.08 Land Value Sources.

The best sources of land value are bona fide sales of land which are comparable in location, condition, and date of sale. Other information includes asking prices for land placed on the market, offers for the purchase of land, opinions of informed persons, and income and construction cost data for use in land residual techniques. Information on sale prices may be obtained from abstracts of deeds, from inquiries directed to the seller or buyer of land, or from SR-1A forms used in the state-wide tax equalization program.

606.09 Deed Abstracts.

The County Clerk or Register of Deeds is required, by law, to provide to the assessor an abstract of the deed of every property for which a change of ownership is registered.

Abstracts of deeds are useful to the assessor because they show:

1. the old and new property owners' names, a property description and the property transfer date;
2. the property's legal description and block and lot numbers provide a check on the accuracy of the description used by the assessor.

Deed Abstracts are used in the construction of a tax map. Property description should conform with the outlines of the property on the tax map. Deed Abstracts help identify nonconformance; for example, when a portion of the property is sold without a valid subdivision by the planning board.

The Abstract indicates the price for which the property was sold. Every deed recorded by a county recording officer must contain a statement of the consideration paid, including the amount of any existing mortgage assumed by the purchaser. Also, a Realty Transfer Fee must be paid on the entire purchase price. The Fee is imposed upon the grantor, and is required to be paid when the deed is presented for recording. Certain sales are exempt or partially exempt from the Realty Transfer Fee. Therefore, the amount of the Realty Transfer Fee may not always be a true indication of the property's sale price. Where the sale price in the deed appears to be out of line based on other information available to the assessor, further inquiry should be made of the seller or buyer.

606.10 SR-1A Forms.

Sales Ratio SR-1A forms summarize the sales data from deed abstracts and are the primary tool used by an assessor to record sales data.

606.11 Questionnaires.

Some assessors send questionnaires to property purchasers to determine usability for the Assessment Sales Ratio Program. This is useful when the sale price stated in the deed or indicated by the Realty Transfer Fee appears to be unusual, based upon the assessor's knowledge of the property and the area.

607. Description and Identification of Land.

Two systems of land description and identification are used in New Jersey: metes and bounds, and block and lot numbers.

607.01 Metes and Bounds.

One of the earliest forms of land identification is a bounded description. The description would begin at a certain point and reference a land mark and move in a direction to another land mark and so on. Unfortunately, the land marks which referenced a tree, a fence, a rock or someone else's property may have changed. Descriptions then required measuring the direction of property lines with compass bearings of north, east, south, west and the distance with a linear measurement. Property descriptions of this type are known as metes and bounds descriptions. A position on the boundary of a property is located by measuring its distance and direction from a known starting point. The description then makes a circuit of the property boundaries with the beginning of each line being the end of the preceding line as if you were walking the perimeter of the lot. The last line should always end at the point of beginning.

Sample: Metes and Bounds Description

The beginning point is not stated.

NORTH 33 degrees 30 minutes EAST a distance of 600 feet;

SOUTH 56 degrees 30 minutes EAST a distance of 400 feet;

SOUTH 63 degrees 30 minutes WEST a distance of 350 feet;

SOUTH 56 degrees 30 minutes EAST a distance of 175 feet;

SOUTH 33 degrees 30 minutes WEST a distance of 300 feet;

NORTH 56 degrees 30 minutes WEST a distance of 400 feet to the point and place of beginning.

INSTRUCTIONS FOR PLOTTING THE DESCRIPTION OF A PARCEL OF LAND

In most deeds transferring land from one owner to another there is a description of a beginning point followed by various courses and distances (usually numbered) running around the boundaries of the land.

Make a list of the courses and distances in the following manner.

In the accompanying EXAMPLE there are six courses listed thus:

- (1) North 33 degrees and 30 minutes East, 600 feet
- (2) South 56 degrees and 30 minutes East, 400 feet
- (3) South 63 degrees and 30 minutes West, 346.41 feet
- (4) South 56 degrees and 30 minutes East, 173.20 feet
- (5) South 33 degrees and 30 minutes West, 300 feet
- (6) North 56 degrees and 30 minutes West, 400 feet

If the symbols for degrees, minutes and feet are used, also since 30 minutes equals $\frac{1}{2}$ degree, the courses could be abbreviated to read:

- (1) N $33\frac{1}{2}$ E, 600'

Nearly all modern descriptions follow the boundaries in a clockwise direction while the older ones run counter-clockwise.

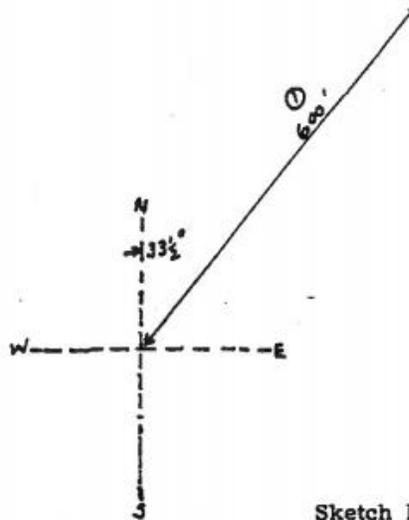

This will not make any difference in the following system of plotting.

Step No. 1

Note in the foregoing list of courses that three run in a Westerly direction.

Usually the last Westerly course ends at the most Westerly point in the description, which would be the point farthest to the left, therefore, start plotting the course immediately following, which in this example happens to be No. 1.

Draw a pair of N-S and E-W lines (and label them) near the left hand edge of the paper and about in the middle, vertically, (see sketch No. 1 on next page).

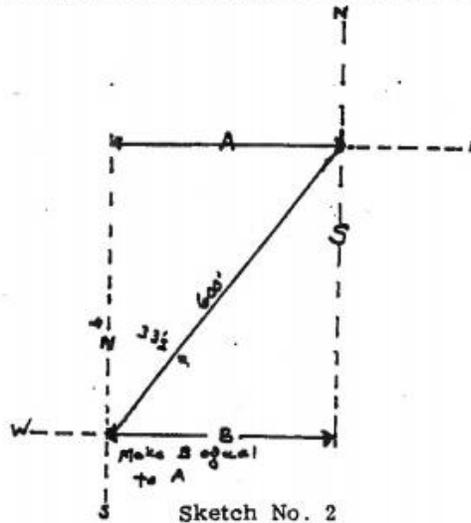

Sketch No. 1

With a protractor lay off an angle of $33\frac{1}{2}$ degrees East of North from the intersection of the North-South and East-West lines and extend this line, using a suitable scale, a distance of 600 feet.

Step No. 2

Draw a second pair of North-South and East-West lines at the end of this course (Course No. 1), making the N-S line parallel with the N-S line of the first pair in the following manner.

Extend the first N-S line to a point opposite the end of course No. 1 and measure the distance (A) between them (see sketch No. 2).

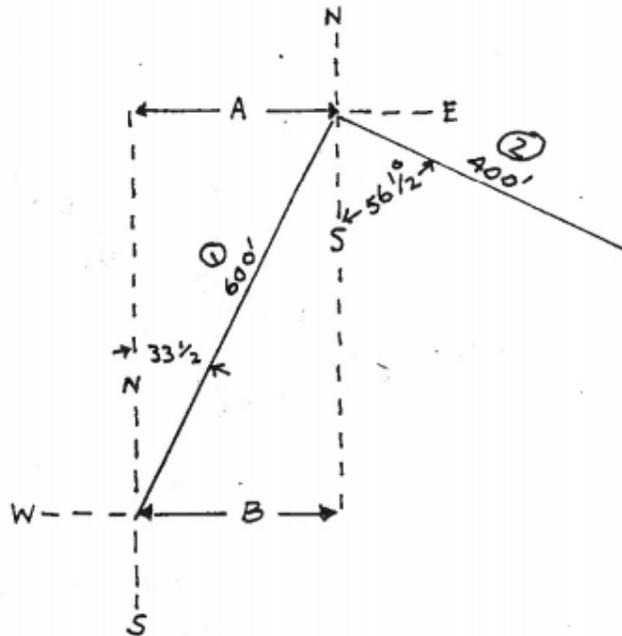

Sketch No. 2

- Ex. 1a

Now lay off distance B, equal to A, from the intersection of the first North-South and East-West lines and draw a line from this point through the point at the end of the course No. 1. This line is the second N-S line.

NOTE: This step will not be necessary if ruled paper or cross section paper is used because the ends of the courses will fall close enough to a ruled line so that the N-S or E-W lines may be drawn parallel with less difficulty.

The second course may now be drawn from the end of the first course in the same manner as the first was drawn from the point of beginning except that since it runs Southeast the angle of departure (bearing angle) is laid off East of South (See Sketch No. 3).

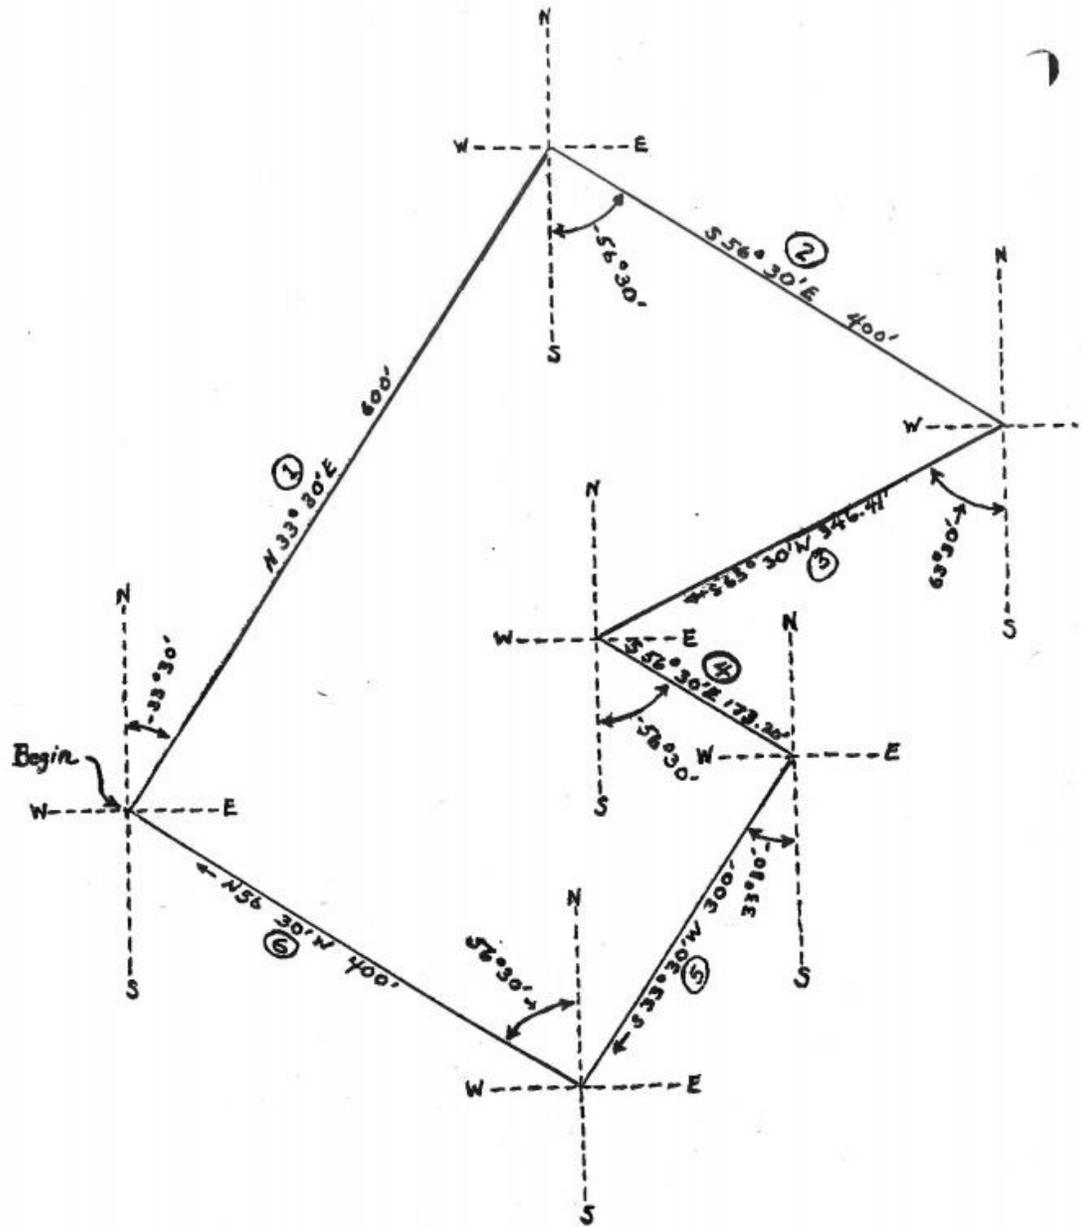

Sketch No. 3

The accompanying EXAMPLE clearly illustrates that the angle given in the bearing of the course is always measured away from North or from South, a Southwesterly course angle is measured West from South, a Northwesterly is measured West from North etc.

If the bearing angle has three dimensions, such as N30 - 25' - 30" W, disregard the third dimension which is 30 seconds (1/2 minute) because with the type of protractor generally used for assessing purposes an angle cannot be laid out any closer than the nearest 15 minutes (1/4 degree).

If the lengths of the courses are given in chains and links, convert to feet by multiplying by 66 thus, 2 chains and 6 links would be $2.06 \times 66 = 135.96$ feet. Note that one (1) link is 1/100th of a chain.

607.02 Block and Lot Numbers.

Block and lot numbers are used to identify land where there is an approved tax map, particularly in urban areas. Each block bounded by public roads is assigned a block number. Within the block each individual parcel of land is assigned a lot number. Reference to these two numbers identifies a parcel.

608. Tax Maps.

608.01 Tax Maps.

An essential property assessment tool is a tax map. It accurately reflects the size, shape, location and encumbrances of each parcel of land in a municipality. This information is necessary for the assessor to assign fair and equitable values to each parcel.

608.02 Municipal Tax Maps are Required.

State law requires that every municipality, except townships with a population of less than 2,500 have a tax map. Townships with fewer than 2,500 inhabitants may prepare a tax map; it is recommended that they do so. In addition to the statutory tax map requirement for a municipality, an approved tax map is required to begin a municipal revaluation. Without a map it is almost impossible for the assessor to be sure that he/she is assessing all of the taxable land within his/her municipality.

608.03 Information on Tax Maps.

Tax maps are used primarily by the municipal assessor and should contain information necessary for his/her purposes. A tax map is drawn to scale and shows the outlines and dimensions of every parcel in the taxing district. A key map shows the blocks and identifies the detail sheets for block information. The unique parcel identifier for each plot must be the same as the parcel identifier on the Assessment List. Other data, including but not limited to, street names, public utilities, easements, flood plains, riparian grants and leases, exemptions, bodies of water and railroad rights of way are shown on tax maps.

N.J.A.C. 18:23A et seq.

608.04 Tax Map Approval.

By State law, the Director, Division of Taxation, Department of the Treasury is charged with rule making for the preparation, maintenance and revision of tax maps (Public Law 1913, chapter 175.) This function is administered through the Property Administration, Valuation and Mapping Section. The Taxation Division inspects and approves all tax maps made in New Jersey. Tax maps must be prepared by a New Jersey Licensed Land Surveyor in accordance with the Regulation set forth in New Jersey Administrative Code, Title 18, Chapter 23. The Director has issued administrative regulations titled “Tax Map Specifications” which are available on the New Jersey Division of Taxation website: <http://www.state.nj.us/treasury/taxation/lpt/digitaltaxmaps.shtml>

Currently municipalities are only required to send their hard copy tax maps to the Division of Taxation, Property Administration, Valuation and Mapping Section, for approval prior to a revaluation and/or for formal approval when a new map is drawn or redrawn using a different procedure. All new maps must conform to regulatory specifications. Certification by Valuation and Mapping Section indicates that the information on the map is presented in accordance with the specifications, the parcels shown on the tax map are assessed on the Assessment List, and if railroads traverse the municipality, the railroads are shown in compliance with the railroad rights of way on file with the State.

608.05 Tax Map Maintenance.

It is essential that tax maps be kept up-to-date. Provisions should be made by the municipal governing body for the maintenance of tax maps. It is good practice for a municipality to update its tax maps whenever there are changes in parcel information. New subdivision plots should be entered on the map as soon as they are approved. In some communities the municipal engineer is charged with the responsibility for maintaining the tax map. Regardless of where the maintenance responsibility is placed, the assessor should be familiar with its use, should be a partner when the map is constructed or updated, and should coordinate the parcels identified on the Assessment List with the tax map. When the map has not been maintained over a period of years, it is a time consuming and expensive undertaking to update. For example, where property is transferred and old map descriptions do not match recent surveys State approvals are delayed and affect the timely completion of a revaluation.

608.06 Digital Tax Maps and GIS.

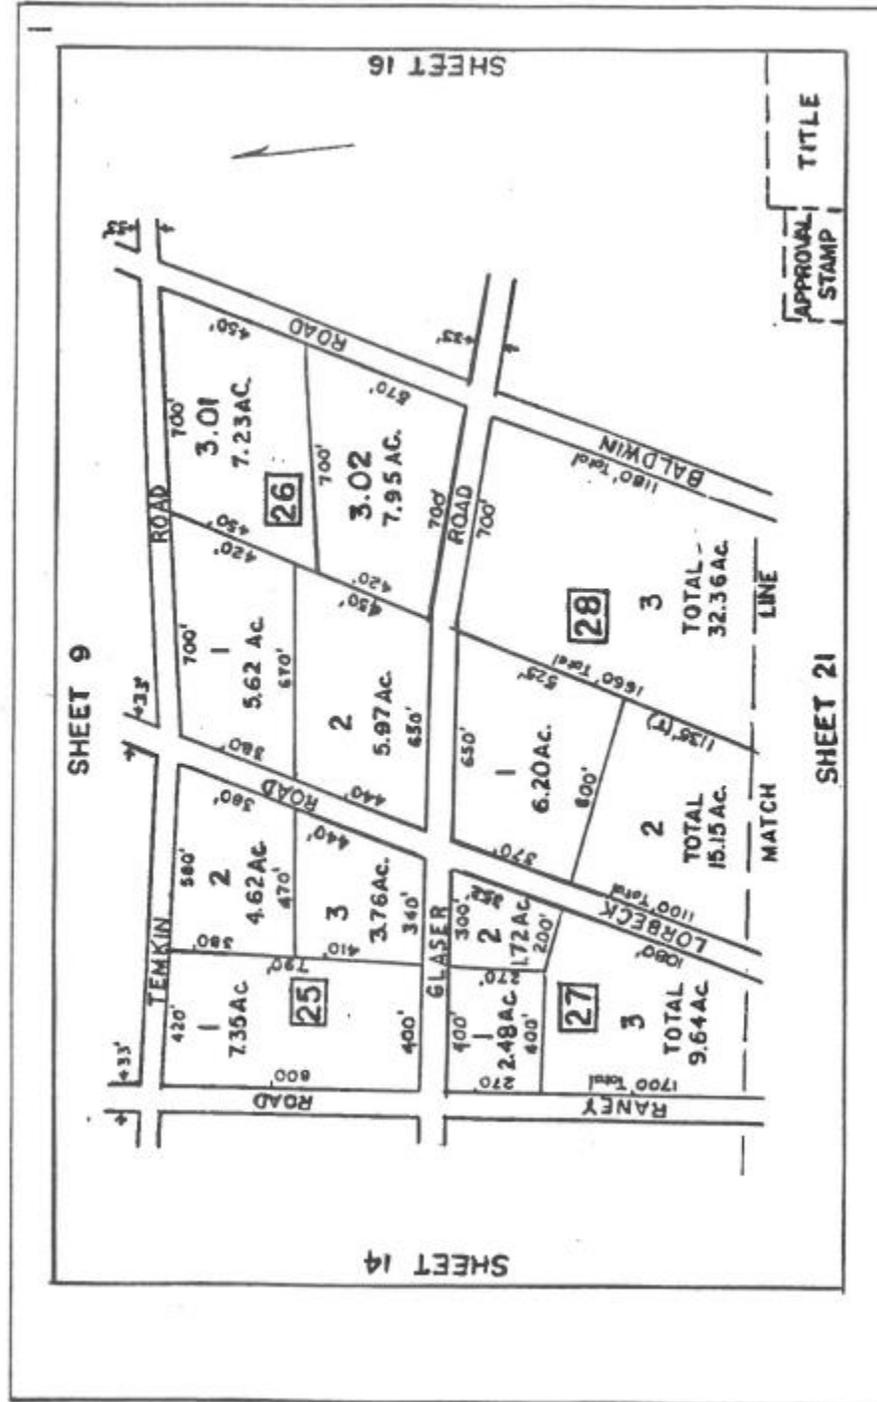

Where a tax map is digitally maintained in a universal format, the sharing of data with different agencies is enhanced. Having a current digital tax map and parcel layer database maintained on an ongoing basis is beneficial to the municipality. Once the file is accurately created, maintenance consists of reviewing each deed against the metes and bounds descriptions on the map. Any change is then transferred to the digital tax map and then the GIS based parcel data. By maintaining a tax map throughout the year, towns will have no major mapping expenditures when a reassessment or revaluation is ordered.

608.07 Filing a Tax Map.

On or before January 1 of the year following the year in which a tax map is approved, the taxing district must file a duplicate of the map with the County Clerk or the County Register of Deeds. Tax Map Regulations and Standards state that a duplicate copy of a municipal tax map must be filed by the assessor with the County Tax Board annually. At the assessor's request, the County Board may waive the annual filing requirements when there have been no revisions. The tax map and Assessment List should have the same property identifications for all parcels.

608.08 Financing a Tax Map.

Because the initial preparation of a tax map is expensive, State law permits the municipality to finance the cost of a tax map over a five-year period.

608.09 Land Value Maps.

Land unit values are indicated on a land value map. This data may be added to the tax map. A separate land value map may also be prepared. Such a map does not need to be drawn to scale. Suggestions for the construction of land value maps are found in the Real Property Appraisal Manual for New Jersey Assessors. Assessment-sales ratio data reported on SR-1A forms assists the assessor in keeping the land value map up-to-date.

609. Wetlands, Flood Hazard Areas and Coastal Area Facilities Review Act.

609.01 Wetlands.

Lands located in coastal wetland areas, situated in areas subject to flooding and located in coastal areas generally are subject to use regulations as set forth in State statute. Use restrictions affect value, and the assessor must be cognizant of factors influencing property values in his/her jurisdiction.

609.02 Purpose.

Laws governing coastal wetlands have as their purpose the protection of natural resources and ecological balance in lands flowed by tidal water and lands nearby. Wetlands are broadly defined as any bank, marsh, swamp, meadow, flat or other low land subject to tidal action or flow in New Jersey along both the Delaware Bay and Delaware River, Raritan Bay, Barnegat Bay, Sandy Hook Bay, Shrewsbury, Navesink and Shark Rivers, and the coastal inland waterways from Manasquan Inlet to Cape May Harbor. Along these areas is any land which is one (1) foot or less above local extreme high water. Maps delineating the exact areas subject to regulation are drafted by the Department of Environmental Protection, (DEP) and show the coastal wetlands affected to run continuously southward from the Raritan River, around the coastal areas of the southernmost parts of New Jersey and generally northward up the Delaware River to Trenton. The Hackensack Meadowlands area is specifically excluded from the operation of The Wetlands Act.

610. Flood Hazard Areas.

610.01 Purpose.

Laws governing land use in flood prone areas are to reduce the danger of flood damage to persons and property, as well as to preserve the natural beauty of those areas. There are separate regulations for land situated in “Floodway” areas, as opposed to land situated in “Flood fringe” areas. Other terms used in the Flood Hazard Areas legislation include “Flood plain” and “Flood hazard area.”

REFERENCES:
N.J.S.A. 58:16A-51

610.02 Floodway Areas.

The floodway includes the channel of a natural stream and portions of the flood plain adjoining the channel which are reasonably required to carry the flood water or flood flow of a natural stream. Development and use of land located in a designated floodway is subject to regulation by the Department of Environmental Protection. Such regulations are designed to preserve the flood carrying capacity of natural streams and to minimize the threat to public safety, health and general welfare. Uses permitted in floodway areas are public recreation areas such as playgrounds and picnic spots, agricultural activity for grazing, nurseries, farming, forestry and soil conservation programs. Uses do not include utilization of fill material to build up river banks, building of structures on the floodway or modification of river channels. The object is not to impede the flow of water on the flood plain where it may be dissipated so as not to add to flooding downstream.

610.03 Flood Fringe Areas.

Flood fringe areas are those portions of the flood hazard area not designated as “Floodway”. The development and use of these areas are subject to local regulations. The Department of Environmental Protection is required to promulgate minimum usage standards.

611. Coastal Area Facilities Review Act.

611.01 Purpose.

The Coastal Area Facilities Review Act has as its aim the development of land uses in coastal areas of New Jersey to improve the overall economy of the inhabitants of the area, but permit only that type of development which preserves the exceptional, unique, irreplaceable and delicately balanced ecology of the area. The statutory boundaries of the affected area run from the southern bank of the Raritan Bay southward down the Atlantic coastline around the southern coast along the Delaware Bay, along the coast up the Delaware River to a point in the Salem County coastline. The depth varies from less than a quarter of a mile to more than 15 miles from the coast at some points.

611.02 Activity Regulated.

The construction of certain buildings or structures is subject to regulation by the Commissioner of the Department of Environmental Protection. Structures called “facilities” in the Act include such uses as electric power generation, food and food byproducts, wastes incineration, housing, agrichemical production, inorganic acids and salts manufacture, chemical processes, storage, metallurgical processes, and others.

REFERENCES:

N.J.S.A. 13:19-3

611.03 Permit Required.

No facility described in the law is to be constructed in the coastal area until a permit is issued by the Commissioner of the Department of Environmental Protection. An application for a permit must contain an environmental impact statement (EIS) to evaluate the effects of a proposed project on the coastal area. The EIS must contain an inventory of existing environmental conditions at the project site, an assessment of the probable impact of the project on environmental conditions, a listing of adverse environmental impacts which cannot be avoided, steps to minimize adverse environmental impacts at the project site and in the surrounding region, alternatives to all or any part of the project with reasons for their acceptability or non-acceptability, and other requirements of the Act. Commissioner of the Department of Environmental Protection must determine that the proposed facility conforms to certain ecological, air and water pollution standards, and that it minimizes adverse environmental effects and threats to the public health, safety and welfare.

612. Lands Affected by Conservation Restrictions, Historic Preservation Restrictions.

612.01 Conservation and Historical Preservation Restrictions Act.

These laws permit landowners to convey or assign land use restrictions to the State or local governments or certain charitable, nonprofit organizations to maintain property in its historical or natural, open and scenic state.

612.02 Conservation Restriction.

A conservation restriction is an interest in a land or water area which is less than full title (fee simple absolute) and which is given by the owner to hold the land predominantly in its natural, scenic, open or wooded condition. It may also be given to hold the land for conservation of soil or habitat for fish or wildlife, or for outdoor recreation or park use. A conservation restriction may forbid or limit:

1. Construction or placing of buildings, roads, signs, billboards or other advertising, or other structures on or above ground;
2. Dumping or placing of soil or other substances, materials as landfill, or trash, waste or unsightly or offensive materials;
3. Removal or destruction of trees, shrubs or other vegetation;
4. Excavation, dredging or removal of loam, peat, gravel, soil, rock or other mineral substances;
5. Surface use except for purposes which permit the land or water area to remain predominately in its natural condition;
6. Activities detrimental to drainage, flood or erosion control, water or soil conservation, or fish and wildlife habitat preservation;
7. Other acts or uses detrimental to the retention of land or water areas.

612.03 Historic Preservation Restriction.

A historic preservation restriction is an interest in land which is less than full title (fee simple absolute), and which is given by the owner to preserve a structure or site which is historically significant for its architecture, archeology or for its historic associations. A historic preservation restriction may forbid or limit the following:

1. Alteration in exterior or interior features of a structure;
2. Changes in appearance or condition of such sites;
3. Uses of such structure or site which are not historically appropriate;
4. Other acts or uses detrimental to the appropriate preservation of such structures or sites.

612.05 Acquisition of Restrictions.

Conservation or historic preservation restrictions may be acquired by the Commissioner of Environmental Protection in the name of the State, or by local governmental unit, or by charitable conservancy. A charitable conservancy is defined as a nonprofit corporation or trust whose purposes include acquisition and preservation of land or water areas. The restrictions, once acquired, may be enforced in the same manner as other interests in land. The holder of such restrictions is entitled to enter the land or water area to assure compliance with the restriction terms. The land subject to restriction is to be described by an adequate legal description or by a recorded plan showing its boundaries.

612.07 Release of Restrictions.

A conservation restriction or a historic preservation restriction may be released, in whole or in part, by the holder of the restriction for such remuneration or consideration as the holder may determine, subject to any conditions which may be imposed at the time of the restriction's granting. However, before the release of any restriction, a public hearing must be held after three weeks' notice of the hearing in a newspaper circulating in the municipality where the land is located. The hearing must be conducted by the governmental body holding the restriction. Where the restriction is a charitable organization's, the hearing must be held by the governing body of the municipality where the land is located. No conservation restriction acquired under the Conservation and Historical Preservation Restriction Act may be released without the approval of the Commissioner of Environmental Protection.

612.08 Valuation by Local Assessors.

Conservation or historical preservation restrictions acquired under the Conservation and Historical Preservation Restriction Act are to be considered by local assessors in establishing the full value of any lands subject to such restrictions.

Historically significant homes can be essentially the same in basic construction as contemporary homes, but may have many ornamental and custom features that increase their costs over those of standard designs. Also, the market may place a premium on these structures due solely to their special historic period, style, materials used, and architectural reference. Most residences that have a number of elaborate elements will not have significantly higher overall costs due to the lack of modern mechanical conveniences found in conventional housing. The majority of residences that are conventional in most respects, but have only one or two features similar to a historic home, can be priced as conventional and adjusted for minor differences. However, historical residences requiring true reproduction values can have costs that are well above those of their contemporary counterparts.

For more information, see Historic Site Exemption and/or Reproduction Cost Approach this Handbook.

Properties located in these areas of the State may have use/development restrictions which will impact value.

614. Contaminated Property as Special Purpose Property – Nominal Value.

Years ago, many wastes were dumped on the ground, in rivers or left out in the open. As a result, thousands of uncontrolled or abandoned contaminated sites were created. Some common contaminated sites include abandoned warehouses, manufacturing facilities, processing plants and landfills. In response to growing concern over health and environmental risks posed by these contaminated sites, Congress established the Superfund program in 1980 to clean up these sites. The Superfund program is administered by the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (USEPA) in cooperation with individual states. In New Jersey, the Department of Environmental Protection's (NJDEP) Site Remediation Program oversees the Superfund program. See also Industrial Site Recovery Act (ISRA) N.J.S.A. 13:1K-6 to 14.

Federal regulations, including the Comprehensive Environmental Response, Compensation and Liability Act (CERCLA) and the Superfund Amendments and Reauthorization Act (SARA) require that a National Priorities List (NPL) of sites throughout the United States be maintained and revised at least annually. New Jersey is ranked with the most superfund sites in the United States.*

614.01 Court Decision Excerpts on Valuation of Contaminated Property.

In a recent New Jersey Tax Court decision, ACP Partnership v. Garwood Borough, 29 N.J. Tax 102 (Tax Ct. 2016), ACP Partnership challenged the property tax assessments on improved real property which was contaminated by years of industrial activity. The taxpayer argued that environmental contamination and costs associated with remediation of the property must be accounted for in determining the true market value of the property. Garwood Borough argued the property possessed a distinct 'in use' value resulting from the taxpayer's continued operations on the property that required application of 'normal assessment techniques' in valuing it.

“Uncontaminated land is worth more than contaminated land.” (Metuchen I, LLC., v. Borough of Metuchen, 21 N.J. Tax 283 (Tax Ct. 2004). In Methode Electronics, Inc. v. Township of Willingboro, 28 N.J. Tax 289 (Tax Ct. 2015), the Tax Court of New Jersey noted the New Jersey Supreme Court held that environmental contamination has an impact on property valuation for local property tax purposes. “Contamination is a factor critical to the derivation of a property's true market value... A property's environmental contamination must be considered when determining true market value for local property tax purposes. (Inmar Associates, Inc. v. Borough of Carlstadt, 112 N.J. 593 (1988)). The New Jersey Constitution affords no discretion to balance public policy considerations for polluters against the constitutional mandate that all property be assessed at true value. (ACP Partnership).

“Where environmental contamination drives down the value of commercial property potentially subject to cleanup costs, the effect of those market forces cannot be ignored in the assessment process simply because it would be counter to environmental policy.” (Inmar, as quoted in Methode). “It is the true market value of property, and not the property owner's responsibility for a diminution in value, that controls.” (as quoted in Methode). “A ‘diminution in value’ is the difference between the unimpaired and impaired land values due to the increased risks or costs attributable to the property's environmental condition.” (Metuchen, as quoted in ACP Partnership).

“The methodology for resolving the question is not simply to deduct the cost of the cleanup from a putative [commonly accepted] value of the property. That would reflect only the cost accounting of the current owners.” (Inmar, as quoted in Methode). The New Jersey Tax Court “concluded that use of discounting estimated contamination costs...was not the best approach for determining value where a sophisticated seller and a sophisticated buyer, aware of contamination and an estimate of clean-up costs, freely negotiated a sale price for the property.” (Orient Way Corp. v. Township of Lyndhurst, 27 N.J. Tax 361 (Tax Ct. 2013), aff'd by 28 N.J. Tax 272 (App. Div. 2014), cert. denied by 220 N.J. 574 (2015), as quoted in Methode). As per the Tax Court the “recognized approaches for valuing contaminated property for local property tax purposes are of limited utility for determining the true market value... The assessment of real property at a nominal value has been accepted in other contexts...” (as quoted in Methode). “In the absence of evidence of market data, contaminated properties might best be treated as special purpose properties using a measure of flexibility that will aid in the determination of true value. Generally, when there is no market for the property, a property may be so classified.” (Sunshine Biscuits, Inc. v. Borough of Sayreville, 4 N.J. Tax 486 (Tax Ct. 1982), as quoted in Method).

“Following our Supreme Court's decision in Inmar Associates, Inc., the reported cases involving the valuation of environmentally contaminated property could be classified into two categories: (1) those where the property owner/manufacturer continued ‘in use’ operations to avoid triggering costly statutorily mandated environmental cleanup obligations; and (2) those where the manufacturing operations that caused or contributed to the environmental contamination had ceased and the property owner, manufacturer or bona fide contract purchaser was engaged in an investigation and remediation of the environmental contamination.” (as quoted in ACP Partnership).

“Contaminated property for which there is no market may have a ‘distinct value in use’ to the owner so long as the owner continued to operate the facility.” (Sunshine Biscuits, as quoted in Method). “Where environmentally contaminated property is ‘in use’ as income-producing property, application of normal assessment techniques remains an appropriate tool in the valuation process. However, normal assessment techniques need not be the only tool employed in valuing an ‘in use’ environmentally contaminated property. One approach may be that the cost of neglected cure might prudently be spread out by competent management over a number of years. Thus, despite a property's potential gross income producing prowess, it may not be altogether inappropriate to assume a hypothetical annual expense consisting of the costs associated with an environmental cleanup...” (as quoted in ACP Partnership.) “A government-approved cleanup plan is not a necessary predicate for an adjustment to assessed value for environmental contamination.” (as quoted in Orient Way).

In ACP Partnership, the Tax Court concluded since the property possesses a 'value in use' to the taxpayer, 'normal assessment techniques' may be an effective tool utilized in formulating an opinion of value for the property. However, 'normal assessment techniques' are not the exclusive device used in determining the value of the contaminated property. The Tax Court permitted consideration of the subject property's environmental contamination in the derivation of its true market value.

See Chapter 5, section 505 in this Handbook for information concerning the “Environmental Opportunity Zone Act,” or EOZ Act, which provides a real property tax exemption for certain contaminated properties.

615. The Mount Laurel Decisions and the Fair Housing Act; Affordable Housing; COAH and the Non-Residential Development Fee (NRDF).

In 1975, in the case of Southern Burlington County NAACP v. Township of Mt. Laurel (Mt. Laurel I), the New Jersey Supreme Court ruled that developing municipalities have a constitutional obligation to provide a realistic opportunity for the construction of low and moderate income housing. In its 1983 Mt. Laurel II decision, the Supreme Court reaffirmed and expanded the Mt. Laurel doctrine and stated that all municipalities share in the obligation. The Supreme Court also provided guidance in determining a municipality's fair share and authorized specific judicial remedies to ensure that municipalities meet their constitutional obligation. On July 2, 1985 the Fair Housing Act (FHA) was enacted by the New Jersey Legislature, creating the Council on Affordable Housing (COAH) as an administrative alternative to the courts.

In its 1986 Hills Development Corporation v. Bernards Township decision (Mt. Laurel III), the Supreme Court declared the FHA constitutional and allowed the transfer to COAH of virtually all litigation then pending before the courts.

COAH Responsibility Transferred to Department of Community Affairs.

On June 29, 2011 the Governor issued a Reorganizational Plan which eliminated the 12-member Council on Affordable Housing effective August 29, 2011. Recognizing that the Department of Community Affairs

(DCA) is already responsible for providing assistance to local municipalities, the oversight of local governments, and which currently operates numerous affordable housing programs, the Governor consolidated and transferred all duties of COAH to the Commissioner of DCA. For more information on affordable housing, please go to <http://www.nj.gov/dca/services/lps/hss> on the DCA website.

615.01 Affordable Housing – Valuation by Assessors.

In the New Jersey Superior Court decision of Prowitz v. Ridgefield Park Village, 237 N.J. Super. 435 (App. Div. 1989), the Court held “...while the maximum resale price obtainable under the deed restriction does not necessarily define assessable value, the resale restriction nevertheless is a factor that must be considered in fixing the assessment.” The Court further held, “We also deem the restriction here analogous to value-depreciating government regulation. Thus, the provision of a fair share of affordable housing is, by reason of the Fair Housing Act, a municipal obligation imposed by statute, and the perpetuation of that stock by resale restriction is a matter of implementing the COAH regulation.”

In order to ensure a designated housing unit as affordable, the property deed is restricted to limit the unit’s resale value to its initial purchase price plus consumer price index increases. Municipal Assessors are required to take these deed restrictions into account when determining the property’s assessment, i.e. taxable value. However, because the purchase price is tied to increasing consumer price indexes, the property taxes, although lower, are not “frozen.”

615.02 The Non-Residential Development Fee (NRDF).

Public Law 2008, chapter 46, (sections 32 through 38) the Non-Residential Development Fee Act, imposed a state-wide 2.5% fee on new construction and additions to non-residential development seeking approval subsequent to July 17, 2008. The Non-Residential Development Fee Act superseded any municipal non-residential development fee ordinances. The Act standardized the amount of the fee (2.5% with limited exceptions) and allowable exemptions. The NRDF supports the development of affordable housing throughout New Jersey for low, moderate, and middle income housing.

615.03 Moratorium Lifted Fee Re-Imposed.

The moratorium that was initially imposed on the Non-Residential Development Fee in 2009 by P.L. 2009, C.90 and extended by P.L. 2011, C.122 has not been renewed. Non-residential projects not meeting the criteria for exemption are again subject to the Non-Residential Development Fee.

615.04 Definitions.

Non-Residential development means: (1) any building or structure, or portion thereof, including any appurtenant improvements, designated as other than a residential use group according to the State Uniform Construction Code, N.J.S.A.52:27D-119 et seq. (2) hotels, motels, vacation timeshares, and child-care facilities; and (3) the entirety of all continuing care facilities in a continuing care retirement community which is subject to the "Continuing Care Retirement Community Regulation and Financial Disclosure Act, N.J.S.A.52:27D-330 et seq.

Mixed use development means: any development having both a non-residential development component and a residential development component, and which has (1) a common developer for both the residential and non-residential components. Multiple persons and entities may be considered a common developer if there is a contractual relationship among them obligating each to develop at least a portion of the residential or non-residential development, or both, or otherwise contribute resources to the development. And (2) the residential and non-residential developments are on the same lot or adjoining lots, including lots separated by a street, river, or another geographical feature.

Construction means: new construction and additions, but does not include alterations, reconstruction, renovations, and repairs as defined under the State Uniform Construction Code.

615.05 Exempt from the N-RDF Fee.

- Nonprofit and public education buildings
- Houses of worship
- Public amenities (recreational, community or senior centers)
- Parking lots and structures
- Nursing homes or nonprofit hospital relocations or improvements
- State, County and local government buildings
- Transit Hubs, Villages, and Light Rail Hubs
- Commercial farm buildings and Use Group U structures
- Developments with a general development plan approval, or executed developers or redevelopers' agreement, prior to July 17, 2008 with a fee or affordable housing requirement the equivalent of at least 1% of equalized assessed value (EAV).

If not exempt, the Assessor, reviews plans and conceptualls submitted with the Construction Permit Application and estimates an assessment of the property.

615.06 Valuation and Calculation by Assessor.

N.J.S.A. 40:55D-8.4(e) tasks the assessor with calculating Non-Residential Development Fee (NRDF) liability for developers. When a construction permit is first sought, the municipal construction code official is to notify the assessor who then estimates an equalized assessed value (EAV) for the development based on the plans filed. An estimated value of land and improvements of the development allows the developer to budget for the imposition of the Fee when construction is completed and a final Certificate of Occupancy (CO) is sought.

When the property is completed, the assessor reviews the estimated value and determines the final assessed value to calculate the final Fee. The Fee is based on the actual assessed value of the land and improvements at the time of completion, divided by the Director's Ratio at the time of completion of the project, to obtain the equalized assessed value of land and improvements.

N.J.S.A. 40:55D-8.4(a) establishes two different assessments of the Non-Residential Development Fee, one for new non-residential construction on vacant land and one for non-residential construction on sites with existing improvements.

NOTE: Using prior regulations from the Council on Affordable Housing concerning development fees for affordable housing, the municipality was allowed to collect 50% of estimated development fees prior to construction starting. When construction was completed, the actual fee would be calculated and the balance collected or any overage returned. The Statewide Non-Residential Development Fee Act does not provide for any up-front collection of the Non-Residential Development Fee; it is only required to be paid at the time a Certificate of Occupancy is sought. The law does not prohibit a developer from making a payment of the estimated fee voluntarily, and in practice, some developers will ask to make a partial payment based on the estimate of the Fee. However, a municipality may not mandate that a payment, in part or in full, be made except when the developer seeks the final Certificate of Occupancy for the building.

615.07 N-RDF Calculation When Land is Vacant.

When the land being developed is vacant, the Non-Residential Development Fee is 2.5% of the equalized assessed value of land and improvements of the final development.

NOTE: The determination of whether the land is “vacant” is not made as of the date of the start of construction, but rather at the time construction or demolition permits under the State Uniform Construction Code (“UCC”) or approval under the Municipal Land Use Law (“MLUL”) is first sought, pursuant to N.J.S.A. 40:55D-8.6(c). Therefore, a period of years could elapse between the demolition of an existing structure and the construction of a new non-residential development, but the land would not be considered “vacant” for the purposes of NRDF liability.

EXAMPLE:

A developer builds a restaurant on a 2-acre parcel of vacant land. After viewing the completed structure, the assessor determines the land and improvements will be assessed at $1,255,000 for local property taxation. The Director’s Ratio for the municipality for the year in which construction is completed is 89.65%. To determine the Non-Residential Development Fee liability, the assessor makes the following calculations:

Assessed Value ÷ Director’s Ratio = Equalized Assessed Value (EAV):

$$$1,255,000 \div 89.65\% = $1,399,888$$

(EAV) x 2.5% = Non-Residential Development Fee (N-RDF) Due

$$$1,399,888 \times .025 = $34,997.20$$

615.08N-RDF Calculation When Land Is Previously Developed.

When the land on which non-residential buildings are being built was previously developed, the Non-Residential Development Fee is calculated by subtracting the equalized assessed value of the land and existing improvements as of the date the construction or demolition permit under the UCC or approval under the MLUL was first sought from the equalized assessed value of the land and improvements of the final development. The resulting difference is multiplied by 2.5% to determine the developer's Non-Residential Development Fee liability. If the difference between those two figures results in zero or a negative number, no Non-Residential Development Fee is due.

EXAMPLES:

1. In 2015, a developer acquires a former light-industrial site to redevelop into a small shopping center. The developer applies for and receives approval from the municipal planning board in 2016. The assessed value for the land and improvements in 2016 is $2,780,000, and the Director's Ratio for the municipality for that year is 74.98%. The developer subsequently demolishes the existing structure and builds the shopping center. Construction is completed and a Certificate of Occupancy is sought in February 2018. The assessor determines the assessed value for land and improvements at completion to be $8,657,000, and the Director's Ratio for that year is 71.87%. To determine the Non-Residential Development Fee liability, the assessor makes the following calculations:

$$\begin{aligned} \text{Assessed Value 2016} \div \text{Director's Ratio 2016} &= \text{EAV 2016} \\ $2,780,000 \div 74.98\% &= $3,707,655 \end{aligned}$$

$$\begin{aligned} \text{Assessed Value 2018} \div \text{Director's Ratio 2018} &= \text{EAV 2018} \\ $8,657,000 \div 71.87\% &= $12,045,360 \end{aligned}$$

EAV 2018 – EAV 2016 = Value for N-RDF Calculation
 $$12,045,360 - $3,707,655 = $8,337,705$

Value for N-RDF Calculation x 2.5% = N-RDF Due
 $$8,337,705 \times .025 = $208,442.62$

2. A developer purchases five contiguous residential lots, with several having frontage on the main commercial road in town. The developer intends to build a gas station and convenience store on the site. In 2016, the developer sought and received planning board approval for the development. The assessed values of land and improvements for the five residential lots in 2016 were $158,000, $162,000, $171,000, $156,000, and $164,000. The Director's Ratio for 2016 was 48.74%. The municipality underwent a revaluation in 2017. The project is completed in January 2019, and the assessor places a value on the gas station and convenience store of $2,540,000, with a Director's Ratio for that tax year of 97.65%. To determine the Non-Residential Development Fee liability, the assessor makes the following calculations.

Sum of assessed value 2016 for all lots ÷ Director's Ratio 2016 = EAV 2016
 $($158,000 + $162,000 + $171,000 + $156,000 + $164,000) = $811,000 \div 48.74\% = $1,663,931$

Assessed Value 2019 ÷ Director's Ratio 2019 = EAV 2019
 $$2,540,000 \div 97.65\% = $2,601,126$

EAV 2019 – EAV 2016 = Value for N-RDF Calculation
 $$2,601,126 - $1,663,932 = $937,194$

Value for N-RDF Calculation x 2.5% = N-RDF Due

$937,194 x .025 = $23,429.85

615.09 NRDF Fee Payments.

Fees support the development of affordable housing, including funding the Urban Housing Assistance Fund. If the taxing district is participating in the Fair Housing Act, payment is remitted to the municipality. If the municipality is not participating in the Fair Housing Act, payment is made to the State Treasurer.

615.10 Appeals.

Appeals of the Non-Residential Development Fee may be made to the Director, Division of Taxation. Appeals from a determination of the Director may be made to the Tax Court of New Jersey.

616. Property Valued Under Special Conditions – Farmland Assessment.

616.01 Constitutional and Statutory Authority.

During the 1950s and 60s, New Jersey’s 300 year old agricultural tradition suffered a serious farm loss, about 1/3 of total acreage, due to residential and commercial land development. Since that time, New Jersey Legislators have recognized the intrinsic value of the State’s agricultural land through the passage of various laws designed to keep farming in the “Garden State” a viable industry. Authorization for the preferential assessment of New Jersey’s agricultural land is via 1963 Constitutional Amendment. The Farmland Assessment Act of 1964 and administrative rules issued by the Director of the Division of Taxation provide the statutory and regulatory basis for the assessing of such land in New Jersey. A differential farmland tax is available in most of the 50 states.

Land devoted to agriculture or horticulture may be assessed for property tax purposes on its value for those uses, rather than on the market value of the land for any other use.

To qualify for Farmland Assessment, the following conditions must be met:

1. Applicants must own the land in question;
2. Land must consist of at least 5 contiguous acres;
3. Land must be devoted to agricultural or horticultural uses;
4. Land must be devoted to agricultural/horticultural uses for at least two consecutive years prior to the tax year;
5. Gross sales of agricultural or horticultural products from the land must total at least $1,000 per year, or $500 per year for land under an approved Woodland Management Plan (WMP), for the first 5 acres, plus $5 per acre for each acre over 5, except woodland or wetland under a Woodland Management Plan where the income requirement is $.50 cents per acre for any acreage over 5; woodlands or wetlands under a Forest Stewardship Plan may produce income but it is not required to qualify.

6. Owners must timely apply for Farmland Assessment with the municipal assessor on or before August 1st of the pretax year;
7. Owners of farm management units of less than 7 acres must submit with the application a narrative description of the agricultural or horticultural activities undertaken on the property;
8. Land must continue in agricultural or horticultural use to the end of the tax year for which application is made.

Ownership.

Applicants for Farmland Assessment must own the land on or before August 1 of the pretax year, i.e., the year prior to the calendar tax year. Where ownership changes for or during the tax year after the FA-1 application has been filed, Farmland Assessment is not lost, as long as the qualifying agricultural/horticultural use does not change. Landowners may rent the land to area farmers who do the actual cultivating without loss of Farmland Assessment. Single ownership or unified title, meaning ownership by one distinct legal entity is required in order to aggregate contiguous acreage. Assessors may require applicants to show proof of ownership.

616.05 Land Area/Contiguity.

At least 5 acres of land must be included in one ownership to qualify for Farmland Assessment. The land need not all be in one tax map parcel, as long as it is contiguous. If the land is located in more than one taxing district, it is eligible for Farmland Assessment, as long as it is contiguous and in one ownership and meets all other requirements. The presence of a public right-of-way separating portions of the land does not make the land non-contiguous. In the case of non-contiguous parcels, an application must be filed for each parcel, and each parcel, by itself, must meet all requirements of the Farmland Assessment Act. Non-contiguous parcels may not be aggregated to meet the 5-acre requirement.

Minimum Land Area and Appurtenant Lands.

A minimum of 5 acres must be actively devoted to a qualifying agricultural or horticultural use such as cropland or pastureland before any appurtenant land can qualify. In other words, appurtenant land cannot be used to reach the 5 acre minimum of land actively devoted to agricultural or horticultural use.

616.06 Eligible Land.

Eligible land area includes all land under agricultural or horticultural buildings, such as barns, sheds, silos, cribs, and greenhouses, and all land under lakes, dams, ponds, streams, irrigation ditches, and similar facilities.

616.07 Ineligible Land.

Land under the farmhouse and additional land actually used in connection with the farmhouse, such as lawns, flower gardens, shrubberys, swimming pools, tennis courts, must not be included. Land used for these purposes must be assessed in the same manner as any other land in the taxing district. The assessor may require proof of the land area.

EXAMPLES:

1. Property consists of 22 acres of cropland harvested, 3 acres of permanent pasture, 4 acres of woodland, a 9 acre gravel pit and 1 acre under the farmhouse for a total of 39 acres. Provided all other criteria are met; 29 acres of land qualify for Farmland Assessment. The 9 acre gravel pit and 1 acre under the house are ineligible.
2. Property consists of 78 acres cropland harvested, 20 acres cropland pastured, 10 acres permanent pasture, 63 acres woodland, 1 acre pond, 2 acres under farmhouse, 5 acre dump for clean fill for a total of 179 acres; 172 acres qualify. Five acres for the clean fill dump and 2 acres for the farmhouse are non-qualifying.

616.08 Boarding and Training Horses with Five Acres or More.

Public Law 1995, chapter 276, known as the “Horse Farm Amendments,” expanded the Farmland Assessment Act to include boarding, rehabilitating and training as qualifying agricultural uses provided that those activities are conducted in conjunction with land which otherwise qualifies for Farmland Assessment. Breeding, raising and grazing of horses are considered to be traditional agricultural uses and qualify for Farmland Assessment if the basic requirements are met.

Boarding, rehabbing and training of horses cannot qualify on their own. There first must be 5 acres in qualifying traditional agricultural/horticultural use. (This can include the breeding, raising and grazing of horses.)

In the New Jersey Tax Court decision Brousseau v. Millstone Township, the property's two acres used for training could qualify only because they were contiguous to independently qualifying eight acres of pasture land used for grazing.

EXAMPLES:

Qualifying Gross Sales =

- $1,000 1st 5 acres crop/livestock farm
$5 for acres over the 1st 5.
- $500 1st 5 acres woodland under plan
$0.50 for acres over the 1st 5.

1. On a 10 acre parcel of land, 9 acres are devoted to grazing horses, with an imputed grazing value of $145 per acre, and generates annual gross sales of $1,305. The remaining acre is used for boarding horses and generates annual boarding fees of $8,500. Since the land used for boarding horses is contiguous to land 5 acres or more otherwise qualifying for Farmland Assessment, the fees from boarding may be included to meet the minimum gross sales income requirement and qualify the entire 10 acre parcel.

2. On an 8 acre parcel of land, 7 acres are devoted to grazing horses, with an imputed grazing value of $142 per acre, and generates annual gross sales of $994. The remaining acre is used for boarding horses and generates annual boarding fees of $8,500. The land contiguous to the land used for boarding horses does not otherwise qualify for Farmland Assessment, because it does not meet the minimum $1,010 necessary for a 7 acre parcel. Therefore, the fees from boarding may not be included to meet the minimum gross sales income requirements, and the entire 8 acre parcel is ineligible for Farmland Assessment.

3. On a 10 acre parcel of land, 3.5 acres are devoted to growing crops and generate annual gross sales of $750. The remaining 6.5 acres are used for boarding horses and generate annual boarding fees of $10,500. The land contiguous to the land used for boarding horses does not otherwise qualify for Farmland Assessment, both because it is not at least five acres in area and because it does not meet the minimum $1,000 income requirement for the first 5 acres. Therefore, the fees from boarding may not be included to meet the minimum gross sales income requirements, and the entire 10 acre parcel is ineligible for Farmland Assessment.

4. Two horses and a pony are kept on their owners' land for pleasure riding. The animals pasture on 4.5 acres, which have an imputed grazing value of $643.50, and laying chickens are housed on .5 acres, generating $400 in egg sales for a total of $1,043.50 income. Although the combination of imputed grazing value and chicken egg sales exceeds the income requirements for qualification, the land nevertheless would be ineligible for Farmland Assessment since the horses and pony are not raised for sale, the horses and pony do not produce products for sale, and the grazing is not connected with breeding or raising livestock, nor are there boarding, rehabilitating or training activities conducted on land contiguous to five acres that otherwise qualify for Farmland Assessment.

Farmland Assessed Land Qualifies When-

1. Land is under and used with barns, sheds, greenhouses, packing houses, farm storage facilities, *seasonal farm markets selling predominantly agricultural products, *seasonal agricultural labor housing, silos, cribs and like structures when used in direct support of producing crops for sale.
Seasonal farm markets and seasonal labor housing must be closed or vacant respectively annually for a minimum of 90 continuous days to be considered seasonal.
2. Land is under poultry or livestock facilities in which animals or their products are sold.
3. Land is used for boarding, rehabilitating, or training livestock for a fee (not including acres pastured) where the livestock is owned by a party or parties other than the property owner(s), except that livestock shall not include dogs.
4. Land consists of lakes, ponds, streams, stream buffer areas, hedgerows, wetlands and/or irrigation ponds that are supportive and subordinate or reasonably required for maintaining agricultural or horticultural uses of a tract of land, having a minimum area of at least five acres devoted to agricultural or horticultural uses other than the production for sale of trees and forest products.
5. Land is not planted but is kept fallow during a growing season using cultivation or chemical control to eradicate or reduce weeds for future agricultural or horticultural production.
6. Land contains crops which are produced, harvested and sold, either at retail or wholesale, at a level of production common for that crop based on soil conditions.
7. Land contains trees and forest products produced for sale within a reasonable period of time and such land is in compliance with a written approved Woodland Management Plan.

8. Land is devoted to sustainable forestland in compliance with a written approved Forest Stewardship Plan.
9. Wooded land or wetland is contiguous to, part of, or beneficial to land that is either cropland harvested, cropland pastured or permanent pasture to which the woodland is supportive and subordinate.
10. Land has limited farming or grazing potential, but is managed in an erosion control program, and is supportive and subordinate or reasonably required for agricultural or horticultural production of land which has a minimum of 5 acres classified as cropland harvested, cropland pastured or permanent pasture.
11. Land qualifies for payments under a Federal Soil Conservation Program, such as the Conservation Reserve or Wetlands Reserve Program or Conservation Reserve Enhancement Program.
12. Land is used for biomass, solar or wind energy generation. It is considered land actively devoted to agricultural or horticultural use as long as it meets the qualifications and limitations in subsection N.J.A.C. 18:15-6.1(d), except that the energy generated from such use must not be considered an agricultural or horticultural product.
13. Land supports livestock which is raised, grazed, pastured, boarded or trained (reared), and is enclosed by a fence sufficient to retain such animals which are themselves sold, or their products, except that “livestock” shall not include dogs.
14. Land supports poultry which are housed or ranged, but if ranged, the land must be enclosed by a fence sufficient to retain such animals.
15. Aquatic organisms are propagated, reared and harvested for sale in controlled or selected environments in which the farmer must actively intervene in the rearing process to effect, improve, or increase production for sale.

616.10 Land in Two Taxing Districts.

Land located in more than one taxing district is eligible if contiguous and in one ownership. However, an assessor's determination that the property did not qualify for Farmland Assessment was not binding on an assessor in the neighboring township regarding the adjacent property.

616.12 Use Farmland – Agricultural/Horticultural Use.

The Farmland Assessment Act emphasizes the importance of land use and productivity as primary measures of value when land is devoted to agricultural production. Land must be devoted to qualifying agricultural or horticultural use. The assessor may require the applicant to show proof of agricultural/horticultural use.

616.13 Agricultural Use.

Agricultural use is defined as the production for sale of plants and animals useful to man, including but not limited to forages and sod crops; grains and feed crops; dairy animals and dairy products; poultry and poultry products; *livestock, except dogs, including beef cattle, sheep, swine, horses, ponies, mules or goats, including the breeding, raising, grazing, boarding, rehabilitating or training of such animals; bees and apiary products; fur animals; aquatic organisms, trees and forest products; biomass, solar or wind energy generation with limitations imposed by Public Law 2009, chapter 213. Agricultural use also means land devoted to forest sustainability as per P.L. 2009, c.256.

*Atypical livestock. Llamas, lama glamas, ostriches, emus, rheas have been designated as agricultural livestock under Title 4 of N.J. Statutes, rather than exotic wildlife.

616.14 Horticultural Use.

Horticultural use is defined as the production for sale of fruits of all kinds, including grapes, nuts and berries; vegetables; nursery, floral, ornamental or greenhouse products or when devoted to and meeting the requirements and qualifications for payments or other compensation according to a Soil Conservation Program under an agreement with a Federal Government Agency; biomass, solar or wind energy generation within limits imposed by Public Law 2009, chapter 213.

616.15 Guidelines.

616.16 Actual Use vs. Intended Use.

The test for change in use is actual present use, not the intended future use.

616.17 Fallow Land.

Leaving farmland fallow is not a change of use, but comparable to rotating crops and correctly applied is recommended agricultural devotion. However, fallow is not the equivalent of abandonment; fallow property should be actively maintained, i.e. mowed, tilled, sown with cover crop etc. In general practice, one year is the maximum period land may be fallow under Farmland Assessment. To "fallow" an entire farm all at the same time would be disqualifying for purposes of Farmland Assessment. Again, fallow is applied as a sectional rotation.

616.18 Zoning – Legal/Illegal Use.

Though use must be a lawful, permitted use, not every zoning violation can be used to deny otherwise appropriate Farmland Assessment. Legality of use is not an element which the taxpayer must prove to qualify for Farmland Assessment. Once the taxpayer has met requirements for Farmland Assessment, the burden shifts to the municipality to prove illegality of use and its impact on the tax status of property regarding violations of zoning ordinances.

616.19 Devoted and Actively Devoted.

1. “Devoted to agricultural use or horticultural use” refers not only to the land that produces agricultural and horticultural products for sale at wholesale or retail, but also to the land that is supportive and has a relationship to the agricultural and horticultural products produced for sale.
2. “Devoted to agricultural and horticultural use” refers not only to the land that produces agricultural and horticultural commodities, but also to the land that is supportive to the primary production acreage of a farm. This not only includes land on which crops are grown, but also supportive land that consists of lakes, ponds, streams, and hedgerows, among other things.
3. “Actively devoted to agricultural and horticultural use” refers specifically to the land and income generation activities (e.g., $1,000 sales minimum [or $500 for land under an approved Woodland Management Plan]) necessary to qualify for Farmland Assessment.

4. “Actively devoted to agricultural or horticultural use” refers specifically to the income requirements necessary to qualify for Farmland Assessment. The parcel must be in agricultural or horticultural use or “devoted to agricultural or horticultural use” and satisfy the income requirements in order to qualify for Farmland Assessment.
5. “Actively devoted to agricultural or horticultural use” under Forest Stewardship eliminates the gross sales income criterion but requires planned actions, which enhance the sustainability of the forest and detailed documented monitoring of those actions.

616.20

Dominant/Incidental Use.

When agricultural use is not the “dominant” use, land cannot be “actively devoted” to agriculture. Historically, farmers have used their land to:

1. produce crops and animal products for sale or feed for animals on the farm;
2. remain fallow or in cover crops as part of a planned rotational program;
3. remain unplowed for grazing or conservation purposes;
4. remain in woods, streams, and meadows which enhances the productivity of all the land cultivated.

State Farmland Evaluation Committee Report.

616.21 Use – Farm Buildings.

All structures used for agricultural or horticultural purposes must be valued, assessed, and taxed by the same standards, methods, and procedures as other taxable structures in the municipality, regardless of the fact that the land may be farm assessed. However, exemption is provided for “single – use agricultural or horticultural facilities” employed in farming operations, used for storage or growing and designed or constructed to be readily dismantled and sold separately from the farmland and buildings, such as temporary, demountable plastic covered framework made of portable parts with no permanent understructures or related apparatus, known as seed starting plastic greenhouses, or other readily dismantled silos, greenhouses, grain bins, manure handling equipment, and impoundments but not including a structure that encloses a space within its walls used for housing, shelter, or working, office or sales space, whether or not removable.

Tax 391 (App. Div. 2004), cert. granted by 181 N.J. 545 (2004), reversed by 182 N.J. 613 (2005).

616.22 Length or Duration of Farm Use.

Land must have been actively devoted to agricultural or horticultural use for at least two consecutive years prior to the tax year for which Farmland Assessment is claimed. For example, to qualify for tax year 2018, the land must have been devoted to farm uses for all of the calendar years 2017 and 2016. In addition, the property owner must indicate that the land will continue to be used for agricultural/horticultural purposes until the end of the tax year for which the application is being filed. The assessor may require proof of the duration of agricultural or horticultural use.

Assessors involved with Woodland Assessment should recognize that trees are significantly different from agricultural row crops, primarily in the time requirement to grow a commercial crop. For example, it takes 8 to 16 years to grow Christmas trees; 21 to 40 years to produce firewood, pulpwood, piling and fence posts; and between 61 and 80 years to yield saw timber and veneer logs. The longer growing seasons for trees does not relieve Farmland Assessment claimants from meeting “active devotion” or activity requirements as per Woodland Management Plans.

616.23 Land Use Classes.

The historical uses of farmland are the basis for these land use classes.

1. Cropland Harvested is the heart of a farming enterprise and represents the highest use of land in agriculture. All land from which a crop was harvested in the current year falls into this category.
2. Cropland Pastured can produce crops, but its maximum income may not be realized in a particular year. Land that is fallow or in cover crops as part of a rotational program is in this class.
3. Permanent Pasture is not cultivated because its maximum economic potential is realized from grazing or as part of erosion control programs. Animals may or may not be part of the farm operation for land to qualify under this category.

4. Non-Appurtenant Woodland can only qualify for Farmland Assessment when in compliance with a Woodland Management Plan filed with the Department of Environmental Protection and actively devoted to the production for sale of tree and forest products. Or in compliance with a Forest Stewardship Plan actively devoted to the sustainability of the forest.
5. Appurtenant Woodland is part of a farm and beneficial to the other farmland which is at least five acres in active agricultural or horticultural use, other than trees or forest products. Usually appurtenant woodland has limited uses because of its slope, drainage capability, soil type or topography. Although such woodland has limited productive use, it benefits the other non-forest land which is actively devoted to agricultural or horticultural uses by providing windbreaks, watershed, buffers and soil erosion control, as well as lumber for on-farm use.

Report of State Farmland Evaluation Committee.

616.24 Rollback Taxes, Change in Use.

The Farmland Assessment Act provides that land which is in active agricultural or horticultural use is to be valued on its productivity and soil capability values rather than true market value. To recapture some of the taxes which would have been paid if the land had been taxed at the same market value standard as all other property, rollback taxes are applied if the use of the land changes from an agricultural/horticultural use to a nonfarm use. But rollback taxes would not be applied when just the ownership of farmland changes, provided the new owner continues to devote the land to agricultural or horticultural uses.

Cropland, woodland or livestock farming having no planned activity could lose Farmland Assessment. However, loss of Farmland Assessment for inadequate or under devotion during the tax year does not automatically result in rollback as a change in use.

Exception to Change in Use Rollback Provision.

Land which is valued, assessed and taxed under the Farmland Assessment Act and is acquired by the State, a local government unit, a qualifying tax exempt nonprofit organization, or the Palisades Interstate Park Commission for *recreation and conservation purposes is not subject to rollback taxes. "Acquired," "local government unit," "qualifying tax exempt nonprofit organization," and "recreation and conservation purposes" mean the same as those terms are defined in section 3 of P.L.1999, c.152 (C.13:8C-3), the Garden State Preservation Trust Act.

*Recreation and conservation purposes means the use of lands for beaches, biological or ecological study, boating, camping, fishing, forests, greenways, hunting, natural areas, parks, playgrounds, protecting historic properties, water reserves, watershed protection, wildlife preserves, active sports, or a similar use for either public outdoor recreation or conservation of natural resources, or both.

616.25 Separation and Split-offs.

The separation or split-off of a parcel assessed under the Farmland Assessment Act would not continue to qualify for Farmland Assessment (and would be subject to rollback taxes) if the use changes to nonfarm use. If the remaining land (not split-off) continued to meet all farmland requirements, it would continue to be assessed under the Farmland Assessment Act and rollback taxes would not apply. For example, if a 200 acre farm under the Act is split into two 100 acre farms, and both continue in agricultural or horticultural use and meet all other requirements, they may both continue under the Act, but if one 100 acre parcel is used to construct housing that 100 acre parcel would lose Farmland Assessment and would be rolled back.

616.26 Period of Rollback Taxes.

Rollback taxes are applied for the year in which the change takes place and the two previous tax years, provided the land was assessed under the Farmland Act during that time.

EXAMPLES:

1. A parcel of land is assessed under the Farmland Assessment Act for the tax years 2016, 2017 and 2018. A change in use occurs in March, 2018. Rollback taxes would apply for all three years.
2. A parcel of land is assessed under the Farmland Assessment Act for the tax years 2017 and 2018. A change in use occurs in March, 2018. Rollback taxes would apply only for 2017 and 2018 because the land was not assessed under the Act in 2016.
3. A parcel of land is assessed under the Farmland Assessment Act in 2016 and 2017; however, it is not assessed under the Farmland Assessment Act in 2018. A change in use occurs in March, 2018. Rollback taxes would apply only for 2016 and 2017 because the land was not assessed under the Act in 2018.
4. A parcel of land is assessed under the Farmland Assessment Act for the tax years 2015, 2016, 2017 and 2018. A change in use occurs in March, 2018. Rollback taxes would apply for 2016, 2017 and 2018, the year of change in use and two prior years.

Re: Application of Rollback Taxes

In a recent Tax Court proceeding in which I participated, the issue arose as to the applicable statute of limitations for applying rollback taxes under the Farmland Assessment Act (N.J.S.A. 54:4-23.1 et seq.) in the event the year of imposing the rollback tax is subsequent to the year of the change in use.

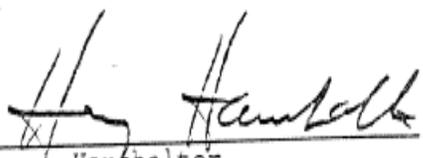

Under the Farmland Assessment Act, rollback taxes are imposed in the event the subject property is subjected to a change in use from a farmland to a non-farmland status. N.J.S.A. 54:4-23.8. Under the rollback provision, taxes are assessed for the year in which the change in use occurs and for the two previous years during which the property was assessed under the preferential farmland value. The rollback taxes are assessed in accordance with the procedure outlined in the original Omitted Assessment Law, N.J.S.A. 54:4-63.12 et seq.

It is not unusual for a change in use to occur in a prior tax year without the assessor's knowledge. The question that arose in this proceeding was the number of years affected by a rollback assessment in the event the change in use year were prior to the current year (in the year in which the rollback assessment is imposed). As an example, property subject to the Farmland Assessment Act changes use in the 1986 tax year without the assessor being aware of the changed status. The assessor first becomes aware of the change in the 1988 tax year. The subject property was not subjected to farmland assessment under this example in either the 1987 or 1988 tax years. The question raised is whether the tax years 1986, 1985 and 1984, the years normally subject to rollback taxes (had the assessment been timely imposed) are still subject to such tax notwithstanding that the change in use was not discovered until 1988. The oral ruling by the Tax Court in this instance confirmed the policy which this office had previously recommended to the County Boards. Under that policy, and pursuant to the omitted assessment procedure, the discovery of a change in use situation in 1988 permits the assessor to go back one year, namely 1987, and commence the rollback assessment for that year and the two previous years, assuming the property was accorded farmland assessment for any of those years. Thus, utilizing our example, a 1988 rollback assessment would relate back to the tax years 1987, 1986 and 1985. Since the property was not subjected to farmland assessment in 1987 no rollback tax would be imposed for that year. However, since the property was accorded farmland assessment treatment for 1986 and 1985, the rollback assessment would include those two tax years. The 1984 tax year, which would have been included in a rollback assessment had it been timely imposed, would now be lost because the statute of limitations only permits the imposition of the rollback tax up to the 1985 tax year in the example.

Very truly yours,

Calculation of Rollback Tax.

1. The assessor determines the full and fair value, i.e., true market value of the land for each year as of October 1 pretax year for which rollback taxes apply by the same standards applied to all other land in the tax district;
2. In a district where assessments have not been annually maintained at true value, the Director’s Ratio should be applied to the subject property’s assessment for each year the property is subject to rollback taxes pursuant to Public Law 1973, chapter 123.
3. The assessor then determines the amount of the additional assessment on the land by subtracting the actual assessment under the Farmland Assessment Act from the assessment calculated in step 2.
4. The assessor calculates the amount of the rollback tax by multiplying the additional assessment calculated in step 3 by the general tax rate for each year in question. For purposes of rollback calculation, the general tax rate does not include the additional rate for special districts such as fire districts.

Rollback as Omitted Assessment and Appeal Procedure.

Rollback assessment must proceed under the provisions of the Regular Omitted Assessment Law (see N.J.S.A. 54:4-63.12 et seq.) Regular Rollback procedures require the filing of a complaint with the County Board of Taxation by the municipal assessor, tax collector, municipal governing body, any taxpayer, or the Board on its own motion. The Alternate Omitted Assessment Law cannot be applied when assessing rollback taxes because an appeal opportunity must be provided first before the rolled back assessment can be placed on the Tax List. The County Tax Board, after having given at least 15 days written notice to the affected taxpayer, hears and renders a rollback judgment. The proper assessment is entered on the Omitted Property Assessment List, filed by the assessor with the County Tax Board on October 1 of the calendar tax year. Tax bills are issued by the municipal tax collector at least one week prior to November 1 following the List's certification. If judgment is rendered by the Board prior to October 1 of any year, rollback taxes are due on November 1 of that year. If judgment is rendered after October 1 and before December 31, rollback taxes are due November 1 of the following year. The timing of the hearing and judgment between October 1 and December 31 require the assessor to postpone the filing of the List until the subsequent year.

616.29 Liability for Rollback Taxes.

The liability for rollback tax attaches upon a change in land use but not upon a change in land ownership. Rollback taxes become a lien upon the land from January of the year in which the judgment of the County Board of Taxation is rendered.

616.30 Further Appeals of Rollback Taxes.

Tax appeals from County Board of Taxation judgments concerning rollback taxes follow the same procedure used for appeals of Omitted Assessments. A complaint would be filed with the Tax Court within 45 days of the date of the County Tax Board judgment.

616.31 Change in use between October 1 and December 31 with Application Pending.

If land assessed under the Farmland Assessment Act changes from agricultural or horticultural use to some other use between October 1 and December 31, while an application is pending, the assessor should deny the application and enter the property on the Assessment List on January 10 of the tax year in the same manner as any other property. If the assessor fails to deny the application, the County Board of Taxation should correct the Assessment List before it is certified on or before May 20 of the tax year. If the application is not denied by either the assessor or the County Tax Board, and the land is assessed under the Farmland Assessment Act, the assessor must include the land on the Added Assessment List, filed with the County Board of Taxation on October 1 of the calendar tax year. The Added Assessment should be the difference between the assessment actually made under the Farmland Assessment Act and the assessment which would have been made if the application had been properly denied. The Added Assessment is applicable for the full tax year, and is not subject to proration. The Added Assessment procedure does not affect the property's rollback tax liability for prior years during which it was assessed under the Act.

EXAMPLE:

A parcel of land is assessed under the Farmland Assessment Act for the tax years 2015, 2016 and 2017 and an application is filed on July 20, 2017 for a continuation of such assessment for the tax year 2018. On November 23, 2017, the use of the land changes, but this does not become known to the assessor or County Board of Taxation until June 15, 2018. An Added Assessment should be made for the tax year 2018, and the Regular Omitted Assessment procedure should be used to recapture the rollback taxes for the tax years 2015, 2016 and 2017.

Letter To County Tax Boards, from Deputy Attorney General Harry Haushalter, June 7, 1989.

616.32 Rollback and Growing Seasons.

Farming is not a continuous 365 day activity, but a seasonal undertaking. The time frame when considering land's use is a calendar year, January 1 – December 31 of the year in which use is alleged to have occurred, rather than a 12 month fiscal year or for a period less than a full calendar year. When land, previously granted Farmland Assessment, remains unimproved with no clear visible change in use, assessors should wait until after December 31 to initiate rollback tax.

616.33 Woodland.

With agricultural operations such as crop and livestock farms there is a management or operational activity which an assessor ordinarily can see taking place over the course of a year. This does not apply with many woodland tracts. Much litigation has taken place over the qualification of woodland for Farmland Assessment. As a result, two groups of woodland emerge:

1. Non-appurtenant Woodland means woodland which is neither supportive nor subordinate to other farmland and which qualifies for Farmland Assessment when in compliance with a Woodland Management Plan/Forest Stewardship Plan and meeting all statutory requirements as to income, acreage, years in agriculture, etc.
2. Appurtenant Woodland means a wooded piece of property contiguous to, part of, or beneficial to a tract of land having at least 5 acres devoted to agricultural/horticultural uses, other than trees or forest products, and to which the wooded property is supportive and subordinate.

The extent of appurtenant woodland reasonably required to maintain adjoining acreage in agricultural or horticultural use and thereby qualify for Farmland Assessment requires a judgment on the applicant's part, subject to review and approval or revision by the assessor. Woodland is presumed to be supportive and subordinate when its area is equal to or less than the area of farmland qualifying for other agricultural/horticultural uses (The woodlands may or may not contribute income to a crop or livestock farm, but do contribute benefits to the farm such as lumber for fencing for on farm use, protection from wind, soil erosion, or by creating a buffer area for the farm from neighbors. Incidental income from the occasional sale of woodland or forest products is not sufficiently qualifying for Farmland Assessment purposes). A Management Plan drawn up by a professional forester gives weight to the intent of the landowner to meet the statutory requirements for Farmland Assessment. A Woodland Data Form WD-1 http://www.state.nj.us/treasury/taxation/pdf/other_forms/lpt/wd1.pdf must also be filed with the Management/Stewardship Plan.

The Woodland Issue In Farmland Assessment Appeals, John M. Hunter, Cook College, December, 1977.

616.34 Woodland Management Plan.

To show Farmland Assessment prerequisites are being met on a continual basis, owners of non-appurtenant woodland are required to develop a Management Plan approved by the New Jersey Division of Parks and Forestry having:

- I. Cover page of plan providing:
 1. Owner's name and mailing address;
 2. Municipality and county where woodland is located;
 3. Block(s) and lot(s) of the property that includes the woodland;
 4. Acreage of woodland;
 5. Name and address of approved forester who prepared Plan, if not prepared by owner;
 6. Date Plan was prepared and time period Plan covers with start and end date;

7. For a Plan that is approved by the State Forester on or after February 19, 2013, the period of time a Woodland Management Plan covers must not exceed ten years.
 8. A Plan that is approved by the State Forester prior to February 9, 2013, having a duration of longer than ten years but not exceeding 15 years, remains in effect for its approved duration.
- II. Clear, concise statement of owner's goals in managing the woodland;
 - III. Description of how property boundaries are or will be marked and delineated relative to the surrounding area;
 - IV. Brief description of past activities that have affected the woodland including, but not limited to, wildfire, insect and disease outbreaks, timber sales, plantings, thinnings and weedings;
 - V. Description of each defined forest stand in some combination of the following:
 1. Number of acres;
 2. Species composition including overstory and understory;
 3. General condition and quality;
 4. Structure including age classes, DBH classes, and crown classes;
 5. Overall site quality;
 6. Condition and species composition of advanced regeneration when applicable;
 7. Stocking levels, growth rates and volumes.
 - VI. Description of woodland owner's forest management objectives, management recommendations, activities and practices specified and planned for each forest stand, an explanation of how these sequences of treatment are integrated into the overall coordinated Plan and time frame to meet management objectives. Such management recommendations and practices must be prepared for a period of not less than 10 years.

The Plan must include an aggregated management schedule in table format that summarizes all activities in the Plan in chronological order.

VII. Average overall productivity capabilities of woodland.

VIII. Scaled Map – Woodland Activity.

A map of the property including, but not limited to:

1. Owner's name, address, and map's preparation date;
2. Arrow designating north direction;
3. Scale no smaller than 1:1500 or larger than 1:200;
4. Legend defining the map's symbols;
5. Location of property lines;
6. Identification of forest stands keyed to written management goals;
7. Delineation of physical features such as roads, streams, structures, etc.;
8. Identification of soil types based on information from the National Resource Conservation Service's Web Soil Survey (A separate map can be used for this for the first year application); and;
9. Brief description or map inset of the land identifying the property location.

NOTE:

Woodland that includes fresh water wetlands or is located in a flood hazard area may have to meet additional requirements and obtain permits to farm in the restricted areas [See N.J.A.C. 7:7A or 7:13].

616.35 Renewable Energy Installations on Farmland Assessed Agricultural/Horticultural Property.

Public Law 2009, chapter 213 amending and supplementing the Farmland Assessment Act was approved on January 16, 2010. The amendments provide that land used for construction, installation, and operation of biomass, solar or wind generation facilities, structures, and equipment on agricultural/horticultural land eligible for preferential reduced Farmland Assessment must be considered actively devoted to qualifying agricultural/horticultural use where all of the following apply:

- The renewable energy facilities, structures, and equipment are constructed, installed, or operated on agricultural/horticultural land that was in the preceding year and is currently part of an operating farm;
- The power or heat generated by the biomass, solar, wind energy facilities, structures and equipment provides, wholly or in part, either directly or indirectly, power or heat to the farm or agricultural/horticultural operation supporting the farm's viability;
- The property owner files a conservation plan with the soil conservation district for aesthetic, impervious coverage, and environmental impacts of construction, installation and operation of the biomass, solar, or wind energy generation facilities, structures and equipment, including water recapture and filtration, and receives conservation district approval;
- The ratio of acreage devoted to biomass, solar, or wind renewable energy generation facilities, structures and equipment vs. agricultural/horticultural operations does not exceed 1 to 5, i.e., 1 part renewable energy to 5 parts devoted to agriculture = $1/5$ or .20 rounded to .17;
- The biomass, solar, or wind energy generation facilities, structures and equipment are constructed or installed on no more than 10 acres of land eligible for Farmland Assessment and no more than 2 megawatts of power are generated on the 10 or fewer acres;
- No income from the sale of power or heat from biomass, solar, or wind energy may be considered income toward gross sales criteria for Farmland Assessment but with respect to renewable energy property there is no income requirement;

- The property under the solar panels, if the renewable energy system is solar, is used for shade or similar crops or grazing pasture, when practical;
- The property owner obtains approval from the state Agriculture Department, if energy is biomass;
- The construction, installation, or operation of any biomass, solar, wind energy generation facility, structure or equipment in the pinelands area is subject to the “Pinelands Protection Act,” Public Law 1979, chapter 11.

- i. EXAMPLE (1): A landowner devotes 60 acres to agricultural or horticultural production that qualifies for Farmland Assessment. He/she converts 10 of those acres for use as a solar energy facility, which generates no more than two megawatts of power. The landowner is entitled to have all 60 acres receive Farmland Assessment.
- ii. EXAMPLE (2): A landowner devotes 120 acres to agricultural or horticultural production that qualifies for Farmland Assessment. He/she converts 20 of those acres for use as a solar energy facility. Because the landowner is entitled to have only 10 of those acres used for a solar energy facility under Farmland Assessment, he/she no longer qualifies for this assessment on the 10 additional acres that have been converted to the solar energy facility and these 10 acres are subject to rollback taxes. However, the landowner, continues to qualify for Farmland Assessment on the remaining 110 acres.
- iii. EXAMPLE (3): A landowner devotes 60 acres to agricultural or horticultural production that qualifies for Farmland Assessment. He/she converts 10 of those acres for use as a solar power energy facility that generates three megawatts of power. None of the 10 acres qualifies for Farmland Assessment. Only the remaining 50 acres that are in agricultural or horticultural production qualify for Farmland Assessment because the two megawatt power limit is exceeded.

616.36 Gross Sales for Traditional Agriculture/Horticulture and Woodland Management Plans; Exemption Forest Stewardship Plans.

For each of the two years immediately prior to the tax year for which Farmland Assessment is first claimed and annually thereafter, the first five acres of land use must result in $1,000 ($500 for land in an approved Woodland Management Plan) average gross sales of: agricultural or horticultural products; payments under a soil conservation program; fees for breeding, raising or grazing livestock; income imputed to grazing land determined by the Farmland Evaluation Committee (F.E.C.) and fees for boarding, rehabilitating or training livestock, where the land under the boarding, rehabilitating or training facilities is contiguous to land otherwise farm qualified. For two years immediately preceding the tax year and each year subsequent, acreage over five must show average sales of at least $5 per acre per year from agricultural/horticultural products and soil conservation payments, breeding fees, etc. and average $0.50 cents per acre over the first five acres from woodland or wetland.

Or there must be clear evidence of an anticipated $1,000 yearly gross income (anticipated $500 yearly gross income for land in an approved Woodland Management Plan) from the sale of such products for the first five acres and $5 per acre on acreage over five and $0.50 cents yearly gross sales per acre over the first five on woodland or wetland within a reasonable time.

Anticipated gross sales are to be based on the nature and characteristics of the land and productivity plans of the owner or occupant. Crops grown for on-farm use may be considered at retail sales value in determining whether the average gross sales requirement has been met, not including fruits and vegetables for personal consumption.

NOTE: Regarding the gross sales income requirement “Statute does not mandate that a specified five acre parcel generates $1,000, [or $500 for properties under an approved Woodland Management Plan,] in gross sales. Rather, the statute establishes a minimum income requirement which must be viewed in the aggregate taking the total acreage into consideration...” This interpretation appears reasonable in light of the variations in techniques utilized by farmers, such as crop rotation and other forms of soil enrichment programs.” Therefore, where a farm consists of more than five acres, the minimum income for active devotion may be produced from the whole of the property. A specific five-acre section of the farm does not need to be designated to produce $1,000 ($500 for woodlands under an approved Woodland Management Plan), with the additional acres needing only to produce either $5 each for agricultural/horticultural use or $0.50 for woodlands/wetlands. Instead, the minimum income as calculated from the acreage and nature of those acres must come from the property as a whole without regard to which acre produces what amount of income, as long as the total produced on the property exceeds the minimum as calculated. However, appurtenant woodlands and wetlands cannot produce income to meet the gross sales requirement of active devotion.

EXAMPLES:

1. On a 15-acre parcel, with one acre reserved for the homestead: Six acres are devoted to growing tomatoes, which generate annual gross sales of $700. Six acres are devoted to growing hay and generate annual gross sales of $500. One acre is left fallow, and the remaining acre is appurtenant woodland. Since the total gross sales for the property equal $1,200, the farm exceeds the gross sales requirement for active devotion of $1,040.50 despite not having any particular five acres produce $1,000. ($1,000 for first 5 acres, $5 for 8 additional acres or $40.00, $0.50 cents for 1 acre appurtenant woodland.)

2. On a 10-acre parcel of land, two acres are used for boarding horses, which produces fees of $3,200. The remaining eight acres are utilized for grazing the boarded horses at an imputed grazing value of $145 per acre. Income imputed to grazing is determined to be $1,160. Since the eight acres used for grazing have an imputed value for such use that exceeds the gross sales requirement for active devotion of $1,015 for those eight acres, it would qualify for Farmland Assessment, despite the income imputed to grazing on the first five acres at $725 being less than $1,000. The two-acre portion used for boarding and training is also eligible because it is contiguous to land that otherwise qualifies for Farmland Assessment. (For farms of more than 5 acres required minimum income may be produced from the whole property.)

3. On an eight-acre parcel, one-half acre is used as a residence, seven acres are fenced for pasturing three boarded horses and one-half acre is used as equine facilities. Upon request from the municipal assessor for proof of agricultural or horticultural production for sale, the landowner provides the names of the owners of the horses as well as the $800 per horse boarding fee and uses the imputed grazing values of $142 per acre as provided in the Report of the State Farmland Evaluation Committee. Since seven acres of pasture being utilized by three boarded horses has an imputed grazing value of $994, the agricultural income criteria for Farmland Assessment have not been met on those seven acres, because the minimum gross sales for active devotion on seven acres would be $1,010. The income from boarding horses cannot be counted since it is not contiguous to land which otherwise qualifies for Farmland Assessment. The entire parcel is ineligible for Farmland Assessment.

616.37 Woodland Management Gross Sales.

Incidental income from the occasional sale of woodland or forest products from appurtenant woodland does not qualify toward the gross sales requirement. However, income anticipated or derived from Woodland Management Plans is not considered incidental income. Timber sale agreements and cutting contracts may help establish anticipated gross sales. Longer growing seasons required for trees does not relieve Farmland Assessment claimants from meeting gross sales requirements.

616.38 Forest Stewardship - No Gross Sales.

Income may be produced on lands under a Forest Stewardship Plan (FSP) but income is not required to qualify for Farmland Assessment. However, active devotion criteria must be met as per the FSP and the Woodland Data Form WD-1.

616.39 Gross Sales Minimum for Crop/Livestock and Woodland Management Plan - Mixed-Use Properties Under Farmland Assessment.

P.L. 2013, c. 43 amended the Farmland Assessment Act, increasing the minimum gross sales requirement for the first five acres of agricultural/horticultural use (not under an approved Woodland Management Plan, "WMP") to $1,000, while retaining the $500 requirement for the first five acres for properties under an approved WMP. The $5.00 per acre requirement for agricultural/horticultural use (not under an approved WMP) and $0.50 per acre requirement for land under an approved WMP beyond the first five acres remained the same. The following applies to non-appurtenant woodland under an approved WMP only, not to appurtenant woodlands. Appurtenant woodland acres can only be valued under Farmland Assessment if the property first has five acres that otherwise qualify for Farmland Assessment, i.e., the minimum five acres necessary to qualify for Farmland Assessment cannot include appurtenant woodlands.

For mixed-use properties containing both non-appurtenant woodlands and land in other agricultural/horticultural use, the law is silent as to which gross sales minimum would apply.

The policies to be observed are:

- Any mixed-use property that has at least five acres in agricultural/horticultural use (not non-appurtenant woodlands under an approved WMP) is required to produce a minimum of $1,000 in annual gross sales for the first five acres;
- Mixed-use properties that have less than five acres in agricultural/horticultural use (not non-appurtenant woodlands under an approved WMP) and the remaining acreage is non-appurtenant woodland under an approved WMP are required to produce a minimum of $500 in annual gross sales for the first five acres.

With respect to dominant versus incidental use, current case law concerns farm versus non-farm use and, therefore, is not a reliable indicator of usage to determine the minimum income pursuant to Chapter 43.

EXAMPLES:

1. On a 15 acre parcel of land, 6 acres are devoted to the raising of livestock and 9 acres are woodlands under an approved WMP. The minimum gross sales for the property would be $1,009.50 ($1,000 for the first 5 acres of agriculture, $5.00 for the additional acre of agriculture, and 9 x $05 or $4.50 for the woodland acres);

2. On a 20 acre parcel of land, 3 acres are devoted to growing crops and 17 acres are woodlands under an approved WMP. The minimum gross sales for the property would be $521.00 ($500 for the first 5 acres of woodlands, 3 x $5.00 or $15 for the agricultural acres, and 12 x $0.50 or $6.00 for the additional woodland acres);

3. On a 7 acre parcel of land, 4 acres are devoted to growing ornamental plants and 3 acres are woodlands under an approved WMP. Since the property does not have 5 acres devoted to non-woodlands agricultural/horticultural use, it does not trigger the $1,000 income threshold. The gross sales minimum for the first five acres should be $500, despite there being more acres devoted to growing ornamental plants than to non-appurtenant woodlands. Since there are neither 5 acres devoted to non-woodlands agriculture nor 5 acres devoted to non-appurtenant woodlands, the first five acres necessary to qualify for Farmland Assessment must be a composite of the two. It is recommended including all woodland acres under an approved WMP as part of the first five acres needed for qualification. Thus, the minimum gross sales for the property would be $510.00 ($500 for the first 5 acres: i.e., 3 acres of woodlands and 2 acres of agriculture, plus 2 x $5.00 for the additional acres of agriculture).

616.40 Forest Stewardship Plan Mixed - Use Properties Under Farmland Assessment.

Where a parcel is subject to an approved Forest Stewardship Plan (FSP) and contains acres in non-woodland agricultural/horticultural use, active devotion for the woodland and non-woodland acres is determined independently. Active devotion for the woodland acres is met if the Forest Stewardship Plan's prescriptions are followed. Active devotion for the non-woodland acres is determined as follows:

1. If the property contains five or more acres in non-woodland agricultural/horticultural use, it must produce $1,000 per year for the first five acres and $5 per acre for each additional acre of non-woodland agriculture/horticulture.
2. If the property contains fewer than five acres in non-woodland agricultural/horticultural use, the landowner must keep the non-woodland acres devoted to agricultural/horticultural use as defined in N.J.S.A. 54:4-23.3 and/or N.J.S.A. 54:4-23.4 and N.J.A.C. 18:15-6.2, but does not need to produce a specific amount of income from the non-woodland agricultural/horticultural acres for them to be considered actively devoted.

EXAMPLES:

1. On a 30-acre parcel of land subject to an approved Forest Stewardship Plan, one acre is reserved for the farmhouse, seven acres are woodlands managed in accordance with the Forest Stewardship Plan, and 22 acres are devoted to the raising of livestock. The seven acres of woodlands will qualify if the prescriptions of the Forest Stewardship Plan are followed. Because the property has at least five acres in non-woodland agricultural/horticultural use, the landowner must produce at least $1,085 from the acres devoted to raising livestock ($1,000 for the first five acres plus 17 x $5 or $85.00 for the remaining acres) for those acres to qualify.
2. On a 43-acre parcel of land subject to an approved Forest Stewardship Plan, 35 acres are woodlands managed in accordance with the Forest Stewardship Plan and eight acres are devoted to the growing of soybeans. The 35 acres of woodlands will qualify if the prescriptions of the Forest Stewardship Plan are followed.

Because the property has at least five acres in non-woodland agricultural/horticultural use, the landowner must produce at least $1,015 from the acres devoted to growing soybeans ($1,000 for the first five acres plus 3 x $5 or $15.00 for the remaining acres) for those acres to qualify.

3. On a 12-acre parcel of land subject to an approved Forest Stewardship Plan, 10 acres are woodlands managed in accordance with the Forest Stewardship Plan and two acres are devoted to beekeeping and the production of honey. The 10 acres of woodlands will qualify if the prescriptions of the Forest Stewardship Plan are followed. Because there are fewer than five acres in non-woodland agricultural/horticultural use, the honey harvested does not have to produce a specific amount of income, but the landowner must still fully devote those acres to beekeeping and the production of honey.

617. Applying for Farmland Assessment.

617.01 Application.

The application for Farmland Assessment, Form FA-1, http://www.state.nj.us/treasury/taxation/pdf/other_forms/lpt/FA1.pdf, must be completed and filed annually as of August 1 of the pretax year with the municipal assessor.

For non-appurtenant woodland, and land under forest stewardship the Woodland Data Form WD-1 http://www.state.nj.us/treasury/taxation/pdf/other_forms/lpt/wd1.pdf must also be completed and timely filed with copies of the completed FA-1 Form, Management Plan, or Stewardship Plan, maps and other information to both the assessor and Division of Parks and Forestry, Department of Environmental Protection. Only one FA-1 form in duplicate is to be filed for each farm made up of contiguous land. With respect to first-time filers, no application need be filed for either of the two pre-qualifying years. However, Farmland Assessment eligibility criteria must have been met for the two pre-tax years.

Proofs of Gross Sales must be submitted with each Farmland Assessment application on the Supplemental Farmland Assessment Gross Sales Form, Form FA-1 G.S.

http://www.state.nj.us/treasury/taxation/pdf/other_forms/lpt/fa1-gs.pdf

The assessor may request further documentation of gross sales from the taxpayer if he or she has reason to believe the gross sales income requirement has not been met, e.g., if a farmer reports five acres of wheat crop and the assessor observes no wheat growing and weeds throughout the field when viewing the property.

617.02 Application-Issued by Assessor; FA-1 Not Received by Applicant.

On or before July 1 of each year, the assessor is required to mail each property owner whose land is currently receiving Farmland Assessment an Application Form, FA-1 in order that he/she may file for Farmland Assessment for the succeeding tax year. The FA-1 Form must be accompanied by a notice that the completed application is required to be filed with the assessor on or before August 1 of the pretax year. The failure of a property owner to receive an FA-1 Form does not relieve him or her of his/her responsibility to apply timely.

The Director, Division of Taxation has promulgated a standard form for farmers to verify their gross sales to the tax assessor. This form, Supplemental Farmland Assessment Gross Sales Form, Form FA-1 G.S., should be mailed to applicants with the FA-1 Forms in July, and will also be required to be filed with the assessor on or before August 1 of the pretax year.

617.03 Application-Filing Deadline Extended; Form FA-X.

An assessor may grant an extension of time for filing an application for Farmland Assessment to September 1 of the pretax year where it appears that the applicant failed to file by August 1 due to illness, or the owner's death or the death of an immediate member of the owner's family. A physician's certification stating that the owner was physically incapacitated and unable to file by August 1 or a certified copy of the death certificate must be submitted by the owner or the individual legally responsible for the owner's estate to the assessor. Form FA-X Farmland Assessment Application Filing Deadline Extension Form has been promulgated by the Division of Taxation to standardize and formalize this procedure and is available via the Assessor's Portal.

617.04 Certification, Signatures and Proofs.

The FA-1 application includes a certification that all information contained in it is true and has the effect of a sworn statement. Applications should be signed by the owner. Multiple ownership applications can be signed by any one of the individual co-owners. Corporate ownership applications must show the full name of the corporation, and the signature and title of a corporate officer authorized to sign for the corporation. The foregoing also applies to the WD-1 Form and the Supplemental FA-1 G.S.. Assessors may require proof of ownership, property description, land area, land use and gross sales of agricultural or horticultural products.

617.05 Disposition of Forms – Assessor, County Tax Board, Property Administration and Commissioner of Department of Environmental Protection.

The Farmland Assessment Application, Form FA-1, is the official source document for land qualifying under the Farmland Assessment Act of 1964. As such, assessors should review the forms for completeness and accuracy prior to approval. Assessors should maintain complete files of all approved and disapproved applications, together with any documentary proofs. Complete records ensure that rollback taxes can be calculated correctly.

Original FA-1 applications are to be retained in the assessor’s office. Each application must be signed and dated by the assessor and “approved” or “disapproved”. N.J.A.C. 18:15-2.6 requires one copy of each application must be forwarded by the assessor to the County Tax Administrator on or before January 1st of the tax year. County Tax Administrators should review the applications and forward them to Property Administration/Local Property Tax Policy and Planning Section in district order no later than February 15 of the tax year. On March 1, Property Administration/Local Property sends reminders to County Tax Administrators so they can contact assessors whose FA-1s are still outstanding. Local Property enters the data and FA-1s are sent to the Department of Agriculture in installments throughout the year.

The Commissioner of the Department of Environmental Protection (DEP) is to notify applicants and assessors of receipt of any management/stewardship claims, review them for compliance and advise the assessor in writing of his/her decision.

Reviews may include on site property inspections. If the DEP Commissioner decides the woodland prerequisites have not been met, the assessor must disapprove the claim for Farmland Assessment. If the Commissioner approves the woodland data, the assessor may approve or disallow the farmland claim in terms of the other eligibility requirements.

617.06 Continuance of Eligibility.

Assessment under the Farmland Assessment Act does not continue automatically; a new application must be filed every year. If property ownership changes in any year, the land may be continued under the Act for that year, as long as the use of the land does not change. Farmland Assessment may be continued in a subsequent year for the sold tract provided the new owner files an application and meets all other eligibility requirements.

617.08 Notice of Disallowance.

When the assessor denies an application for Farmland Assessment, the assessor must, on or before November 1 of the pretax year, notify the landowner of the disallowance.

617.09 Notification.

The Notice of Disallowance may be sent to the applicant by regular mail. The Disallowance Notice must set forth the reason or reasons for the assessor's denial, and inform the applicant of his/her right to appeal the denial of his/her Farmland Assessment application to the County Board of Taxation on or before April 1 of the tax year.

618. Valuation Information.

618.01 Sources of Valuation Information.

In arriving at a Farmland Assessment value, the assessor must consider the following:

1. evidence of agricultural and horticultural capabilities derived from soil survey data at Rutgers – The State University;
2. evidence of agricultural and horticultural capabilities derived from the National Co-operative Soil Survey
3. recommendations of land value made by any county or state-wide committee, such as the State Farmland Evaluation Committee, (F.E.C.) which may be established to assist the assessor. The Director of the Division of Taxation recommends an assessor utilize the valuation standards established by the State Farmland Evaluation Committee in valuing qualified farmland.

Van Vugt v. Pequannock Township, 20 N.J. Tax 129 (Tax Court 2002).

618.02 State Farmland Evaluation Committee.

The Farmland Assessment Act created a State Farmland Evaluation Advisory Committee (F.E.A.C.), renamed under P.L. 2013, C. 43 as the State Farmland Evaluation Committee (F.E.C.) consisting of the Director of the Division of Taxation; the Dean of the College of Agriculture, Rutgers, The State University; the Secretary of Agriculture; a municipal tax assessor, county assessor, or county tax administrator, who is appointed by the Governor with the advice and consent of the Senate; and a farmer who is a current or former member of the State Board of Agriculture, who is appointed by the Governor with the advice and consent of the Senate. Each appointed member is to serve for a term of three years and may be appointed to successive terms. The Committee is required to determine and publish each year, on or before October 1, a range of values for agricultural or horticultural land use, for each of the several land classifications, and for each area of the State. The first Report of the State Farmland Evaluation Advisory Committee, issued on October 1, 1964, recommended land values ranging from $6 per acre for woodland on poor quality soil in Warren County to $552 per acre for high quality harvested cropland in Passaic County. The fifty-fifth Report of the State Farmland Evaluation Committee, issued October 2019, recommended land values of $25 per acre for appurtenant woodland/$86 per acre for non-appurtenant woodland on poor quality soil in Warren County compared to $1,080 per acre for high quality harvested cropland in Passaic County.

The committee will meet to review the minimum Gross Sales amount and adjust as needed. Increases are not enforced until the third tax year following adoption of an increase. Every five years the F.E.C. will review

Farmland Assessment application forms and make recommendations to the Director, Division of Taxation.

618.03 Alternate Values.

Assessors who do not utilize the standards established by the State Farmland Evaluation Committee (F.E.C.) in valuing qualified farmland, must submit their alternate standards to the Director, Division of Taxation by November 1 of the pretax year, and the reasons for not following F.E.C. recommendations. The assessor must also submit a detailed explanation of the procedure and valuation standards to be applied. The Director will then inform the assessor and the respective County Tax Board by December 10 of the pretax year as to using the alternate standard. If the Director advises against the alternate standard and the assessor chooses to rely on it, he/she must give written notice to the Director and the County Tax Board no later than pretax year December 31. The County Board of Taxation, after its review as provided under N.J.S.A. 54:4-46, can direct the assessor to make any changes it considers necessary.

618.05 Soil Productivity Groups.

The assessor must have a soil map of each farm to properly apply F.E.C. values to the land and compute the Farmland Assessment. Soil groups are:
Group A – Very productive farmland – Most desirable soil because of high yields and ease of cultivation.

Group B – Good farmland – Desirable soil because yields are generally high and land can be cultivated on a permanent basis.

Group C - Fair farmland – Yields are lower than in soil Group B because of shallowness, propensity for drought, or excessive moisture. Land can be cultivated on a permanent basis.

Group D - Poor farmland – Soil is usually too wet, stony, prone to drought, or otherwise unsuitable for permanent cultivation. Yields are low when cultivated.

Group E – Very poor farmland – Land is often found in pasture or woodlands, yields are very low because of excessive water, shallowness, stoniness, or frequent drought.

618.06 Taxable Value of Land under the Farmland Assessment Act.

The taxable or assessed value of land qualifying under the Farmland Assessment Act is determined by multiplying the land's agricultural or horticultural value by the percentage of true value set by the County Tax Board for assessing real property generally. All 21 counties in New Jersey are currently at a level of 100% of true value. (Number of acres multiplied by Agricultural/Horticultural value then multiplied by the Director's Ratio.)

619. Manufactured or Mobile Homes.

619.01 Manufactured or Mobile Homes.

Public Law 1983, Chapter 400, provides manufactured homes situated in mobile home parks are exempt from taxation as real property, subject to payment of municipal service fees as imposed by local ordinances.

REFERENCES:

N.J.S.A. 54:4-1.2 et seq.

619.02 Manufactured Home.

“Manufactured Home” means a unit of housing:

1. of one or more transportable sections which are substantially constructed off site and joined together on site;
2. built on a permanent chassis;
3. designed to be used, when connected to utilities, as a dwelling on a permanent or nonpermanent foundation; and
4. Manufactured in accordance with standards established in the “National Manufactured Housing Construction and Safety Standards Act of 1974,” Pub. L. 93- 383 (42 U.S.C. 5401 et seq.) and the “State Uniform Construction Code Act,” P.L. 1975, c.217 (N.J.S.A. 52:27D-119 et seq.).

Manufactured home also means a housing unit manufactured before the effective date of the promulgated standards but which otherwise meets the criteria.

619.03 Mobile Home Park.

“Mobile Home Park” means a parcel, or two or more contiguous parcels of land, containing no fewer than 10 sites equipped for the installation of manufactured homes, where the sites are under common ownership and control, except cooperatives, for leasing to manufactured homeowners, and where the owner or owners offer services, which are provided by the municipality where the park is located for property owners outside the park.

Parcel, or any contiguous parcels of land which contain no fewer than three sites equipped for the installation of manufactured homes, and which otherwise conform to the provisions of this subsection, shall qualify as a mobile home park for the purposes of this act.

619.04 “Municipal Service Fee”.

“Municipal Service Fee” means a fee imposed on manufactured homes installed in a mobile home park for services rendered the manufactured homeowners by the municipality or any other local taxing authority established pursuant to a municipal ordinance, and for reimbursement of the municipality for payments to the school district in which the mobile home park is located for educational costs for pupils residing in that park; and may include but are not limited to:

1. Construction and maintenance of streets;
2. Lighting of streets and other common areas;
3. Garbage removal;
4. Snow removal; and
5. Drainage of surface water from home sites and common areas.

619.05 Certain Mobile Homes and Added Assessments are Taxable.

Although manufactured homes in mobile home parks are property tax exempt, improvements such as patios, garages, porches, added rooms, etc.

are taxable as real property when affixed to the land on a permanent foundation.

Manufactured homes outside of mobile parks are subject to real property taxation when affixed to the land on a permanent foundation or a nonpermanent foundation but connected to utility systems in a manner which would make the homes habitable as permanent dwellings.

619.06 Nonpermanent Foundation.

“Nonpermanent foundation” means any foundation of non-mortared blocks, wheels, a concrete slab, runners, or any combination thereof, or any other system approved by the Commissioner, Department of Community Affairs (DCA) for the installation and anchorage of a manufactured home on other than permanent foundation.

619.07 Permanent Foundation.

“Permanent foundation” means a support system installed partially or entirely below grade and capable of transferring all design loads imposed by or upon the structure into soil or bedrock without failure; at an adequate depth below grade to prevent frost damage; constructed of material approved by the Commissioner, Department of Community Affairs.

620. Public Utility Property.

Certain public utility companies pay taxes on their gross receipts for specified portions of their property in-lieu of local property taxes. But some property is locally assessable.

When the Franchise & Gross Receipts Tax Act was amended in 1997 the tax's structure changed. The 1997 amendments eliminated street railway, gas, electric light, heat, and power corporations from taxation under N.J.S.A.54:30A-49 et seq. Gas, electric light, heat and power corporations became subject to Corporation Business Taxes, Sales and Use Taxes, the Uniform Transitional Utility Assessment, and the temporary Transitional Energy Facility Assessment (TEFA) which expired in December 2013.

Public water and sewerage utility companies remain as the only utilities taxable under the Franchise & Gross Receipts Act. Therefore, some formerly local property tax exempted property which had been subject to Gross Receipts Tax may be returned to the assessment rolls.

620.01 Property Assessed Locally.

The following public utility property should be valued by the assessor and taxed locally for the benefit of the taxing district.

1. All property, real and personal, exclusive of inventories, of telephone and telegraph companies and messenger system companies. A "local exchange telephone company" as defined in N.J.S.A.54:4-1 means a telecommunications carrier providing dial tone and access to 51% of a local telephone exchange.

2. The land and buildings of all privately owned public water and sewerage utility companies.
3. All real property of public utilities other than water and sewerage, including transmission pipelines.

620.02 Property Not Assessed Locally.

The following public utility property should not be assessed locally since it is exempted in return for payment of a tax on gross receipts.

1. All property of water and sewerage companies, except land and buildings. Such items as pipes, conduits, bridges, viaducts, dams and reservoirs, machinery, apparatus and equipment, despite any attachment thereof to the lands or buildings are not assessable by the local assessor. However, lands under dams and reservoirs are assessable real property.

620.03 Taxation.

Public utility property which is assessable locally is taxed at the General Tax Rate of the taxing district for the benefit of the taxing district.

Public Utility Franchise Tax applies to all water and sewerage companies having lines and mains along, in, on, or over any public thoroughfare. The Public Utility Gross Receipts Tax is in addition to the Franchise Tax and is in-lieu of the local taxation of certain water and sewerage companies. Both taxes are payable to the State in three installments in May, August and November. Revenues are deposited into the Energy Tax Receipts Property Tax Relief Fund and distributed to municipalities subject to State Budget considerations.

620.05 Private Water Companies.

Prior to the tax year 1962, all real and tangible personal property of privately-owned water companies was assessed locally. After 1962 land and buildings remained assessable while other property was subject to a tax on gross receipts. However, each water company in existence during 1961 is required to pay to the municipality where its property is located a sum of money each year equal to the difference between what the municipality receives in Gross Receipts Taxes from the water company and the total amount of property taxes paid by that company in 1961 on its scheduled property.

621. Railroad Property.

621.01 Assessor’s Responsibility.

Municipal assessors do not assess property used for railroad purposes. However, real property owned by railroad companies, but not used for railroad purposes, is assessed by the local assessor as of October 1 of the pretax year in the same manner as the property of any other owner. The State of New Jersey, Property Administration annually levies and assesses railroad property for both property tax and franchise tax.

621.02 Historical.

The first general New Jersey Railroad Tax Law dates back to 1948 when railroad property was assessed by the State and local government. In 1941, the basic structure for the present tax law was adopted and provided for both a property tax based on market value and a franchise tax on net railway operating income allocated to New Jersey using a trackage formula. Under the Railroad Tax Law of 1948 as amended, railroad property is subject to tax annually where the property is used for the transportation of persons or freight by a railroad that is in railroad use, regardless of the ownership or possession of the real property.

621.03 Railroad Property Tax - Property Classified.

The Railroad Tax Law currently provides for the division of railroad property into three classes for taxation purposes:

CLASS I – Main Stem is the roadbed not exceeding 100 feet in width...together with all tracks, appurtenances, ballast, ballast gravel or broken stone laid in a railroad bed, and structures erected on it and used in connection with it but not including passenger or freight buildings.

CLASS II – is other real estate used for railroad purposes...including the roadbed (other than main stem and facilities used in passenger service), tracks, buildings, water tanks, riparian rights, docks, wharves and piers, etc. used for freight except lands not used for railroad purposes.

CLASS III – is facilities used in passenger services; land, stations, terminals, roadbeds, track appurtenances, ballast and all other structures used in railroad passenger service, including signal systems, power systems, equipment storage, repair and service facilities.

Tangible Personal Property – is the rolling stock, cars, locomotives, ferryboats, all machinery and tools.

Assessment.

The Railroad Property Tax is a State tax on Class II property. 621.07 Disposition of Revenues.

Since 1995, payments to municipalities have been paid on Class II railroad properties owned by New Jersey Transit Corporation through the Consolidated Municipal Property Tax Relief Aid Program (CMPTRA) administered by the Department of Community Affairs.

621.08 Replacement Revenue.

Prior to 1967, the Director of the Division of Taxation certified to municipalities the value of Class II railroad property located in their boundaries for inclusion on their tax rolls. As a result of legislation enacted in 1966, municipalities no longer receive certified values from the Director. Each municipality affected by the elimination of taxes assessed on railroad purpose property receives replacement revenue from the State in an amount not less than the revenue which was derived by the municipality from Class II railroad property in tax year 1966. If additional facilities used in passenger service are put into service by a railroad company, the amount of in-lieu of tax payment is increased in accordance with a legislative formula. Where real property is withdrawn from railroad use the in-lieu of property tax payment is reduced. No State aid has been paid since calendar year 1982, except for 1984-1994 payments to those municipalities in which Class II railroad property owned by New Jersey Transit Corporation is located (P.L. 1984, c.58).

621.09 Taxes are In-Lieu of Other Property Taxes.

All taxes collected from property used for railroad purposes as described above are in-lieu of all other State or local taxes, other than special assessments for improvements benefits.

621.10 Limitation on In-Lieu of Property Tax Payment.

State payments are to be paid annually to each municipality having qualified real property in railroad use. However, no State payment is made to any municipality where payment, as adjusted, is less than $1,000.

All offices and franchises, and all property used for railroad or canal purposes by a railroad or canal company subject under any other law of this State to a franchise tax imposed upon it for the privilege of operating within this State, are exempt from taxation under this chapter, i.e., N.J.S.A. 54:4-1 et seq.

622.01 Description.

The Railroad Franchise Tax is levied upon railroads (or systems of railroads) operating within New Jersey. The tax base is that portion of the road's (or system's) net railway operating income of the preceding year allocated to New Jersey. The allocating factor is the ratio of the number of miles of all track in this State to the total number of miles of all track over which the railroad or system operates.

622.02 Annual Railroad Franchise Tax Rate.

The annual franchise tax is assessed at a rate of 10% of the net operating income of the railroad system for the preceding calendar year allocated in proportion to the number of miles of all track over which the railroad system operates in this State bears to the total number of miles of track over which it operates. A minimum tax of $100 is assessed where total or gross operating revenues are less than $1 million and $4,000 tax where gross revenues are more than $1 million in the preceding year.

Chapter 7 Personal Property Assessment

701. What is Personal Property?

As a general rule, personal property is property which is not attached to the land or to a building, structure, or improvement in a permanent manner. It includes movable machinery or equipment which is not constructed as an integral part of a building, structure, or super-structure, and which is removable without material injury. The line of demarcation between real and personal property is not always clear. For example, a fixture is a tangible thing, which previously was personal property, and which has been attached to or installed in land or a structure on the land in such a way as to become a part of the real property. The legal interpretation of what constitutes a fixture varies among states. In doubtful cases, assessors should consult their municipal attorneys for guidance. (See Chapter II HANDBOOK for N.J. ASSESSORS for Three-Pronged Test: Real v. Personal.)

702. Constitutional and Statutory History.

The Constitution of New Jersey provides that all property must be assessed under general laws and by uniform rules, but it does not hold personal property to the “same standard of value” requirement applicable to real property. Historically, the Legislature provided for differing treatment for several categories of tangible personal property.

Prior to 1966, almost all tangible personal property such as household personal property and personal effects; personal property not used in business other than household personal property; personal property, except inventories, used in the business of local exchange telephone, telegraph and messenger systems companies; and personal property used in all other types of business, except inventories, motor vehicles and farm personal property was taxable locally. With the exception of local exchange telephone property which remains taxable, local assessment was entirely eliminated by 1967 and this type of personalty continues to be non-taxable.

In 1966, the Legislature enacted a state-assessed Business Personal Property Tax. This tax was repealed in 1993 by P.L. 1993, c. 174.

“Intangible personal property” such as cash, accounts receivable, and securities has not been taxable under the property tax laws of this State since 1945.

In 1992, the Business Retention Act (P.L. 1992, c. 24) subjected certain personal property of petroleum refineries to tax as personalty.

Local Exchange Telephones-

At the present time, there are two types of personal property assessed by the municipal assessor. The first is machinery and equipment, exclusive of inventories, used in the business of “local exchange telephone companies.” “Local exchange telephone companies” are defined as telecommunications carriers providing dial tone and access to 51% of a local telephone exchange. Personal property of this type, except for inventories, is assessed at the local level, placed on the Tax List and becomes part of the taxable ratables of the municipality in which it is situated.

In a recent constitutional challenge to N.J.S.A. 54:4-1, the State Tax Court in Verizon New Jersey, Inc. v. Hopewell Borough, decided June 26, 2012, upheld the statute’s constitutionality. The Court also ruled that determination of the percentage test (51% of a local telephone exchange) which defines subjectivity to the personal property tax is annual as of the assessment date, rather than as of the fixed date in 1997 when the statute was amended. In 2019 the State Tax Court in Verizon New Jersey v. Hopewell Borough adopted a definition of the local telephone exchange as the geographic area depicted on exchange maps filed with Verizon’s tariff. The Court found Verizon continued to furnish in excess of 51% of the dial tone access in the Hopewell Telephone Exchange as of January 1, 2008. The Tax Court affirmed the imposition of the business personal property tax under N.J.S.A. 54:4-1 for tax year 2009.

Petroleum Refineries

The second type of assessable personal property is the machinery, apparatus or equipment of a petroleum refinery that is directly used to manufacture petroleum products from crude oil in any series of petroleum refining processes commencing with the introduction of crude oil and ending with refined petroleum products. But, machinery, apparatus or equipment which are located in the grounds of a petroleum refinery which are not directly used to refine crude oil into petroleum products are not assessable.

703. Local Assessment.

703.01 Taxable Situs.

Personal property is to be taxed in the taxing district where it is permanently located. This is a question of fact which must be resolved based on the specific circumstances in each case. Situs for tax purposes does not include property found temporarily, casually or in mere transition in the community.

703.02 Value Standard.

True value is the standard at which certain telephone and petroleum refinery personal property is to be assessed. True value is the original cost of the personal property, less depreciation as of the assessment date, i.e., January 1 pretax year, as shown on the books of the personal property owner. The true value of the personal property to be reported by the taxpayer may not be less than 20% of its original cost as long as it remains in use.

N.J.S.A. 54:4-2.44, 54:4-2.45 and 2.46

703.03 Assessment Date.

True value or net book value of personal property is to be determined annually as of January 1. This date is the date as of which assessment is to be made with respect to the taxes payable in the succeeding year.

EXAMPLE:
Assessment date is January 1, 2019 for personal property taxes to be put on the 2020 Tax List.

703.04 Reportable Value.

The value of depreciable personal property for federal income tax purposes for the year immediately prior to the tax year for which the PT-10 or PT-10.1 Return Form is filed is the value which must be reported. This value is the basis for calculation of the taxable value of this property. (See line 8 of these forms).

703.05 Property Depreciated Below 80% of Original Cost but Not Fully Depreciated.

The difference between 20% of the original cost of the personal property and the amount reported with the original total of depreciated personal property but depreciated below 80% of its original cost, must be reported on the PT-10 and PT-10.1 Return Form (See line 6).

703.07 Tax Calculation and Tax Date to be Applied.

The method of calculating the taxable value differs depending on whether or not a revaluation or reassessment was implemented for the year.

Where no revaluation or reassessment has been implemented, the lower of the county percentage level (100%) or the Director's Ratio promulgated October 1 of the pretax year must be multiplied times the net book value (line 8, Form PT-10 or PT-10.1) reported by the taxpayer.

Where a revaluation or reassessment has been implemented, the percentage level (100%) must be multiplied times the net book value (line 8, Form PT-10 and PT-10.1) reported by the taxpayer.

The taxable value of personal property is to be multiplied by and taxed at the general tax rate of the taxing district in which such personal property is found.

Filing Returns.

Return Forms PT-10.1, Return of Machinery Apparatus or Equipment of a Petroleum Refinery, and PT-10, Return of Tangible Personal Property used in Business by Local Exchange Telephone Company, are required to be filed with the municipal assessor annually. The forms are promulgated by the Director of the Division of Taxation and furnished to taxpayers by the Local Property Branch. Separate returns must be filed with each municipal assessor where tangible personal property is “found.” Found means situated in a taxing district where it has acquired a permanent location.

703.09

Filing Due Date, Late Filing and Penalties.

The Return Forms PT-10 and/or PT-10.1 must be filed by the taxpayer on or before September 1 of the pretax year with the assessor of the taxing district in which personal property is located.

When returns are not timely filed by pretax year September 1, penalties are to be assessed at $100 for each day the form remains unfiled. However, the total penalty may not exceed 25% of the amount of the tax, or $100 whichever is greater. Penalties are to be assessed by the assessor and become a part of the tax which is payable to and recoverable by the tax collector.

N.J.S.A. 54:4-2.48

703.10 Extended Filing Deadline.

The assessor may, upon request made on or before September 1 of the pretax year, provided good cause is shown, extend the time to file a Form PT-10 or PT.10.1 for a 2-month period.

703.11 Non - filing.

Where a taxpayer refuses or neglects to file Return Form PT-10 or PT-10.1, the assessor should value the taxable personal property using any information available to him/her to reasonably determine the property's value. The assessor and County Tax Board have the power to subpoena any person or corporate officer to appear and produce any books and papers concerning the taxable property. If a person refuses to comply with the subpoena, the assessor may apply to the Superior Court or County Court for an order compelling appearance. The person subpoenaed may be examined under oath by the assessor.

703.12 Assessor Review and Placement on Tax List.

Chapter 8 Partial, Added and Omitted Assessments

801. Partial and Added Assessments.

All real property must be valued as of October 1 of the pretax year for the next calendar tax year. For structures under construction on pretax year October 1, the assessment is a “partial assessment” based on the portion of final value present on that date. The Added Assessment is based on the value added between October 1 and the date the structure is completed.

REFERENCES:
N.J.S.A. 54:4-23 and 54:4-35

801.01 Purpose.

The Added Assessment Law permits the valuation of real property which becomes taxable during the year after the regular assessment date of pretax year October 1. If there were no Added Assessment Law, many properties would escape taxation until the next regular assessment date.

REFERENCES:
N.J.S.A. 54:4-63.1 et seq.

801.02 Property Taxable.

Two types of property are affected by the Added Assessment Law.

1. Structural Changes. New structures, additions to existing structures, and improvements of existing structures are subject to the Added Assessment Law if they are completed after the statutory annual October 1 assessment date. A structure is “completed” when it is substantially ready for the purpose for which it was intended. The structure need not actually be in use; it is taxable when it is ready for use.

2a. Exempt Properties becoming Taxable. Real property which ceases to be exempt because of changes in use, ownership, nonprofit status or anything which alters the basis for exemption, may make the property subject to the Added Assessment Law.

2b. Real Property Sold by a Municipality. Exempt real property sold by a municipality to a non-exempt owner is treated as an Added Assessment in the same manner as structures completed during the year.

Disallowance/Appeal Notice. Upon reinstating formerly exempt property to the tax rolls, the assessor is required to give notice to the owner. The court has held that failure to provide notice is a violation of due process and any resulting Added or Omitted Assessment is invalid.

Declining Markets. In a declining market, it is possible that a structural change that “normally” would have increased the assessed value and generated an Added Assessment may not. If this is the case, the property’s structural changes must be recorded on the Property Record Card.

801.03 Taxable Properties Becoming Exempt.

In Schizophrenia Foundation of New Jersey v. Montgomery Township, the Superior Court, Appellate Division held that a nonprofit corporation organized for charitable purposes was entitled to property tax exemption for new construction and invalidated the Added Assessment even though the building was not qualified for exemption on October 1 of the pretax year. The Appellate Court ruled that the tax status of property which would have been subject to the Added Assessment Law but that would be exempt upon completion should be ascertained as of the date of the final assessment. This means that the use of the property as of completion determines when an exemption claim is made regarding an Added Assessment. If exempt, an Added Assessment is not permitted. However, partial assessments prior to completion are permitted.

802. Omitted – Added Assessments.

802.01 Purpose.

The courts have held that Added Assessments which, through error, are not made at the proper time may be placed on the tax rolls using the Omitted Assessment procedure.

N.J.S.A. 54:4-63.3 does not permit added assessments for the year in which an improvement is discovered. Rather, added assessments are made for the tax year in which an improvement is completed. When an assessor fails to discover an improvement in the year in which it is completed, he or she may, in the following year, make an omitted added assessment.

803. Omitted Assessments.

803.01 Purpose.

The Omitted Assessment Law permits the valuation of real property for tax purposes which, through error, is omitted from assessment during the current tax year and the year immediately prior to the current tax year. The Omitted Assessment procedure is also used for valuation and tax collection rollback procedures under the Farmland Assessment Act. Two valuation procedures are available: the regular or original method and the alternate method. For purposes of rollback tax under Farmland Assessment the regular / original method must be used.

803.02 Original, Regular Method vs. Alternate Method for Omitted Assessments.

The Alternate Method does not supersede the Original, Regular Method. Under the “Original Method” for Omitted Assessments, written application is made to the County Tax Board, with notice to the taxpayer, and the Board renders a judgment at hearing as to whether the assessor’s valuation is correct. If the County Board of Taxation judgment indicates that a property was omitted from assessment for a particular year, the assessor must enter the property and the assessment as per the judgment on the Omitted Assessment List which is filed, with a Duplicate, with the County Board of Taxation on the next October 1. Under the “Alternate Method” the assessor first levies the Omitted Assessment, and then sends notice to the taxpayer and the County Tax Board with no hearing, unless the taxpayer files a timely appeal. Regardless of the method used Omitted Assessments always cover a full calendar year.

804. Determining Added and Omitted Assessments

804.01 Limited Opportunity to Apply Added and Omitted Assessments, Untimely Added and Omitted Assessments May be Lost.

In a 2005, New Jersey Tax Court decision concerning belated valuation, Van Orden v. Township of Wyckoff, the court referenced an earlier decision, Glen Pointe Associates v. Township of Teaneck. In Glen Pointe, the Tax Court concluded that a three-month prorated assessment for 1984 for improvements completed in 1984 could be imposed as an Omitted - Added Assessment in 1985. The court found, however, that a full-year assessment for 1985 could not be sustained as an Added Assessment “because it was not imposed for a year in which the property was substantially completed within the purview of N.J.S.A. 54:4-63.3.” The court further found that the 1985 assessment could not be sustained as an Omitted Assessment. Judge Crabtree reasoned: (paraphrasing)

While an addition was in fact constructed and was properly the subject of an Added Assessment for the last three months of 1984, because the entire structure was completed and ready for its intended use prior to October 1, 1984, and the property was not omitted as a taxable line item, the assessor simply failed to consider the full value of the subject as of the assessing date for the 1985 tax year. The situation is an erroneous determination of value on the assessing date which the assessor inappropriately attempts to correct using Added and Omitted procedures.

In the foregoing scenario, a full regular assessment should have been made as of pretax year October 1, 1984 for calendar tax year 1985. No Added or Omitted Assessment procedure should have been employed.

Again, timing is everything. In American Hydro Power Partners v. Clifton, the Tax Court held “Neither city, county board, nor Director of Taxation properly complied with Added Assessment statutes, and thus, Added Assessment for property leased by operator of dam and hydroelectric plant was invalid, where Added Assessment was made six to seven weeks after date prescribed by statute, county board failed to deliver certified duplicate of Added Assessment List to tax collector until after date mandated, tax collector was unable to deliver tax bill one week prior to deadline as required, and property owner did not receive tax bill until ten days after expiration of time for appeal to county board.”

Van Orden v. Twp. of Wyckoff, 22 N.J. Tax 31 (Tax Court 2005).

804.02 Missed Added Assessments.

Where taxing districts fail to comply with statutory requirements concerning Added Assessments, failure may be corrected by proper, timely use of Omitted Assessment statutes.

804.03 Added & Omitted Assessments Not to be Used to Correct Inaccurate Valuation.

In Freehold Borough v. Nestle USA, the Tax Court ruled that Omitted-Added Assessments and Added Assessments in fictitious amounts of $1, predicated on the fact that the assessor had not made a determination as to completion dates of underlying improvements on taxpayer's property, were invalid; assessments were made contrary to the statutory scheme for Added Assessments.

In 200 43rd Street, LLC v. City of Union City, the Tax Court held that the assessor's deliberate decision to assign zero value to partly completed improvements because of a prior sewer ban on new development represented a deliberate judgment that could not be corrected under the Omitted Assessment law upon discovery that the ban no longer existed.

804.04 Value to be Used when Exempt Property Becomes Taxable.

Real property which ceases to be exempt is not revalued by the assessor at the time exemption is lost. The property value on the annual January 10 Exempt Property List must be continued for the balance of the tax year. Therefore, a realistic value must be determined for all exempt property so that the correct taxes will be calculated on the assessment should the property become taxable.

804.05 Locating Added and Omitted Assessments-Information Sources.

Assessors should check:

- Building permits. Building permits usually indicate the creation of new property values. Assessors and building inspectors should work together to keep the assessor informed of all new permits issued. Assessors should follow-up on every building permit. However, assessors should remember that the dollar value listed on the permit may not accurately reflect the value of the construction underway. For each construction job for which a building permit is issued the following should be obtained:
 1. Location of the property by block and lot number.
 2. Name and address of the owner.
 3. Name of the contractor.
 4. Nature of the job.
 5. Diagram of the structure with dimensions.
 6. Type of construction and other specifications.
 7. Reported estimate of cost.
 8. Amount of the present assessment.
 9. Date of completion.
 10. Added Assessment made upon completion and new total assessment.

- Abstracts of Deeds and Further Statements, Forms F.S. Abstracts of deeds and Further Statements help the assessor identify properties which have lost their exempt status.

- Other Information Sources.

- Subdivisions- Deeds or Plots, Property Conversions- Condominiums, Cooperatives (Co-Ops).
- Changes in the use of exempt property may be indicated in newspaper articles.
- Realtors (MLS) and other persons familiar with property use in the community are sources of information.
- The Certificate of Occupancy (CO), required by ordinance in many municipalities, may give the assessor a convenient check on the date on which a property is completed and ready for use. However, failure to qualify for CO does not, per se, mean a building is not ready for occupancy for tax assessment purposes.

Calculation.

New Jersey Foreign Trade Zone Venture v. Mt. Olive Township, confirms the calculation of Added Assessments as:

1. Determine the taxable value of the entire property including the improvement which triggered the Added Assessment, that is, as completed (land and improvements combined);
2. Then subtract the prior existing October 1 assessment;
3. The difference is the Added Assessment;
4. The Added Assessment may then need to be prorated for the balance of the year.

Van Orden v. Wyckoff, 22 N.J. Tax 31(Tax Court 2005) upholds the Foreign Trade Zone decision in that the entire property value is used, not an incremental value for an addition or improvement.

Calculating an Added Assessment

New Assessment – Original Assessment = Added Assessment

(IMPROVEMENT ONLY)

$182,000 – $150,000 = $32,000

Prorated for the months completed

Completed April 17

Taxed on 8 months (May 1 – Dec. 31)

8 months divided by 12 months times assessment = prorated value

$32,000 X 8/12 = $21,333 (prorated added assessment)

Structures Completed After October 1 and Before January 1 and/or Structures Completed Between January 1 and October 1 Following.

A new structure, or an addition to, or an alteration of an old structure, completed after October 1 and before January 1 or between January 1 and October 1, is valued as of the first day of the month following the date of completion. If the value on the first of the month is greater than the partial assessed value placed on the structure on October 1 of the pretax year, an Added Assessment for the value difference must be made.

Van Orden v. Township of Wyckoff, 22 N.J. Tax 31 (Tax Ct. 2005).

Three tax bills possible. Additions and alterations completed in this period require separate Added Assessments. A prorated Added Assessment would be determined for November and December of the year completed (or December only if the addition/alteration was completed in November) and/or for the number of full months in the next year following. The tax rate for the year of completion is applied against this Added Assessment. Another Added Assessment would be levied for the full 12 months beginning with January 1 following the date of completion of the addition/alteration. The tax rate for the year following the year of completion is applied to the 12-month Added Assessment.

Structures Completed After October 1 and Before January 1

EXAMPLE 1

A $ 245,000 structure started March 1, 2010, is 80% complete on October 1, 2010. The remaining 20% is completed on October 25, 2010. A partial assessment would be made as of October 1, 2010 and placed on the 2011 Tax List as follows:

Land		Partial Improvement 80% completed		Total
$ 100,000	+	$ 196,000	=	$ 296,000

2011 Added Assessment will be levied in the amount of $49,000 for the full twelve months of 2011, and will be placed on the Added Assessment List for 2011. The $49,000 figure is the difference between the full taxable value of the structure completed ($ 245,000) and the partial assessment of ($ 196,000) as of October 1 of the pretax year.

2010 Added Assessment filed in 2011 for the full value of the completed structure prorated for the remaining two months November and December of 2010 would be levied as:

Land	Partial Added Improvement	Prorated Assessment
-----	$245,000 ($245,000 x 2/12 = $40,833)	$40,833

To reflect the assessment of the value added between October 1, 2010 and October 25, 2010, two separate Added Assessments are required, both of which will be filed with the County Board of Taxation on October 1, 2011.

The property owner would receive (3) tax bills during 2011 as follows:

- a. a tax bill based on the partial $ 296,000 assessment ($100,000 for Land; $ 196,000 - Building, partial) computed by applying the 2011 tax rate;
- b. a second tax bill based on the Added Assessment of $49,000 for the full twelve months of 2011 computed by applying the 2011 rate.
- c. a third tax bill based on the 2010 prorated Added Assessment of $40,833, computed by applying the 2010 tax rate.

EXAMPLE 2

A fully completed property is originally assessed as of October 1, 2010 and placed on the 2011 Tax List as follows:

Land	Improvement	Total
$ 50,000	$150,000	$ 200,000

An improvement to this structure is completed on October 20, 2010, on which there is an Added Assessment of $40,000 before proration.

Land	Improvement	Total
-----	$40,000	$40,000

To reflect the assessment of the improvement completed October 20, 2010, two separate Added Assessments will be required, both of which will be filed with the County Board of Taxation on October 1, 2011. A prorated Added Assessment will be determined for November and December, 2010, in the amount of $6,667 — ($$40,000 \times 2/12 = $6,667^*$) - covering the two-month period remaining in Tax Year 2010, and will be placed on a list known as the “Added Assessment List, 2010”. Another Added Assessment will be levied in the amount of $40,000 for the full twelve months of 2011, and will be placed on the Added Assessment List for 2011.

The owner of the property will receive three (3) tax bills during 2011 as follows:

1. a tax bill based on the original $200,000 assessment computed by applying the 2011 tax rate;
2. a second tax bill based on the Added Assessment of $40,000 for the full twelve months of 2011 computed by applying the 2011 rate;
3. a third tax bill based on the 2010 prorated Added Assessment of $6,667. The amount of the tax is computed by applying the 2010 tax rate.

NOTE: Due to computerization the prorated Added Assessment is rounded to the nearest dollar.

Structures Completed During the Tax Year- After January 1 and Before October 1

EXAMPLE 1

A $400,000 structure started on April 3, 2010, is 90% complete on October 1, 2010. The remaining 10% is completed on June 16, 2011. The partial assessment of $360,000 is made as of October 1, 2010. An Added Assessment of $20,000 ($$40,000 \times 6/12$) should be made as of July 1, 2011, and placed on the 2011 Added Assessment List filed with the County Board of Taxation on October 1, 2011.

EXAMPLE 2

A $200,000 structure, started August 1, 2010, is 60% complete on October 1, 2010. The remaining 40% is completed on March 22, 2011. The 2011 partial assessment on the structure is $120,000. An Added Assessment of $60,000 ($$80,000 \times 9/12$) would be made as of April 1, 2011 and entered on the 2011 Added Assessment List to be filed on October 1, 2011. The regular taxes due on the improvement for 2011 would be the 2011 tax rate times the partial assessment, $120,000. The added taxes, due on November 1, 2011, would be the 2011 tax rate times the prorated Added Assessment, $60,000.

804.08 Added Assessments.

Added Assessments should be determined throughout the year as new properties become taxable. If assessors continually check all construction and property transfers, the compilation of data for the Added Assessment List will be more manageable. Assessments subsequent to October 1 and prior to December 1 of the tax year are to be prorated for the remaining whole months in that year and placed on a separate Added Assessment List for that year, to be filed with the County Board of Taxation on October 1 of the following year. Property becoming taxable in this time period is subject also to Added Assessment for the full 12 months of the following year.

804.09 Omitted- Added Assessments.

The omission of an Added Assessment may be brought to the attention of the County Board of Taxation by the filing of an omitted property complaint. The County Tax Board must follow the Original Regular Method of notice, hearing, and judgment. If the judgment is issued prior to December 31, sustaining the validity of the complaint, the Added Assessment should be placed on the Omitted Property Assessment List filed with the County Board on the next October 1 following rendering of the judgment by the Tax Board. The taxes due on the following November 1 are calculated by multiplying the Omitted /Added Assessment by the tax rate for the year in which the Added Assessment should have been filed. It is possible that the taxes for a 2010 Omitted-Added Assessment might not be due until November 1, 2012.

Generally, the assessor must enter all Added and Omitted Assessments on an Added Assessment List and an Omitted Assessment List, filed with a Duplicate, with the County Board of Taxation annually on October 1 of the calendar tax year.

805.03 Added and Omitted Assessment Lists- County Tax Board.

Generally, the County Board of Taxation reviews and makes any necessary corrections to the Added and Omitted Assessment Lists and Duplicates submitted by the assessor, and on or before October 10, must deliver the corrected Duplicate to the assessor and tax collector.

805.05 Tax Rates for Added and Omitted Assessments.

The tax rate used to calculate the Added or Omitted Assessment should be the rate applicable to the valuation year, not the year in which the Added or Omitted Assessment was filed. The collector must issue bills to the taxpayers at least one week prior to November 1 of the tax year. Bills are payable on November 1, and are delinquent if not paid by that date. Estimated tax rates may not be used to calculate Added and Omitted Assessments. Municipalities must have an actual tax rate to file an Added or Omitted Assessment List.

805.06 Notice to Taxpayers.

Because of the short time between the issuance of Added and Omitted Assessment tax bills and the tax payment date, in the interests of good public relations and transparency, assessors should make every effort to notify taxpayers of any Added or Omitted Assessments and the probable tax due as soon as the amount can be estimated. Although the County Tax Board must send a copy of its judgment to the owner of an omitted property, the assessor will improve public relations if he/she makes sure that the owner understands that taxes will be due on November 1, only a few days after he/she receives his/her tax bill.

805.07 Appeals of Added and Omitted Assessments Alternate Method.

Added and Omitted Assessments may be appealed to the County Board of Taxation on or before December 1 of the tax year or 30 days from the date the tax collector completes the bulk mailing of the tax bills, whichever is later. The County Tax Board must hear appeals and render judgments within one month after the last day for filing such appeals. If the taxpayer is dissatisfied with the judgment of the Board, he/she may file a further appeal to the State Tax Court of New Jersey within 45 days. An appeal may be made directly to the Tax Court within that time if the assessed value exceeds $750,000. Except for the filing dates, all appeals of Added Assessments and Omitted Assessments Alternate Method follow the same procedures for regular appeals from real property assessments, as outlined in the Tax Appeals chapter of this Handbook.

805.08 Complaint Under Original, Regular Omitted Assessment Procedure.

An Omitted Assessment may be initiated by the municipal assessor, County Board of Taxation through a resolution, or a complaint filed with the Board by the tax collector, municipal governing body, or a taxpayer. The complaint or resolution must specify the property and the year in which it is alleged to have been omitted from assessment. The collector presents the complaints and appears before the County Tax Board. The assessor should take the initiative in notifying the governing body which may then file the complaint of any omitted properties he/she discovers. When the assessor files a complaint, the Board must provide notice of the complaint to the tax collector.

805.09 County Tax Board Action for Omitted Assessments Original, Regular Method.

Upon receiving an Omitted Assessment complaint, the County Board of Taxation schedules a hearing. At least 15 days' notice of the hearing must be given in writing to the owner of the property alleged to have been omitted. The notice must indicate the time and place of the hearing and identify the property and year of assessment. Notice must be sent by certified mail. After hearing the complaint, the County Tax Board renders judgment as to the validity of the complaint, sets the amount of the assessment, and forwards copies of the judgment to the assessor and the property owner. The amount of the Omitted Assessment is then entered on the Omitted Assessment List by the assessor.

805.10 Judgments Rendered After October 1.

It has been held that for an Omitted Assessment to be effective for the year it is discovered and reported, and for the year prior to the year it is reported, a judgment of the County Board of Taxation establishing the Omitted Assessment must be rendered during the year of discovery of the omission. Merely filing a complaint with the County Board of Taxation prior to the end of the year of discovery will not suffice for a full two-year pick-up of property omitted from assessment. The time limitation for pick-up of an omitted property is computed from the time of the judgment of the County Board of Taxation. If a judgment for an Omitted Assessment is not rendered by the County Board of Taxation until after October 1, the Omitted Assessment is entered on the Omitted Assessment List filed the following October 1, and taxes are not due until November 1 subsequent to that date.

806. Key Dates for Added and Omitted Assessments.

806.01 Valuation and Assessment.

- Added- N.J.S.A.54:4-63.2 & N.J.S.A.54:4-63.3 provides, when real property is erected, added to, or improved after October first in any year and completed before January first following OR erected, added to, or improved after October first and completed between January first and October first following, the assessor determines the taxable value as of the first day of the month following completion and enters the amount on an added assessment list for that portion of the pretax year between the first day of the month following completion and December thirty-first and also for the subsequent year.

To calculate: multiply the added assessment amount by the number of whole months remaining in the pretax year or in the calendar year after completion and divide the result by 12 [months].

- Omitted, Alternate- N.J.S.A.54:4-63.31 provides, the taxable value of property which was omitted in any tax year or in the next succeeding tax year is determined by the assessor based on its value as of October first of the preceding year.
- Omitted, Original- N.J.S.A.54:4-63.12 provides, the taxable value of property which was omitted in any year or in the next succeeding year may be assessed by the county board of taxation.

806.02 Listing and Filing the Assessment.

- Added - N.J.S.A.54:4-63.5 provides, on October first following, [i.e., of the calendar tax year] the assessor files the added assessment list and the assessor's added assessment duplicate with the county board of taxation.

The county tax board then examines, revises and corrects both lists and duplicates and on or before October tenth causes the added assessment duplicates to be delivered to the collectors of the taxing districts in the county. The added assessment lists remain with the county tax board.

- Omitted, Alternate - N.J.S.A.54:4-63.32 and N.J.S.A. 54:4-63.35 provides, on October first the assessor files the assessor's omitted list and the assessor's omitted assessment duplicate with the county board of taxation. The county tax board then examines, revises and corrects the lists and on or before October tenth causes the omitted assessment duplicates to be delivered to the assessors and collectors of the taxing districts in the county. After the assessor's receipt of the Board certified list, the assessor must send the property owner by certified mail a notice of omitted assessment. The omitted assessment lists remain with the county tax board.

- Omitted, Original - N.J.S.A.54:4-63.17 provides, on October first the assessor files the omitted assessment list and the assessor's omitted assessment duplicate with the county board of taxation, where prior to October first, the county tax board rendered a judgment assessing the omitted property for that year or the preceding year.

The county board of taxation then examines, revises and corrects the lists and on or before October tenth causes the omitted assessment duplicates to be delivered to the collectors of the taxing districts in the county. The omitted assessment lists remain with the county tax board.

806.03

Billing.

- Added- N.J.S.A.54:4-63.7 & Omitted, Alternate- N.J.S.A.54:4-63.36 & Omitted, Original- N.J.S.A.54:4-63.19 requires the collector of the taxing district to prepare, complete, mail or otherwise deliver tax bills to the individuals assessed for added assessments and for omitted assessments and to complete that work at least one week before November first.

806.04

Payment Due.

- Added- N.J.S.A.54:4-63.8 & Omitted, Alternate-N.J.S.A.54:4-63.37 provides, taxes on added assessments and on omitted assessments under the alternate procedure are due and payable on November first of the year of the levy after which date, if unpaid, they become delinquent.
- Omitted, Original- N.J.S.A.54:4-63.20 provides, taxes on omitted assessments under the original procedure are due and payable on November first following the rendering of a judgment by the county board of taxation, provided the judgment is rendered prior to October first of that year.

When the county tax board judgment is rendered after October first and prior to December thirty-first, the taxes are due and payable November first of the following year after which date, if unpaid, they become delinquent.

Appeals.

- Added- N.J.S.A.54:4-63.11 & Omitted, Alternate- N.J.S.A.54:4-63.39 provides, appeals from added assessments and assessor's omitted assessments under the alternate procedure may be made to the county board of taxation, or the State Tax Court directly if over $750,000, on or before December first of the year of levy, or 30 days from the date the collector of the taxing district completes the bulk mailing of tax bills for added and omitted assessments, whichever is later.[Under the added and alternate omitted procedures the assessments are placed on the respective lists before appeals, if any, are made.]

The county tax board hears and determines all such appeals within one month after the last day for filing such appeals. Appeals to the Tax Court resulting from county tax board judgments must be made within forty-five (45) days of the board’s judgment.

- Omitted, Original- N.J.S.A.54:63.13 provides, appeals from omitted assessments under the original procedure may be made by the assessor, tax collector, governing body, county tax board or taxpayer of the taxing district. [Under the original omitted procedure the assessments can be placed on the omitted assessment list only after they are presented to the county tax board at appeal.] Written notice must be given to the property owner at least 15 days prior to the hearing. Rollback taxes under Farmland Assessment may only be applied using this procedure.

807. Examples.

Current Year Added Assessment

A new office building was started in July 2010. On the October 1 assessing date, it was 60% complete. An assessment of $1,200,000 for the partially completed structure was placed on the 2011 Tax List.

On April 15, 2011, the structure was completed and the assessor determines the final improvement value on this date to be $2,000,000. The remaining 40% of the $2,000,000 will be placed on the 2011 Added Assessment List.

	New Assessment	2011 Tax List Assessment	2011 Current Year Added Assessment
Land	$ 500,000	$ 500,000	$-----
Building	$2,000,000	$1,200,000	$ 800,000
Total	$2,500,000	$1,700,000	$ 800,000

Description	New Office Building
Completion Date	4/15/2011
Months Assessed	8 months
Prorated Amount	$800,000 x 8/12 = $533,333
2011 Tax Rate	$4.25
Taxes Due	$ 22,666.65 ($533,333 x .0425) on Current Year Added Assessment

In this example, the taxpayer will receive 2 tax bills in 2011.

The first bill will be for the Tax List total of $1,700,000 computed with the 2011 tax rate.

The second bill will be for the 2011 current year prorated assessment of $533,333 computed with the 2011 tax rate.

Prior Year Added Assessment

A new garage was completed on November 28, 2010.

	New Assessment with garage	2010 Tax List Assessment	2010 Prior Year Added Assessment
Land	$ 30,000	$ 30,000	$-----
Building	$ 87,000	$ 80,000	$ 7,000
Total	$117,000	$110,000	$ 7,000

Since it is after the October 1 assessing date, the $7,000 assessment difference will be put on the 2011 Added Assessment List as both a 1 month prior year added assessment for the month of December and a 12 month current year Added Assessment.

This is split out so that taxes are paid on the correct year's rate.

Description	New Garage
Completion Date	11/28/2010
Months Assessed	1 month prior year and 12 month current year
Prorated Amount	$ 7,000 x 1/12 = $583
2010 Tax Rate	$ 3.75
Taxes Due	$ 21.86 ($583 x .0375) on Prior Year Added Assessment
2011 Tax Rate	$ 4.25
Taxes Due	$ 297.50 ($ 7,000 x .0425) on Current Year Added Assessment

In this example, the taxpayer will receive 3 tax bills in 2011.

The first bill will be for the Tax List total of $110,000 computed with the 2011 tax rate.

The second bill will be for the 12 months current year prorated assessment of $7,000 computed with the 2011 tax rate.

The third will be for the 1 month prior year prorated assessment of $583 computed with the 2010 tax rate.

Exempt to Taxable Ratable

On the 2011 Tax List an exempt property has a $ 235,000 assessment. The property sells and ceases to be exempt on May 23, 2011. Since there is a change in the taxable status, a current year Added Assessment will be placed on the 2011 Added Assessment List for 7 months. There is not an assessment change; the value on the Tax List is used as is.

	New Assessment	2011 Tax List Exempt Assessment	2011 Current Year Added Assessment
Land	$ 55,000	$ 55,000	$ 55,000
Building	$180,000	$180,000	$180,000
Total	$235,000	$235,000	$235,000

Description	Exempt to Ratable
Completion Date	5/23/2011
Months Assessed	7 months
Prorated Amount	$235,000 x 7/12 = $137,083
2011 Tax Rate	$4.25
Taxes Due	$ 5,826.03 ($137,083 x .0425) on Current Year Added Assessment

In this example, the tax payer will only receive 1 tax bill in 2011 for the 7 month current year Added Assessment computed with the 2011 tax rate. Since they were exempt on January 10, 2011, they did not receive an original tax bill.

Two (2) Added Assessments in 1 Year

1st Added Assessment

On June 5, 2011 a new pool was completed.

	June 5, 2011 Assessment	2011 Tax List Assessment	2011 Current Year Added Assessment
Land	$ 80,000	$ 80,000	$-----
Building	$235,000	$220,000	$ 15,000
Total	$315,000	$300,000	$ 15,000

Description	Pool
Completion Date	6/5/2011
Months Assessed	6 months
Prorated Amount	$15,000 x 6/12 = $7,500
2011 Tax Rate	$4.25
Taxes Due	$ 318.75 ($7,500 x .0425) on Current Year Added Assessment

2nd Added Assessment

On August 17, 2011 the same property completed a patio.

	August 17, 2011 Assessment	June 5, 2011 Assessment	2011 Current Year Added Assessment
Land	$ 80,000	$ 80,000	$-----
Building	$240,000	$235,000	$ 5,000
Total	$320,000	$315,000	$ 5,000

Description	Patio
Completion Date	8/17/2011
Months Assessed	4 months
Prorated Amount	$$5,000 \times 4/12 = $1,667$
2011 Tax Rate	$4.25
Taxes Due	$$ 70.85 ($1,667 \times .0425)$ on Current Year Added Assessment

In this example, the tax payer will receive 3 tax bills in 2011.

The first bill will be for the Tax List total of $300,000 computed with the 2011 tax rate.

The second bill will be for the 1st current year prorated assessment of $7,500 computed with the 2011 tax rate (pool).

The third bill will be for the 2nd current year prorated assessment of $1,667 computed with the 2011 tax rate (patio).

Omitted Added Assessment

A new addition was completed on May 21, 2010 creating an Added Assessment of $ 75,000.

However, the assessment difference of $75,000 was missed on the 2010 Added Assessment List. In October 2011 this difference will be put on the 2011 Omitted - Added Assessment List as a 7 month Omitted Added Assessment and taxed at the 2010 tax rate.

	New Assessment	2010 Tax List Assessment	2011 Omitted Added Assessment for 2010
Land	$ 45,000	$ 45,000	$-----
Building	$425,000	$350,000	$ 75,000
Total	$470,000	$395,000	$ 75,000

Description	Addition
Completion Date	5/21/2010
Months Assessed	7 months
Prorated Amount	$$75,000 \times 7/12 = $43,750$
2010 Tax Rate	$ 3.75
Taxes Due	$$ 1,640.63 ($43,750 \times .0375)$ on Omitted Added Assessment

Since the new addition was completed by the October 1, 2010 assessing date, the total updated 2011 assessment must be placed on the 2011 Tax List.

In this example, the taxpayer will receive a tax bill in 2010 and 2 tax bills in 2011.

The 2010 tax bill will be for the 2010 Tax List total of $395,000 computed with the 2010 tax rate.

The first bill in 2011 will be for the 2011 Tax List total of $470,000 computed with the 2011 tax rate.

The second bill in 2011 will be for the 2011 omitted added prorated assessment of $43,750 computed with the 2010 tax rate.

Omitted Assessment

In January 2011 there's a new subdivision placed on the Tax List. In April 2011 the assessor discovers that one of the lots was left off the Tax List completely. In October 2011 a 12 month current year Omitted Assessment will be placed on the 2011 Omitted Assessment List to create that new lot.

	New Assessment	2011 Tax List Assessment	2011 Omitted Assessment
Land	$ 25,000	$-----	$ 25,000
Building	$-----	$-----	$-----
Total	$ 25,000	$-----	$ 25,000

Description	Lot omitted from taxation
Months Assessed	12 months
Prorated Amount	$$25,000 \times 12/12 = $25,000$
2011 Tax Rate	$ 4.25
Taxes Due	$$ 1,062.50 ($25,000 \times .0425)$ on Current Year Omitted Assessment

In this example, the taxpayer will only receive 1 tax bill in 2011 for the 12 month current year Omitted Assessment computed with the 2011 tax rate.

NOTE: In other cases an Omitted Assessment can be picked up for 2 years. If a parcel was missed in 2010 and 2011, then a 12 month current year and 12 month prior year omitted would be placed on the 2011 Omitted Assessment List.

Chapter 9 Assessment Maintenance, Compliance Plans, Reassessments and Revaluations

Real property must be assessed at the same standard of value to ensure that every property owner is paying his or her fair share of the property tax. Two properties in the same municipality having essentially the same market value should be paying essentially the same amount in property taxes.

901. Assessment Maintenance.

901.01 Identification and Effect of Trends.

If trends in property value were uniform throughout taxing districts, assessments would be on an equitable basis. However, this is almost never the case. Assessors must recognize national, regional or other forces that influence property value. Important trends affecting property value are:

- Economic
- Governmental
- Physical (environmental)
- Social

All these trends influence in varying degrees the values of real property. The assessor's task is to identify and measure these property value trends.

Trends and factors affecting property value which an assessor or appraiser considers are: the economy-fiscal policies at the national and state level, price controls, business cycles, purchasing power, wage levels, employment rates, inflation, recession, housing shortages/surpluses, construction costs for material and labor, interest/mortgage rates; government-especially public services such as police and fire protection, trash collection, transportation networks, zoning ordinances, building codes, taxes assessed; environment, geography, and location-weather conditions and patterns, soil types, waterways, the surrounding neighborhood, proximity to schools, churches, stores and transportation; physical characteristics of the surrounding properties, of comparable properties and of the property in question in terms of age, appearance, nuisances, hazards, damages, maintenance level, depreciation, contamination, construction quality, architectural style, lot size or acreage. This is best done through a continuing analysis of sales and rentals. Finally, social trends affect real property such as population characteristics and shifts; crime; neighborhood cohesiveness. For commercial property, factors include the shoppers' standard of living, level of income, and attitude towards spendable income. To keep assessments equitable, assessors must be aware of changing conditions.

NOTE: the terms "municipality" and "taxing district" are used interchangeably throughout this chapter and throughout the Handbook.

901.02 Sales Analysis.

The ratio between the taxable assessed value and the sale price for sold properties should be examined for that which is substantially above or below the norm for the municipality. Since property appraisal is not an exact science, some margin of error is to be expected. Where a substantial divergence is found, all facts concerning the property should be reviewed. There may be special circumstances involved in the sale which explain the unexpected price. If no ready explanation is found, the sale should be recognized as a possible indicator of a trend in property value. Where there is a concentration of high or low ratios, the assessor is alerted to a developing changing area. Sales information can be obtained from SR-1A forms, deed abstracts and physical inspections.

901.03 Rent Analysis.

Rents may also be analyzed to detect property value trends, particularly in commercial areas where sales may not be frequent. The lease and owner's operating expenses should be examined to ensure that the rental figure is not covering new services, rather than a change in owner income.

901.04 Subdivisions.

N.J.S.A. 40:55D-1 et seq., known as the "Municipal Land Use Law," authorizes municipalities to develop local zoning rules and regulations to govern the process of granting subdivision approval. State agencies, such as the Department of Community Affairs, the Department of Environmental Protection, and the Department of Transportation assist in implementing these laws. Most municipalities establish their own ordinances which set forth the procedures necessary to create a subdivision.

Subdivision approvals have expiration dates. For various reasons, a developer may need additional time to fulfill the requirements of a preliminary approval. A developer may file for a time extension with municipal planning and zoning officials. Again, local governments each have their own ordinances which outline this process.

Most New Jersey communities have ordinances which restrict the subdivision of large tracts into smaller building plots. Assessors can change a property's value based upon a subdivision approval, if market evidence warrants. A subdivision may increase the land value, although no new land is created physically. However, the subdivision is not perfected until there is a recorded deed. Once a developer gets the deeds recorded or files the plan with the County Clerk's Office, the assessor must be notified. Only at that time should an assessor assign new block and lot numbers for these newly created lots and include them on the tax map and other property records.

901.05

Assemblage vs. Plottage.

Assemblage — The combining of two or more adjoining lots into one large tract.

Assemblage is the process of joining several parcels to form a larger parcel; the resulting increase in value is called plottage.

Plottage is the increase in value realized by combining adjacent parcels of land into one larger parcel. The process of combining the parcels is known as assemblage. Generally, the value of the whole parcel will be greater than the sum of the individual smaller parcels.

Assemblage is defined as the combining of two or more contiguous parcels into one ownership or use. Plottage is the process of assembling two or more sites under a single ownership such that there is an increase in value derived from greater utility.

While there are concepts in real estate appraisal known as “assemblage” and “plottage,” N.J.S.A.54:4-24 & 26 requires “each parcel” of real property to be separately assessed.

The New Jersey Tax Court in Young v. Bergen County Board of Taxation, 5 N.J. Tax 102, (Tax Ct. 1982) held that, “Under property tax assessment statutes, each parcel of property must be separately assessed by municipal tax assessor to owners thereof...” The Court also held that, “...block and lot designations, where applicable, establish identity of parcel of real property for separate assessment purposes.” In the foregoing Court decision, the Borough’s zoning ordinance providing that parcels be considered merged for purposes of enforcing minimum lot size or area could not support the position that two adjacent lots be viewed as one parcel for real property tax assessment purposes.

Further, N.J.S.A. 54:4-23.24 provides that property in a zone designated as residential which has been valued as residential for at least three years and which as a result of a revised zoning ordinance finds itself in a zone reclassified as commercial/industrial must continue to be valued and assessed as residential so long as the owner at the time of the change in the zoning ordinance continues to occupy the property as his/her principal place of residence. The purpose of this statute is to prevent a municipality's zoning change from inflating the assessment of a residence to a nonresidential value.

901.06 Newly Created Land.

The land area of a taxing district seldom changes. However, for assessors in coastal areas, newly created land may be added to the Tax List, where lagoon lots are created along a waterway. Upon grant of a riparian right from the New Jersey Department of Environmental Protection, a developer may bulkhead or dike an area covered by water, fill it in with dredged material, and create new dry land where none existed. The newly created land value may be estimated based on its development cost, as confirmed by area sales.

901.07 New Improvements-Location and Appraisal.

New taxable improvements may be located through building permits, abstracts of deeds, newspapers, certificates of occupancy, and realtors. It is essential that the same procedures be used in the new appraisal as were used to value older properties in the taxing district. If the Real Property

Appraisal Manual For New Jersey Assessors was used in the original appraisals, it should be used to appraise new improvements.

901.08 Annual Assessment vs. Base Year.

A literal interpretation of State law requires that every property be reappraised/reassessed every year. In practice, this would tremendously increase the cost of administering the property tax. As a practical compromise, most assessors use a base year for assessments. Each new structure or improvement is appraised at its current value, which is then converted to the equivalent value at the time of the base year using an appropriate cost conversion factor.

N.J.S.A. 54: 4-23

901.09 Formerly Exempt Property.

Exempt properties which cease to be exempt should be placed on the Added Assessment List at the value which was assigned to them while exempt. Therefore, a realistic value must be placed on exempt property. In the year after the loss of exempt status, such properties may be reappraised/reassessed by the assessor if necessary.

901.10 Adjustment of Assessments.

Once the assessor determines that assessments do not equitably reflect property values throughout the taxing district, he or she must decide what to do about it. If variations are substantial or with no obvious value pattern, the assessor may recommend that the municipal governing body authorize a complete revaluation of the taxing district. If the assessments in one portion of the taxing district are generally too high or too low, the assessor may be able to make adjustments to bring them into line. Assessments may be revised outside of municipal-wide revaluation or reassessment for legitimate reasons, such as when a particular neighborhood changes; when value for a specific property type changes, such as commercial/industrial properties; when apartment properties are converted to condominiums; or when property is upgraded through new buildings or structures, additions or improvements. This is called assessment maintenance. It is important that the adjustments be applied on an area-wide basis. It is a mistake to adjust assessments only on properties which have sold. This is called “spot assessing” and is discriminatory.

902. Compliance Plans-Neighborhood Valuation.

In addition to annual valuation on October 1 of the pretax year, New Jersey law provides that “when the assessor has reason to believe that property comprising all or part of a taxing district has been assessed at a value lower or higher than is consistent with the purpose of securing uniform taxable valuation of property according to law for the purpose of taxation, or that the assessment of property comprising all or part of a taxing district is not in substantial compliance with the law and that the interests of the public will be promoted by a reassessment of such property, the assessor shall after due investigation, make a reassessment of the property in the taxing district that is not in substantial compliance.” Therefore, assessments may be revised outside of municipal-wide reassessment/revaluation. The Superior Court, Appellate Division in Regent Care Center, Inc. v. City of Hackensack, decided July 2003, addressed the question of assessment maintenance and affirmed its legitimacy when properly applied.

902.01 Assessors Performing Compliance Plans.

Assessors Performing Compliance Plans must:

1. notify in writing, the mayor, the municipal governing body, the County Board of Taxation and the County Tax Administrator of the reasons why reassessing certain property in the taxing district is warranted and;
2. submit a copy of a Compliance Plan, Form CP, to the County Board of Taxation for approval by November 15 of the pretax year.

902.02 Neighborhood Defined.

The term neighborhood is not always easily defined. A neighborhood is a segment of a city, a town, a village; or an entire community. Within a community there are marked tendencies toward groupings of land uses.

The areas devoted to these varied uses are physical neighborhoods. A neighborhood may be more specifically defined as a homogeneous grouping of individuals, buildings, or business enterprises within, or as part of, a larger community. These groupings may be devoted to residential use, trade and service activities, industrial activities, or cultural and civic activities. Neighborhoods are not fixed in characteristics and change over time.

902.03 Neighborhood Boundaries.

Neighborhoods vary in size but generally are homogeneous in some aspects. Sometimes neighborhood boundaries are clearly defined (for instance, by a distinct change in type of land use or in the characteristics of buildings). Boundaries may be natural barriers, such as topographical features, lakes, rivers, or streams; or man-made barriers, such as canals, railroad rights of way, or traffic arteries. In defining neighborhood boundaries, a unified area is characterized by similar or related land uses. In such an area, the character of one property affects the character of all others. Consequently, neighborhoods are not isolated sections. Each district is dependent on all the other districts, and its entire economic area.

903. Reassessment/Revaluation Programs.

903.01 The Need for and Purpose of Reassessment/ Revaluation.

Reassessment/revaluation may be needed when properties in a taxing district are not being assessed at the same rate of true value and/or are being assessed substantially below or above true market value.

Inequitable assessments may result from outside economic forces such as:

- a. changes in characteristics in areas or neighborhoods in the municipality and in individual properties;
- b. fluctuations in the economy (inflation, recession);
- c. changes in style and custom (architectural desirability, property size);
- d. changes in zoning which enhance or adversely affect value.

Unfortunately, assessors can also be the cause of inequality if they:

- a. fail to analyze and make use of sales data to validate assessments;
- b. fail to process or delay processing building permits for new construction;
- c. keep poor records which causes difficulty in arriving at sound, accurate assessments;
- d. make incorrect assessments or fail to keep values up-to-date.

903.02 Reassessment or Revaluation-What's the Difference?

The terms “revaluation” and “reassessment” are sometimes confused with one another and at one time were used interchangeably. Both a revaluation program and a proper reassessment program seek to spread the tax burden equitably throughout a taxing district. Both are an adjustment or updating of previous values. A revaluation is performed by an outside professional appraisal firm hired by the municipality. A reassessment is done by the municipal assessor and staff. Some reassessments are called “hybrids” because both the assessor and staff, as well as an outside appraisal company perform the duties of assessment adjustment. A district-wide reassessment “results in a significant difference in the aggregate assessed valuation of the taxing district from one year to a following year, other than that caused by inclusion of added assessments or other new construction” and “results in a variance in values from one year to a following year in a substantial number of individual parcels of real property in the same taxing district.”

903.03 When to Reassess/Revalue.

A Taxing District’s Average Assessed Value to True Value Ratio; Coefficients of Deviation; Year Last Revalued; Neighborhood/Zoning Changes; Accuracy of Property Records; Revenues Lost through Appeals and any other pertinent evidence would be reviewed when considering the need for reassessment/reevaluation.

903.04 Ratios and Coefficients-Assessment-Sales Ratio.

An individual Assessment-Sales Ratio is found by dividing the taxable assessed value of a property by the amount for which the property sold and expressing the result as a percentage. The Sales Ratio Program is a two-year averaging study conducted annually by the Division of Taxation’s Property Administration personnel. The Sales Ratio Program compares the sale prices with the assessed values of properties sold in “arm’s length” transactions during a specific time period based on deed recordings. The assumption is that the assessed values of sold properties are representative of the assessment practice in the taxing district. For example, if the assessed values of the properties sold average 90% of the sales prices, it is assumed that all similar properties in the taxing district are assessed at 90% of their true value. A ratio, known as the Director’s Ratio, is developed for each taxing district in the State. A Director’s Ratio of 85% or less may denote noncompliance. A continual decline of Assessment-Sales Ratios in a district from the 100% level of taxable value established by the County Tax Board shows a lack of assessment maintenance and may indicate a need for reassessment/revaluation. Also, if individual Assessment-Sales Ratios vary widely, a reassessment/revaluation program is probably needed. If most Assessment-Sales Ratios fall within a narrow range, substantial equality may exist and the need for reassessment/revaluation may not be so urgent.

Coefficients of Deviation.

One method of statistically analyzing a group of Assessment-Sales Ratios is through Coefficients of Deviation. A higher Coefficient of Deviation indicates a poorer degree of assessment uniformity in a taxing district and a likely need for reassessment/revaluation. A lower Coefficient of Deviation indicates a better degree of assessment uniformity. Each year the Division of Taxation publishes three Coefficients of Deviation for each municipality:

1. a General Coefficient of Deviation;
2. a Stratified Coefficient of Deviation;
3. a Segmented Coefficient of Deviation.

The current acceptable figure for Coefficients of Deviation is 15%, although some authorities advocate 10% in light of improved assessment practices, computerization, and increased valuations. Properly and cautiously applied, these Coefficients are useful tools for measuring assessment uniformity, but they should never be used as the sole measure of assessment practice in a taxing district.

1. General Coefficient –Measures variation in Assessment-Sales Ratios for all properties sampled without regard to property class, property size or other property characteristic. It is the average deviation of individual Assessment-Sales Ratios from the overall Average Assessment-Sales Ratio of all sales occurring in a taxing district, expressed as a percentage of that Average Assessment-Sales Ratio for that taxing district. It is calculated from all usable sales occurring in a particular taxing district.

GENERAL COEFFICIENT OF DEVIATION

2. Stratified Coefficient of Deviation—Measures assessment uniformity within each class of property, e.g., class 1-vacant land, class 2-residential, class 3-farm, class 4-commercial, industrial and apartments, for a taxing district. Stratified Coefficients provide no insight into comparability of assessment levels among property classes. Therefore, it is possible that two classes of property in a taxing district may be assessed at different average ratios but show similar Stratified Coefficients of Deviation. The Stratified Coefficient of Deviation is the average deviation of individual Assessment-Sales Ratios for all usable sales occurring in a particular property class from the Average Assessment-Sales Ratio for that property class, expressed as a percentage of the Average Assessment-Sales Ratio for that class. It is calculated from sales occurring in each class of property.

903.06 Neighborhood and Zoning Changes.

The need for reassessment/revaluation may be indicated by neighborhood and zoning changes which affect value in part or all of a taxing district. Changes in uses permitted by zoning may substantially increase or decrease the value of property. A reassessment/revaluation order citing zoning changes as its basis must show the impact of zoning changes as they relate to assessments.

N.J.S.A. 54:4-23.24, provides that property in a designated residential zone which has been valued as residential for at least 3 years and because of a revised zoning ordinance finds itself in a zone reclassified as commercial/industrial must continue to be valued and assessed as residential, as long as the owner at the time of the zoning ordinance change continues to occupy the property as his/her principal residence. The purpose of this statute is to prevent a municipality's zoning change from inflating the assessment of a residence to a nonresidential value.

903.07 Lack of Adequate Records.

Inadequate records, such as property record cards, may indicate the need for a reassessment/revaluation. The absence of essential information is detrimental to the valuation process and impedes the maintenance of an Assessment List. The absence of information relating to changes to improvements such as property owners' failure to secure building permits or to provide copies of building permits to assessors, contributes to a non-uniform assessment.

903.08 Year of Last Revaluation or Reassessment.

A revaluation or reassessment that has not taken place in a municipality for ten years or more may be a factor in ordering a revaluation/reassessment.

903.09 Revenue Lost Due to Appeals.

The extent of the revenue lost by a municipality due to adjustments in the assessed values as a result of appeals may indicate a need for a reassessment/revaluation.

903.10 Reassessment with Phased-in Annual Inspections, Form AFR-A vs. Reassessment with Full Annual Inspection, Form AFR.

- Phased-in Annual Inspections: the municipality must conduct interior inspections for 25% of its properties each year for four years so that at the end of that time the municipality will have inspected 100% of its properties' interiors. For municipalities participating in Real Property Demonstration Program reassessments, the percentage of interior inspections required is 20% each year for 5 years for 100% at the end of that time.

Approval of phased-in annual inspections reassessment must be obtained on Form AFR-A.

- Full Annual Inspection: the municipality must conduct both exterior and interior inspections for 100% of its properties within one annual period from the onset of the reassessment program.

Approval of full annual reassessment must be obtained on revised Form AFR.

903.11 Reassessment Approval Process.

A reassessment plan of the municipal assessor must be submitted to and be approved by the County Board of Taxation. After approval by the County Board, it is then forwarded to the Assistant Director of the Division of Taxation for review and approval or disapproval. The plan must set forth methods to be used, the date of the reassessment's completion and the year it is to take effect. Application for district-wide reassessment must be completed on form AFR, Application for Full Reassessment or AFR-A

Application for Annual Reassessment as appropriate, as prescribed by the Director, Division of Taxation. The County Tax Board must advise the assessor of approval or disapproval of the reassessment plan within 45 days of its submission date. If the plan is disapproved, the Board must inform the assessor of the reasons for disapproval. If the reassessment plan is approved, the Board must:

1. forward a complete copy to the Assistant Director, Division of Taxation for review, approval or disapproval;
2. require a written monthly progress report from the assessor.

The assessor of a municipality which receives approval from both the Director and County Board of Taxation to perform a municipal-wide reassessment, must submit a Plan of Work (POW) to the County Tax Administrator within 30 days of such approval. Thereafter, a report on the status of the reassessment must be filed with the County Tax Administrator every 30 days until the program is completed and the Tax List filed with the County Board of Taxation. The Status Report must include:

- Listing of all major activities and functions to be performed during the course of the reassessment;
- Overall anticipated start and completion date of each listed activity or function;
- Breakdown of units, portion or percentage of work activities or functions that are targeted to be started and completed during each month of the reassessment program.

904. Elements of a Good Reassessment Program.

To avoid discriminatory treatment reassessments should cover the entire municipality in scope. A good reassessment program includes:

- analysis of all recent real property sales, including a comparison of sales prices with assessed values of sold properties; identification of real property value trends;
- a parcel by parcel review of all real property values;
- review, revision and mapping of all unit land values;
- entry of data into Computer Assisted Mass Appraisal System (CAMA)
- gathering and utilization of pertinent income data; development and application of local cost conversion factors to improvements with adjustments to individual Property Record Cards;
- review and adjustment of depreciation and obsolescence factors with changes to individual property records;
- reconciliation and revised true value for each property;
- placing revised taxable values on the Tax List for the year in which the reassessment becomes effective;
- taxpayer notification of revised property values, with an opportunity for taxpayer review.

905. Revaluation Standards and Procedures.

905.01 Assessor's Role in Revaluation.

Assessors should be in frequent contact with revaluation activities throughout the course of the project. The assessor and governing body should work together in drawing up specifications, writing the contract, and selecting the appraisal firm. During revaluation proceedings, assessors should understand the appraisal firm's procedures in order to better maintain the program after its completion. Assessors should participate in all review meetings and be present when representatives of the appraisal firm meet with individual taxpayers.

905.02 Revaluation Approval Process.

By law, the Director of the Division of Taxation establishes standards for use in valuation and revaluation of real property and prescribes minimum qualifications for firms and individuals in the business of revaluing real property. A governing body intending to endorse a municipal revaluation must submit proposed contracts to the Director, Taxation Division for approval. Approval is conditioned upon the proposed contract terms, and contractor and staff meeting established revaluation standards and prescribed professional qualifications. The Director is required to take action on contracts within 30 days of submission.

A municipality, firm or individual displeased by the Director's determination may request a formal hearing before the Director, who must then render his/her decision within 30 days. The hearing must be conducted pursuant to the Administrative Procedure Act. If the municipality, firm or individual is still dissatisfied with the Director's determination, further appeal may be made within 45 days to the Appellate Division as per the Rules of the Court.

905.03 Appraisal/Revaluation Firms.

Any appraisal firm and individuals contracting for and carrying out revaluation work must meet certain minimum qualifications established by the Director, Division of Taxation. A municipal governing body considering contracting with an appraisal firm should examine the qualifications of the firm and its staff and the results of other revaluation programs conducted by the firm. A list of active appraisal firms may be obtained at the Division of Taxation's Local Property Tax website: <http://www.state.nj.us/treasury/taxation/lpt/localtax.shtml>

905.04 Qualification of the Appraisal/Revaluation Firm.

To operate in New Jersey, a revaluation firm must demonstrate that it is in sound fiscal condition and has adequate financial resources. A financial statement including balance sheets and income statements for the latest 3 years must be submitted to the Director, Division of Taxation and for each year thereafter that it is in business in New Jersey. The Director may require an appraisal firm to submit a financial statement other than on an annual basis if considered necessary. The firm must also submit to the Director a list of municipalities in New Jersey or elsewhere for which it has performed revaluation projects during the past 5 years. A list of the firm's officers must be submitted with their addresses and the number of years each officer has been engaged in appraisal work. The firm is required to report whether it has been or is currently involved in any litigation concerning appraisal projects. The name and address of the firm's parent corporation and subsidiaries, if applicable, must also be submitted. A written statement that the firm will meet State and federal Equal Opportunity laws and minimum wage rates is required as well.

N.J.A.C. 18:12-4.4

905.05 Surety and Insurance.

Before beginning contracted work, the revaluation firm must provide assurance that the municipality will be protected, saved harmless, from any lawsuit, litigation, demand, or claim arising out of the revaluation. To assure such protection, the firm must provide certain insurance coverage:

1. Workers compensation insurance coverage as per the standards at N.J.S.A. 34:15-1 et seq.;

2. Public liability and automobile liability in amounts not less than those required by law for any one person and any one occurrence respecting property damage;
3. A performance surety bond in the amount of the contract, executed by a reputable bonding company authorized to conduct business in New Jersey, subject to reduction to 10% of the contract amount upon acceptance of the completed revaluation by the assessor. This reduced amount must remain in effect until the revaluation firm discharges all its obligations respecting defense of the contract;
4. The terms and conditions of all above coverages may be in greater amounts if required by the municipality. Copies of all policies must be provided to the municipality prior to the commencement of any portion of the contract.

905.06

Qualification of Employees.

The experience and qualifications of various employees in a revaluation program must meet minimum requirements:

1. Principals of the revaluation firm must have 5 years of practical, extensive appraisal experience involving commercial, industrial, apartment, farm, residential properties and vacant land.
2. Supervisors in direct charge of field work must have 4 years of practical, extensive appraisal experience in appraising the particular type of properties for which they are responsible. Two years of this experience must be in mass appraisal and have occurred in the past 5 years.
3. Field personnel, building enumerators and listers must have 150 hours of in-service training for their particular phase of work and be generally aware of all other phases of the revaluation project before performing actual field work.

4. Personnel determining final land values must meet qualifications prescribed for supervisors in direct charge of the work.
5. Resumes must be submitted for principals and supervisors.

905.07 Conflict of Interest.

Revaluation contracts submitted to the Director, Division of Taxation must provide with respect to officers, stockholders and employees of the firm that:

1. No commissioner or employee of the County Board of Taxation in the county has any interest, directly or indirectly, as an officer, stockholder, employee or in any other capacity in the firm.
2. No parent company or subsidiary will represent any property owner or taxpayer filing a tax appeal with respect to a revaluation completed by the firm.

906. Conditions to be Met by the Revaluing Municipality.

906.01 Cost of Revaluation.

It is difficult to give precise cost estimates for revaluation programs. For example, taxing districts containing complicated industrial properties may have to pay more per line item, but where a large number of similar properties are present, as in a housing development, the cost may be lower.

906.02 Financing the Revaluation.

The cost of a revaluation program may be spread over a five-year period through the issuance of special emergency notes, with one-fifth of the sum falling due at the end of each fiscal year. The Division of Local Government Services in the Department of Community Affairs has prepared both a model ordinance and resolution for this purpose.

906.03 Supplies, Equipment, Office Space.

A municipality contracting with a professional revaluation firm should provide items for the firm's use so that the program may move ahead. However, the revaluation firm must provide office space, furniture, equipment, machines and other items required in connection with the revaluation program, unless the contract terms provide otherwise.

906.04 Tax Map.

Prior to a municipality's execution of a revaluation contract, the municipal tax map is to be submitted to the Division of Taxation, Local Property Valuation and Mapping Section to determine its usability. Division approval must be received prior to any work being performed by the revaluation company. A letter from a licensed land surveyor must be submitted with the tax map certifying that the map is up-to-date.

907. Conditions to be Met by the Revaluation Firm.

907.01 Real Property to be Valued.

The revaluation firm, in effect, is an agent of the municipal assessor. All determinations made by the firm must be submitted to the assessor. Real property is to be valued in accordance with New Jersey property tax laws (see Chapter 6 this Handbook).

- With regard to real property being constructed or altered, the revaluation firm must determine the percentage of completion (partial assessments), as well as the appraised value of such property as of October 1 of the pretax year.
- Land assessed under the Farmland Assessment Act (N.J.S.A. 54:4-23.1 et seq. Chapter 48, Laws of 1964) must be valued according to its qualified farm value, and also its full and fair value at its “highest and best use.”
- A Land Value Map must be prepared by the revaluation firm showing all unit values and underlying data used to derive the unit values and is to be reviewed by the assessor.

907.03 Determination of Taxable Values.

The revaluation firm must employ the three recognized Approaches to Value where applicable. Where used, the capitalization procedure must be included with the Property Record Card and reconciled with the other value approaches. The Real Property Appraisal Manual for New Jersey Assessors is to be used in revaluation programs for residential properties. The use of any other appraisal manual for residential properties requires the approval of the Director, Division of Taxation.

907.04 Property Record Cards.

The revaluation firm must include real property identification information on every Property Record Card for each individual parcel of real property. Electronic property record cards must be similar in form and content to those illustrated in the Real Property Appraisal Manual For New Jersey Assessors. Property record cards for each of the four classes of property must be easily distinguishable from each other.

Individual Property Record Cards must be updated in the following areas:

1. A scaled sketch of the exterior building dimensions;

2. Digital photograph(s) of each property;
3. Notations of significant building components from interior and exterior inspections;
4. Values of each lot and building including age, construction, condition, depreciation, obsolescence, additions and deductions, appraisal value, recent sales prices, rental data and other pertinent value information;
5. Where more than one Property Record Card is required for a property, all cards must be retained in a standard file folder and properly labeled;
6. Each Data Collection card must identify the individual property inspector, and the date of the interior inspection, or why this inspection did not occur.

907.05 Property Inspection.

Physical inspection must be made by the revaluation firm of each parcel of property (Revaluation firms must provide employees with photographic identification cards).

Regarding individual property inspections:

1. No less than three (3) attempts must be made to gain entry to inspect each property;
2. If entry is not made at the first attempt, a card must be left at the property indicating when a second inspection attempt will be made;
3. The card must include the intended date of inspection and the firm's telephone number and address to permit property owners to make other arrangements if necessary;
4. If entry is not gained at the second attempt, a written statement must be left that an assessment will be estimated, unless future arrangements are made for an interior inspection;

5. Revaluation firms must schedule property inspections during reasonable hours, including evenings and Saturdays;
6. Revaluation firms must notify assessors of failures to gain entry. A list of and reasons for all non-entries must be provided to the assessors prior to mailing values to property owners.

907.06

Controlling Progress of Revaluation-Contract Elements.

Revaluation contracts must contain provisions to monitor the progress of the revaluation as:

1. A commencement and a completion date of no later than November 1. Assessment Notices are not to be sent prior to November 10. Taxpayer review of values placed against their properties by the revaluation firm must be completed by December 15;
2. Submission to the assessor of a work schedule or plan of operations;
3. Written monthly progress reports to the assessor for review. The assessor must forward progress reports to the County Board of Taxation. If a report is not received, the Board must notify the Director, Division of Taxation in writing immediately;
4. Progress reports must indicate the revaluation's status or work progress which serves as a basis for proportional payments by the municipality to the revaluation firm. No more than 90% of the total contract price is to be paid until full completion and performance of the contract, except for requirements for defense of tax appeals. If the work is not satisfactory to the County Tax Board after 2 consecutive months, the Board must also notify the Director, Division of Taxation as soon as possible in writing of the lack of satisfactory progress;
5. Changes in personnel must be submitted in writing to the assessor and County Board of Taxation.

907.07 Taxpayer Orientation and Education.

Contracts for municipal revaluation must contain provisions committing the firm to conduct or assist the municipality with a taxpayer orientation and education program including but not limited to:

1. Press releases describing the purpose and nature of the revaluation program;
2. Meetings with public groups in the community; and
3. Mailings approved by the assessor, at the firm's expense, to all property owners explaining the nature and purpose of the revaluation, setting a proposed date for property inspections.

907.08 Taxpayer Review Procedure.

Each taxpayer must be afforded an opportunity to review and confer with the firm concerning the proposed value to be placed against his/her property.

907.09 Revaluation Firm to Mail Notice.

Revaluation firms must mail, at their expense, written notices to taxpayers, approved by the assessor, showing the appraised value of properties and advising taxpayers of their right to attend an informal value review with the firm.

907.10 Conducting Informal Taxpayer Reviews.

Guidelines for informal taxpayer reviews:

1. Each taxpayer attending a review must be afforded an individual meeting with a qualified employee of the revaluation firm;
2. Sufficient time must be allotted to hear and conclude reviews by December 15;

3. Written record of each review is to be provided the assessor in an approved format;
4. Suggested revisions by the firm are to be made with the consent of the assessor;
5. Taxpayers must be informed, by the firm, in writing, of their review results within 4 weeks of the conclusion of all reviews.

907.11 Defense of Appeals.

Revaluation firms must assist in defending their valuations at appeal by providing expert witnesses. The firm's obligation is limited to the initial appeal of an assessment filed during the year in which the revaluation is implemented or during the following year. Assistance includes a qualified expert from the firm who is knowledgeable with regard to challenged assessments. Should the municipality elect to utilize the defense services of the firm beyond the County Board of Taxation level, an hourly rate for such service is to be set by the firm. The hourly rate is to apply to services rendered by the firm for preparation, re-inspections, consultations and actual appearances at appeal proceedings.

907.12 Maintenance of the Revaluation.

A revaluation program is an expensive undertaking for any municipality. The resulting assessment upgrades should not be allowed to deteriorate during the years after the revaluation's completion. Adequate provisions should be made to keep the revaluation up-to-date. Unless values are annually maintained, within a few years a subsequent revaluation may have to be undertaken, at a higher cost to the community.

908. Will A Revaluation Increase Taxes?

Although revaluation often results in increases to every individual assessment, it does not mean that all property taxes will increase. Assessments are the base used to apportion the tax burden. The tax burden is the amount that the municipality must raise for the operation of county and local government and the school system.

To illustrate, assume the amount that a municipality must raise from property taxes is $15 million. The total of all assessments in the municipality is $600 million. In this example, a municipality would have a tax rate of $2.50 for each $100 of assessed value.

Amount to be raised from property taxes	÷	Total of Assessments	=	Tax Rate
$15 Million	÷	$600 Million	=	.025 or $2.50 per $100 of assessed value

If the $600 million total of all assessments represents 50% of the true value of all real property in the municipality, property owners assessed above this level would be paying an unfair share of the tax burden. For example, a property with a true value of $396,800 and an assessed value of $277,760 would have its taxes calculated as:

Assessed Value	X	Tax Rate	=	Taxes
$277,760	X	.025	=	$6,944.00

In this example, the property is overassessed, even though the taxable assessed value is $119,040 less than the property's true value. The ratio of aggregate assessments to the aggregate true value of all real property in the municipality is 50%. The ratio of the individual property is 70% ($277,760 ÷ $396,800).

Assume that in this same tax year, a revaluation was put into effect and the aggregate assessed value is $1.2 billion. Although the ratable base (aggregate assessments) doubles, the revaluation would not mean an increase in total taxes to be collected by the municipality, since the tax rate would decrease proportionately, as follows:

Amount to be raised
from property taxes	÷	Total of Assessments	=	Tax Rate
$15 Million	÷	$1.2 Billion	=	.0125 or $1.25 per $100 of assessed value

Applying the .0125 ($1.25 per $100 of assessed value) tax rate to the property, now assessed at its true value of $396,800, would mean a decrease in taxes as a result of all assessments based on the true value standard.

True Value
Assessment	X	Tax Rate	=	Taxes
$396,800	X	.0125	=	$4,960.00

True value assessments, the goal of a revaluation program, would decrease the taxes for the property owner by $1,984 based on assumptions in the same tax year ($6,944-$4,960=$1,984). However, an actual tax rate cannot be determined until the new assessments are filed and operating costs for schools, county and local government are fixed. (Budgets are not completed until several months after the date for filing a Tax List). A tax rate cannot be calculated until budget requirements are determined. The taxpayer in this example will continue to pay more than his/her fair share of the property tax burden if a revaluation is not undertaken.

Generally, taxpayers of the most severely underassessed properties before a revaluation pay a greater share of the tax burden after revaluation. This means that their property taxes will increase even if operating costs remain the same. Likewise, taxpayers of overvalued properties pay a smaller share of the tax burden after revaluation. This means their property taxes will decrease if the total amount to be raised from taxes remains the same. In reality, municipal, county and school budgets' costs generally increase each year. This example shows an increase in the amount to be raised from property taxes:

Amount to be raised
from property taxes	÷	Total of Assessments	=	Tax Rate
$21 Million	÷	$1.2 Billion	=	.0175 or $1.75 per $100 of assessed value
True Value
Assessment	X	Tax Rate	=	Taxes
$396,800	X	.0175	=	$6,944.00

An increased budget amount from $15 million to $21 million, coupled with true value assessments, results in no tax increase for the property owner.

Amount to be raised		Total of		Tax
from property taxes	÷	Assessments	=	Rate
$23 million	÷	$1.2 Billion	=	.0192 or $1.92 per $100 of assessed value
True Value		Tax		Taxes
Assessment	X	Rate	=	Due
396,800	X	.0192	=	$7,618.56

An increased budget amount from $15 million to $23 million, coupled with true value assessments results in a tax increase for the property owner.

Chapter 10 Assessment-Sales Ratio Program and Equalization

1001. Definition and History.

1001.01 Equalization - Definition and Purpose.

Equalization: “The adjustment of assessed valuations of real property in a particular area to establish a more equitable division of the total tax burden within the area.”

Equalization: “The process by which an appropriate governmental body attempts to ensure that property under its jurisdiction is appraised equitably at market value or as otherwise required by law.”

Equalization is the leveling process by which aggregate assessed values of real property in a taxing district are brought to true value.

Equalization ensures that all properties within a district and all districts within their counties and the State bear the same relationship to market value for purposes of State School Aid distribution and county tax apportionment.

1001.02 History and Background.

As early as 1799, all township assessors were directed by law to equalize assessments at an annual meeting in order to spread the cost of county government fairly. Other administrative means were tried during the nineteenth century, but with little success. In 1906, County Boards of Taxation were established, having equalization as one of their principal responsibilities. But real equalization was seldom obtained. Local assessors were under pressure to keep assessments low, so that their taxing districts' proportionate share of county government costs would be less. This became known as competitive under-assessment. In most cases, assessments dropped far below the legal true value level. In the twentieth century greater competitive under-assessment resulted from the formula used to distribute State financial aid to school districts which granted more State aid to districts with low assessed valuations. Although equalization has been a feature of New Jersey tax laws since 1799, it did not become standardized practice in any real sense until the mid-1950s. At that time, the State Legislature authorized the Director, Division of Taxation, to determine the ratio of aggregate assessed to aggregate true value of real estate in every taxing district in New Jersey. The Director then implemented the Assessment-Sales Ratio Program to measure the level of assessment in every municipality. In subsequent equalization challenges, the New Jersey Supreme Court instructed County Boards of Taxation to take official notice of the Director's aggregate assessed to true value ratios in their equalization functions. The Court noted that any reasonable and efficient method could be adopted by County Boards of Taxation in fulfilling their responsibility of equalizing aggregate ratables of municipalities. The objective of a County Board of Taxation is to seek all information which assists in the determination of correct assessment-sales ratios for county equalization. This permits a fair apportionment of county taxes and other shared budgets among participating municipalities. The objective of the State is to ascertain the relationship of taxable assessed values to market values and develop a Table of Equalized Valuations to be used in the distribution of State School Aid. All three levels of New Jersey government are responsible for the collection and warehousing of assessment and sales data recorded, analyzed and calculated for the Director's Table of Equalized Valuations.

1002. Equalization.

1002.01 Uses of Inter-Municipal Equalization or Equalization in the Aggregate.

- Equitable apportionment of State School Aid
- Equitable distribution of the cost of county government and regional school districts and shared budgets
- To measure debt limits of local governments

Equalization between municipalities in a county or between counties in a state is “equalization in the aggregate.” The purpose of “equalization in the aggregate” is to distribute funds or aid or to apportion shared budgets equitably based upon the overall true or equalized value of taxable ratables of individual municipalities. The Director’s Table of Equalized

Valuations and the County Equalization Table are developed for inter-equalization. The ratios developed for inter-equalization are based on the Assessment Sales Ratio Study.

1002.02 Uses of Intra-Municipal Equalization.

Equalization in property taxation also occurs when a proper assessed value is placed on an individual property as compared to other properties within a taxing district.

Equalization between properties within a municipality is an ongoing process to ensure that each individual parcel bears its just share of the property tax burden. The assessor reviews taxable assessed values in the context of sales ratios and statistics developed from the Assessment Sales Ratio Study to validate and correct assessments. After the assessor determines property value, the County Board of Taxation is authorized to “review, revise and correct assessments” in many ways, including the study and analysis of Assessment/Sales Ratios and Coefficients of Deviation calculated from sales occurring in each municipality. County Tax Boards may order municipalities to implement revaluation programs based on the results of these statistical analyses. A municipality may choose to implement a voluntary reassessment of the whole taxing district or the assessor may change only part of a municipality through a compliance plan using these statistics.

Intra-equalization is primarily the responsibility of the assessor who works under the supervision of the County Board of Taxation.

See the chapter in this Handbook: Assessment Maintenance, Compliance Plans, Reassessment, and Revaluation for additional information on Intra-Equalization.

1002.03 Uses of the Director's Table of Equalized Valuations.

The statutory uses of the Director's Table of Equalized Valuations include:

- Measurement of the wealth of a municipality for the distribution of State School Aid;
- Measurement for the upper limit of municipal bonded indebtedness;
- Measurement for the upper limit of school district bonded indebtedness;
- Calculation of the taxable value of certain locally assessed personal property;
- Calculation of State Replacement Revenues for Class II railroad property;
- Component of the formula for apportionment of the Municipal Purposes Tax Assistance Fund;
- Component of the formula for distribution of State Library Aid;
- Component of the New Jersey Urban Aid to Municipalities calculation;
- Development of the Common Level for discrimination tax appeals.

Non-statutory uses of the Director's Table of Equalized Valuations and the data base include, but are not limited to:

- A basis for the apportionment of county operating budgets;
- A basis for apportionment of county library budgets;
- A basis for apportionment of joint school district budgets;
- A basis for apportionment of local health service budgets;

- Component in the calculation of effective tax rates which serve as a basis for comparison of property taxes from municipality to municipality;
- Director's Ratio, i.e., Average Assessment-Sales Ratio is one of the criteria for determining the need for revaluation;
- A basis for calculation of Coefficients of Deviation. CODs are a criterion for evaluating uniformity of assessments in a municipality and for determining the need for revaluation;
- A basis for analyzing equity of assessed values on a sector by sector or neighborhood by neighborhood basis in a taxing district.

1003. The Assessment-Sales Ratio Program.

1003.01 Why Assessment-Sales Analysis is Necessary.

Enabling legislation, N.J.S.A. 54:1-35.1, provides for the Director, Division of Taxation to promulgate a Table of Equalized Valuations to be used in the calculation and apportionment of distributions pursuant to the State School Aid Act of 1954. The statute is silent on the methodology used to develop the equalized valuations. The Director, Division of Taxation, is empowered to set the criteria and implement methodology for the development of the Table. The program includes classification of real property, collection and analysis of sales and assessment information, and calculation of the aggregate true value of real property to determine the aggregate true value of all real property in each of the State's taxing districts. Discussed further in this chapter are the existing terms, criteria and calculations employed by the Director that have been upheld and validated as revised by the courts through challenges that have been adjudicated.

1003.02 What is the Assessment-Sales Ratio Program?

The Assessment-Sales Ratio Program is based on a comparison of the sales prices with the taxable assessed values of real property which has sold and for which deeds have been recorded. It is assumed that values on the sold properties are representative of the assessment practice in the taxing district. For example, if the assessed values of properties sold average 90% of the sales prices, it is assumed that all similar properties in the taxing district are being assessed at an average of 90% of their true value.

The assessor and County Board of Taxation gather sales information and forward it to the Division of Taxation. The sales are collected from a fiscal year, July 1 to June 30, based on deed recording dates. From the usable sales in the sampling, a ratio of assessed value to true value is determined. The aggregate taxable value of real property in a municipality is raised to true value through use of the ratio determined. The process is completed by averaging the adjusted prior year true value and the current true value to calculate the average ratio.

1003.03 Standards for the Assessment-Sales Ratio Study.

An understanding of certain terms and criteria is critical in determining if a sale is “Usable” for the Assessment-Sales Ratio Study.

- Value must be set by constitutional and statutory standards. The New Jersey Constitution refers to the “same standard of value.” New Jersey statutes and court decisions equate the standard of real property value with market value, true value, and full and fair value. The courts have held these terms to be synonymous. Determining market value, i.e., true value is key for the Ratio Study. Statutes give County Boards of Taxation the authority to set the level of assessment at some percentage of true value. All 21 counties have set their level of assessment at 100% for purposes of local property taxation.
- Real property means all lands and improvements thereon and includes certain personal property permanently attached to real property (fixtures).
- All assessments reflect conditions as of October 1 of the pretax year for the next calendar tax year.
- Market value means the most probable price in cash, terms equivalent to cash, or in other precise terms, at which the appraised property will sell in a competitive open market under all conditions requisite to a fair sale, with the buyer and seller each acting prudently, knowledgeably, and for self-interest assuming neither is under duress.
- “Willing buyer-willing seller” concept presupposes an informed buyer and informed seller as part of the definition of market value.
- Selling Price=Market Value=True Value stated in dollars. The sales price must represent the true value of the property for the sale to be “Usable” for the Assessment Sales Ratio Study.
- Relative characteristics of property assessed to property sold are critical. The bases for the assessed value and the sales price, i.e., the numerator and denominator of the fraction which make up the ratio, must measure the same property.
- The Ratio Study conducted for a fiscal year, July 1 to June 30, is based on deed recording dates filed with each County Clerk. Assessments are developed on a calendar year, January 1 to December 31. One fiscal year includes six months each of two separate calendar years. The additional criterion, the time element, is the deed date or the Agreement of Sale date. Only deeds and Agreements of Sale drawn in the six months prior to the beginning of the fiscal year may be considered timely for the Ratio Study (within 18 months of the end date of the fiscal year).

- The assessed value, sale price, deed date, and assessment year must be in the same time frame; that is, must be the same calendar year.
- New Jersey courts have ruled that one sale is considered a sample for the purpose of developing the Director's Table of Equalized Valuation.

1004. Non-Usable Sales for Assessment-Sales Ratio Study.

The Director has set forth in the New Jersey Administrative Code 18:12-1(a) and 12-1(b) specific categories defining reasons sales are considered Non-Usable. The general areas that suggest a sale may be Non-Usable include, but are not limited to:

- Not within the time frame set for the Ratio Study;
- Not between a willing seller and willing buyer;
- Lacking comparability between the assessed value and sales price (market value); and
- Lacking the transfer of the entire bundle of rights of ownership.

1005. Phases of the Sales Ratio Program.

1005.01 Classification of Real Property for Purposes of the Sales Ratio Program.

Taxable real property is classified by the assessor into one of four broad property classes according to its use as of October 1 of the pretax year, the statutory assessment date, for the next calendar tax year. Exempt property is separately classified largely according to its ownership and use as of October 1 of the pretax year. Proper classification and valuation are critical to the accurate development of Assessment-Sales Ratio statistics. Analysis of assessment-sales data is based on assessed values for each of the four property classifications as shown by the SR-3A taxable property summary information to the County Tax Board. If the property class assigned is incorrect, the resulting calculations will be inaccurate and the taxing district could lose a substantial amount of State School Aid, or pay more than its fair share of county costs. Class ratios are calculated from the aggregate assessed value of each of the following four classes of taxable property:

Class 1: “Vacant Land” means land above and under water in its original, indestructible, immobile state. It is idle land, not actively used for agriculture or any other purposes. It is unused acreage, approved subdivided land, on the market or held for sale.

Class 2: “Residential” means property generally described as a dwelling house including the lot or parcel of land on which the dwelling is situated. The dwelling is functionally designed for use and enjoyment by not more than four families. This class includes residential condominiums.

Class 3A: “Farm Property (Regular)” means land used for agricultural or horticultural purposes including breeding, pasturing, and production of livestock and animal products. Farm property also includes land, together with improvements, where the use of the land and the buildings on the land are for agricultural or horticultural purposes as well as farm houses and the lots or parcels of land on which they are situated.

Class 3B: “Farmland Property (Qualified)” means land qualified and assessed under the Farmland Assessment Act, P.L. 1964, c. 48 so that its value is determined by its agricultural productivity rather than market value.

Class 4: “Other” is an aggregate of the subcategories of:

Class 4A: “Commercial Property” means any other type of income producing property other than property classes 1, 2, 3A, 3B and those properties included in classes 4B and 4C.

Class 4B: “Industrial Property” means land or land and improvements adaptable for industrial use; ideally a combination of land, improvements and machinery which are integrated into a functioning unit intended for assembling, processing, manufacturing or producing finished products from raw materials or fabricated parts such as factories; or a similar combination intended for rendering service such as laundries, dry cleaners or storage warehouses.

Class 4C: “Apartments” designed for the use and enjoyment of five families or more. This class includes residential co-operatives and mutual housing corporations (more than four units).

All exempt property is designated Class 15. However, Class 15 is further classified as follows:

Class 15A: “Public School Property” means real property owned by Federal, State, county or local governments or their agencies used for public education.

Class 15B: “Other School Property” means real property owned by a non-governmental, nonprofit corporation used for education purposes.

Class 15C: “Public Property” means real property owned by Federal, State, county or local governmental agencies and devoted to public uses.

Class 15D: “Charitable Property” means real property owned by religious and charitable organizations actually used in the work of the organizations.

Class 15E: “Cemeteries and Graveyards” means real property solely devoted to or held for use as a cemetery, graveyard, or burial ground.

Class 15F: “Other Exempt” means real property exempt from taxation but not described in the foregoing classes.

When exempt property sells, the assessor must determine if the sale is a market transaction. If the sale is not representative of a market transaction, the sale is recorded as Class 15. The assessment is placed on the Exempt List with the appropriate Class 15 Non-Usable category. The net total assessed value for taxable property is the basis for the calculations used to develop the Director’s Table of Equalized Valuations.

The summary of taxable property is extracted from the Tax List District Summary and reported to the County Board of Taxation on SR-3A forms. After review, the County Tax Board retains an informational copy and forwards a copy to the Property Administration Branch by April 15 of the tax year. SR-3A information must agree with the net total assessment for land and buildings shown on the Tax List District Summary submitted to the County Tax Board by the assessor on January 10, or as revised by the County Tax Board on the County Equalization Table. Should the County Board revise a taxing district's real property assessed values prior to adoption and promulgation of the County Equalization Table, both the Tax List and SR-3A information submitted to the State must be revised to agree with the aggregate value shown on the County Equalization Table.

1005.03 Reporting Assessment Sales Information on the SR-1A.

Information on sales price, assessed value, and other pertinent facts concerning sales transactions are collected by County Boards of Taxation, local assessors, and the Division of Taxation and reported in electronic format prescribed by the Division of Taxation. Hard copy is referred to as an SR-1A, and electronic transfers are in SR-1A format.

When sales of real property are recorded at each County Clerk or register of deeds office, copies or abstracts of deeds are forwarded to the County Board of Taxation in either hard copy or electronic format. Within ten days of receipt of the deed information, the County Tax Board initiates action on the SR-1A form/format by completing Section One (deed information) for each sale, showing:

- Date the form is initiated;
- Name of the county, numeric county code, name of the taxing district, and numeric taxing district code indicating property location;
- Deed book and page numbers;
- Deed date and deed recording date;
- Realty Transfer Fee, and any Realty Transfer Fee Code shown and the imputed sale price. Sale price may be stated in the deed, abstract, or Affidavit of Consideration recorded with the deed;
- Name and address of grantor (seller);
- Name and address of grantee (purchaser);
- Upon completing Section One (deed information), the form is transmitted to the assessor who completes Section Two (assessment information). Section Two requires the following from the Tax List:
 - Property Identification – block, lot, qualifier;

- Property Classification – Class 1, 2, 3A, 3B, 4A, 4B, 4C, and 15;
- Condo – Yes or No;
- Class 4 Use Code, if applicable;
- Year of Assessment – same as year of transfer (deed date);
- Assessed Value – Land/Buildings/Total;
- Property Location;
- If Residential, Square Foot of Living Area and Year Built;
- Usable or Non-Usable for Assessment Sales Ratio and remarks – to clarify a Non-Usable code;
- Additional Blocks and Lots - 4 additional property identifications assessments – land, improvements and complete total may be included if part of the transfer.

For sales which are Class 15 at time of sale – If the sale represents a market transaction, the assessor must determine what the property class would be if it were taxable. The sale would then be recorded with the property class it would be, if it were not exempt, along with the comment “Usable” and a statement that the sale is classified exempt for tax year 2XXX.

1005.04 Reviewing a Sale to Determine Usable or Non-Usable.

The base information on the deed and the assessment record of the sold property are completed in the SR-1A format to be returned to the County Board of Taxation and forwarded to the State. Further review of the deed and Affidavit of Consideration for Use by Seller (RTF-1) may provide additional information that is relevant for the analysis of the sale to determine if it should be in the usable or non-usable sales ratio data base.

The reading of the “delineation of title” will show how and when the current grantor took title to the property. The “Affidavit of Consideration for Use by Seller” will show if there is an exemption or partial exemption from the Realty Transfer Fee that is paid at the time of a deed recording following property transfer. An exemption or a partial exemption of the fee may indicate a reason for the sale to be considered non-usable. Some of the common reasons for an exemption or partial exemption include the following types of transfers:

- Between husband and wife or civil union partners, or parent and child;
- To correct a deficiency in title (“Corrective Deed”) or re-recording of a deed; or
- Court ordered transfers, including “In specific performance of a final judgment”

If additional information is needed, the assessor can contact the individuals who were parties to the sale. Grantor, grantee, real estate sales people, brokers, and the attorney who prepared the deed may be able to provide additional information as to influences on the sale price or buyer/seller motivation.

Finally, the assessor needs to determine if the characteristics of the property at the time of sale, and the assessment as of the assessing date applicable to the time of sale, represent the same property. For example, if the property is assessed as vacant land and sells with a new improvement, the sale may not be usable. The assessor will need to make that determination within the time line to see if the improvement occurred after the assessing date and before the sale date.

A sales investigation should include a review of all the non-usable categories against all the information applicable to the sale of a property.

1005.05 Return of the Assessment-Sales Information.

Within three weeks of receiving sales information, the assessor must complete and return the SR-1A forms with determinations of Usability/Non-Usability for the Sales Ratio Study. Each sale is assigned a unique identifying number before the information is transmitted to the Division of Taxation. The Usable or Non-Usable determination and related information may be reviewed and changed until the sampling period closes. The final determination of Usable or Non-Usable for each sale lies with the Division of Taxation. The assessor may further investigate the circumstances surrounding a sale, and challenge the Division of Taxation's determination of Usability or Non-Usability.

1005.07 Tracking and Maintaining a Log of SR-1As.

The County Board of Taxation initiates the SR-1A and supervises the assessor. Each Tax Board tracks the SR-1As conveyed to each municipality, the SR-1As as they are completed and returned to the Board, and as they are finally transmitted to the Division of Taxation. The Taxation Division assigns each county a block of serial numbers to be used in a fiscal sampling period. Each SR-1A is assigned a serial number from the block of numbers. Once a month, the County Board of Taxation provides the Division with a report showing:

- Number of SR-1As created
- Number of SR-1As returned by the assessor
- Number of SR-1As held by the assessor

An “aging” report showing the length of time an assessor retains individual SR-1As may also be requested.

1005.08 Assessment-Sales Information Reviewed Accumulative Sales Listings - Grantor Listings.

The Division of Taxation periodically provides assessors and County Boards of Taxation listings of sales also known as Grantor Listings processed by the State. Review of the lists allows the assessor and County Tax Board to see which “Usable/Non-Usable” sales were processed and the determinations made by the Division. The Listings are labeled “Usable” and “Non-Usable” and are the preliminary input to the final Assessment-Sales Ratios promulgated in the Director’s Table of Equalized Valuations. The Grantor Listings are posted on the “My NJ Portal” for assessors to access through their personal logon and password. The final Listings are posted on the Division of Taxation’s website as public information at:

Request for change may be made any time after a sale is included on a Grantor Listing by either a municipal assessor or the State via Division Field Representative. Changes may be to correct information shown in the sale record or revise the Usable/Non-Usable status of the sale. Both types of request are transmitted to the State on the SR-6E form. 1006. Calculating the Director's Table of Equalized Valuations.

1006.01 Procedure for Calculations.

In 1970, the procedure for calculating the Director's Table of Equalized Valuations was set forth in a Memorandum to all County Boards of Taxation, municipal assessors, and municipal clerks. From 1970 forward, the current fiscal year sales database developed from all properties sold during that time was used to calculate the class ratios and the One Year Weighted Ratio. The averaging process was employed to develop the Average Weighted Ratio and used to calculate the Equalized Value of real property for each municipality. The Equalized Value of real property, the value of business personal property, and the value of Class II railroad property were combined to calculate the Equalized Value for each municipality.

Calculations of the Director's Table of Equalized Valuations

After the database of sales is developed and the final determinations of usable sales for the sales ratio study are decided, the calculations to create the Director's Table are as follows:

Step 1 ONE YEAR WEIGHTED RATIO

The usable sales for each taxing district are categorized by property class and the ratios for each class are calculated. To illustrate:

Number of Classification	Total Assessed Sales	Total Sales Value	Class Price	equals	Ratio
Vacant	2	67,300	÷	64,325	104.62
Residential	13	952,600	÷	1,124,750	84.69
Farm					*84.69
Qualified					*84.69
Other	1	144,400	÷	195,000	74.05

* If there are no sales for a particular class, the ratio for Class 2 residential is substituted for the calculation of the true value for that class. The Class 2 ratio is always used for the calculation of Class 3B, qualified farmland.

The class ratios are developed by dividing the total of the assessments for all usable sales in the class by the total of those usable sales prices. The class ratios are then applied to the aggregate assessed values for all properties in the class to develop class true values as follows:

Classification	SR-3A Valuation	Weighted Ratio	True Value
Vacant	3,638,950	÷ 104.62	3,478,255
Residential	54,321,100	÷ 84.69	64,141,103
Farm	658,600	÷ 84.69	777,660
Qualified	197,400	÷ 84.69	233,085
Other	15,400,400	÷ 74.05	20,797,299
	74,216,450		89,427,402

The Class 2 residential ratio is used if any class of property does not have sales from which to develop a ratio. The residential ratio is always used for 3B Qualified Farm assessed value.

Then, the total of the SR3A Valuation is divided by the Total True Value to develop the One Year Weighted Ratio.

SR3A valuation	divided by	Total True Value	equals	One-Year Weighted Ratio
74,216,450	÷	89,427,402	=	82.99

Step 2 PRIOR YEAR ADJUSTED TRUE VALUE

To reduce fluctuations in the Equalized Valuation the formula employs an averaging process using a Prior Year Adjusted True Value.

Prior Year Aggregate True Value of Real Property
From the Director's Table prior year column 3			=	91,187,377
PLUS the equalized Added and Omitted Assessments
From the Prior Year;
736,100	Divided by	81.52	=	+ 902,969
Added and Omitted		Prior Year Average
Assessments	÷	Weighted Ratio
EQUALS: Prior Year Adjusted True Value				92,090,346

Step 3 AVERAGE WEIGHTED RATIO

The SR-3A Value is then divided by the One Year Weighted Ratio to calculate Current Year True Value

SR3A Value	divided by	One Year Weighted Ratio	equals	Current Year True Value
74,216,450	÷	82.99	=	89,428,184

The Current Year True Value is then averaged with the Prior Year Adjusted True Value to obtain the Average True Value.

$$\begin{array}{rcccl} (89,428,184 & + & 92,090,346) & = & 90,759,265 \\ \hline \text{Current Year True Value} & & \text{Adjusted Prior Year True Value} & & \text{Average True Value} \\ & & 2 & & \end{array}$$

The final Average Weighted Ratio to be developed in the Director's Table of Equalized Valuations is computed by dividing the Current Year Aggregate Assessed Value (SR3A Value) by the developed Average True Value:

$$\begin{array}{rcccl} 74,216,450 & \div & 90,759,265 & = & 81.77 \\ \text{Current Year Aggregate} & \text{divided by} & \text{Average} & & \text{Average Assessed Value} \\ \text{SR3A Value} & & \text{True Value} & & \text{Weighted Ratio} \end{array}$$

Step 4 CALCULATION OF EQUALIZED VALUATION

The final Average Ratio for each taxing district appears in column 2 of the Director's Table of Equalized Valuation. The aggregate assessed values form Column 1. The Aggregate Assessed Value (SR3A) divided by the Average Weighed Ratio equals the Aggregate True Value of Real Property appearing in Column 3. The Assessed Value of Class II Railroad Property in Column 4 and the Assessed Value of Personal Property used in Business in Column 5 are added to the True Value of Real Property in Column 3 to arrive at the Equalized Value of the taxing district.

(1)(SR3A)	(2)	(3)	(4)	(5)	(6)
Aggregate Assessed Real Property	Average Ratio to True Value	Aggregate True Value Real Property	Assessed Value Class II Railroad Property	Assessed Value of Personal Property	Equalized Value
74,216,450	÷ 81.77	90,762,443	+ 0	+ 578,666	= 91,341,109

1006.02 Steps 1 Through 4 Explained.

All sales in the current fiscal year database are categorized by the Division of Taxation as either Usable or Non-usable. Usable sales are further stratified by property class. In Step 1, Class Ratios are calculated and the True Value for each class is developed. The One Year Weighted Ratio is calculated by dividing the Total SR-3A Value by the Total True Value.

Step 1 ONE YEAR WEIGHTED RATIO

The ratios for each class are calculated. Calculation: The class ratios are developed by dividing the total of the assessments for all usable sales in the class by the total of the sales prices of the usable sales. The resulting ratio is actually a percent.

The class SR-3A Valuation is divided by the weighted ratio developed for each property class to obtain the true value for the property class.

The total true value of the property classes are divided by the Total SR-3A Value to calculate the District Weighted Ratio also called the One-Year Weighted Ratio.

 The Class 2 residential ratio is used if any class of property does not have sales from which to develop a ratio and the residential ratio is always used for 3B Qualified Farm assessed value.

Step 2 CALCULATING PRIOR YEAR ADJUSTED TRUE VALUE

The Prior Year Adjusted True Value is determined by calculating the True Value of the Prior Year Added and Omitted Assessments and adding the Prior Year Aggregate True Value to it.

Step 3 CALCULATING THE AVERAGE WEIGHTED RATIO

First the Current Year True Value is calculated by dividing the SR-3A value by the One Year Weighted Ratio calculated in Step 1. The Current Year True Value and the Prior Year Adjusted True Value are added and divided by 2 to find the Average True Value. Then the Current Year SR-3A value is divided by the Average True Value to calculate the Average Weighted Ratio.

The Average Weighted Ratio developed in the Director's Table of Equalized Valuations is computed by dividing the current Year Aggregate Assessed Value (SR-3A Value) by the developed Average True Value:

Step 4 Calculating the Equalized Valuation

A conformed Table of Equalized Valuations is six columns. Column 1 (Aggregate Assessed Value – SR-3A) is divided by Column 2 (Average Weighted Ratio) to arrive at Column 3 (Aggregate True Value of Real Property). The Assessed Value of Class II Railroad Property in Column 4 and the Assessed Value of Personal Property used in Business in Column 5 are added to the True Value of Real Property in Column 3 to arrive at the Equalized Value of the taxing district.

* At this time the State does not dedicate revenue as Railroad Replacement Revenue, therefore, Class II Railroad Property is not currently part of the equalization process.

1006.04 Promulgation of the Director's Table of Equalized Valuations.

The Director's Table of Equalized Valuations is promulgated on or before October 1 of each tax year. Promulgation is complete upon delivery of a certified copy of the Table to the Commissioner of Education, the mailing of a certified copy to each Municipal Clerk, each County Tax Board, and if applicable, the certified mailing of a notice of a 10% increase in Equalized Valuation to the mayor or chief executive of any affected municipality. The conformed Table is posted on the Division's website: www.state.nj.us/treasury/taxation/lpt/lptvalue.shtml

The County Board of Taxation also receives a copy of the Table of Equalized Valuations showing the full computations upon which the Table is based.

1006.05 Informal Review.

The assessor has a number of opportunities to affect the make-up of the Table of Equalized Valuations before promulgation on October 1 of each year:

1. When the assessor first receives an SR-1A Form from the County Board of Taxation, he/she may voice his/her opinion as to whether the sale is suitable for use in the Assessment Sales Ratio Program.

2. The monthly lists of sales provide another opportunity for the assessor to request revision of the proposed use or non-use of a sale using the SR-6.

Despite these occasions for change, the assessor or municipal governing body if dissatisfied with the Director's Table, may make more formal appeal.

1006.06 Appeals from the Director's Table of Equalized Valuations.

Equalization Appeals must be filed with the State Tax Court of New Jersey within 45 days of the Table's promulgation. Although the County Board of Taxation is a participant in the preparation of the Table, it is subject to review by the court upon a complaint filed by a municipality.

The complaints are filed against:

- The formula used to develop the Table
- The sales database used to develop the class ratios

In recent years, most complaints have been based on the inclusion or exclusion of sales used to develop class ratios. Should a municipality be successful at an appeal both the Table and the Common Level Range used for determining relief for tax appeals filed would be adjusted. (See Chapter 11 in this Handbook Tax Appeals for the use of Chapter 123 Common Level Range.)

Forms for filing a complaint may be obtained from the New Jersey Tax Court website:

https://www.njcourts.gov/forms/10327_school_aid_cmplt.pdf

Choose State Equalization Table – School Aid Complaint. Following promulgation of the Director's Table of Equalized Valuations on October 1, the jurisdiction of the Division of Taxation over the Table ceases. Appeals by taxing districts from the Table must be filed timely within forty-five (45) days of its promulgation with the State Tax Court of New Jersey. Hearings must be concluded and judgments be rendered by the State Tax Court by the next January 30. The State Tax Court may revise the equalized valuation of a taxing district if warranted. Only sales occurring during the “current” sampling period may be appealed. The courts have held that the usability or non-usability for assessment-sales ratio purposes of sales in any prior sampling period may not be appealed. Once the annual deadline for appeals has passed, the question of the usability or non-usability of sales in the Table is foreclosed.

Authority of the Director’s Table.

The Director, Division of Taxation, is a neutral party in the equalization process, a fact that allows local governments and taxpayers to rely on the accuracy and integrity of the Director’s Table of Equalized Valuations. The authority and importance of the Table is recognized by the reliance on and use of the Table to complete property tax procedures even when its use is not required by statute.

1007. County Equalization.

1007.01 Purpose of County Equalization.

The purpose of County Equalization is to develop the True Value of real property in each municipality. The assessor is responsible for providing certain data to the County Tax Administrator and the County Tax Board for inclusion in the equalization process. The assessor is not responsible for “equalization in the aggregate,” but should understand the process and review the base data used by the County Tax Administrator. The assessor reports the value of taxable property to the county through the SR-3A form and the District Summary filed with the Tax List. Additional data is provided by the assessor through an Assessor’s Report and the E/A 4 Form – Report of In-Lieu Tax Payments under P.L. 1991, c. 441. The County Tax Administrator develops the County Equalization Table and the County Board of Taxation adopts the Table. The County Tax Administrator develops the county ratios unless the county uses the Director’s Ratio. Most County Tax Administrators use the ratios promulgated by the Director, Division of Taxation each October 1 for county equalization. However, the statute permits a County Tax Administrator to arrive at an equalization ratio employing a reasonable method. All methods of “equalization in the aggregate” use sales of real property as a basis for developing a ratio to calculate the True Value of each taxing district.

1007.02 Development of the County Equalization Table.

Developing a County Equalization Table is essentially a five step operation for each municipality:

1. Calculate the Aggregate True Value of real property for each municipality in the county, and record the difference between the Aggregate True Value and the Aggregate Assessed Value of real property in Column 1 (d) of the Equalization Table;
2. Calculate the equalized value of locally assessable business personal property, and record the difference between the Aggregate True Value and the Aggregate Assessed Value in Column 2 (e). Because of the method prescribed in the statutes, this difference is invariably zero;
3. Calculate the assumed equalized value of Business Personal Property Replacement Revenues (The dollar amount of such revenues is frozen for each municipality at those amounts first appearing in a correctly completed 1977 County Equalization Table);
4. Calculate Aggregate True Value of railroad property, exclusive of Class II Railroad Property, where the taxes are in default and liens are unenforceable by reason of an order of a state or federal court;
5. Amounts calculated in Steps (1), (2), and (3) for each municipality are totaled, and the amount calculated in Step (4) is deducted from the total, with the result entered for each municipality in Column 5 of the County Equalization Table. Amounts for each municipality in Column 5 are later transferred to Column 6 of the County Abstract of Ratables.

Column headings of the County Equalization Table contain basic calculation instructions for proper completion.

1007.03 Form and Content of the County Equalization Table.

The content of the County Equalization Table is statutory and the format of the Table is determined by the Director, Division of Taxation. The prescribed format is a component of the New Jersey Property Tax System.

The County Tax Administrator prepares and submits an Equalization Table to the County Board of Taxation for review on or before March 1 yearly. The Equalization Table is referred to as the Preliminary Equalization Table until it is adopted by the County Tax Board. Not later than March 1 annually, a copy of the Preliminary Equalization Table is mailed to each municipal assessor, the Director, Division of Taxation, and is posted in the courthouse.

1007.05 County Equalization Table-Hearings and Adoption of Table.

County Boards of Taxation are required to hold hearings between March 1 and March 9 of the tax year, where municipal assessors and municipal governing bodies may present their views regarding the data in the County Equalization Table. The data used by the County Tax Administrator to develop municipal ratios must be made available to local assessors and representatives of municipal governing bodies so that they may refute the data or offer data of their own. At the first hearing, any taxing district may object to the ratio or valuation fixed for any other district, but said valuation may not be revised by the County Tax Board until after such taxing district is heard. After three days' notice and following the hearings, the County Tax Board may revise the Equalization Table. The County Equalization Table must be completed before March 10, when certified copies must be filed with every taxing district in the county, the Director, Division of Taxation, the State Tax Court of New Jersey and two copies to the Director, Division of Local Government Services. The court has held that a County Tax Board may properly utilize the Table of Equalized Valuations developed by the Director, Division of Taxation in the promulgation of its Table.

1007.07 Equalization and the Tax Assessor.

Equalization is the responsibility of the County Tax Administrator, the County Board of Taxation and the Division of Taxation. Equalization is performed on a calendar year basis and the “ratable base” used for the equalization processes should be the same. The assessor should review the equalization tables to ensure that the ratable base, as summarized on the filed Tax List (or adjusted by the County Tax Board under their authority to “review, revise and correct”), is the basis for equalization. The same real property ratable base should be used for county equalization, calculation of Page 8 or county ratios, and the Director’s Table of Equalized Valuations calculated within the same calendar year. Additionally, the assessor should review the value for business personal property, the ratios, and tax rates for replacement revenue and the final calculations for the assessed value calculated for the relationship of the “in-lieu” tax payments included in the equalization process. The assessor is copied on meeting notices, preliminary and final equalization tables.

1007.08 Appeals of the County Equalization Table.

Complaints for review of a County Equalization Table must be filed with the Tax Court of New Jersey within 45 days after the Table is promulgated. Because the municipality is a corporation, an appeal must be filed by the municipal attorney or special tax counsel. The form used to file a county equalization complaint is available on the Tax Court website.

1007.09 County Equalization Applied.

The final step for county equalization occurs on the Abstract of Ratables when the equalized amounts are transferred to column 10. The equalized valuation of each taxing district, consisting of the assessed value of all real and personal property, plus the adjustments for equalization purposes in Columns 1 through 5 and shown in Column 6 on the County Equalization Table are then included in the basis for apportionment of property taxes for county purposes.

1008. Revaluation or Reassessment Impact on Municipal Ratio For County Equalization.

1008.01 Ratios and the Impact of Revaluation/Reassessment.

County Tax Administrators are encouraged to use the Director's Ratio. However, when a municipality's assessments undergo substantial revision due to implementation of an approved revaluation or reassessment, and new taxable values are placed on the Tax List, the Director's Ratio promulgated on the preceding October 1 no longer applies. The County Tax Administrator must determine a new assessment ratio to reflect that district's new ratable base.

The two months or less between the filing of the Tax List and the finalization of county equalization does not contain sufficient sales data necessary for a County Tax Administrator to develop a new ratio using sales transactions. To overcome this difficulty the Division of Taxation developed a methodology known as the “Page 8 Formula” for use by County Tax Administrators. Utilization of the Page 8 Formula has been approved and encouraged by the courts of New Jersey. The calculations prescribed in the Page 8 Formula provide a County Equalization Ratio to be used in the first year of the implementation of an approved revaluation or reassessment.

1008.02 Page 8 and the Assessor’s Report.

Page 8 Formula is based on the assumption that the Equalized Value of a municipality established on October 1 each year by the Director, Division of Taxation will continue to be the Equalized Value of that municipality at the commencement of the following year, except for:

- Value of new construction during the prior year
- Value of property mistakenly omitted from the prior year’s Tax List
- Loss in ratables value from fire, demolition, natural disasters
- Value of ratables transferred from taxable to exempt status

The foregoing information is usually provided to the County Tax Administrator by the municipal assessor on an Assessor’s Report filed with the Tax List.

Township of Willingboro v. Burlington County Board of Taxation, 62 N.J. 203 (1973).

1008.03 Calculating a Ratio Using Page 8 Formula.

The base data needed to calculate a Page 8 ratio include:

- True Value of the municipality for the preceding year as per the Director’s Table of Equalized Valuations promulgated the preceding October 1

- Current Year Added and Omitted Assessments as per the Abstract of Added and Omitted Assessments from the preceding October 1 (they may be adjusted for appeals)
- New construction not on the Added Assessment List from the preceding October 1 but recorded on the Certification of New Construction Form (Form CNC-1) filed for the current tax year
- Demolitions from the preceding tax year
- Loss in ratables from the preceding tax year
- Transfers of property from taxable in the preceding tax year to exempt in the current tax year
- Current True Value is the total ratable base submitted on the Tax List on January 10

Dividing the Current True Value by the Adjusted True Value from the prior year establishes a County Equalization Ratio with the same properties as the Director's Ratio.

If the method adopted by the County Tax Administrator, and later by the County Board of Taxation, produces a ratio that is greater than or less than 100%, that ratio is to be used for the equalization of real property.

- The County Board of Taxation may request this information annually on an "Assessor's Report" filed January 10 with the Tax List. There is no promulgated form; however, a suggested format is provided in the Handbook for County Boards of Taxation.

1009. Equalization of In-Lieu of Tax for County Equalization.

1009.01 In-Lieu Tax Payments Under Five Year Tax Agreements.

“In-lieu tax payments” made pursuant to five year tax agreements authorized under N.J.S.A. 40A:21-1 (C 441, Laws 1991) are required to be included in the County Equalization Table. No other “in-lieu” tax payments are part of the county equalization process.

REFERENCES:
N.J.S.A. 40A:21-1.

1009.02 Reporting Municipal Limited Exemptions/Abatements.

Each qualified municipality granting limited exemptions must have a valid authorizing ordinance, and each in-lieu tax payment must be authorized by separate agreement in ordinance form. The properties with approved exemptions and “in-lieu” tax payments are recorded in the NJ Property Tax System with the taxable portion shown on the Real Property Tax List, and the exempt portion on the Real Property Exempt List with a specific code. Properties subject to “in-lieu” tax payments are extracted from the Exempt Property List with a program identifying them by the specific exempt property list code:

Part 1	Owner	Code -24
Part 2	General use	Code -17
Part 3	Specific use	Code -994

The Exempt List for these properties provides the assessor and the County Tax Administrator with the property identification and assessed value of those properties paying “in-lieu taxes” authorized by ordinances for each individual limited exemption/abatement agreement. Upon receipt of the Exempt List for Chapter 441, the County Tax Administrator mails Form E/A 4 to the assessor of the municipality. Completed E/A 4 forms must be returned to the County Tax Administrator prior to February 1.

1009.04 Calculating the Aggregate Assessed Value to be Equalized.

Part B of the E/A 4 form provides the formula to calculate an assumed assessed value based on the percentage relationship of the “in- lieu” tax payment to the actual tax payment had the limited exemption/abatement not been granted. The County Tax Administrator completes Part B of the E/A 4 form. The steps include the following:

- Calculate the Current True Value = current year assessment from the Exempt List divided by the Director’s Ratio (if ratio exceeds 100% use 100%) or the ratio developed for a revalued or reassessed district.
- Calculate the Effective Tax Rate - Prior year general tax rate times the Director’s Ratio and express the result as a decimal.
- Calculate the tax without the agreement = adjusted True Value times adjusted tax rate.
- Determine the percentage of in-lieu of payments to tax payments that would otherwise be due starting with the current year payment and dividing by the calculated tax that would otherwise be due.
- Calculate the Aggregate Assessed Value to be included in County Equalization. Multiply the current year assessment from the Exempt List by the percentage relationship of in-lieu of payments to taxes that would otherwise be due.

The Final Step is not completed on the E/A 4 form. The aggregate assessed value to be included in the County Equalization process is divided by the municipality’s County Equalization Ratio and the result is recorded in Column 5 of the County Equalization Table.

NOTE: The Aggregate Assessed Value must be equalized before it is entered in column 5 of the Equalization Table. That amount is then equalized and recorded in column 5 of the County Equalization Table.

Chapter 11 Tax Appeals

1101. The Right of Appeal.

Taxpayers and taxing districts have the right to appeal disputed property valuations. An appellant may not bypass steps in the appeal process, such as filing with the N.J. Superior Court before bringing the appeal to the County Board of Taxation and/or the Tax Court of New Jersey. In unusual cases, the courts have relaxed this rule. An appeal may stop at any level in the process, if both parties are satisfied with the judgment.

1101.01 Timeline for Property Valuation by Municipal Assessor and for Revision of Assessor's Property Value Determinations.

N.J.S.A. 54:4-23 provides, "All real property shall be assessed to the person owning the same on October 1 in each year. The assessor shall ascertain the names of the owners of all real property situate in his taxing district, and, after examination and inquiry, determine the full and fair value of each parcel of real property situate in the taxing district at such price as, in his judgment, it would sell for at a fair and bona fide sale by private contract on October 1 next preceding the date on which the assessor shall complete his assessments,"

N.J.S.A. 54:4-35 requires that, “The assessor shall determine his taxable valuations of real property as of October 1 in each year and shall complete the preparation of his assessment list by January 10 following, on which date he shall attend before the County Board of Taxation and file with the board his complete assessment list,…”

N.J.S.A. 54:4-38 further requires that, “Every assessor, at least ten days before filing the complete assessment list and duplicate with the County Board of Taxation, …shall notify each taxpayer of the current assessment and preceding year’s taxes and give public notice by advertisement in at least one newspaper circulating within his taxing district of a time and place when and where the assessment list may be inspected by any taxpayer for the purpose of enabling the taxpayer to ascertain what assessments have been made against him or his property and to confer informally with the assessor as to the correctness of the assessments, so that any errors may be corrected before the filing of assessment list and duplicate…”

N.J.S.A. 54:4-38.1 directs, “Every assessor, prior to February 1, shall notify by mail each taxpayer of the current assessment and preceding year’s taxes. Thereafter, the assessor or County Board of Taxation shall notify each taxpayer by mail within 30 days of any change to the assessment. This notification of change of assessment shall contain the prior assessment and the current assessment. The director shall establish the form of notice of assessment and change of assessment. Any notice issued by the assessor or County Board of Taxation shall contain information instructing taxpayers on how to appeal their assessments.”

Once the assessment list is filed with the County Tax Board on or before January 10, the assessor no longer has the authority to make any changes. The assessor can, however, informally apply to the tax board any time prior to its final certification of the list to request that an assessment be amended. If an error is discovered after the list has been certified, a formal tax appeal would be necessary to obtain a change in assessment for the year at issue.

As per N.J.S.A. 54:3-21, an appeal to the county board must be filed by April 1 or 45 days from the date the Notification of Assessment is mailed by the taxing district, whichever is later.* Taxpayers who receive a Notification of Change in Assessment must appeal within 45 days of the issue date of the notice. Often the process of stipulation can eliminate the need for a formal appeal hearing. After an appeal is filed with the County Board of Taxation and before judgment is rendered, the assessor may offer a taxpayer a settlement stipulation if he/she agrees that the assessment should be other than that listed. The assessor may not finalize a stipulation of settlement of tax appeal. Stipulation agreements must be approved by the municipal attorney and the County Tax Board. If the board approves the stipulation, a judgment is issued in accordance with the terms of the agreement. If the board disapproves the stipulation, the taxpayer is advised of the disallowance and a formal appeal hearing is scheduled.

*For districts where a district-wide revaluation or reassessment has been implemented the appeal deadline is on or before May 1.

As per by N.J.S.A. 54:3-27, “A taxpayer who shall file an appeal from an assessment against him shall pay to the collector of the taxing district no less than the total of all taxes and municipal charges due, up to and including the first quarter of the taxes and municipal charges assessed against him for the current tax year...” Under the statute, as amended by Chapter 208, Public Law 1999, the County Tax Board may relax the tax payment requirement and fix the terms for payment of the tax.

Where a taxpayer is successful in appealing the assessment on his/her property, the municipality must refund any excess taxes paid with interest from the date of payment at a rate of 5% per annum, less any amount of taxes and interest applied against delinquencies, within 60 days of the date of final judgment as per N.J.S.A. 54:3-27.2.

*NOTE: For Assessment Demonstration Program counties see section 105.04 for calendar dates.

1101.02 Types of Appeals.

There are different types of appeals. This chapter deals with appeals of regular property valuations. Here the property's assessed valuation as it appears on the Tax List for the year is at issue. At appeal, proof of the property's market value is required. Other types of appeals, such as those of Added or Omitted Assessments and of equalization, are discussed in their respective chapters.

A taxpayer may file an appeal:

1. if he/she is aggrieved by the assessed value on his/her own property,

A taxing district may file an appeal:

1. if it believes that it is discriminated against by an assessed value of any property in the taxing district,
2. if it believes that it is discriminated against by an assessment in any other taxing district in the county.

1102. Municipal Assessor as an Informal Appeal Agency.

The municipal assessor is an informal appeal agency. It is recommended that assessors encourage taxpayers who are not satisfied with their assessments to consult with them before filing a formal appeal. It is possible that an error was made. Sometimes, the method of assessment can be explained satisfactorily. Many potential tax appeals can be settled through informal consultation with offer of and entry into a stipulation without a formal hearing before the County Board of Taxation.

1102.01 Informal Review Before Filing Assessment/Tax List.

At least ten days before filing the complete Tax List and Duplicate on January 10 of the tax year, the assessor is required to give notice by newspaper advertisement when and where taxpayers may inspect assessments for the coming year. If a taxpayer discovers an error in the Tax List, the assessor can correct it before the List is filed with the County Board of Taxation on January 10. This eliminates filing a formal tax appeal, and saves the taxpayer and the assessor considerable time and effort later. Assessors should regard this period of taxpayer review as an opportunity to eliminate errors and to promote good public relations.

1102.02 Assessor Requests after Filing the Assessment/Tax List.

After the Tax List and Duplicate are filed with the County Board of Taxation, the assessor no longer has the authority to change the List. However, the assessor may informally request the County Board change the Tax List prior to its formal certification by the Board. The County Board of Taxation is authorized to make changes to the Tax List it considers appropriate, prior to certification. If an error is discovered after the Tax List is certified, the filing of a formal appeal to correct the error is needed.

1102.03 Forms.

No formal request form is prescribed by law for taxpayers who request that the assessor change their assessed values. Some assessors develop their own forms for this purpose. Such local request forms are used in gathering information for reviewing the assessment, and provide a standardized record for later reference. However, if the result of the conference is a change in assessment the assessor should keep a written record of facts in the municipal file as to why the assessment was modified.

1103. The Municipal Assessor's Role In an Appeal.

1103.01 Before the Hearing.

Before the hearing assessors should, review the taxpayer's basis for a complaint and determine if it is a valuation issue or an eligibility issue related to deductions, exemptions or farmland.

For valuation issues, is the information submitted by the taxpayer accurate? Are the comparables or income and expenses representative of the market and truly comparable? Is the taxpayer's request reasonable and does the taxpayer have a valid argument?

For eligibility issues, has the taxpayer provided supplemental information to support eligibility related to deductions, exemptions or farmland? Is the taxpayer's request reasonable and does the taxpayer have a valid argument?

In every appeal, assessors should be prepared to present documents of the facts and be prepared to defend their decisions. The assessor should:

- Review the Property Record Card for accuracy and completeness;
- Gather comparable sales for a Sales Comparison Approach;
- For rental properties gather income and expense data of similar use properties;
- Inspect and photograph the subject property and comparables;
- Establish the "Fair Market Value" to be presented at the appeal;
- Obtain any additional evidence needed to successfully defend the assessor's position;
- Determine if the assessment is within the common level limits after establishing the market value of the property;
- Is a settlement stipulation justified? Is the assessment above the upper limit or are there other reasons?
- If so, request the municipal attorney to prepare stipulation documents and obtain all required signatures.

1103.02 If the Appeal Goes to a Hearing.

If appeal is going to a hearing, seven days prior to the hearing date, the assessor must provide the taxpayer all evidence to be presented. In advance of the hearing, assessors should meet with the municipal attorney to discuss strategy and develop questions to be asked of the appellant and/or their experts. At the hearing, the assessor should:

- Follow the advice of the municipal attorney;
- Request that the municipal attorney stand on the assessment if the taxpayer has not provided evidence or failed to prove lower value;
- Encourage the municipal attorney to make motions for dismissal for failure to pay municipal charges, failure to provide Chapter 91 income statements, etc.;
- Present oral testimony, give statement of Market Value, speak clearly, concisely and with sufficient volume;
- Present a comparable sales adjustment grid or Income Approach and provide pictures of subject and comparables;
- Commercial Properties as investments typically require reliance on the Income Approach to Value and should be presented accordingly. The Income Approach is the primary method accepted by the courts to establish market value for commercial properties The assessor should:
 - Estimate potential gross income using market (economic) rents.
 - Deduct for vacancy and rent loss estimated from surveys of similar use properties.
 - Add any other miscellaneous income to get effective gross income.
 - Determine allowable expenses from those supplied by the owner and deduct from the effective gross income to get net operating income. Allowable expenses include management, salaries, utilities, supplies, repairs and maintenance, reserves for replacement and property taxes if not included in the cap rate.
 - Select the proper capitalization rate using the Band of Investment method comprised of a mortgage component and an anticipated yield component. Or if enough information is available one derived from the market.

- Capitalize the net operating income into an estimate of value.

Always be professional in your demeanor and courteous to taxpayers. Avoid emotion, stick to the facts and remember that the appeal process is not personal, it is strictly business.

1104. Assessor to Defend Appeals.

Although the legal burden of proof is upon an appellant, assessors should provide a vigorous defense of their assessments assuming they are valid. A valid assessment should be defended even where the dollar amount is insignificant. If valid assessments are defaulted through lack of defense, the uniformity of the Tax List is jeopardized and the appeal may become precedent. Where the assessor is convinced that an incorrect judgment has been rendered by an appellate agency, he/she should take the initiative to recommend to the municipal governing body that a further appeal be made. The estimated chances for a favorable judgment must be considered.

1104.01 Review of Assessments in Preparing Defense.

As soon as the assessor is notified that an appeal was filed, he/she should review the appraisal and the assessment on the subject property and on any comparable properties which are cited in a discrimination appeal. This should include an inspection of the property in order to make sure that the Property Record Card is accurate and that the property is classified and appraised correctly. Some County Tax Boards encourage the assessor to prepare a written summary of his/her defense, particularly the property's statistical information. The preparation of such a report is good practice; assembling and presenting all information helps the assessor make a logical defense of value. The assessor should bring to the hearing all pertinent records concerning the subject and any comparable properties cited for discrimination appeals. The use of photographs, charts, and records is particularly effective. Copies of Property Record Cards should be provided for the appellate agency. A written report concerning the value of each property under appeal may be presented by the assessor to the hearing body. The assessor should be prepared to give testimony to substantiate his/her assessment, and to assist with cross examination of opposing witnesses, both as to the accuracy of their testimony and to its completeness and adequacy.

1104.02 Legal Counsel.

The municipal attorney can help the assessor with his/her own testimony and can cross-examine opposing witnesses. However, unless the assessor does his/her own work well, no attorney will be able to provide an adequate defense of the assessments. The assessor should make sure that his/her attorney is aware of all the facts before the hearing. In complicated cases, or where the valuation is significant the municipal governing body may retain special legal counsel having a wider experience or particular expertise, such as with commercial property appeals.

1104.03 Expert Witnesses.

The assessor, by virtue of his/her office, is considered an expert witness. However at times, appraisal experts are needed to substantiate the assessor's opinion. Usually, if a case is important enough to bring before Tax Court the expense of retaining expert witnesses can be justified. An "expert witness" should prepare himself/herself by actually inspecting and appraising the property.

1105.01 Filing Deadline for Petitions of Appeal.

The word “filed” has been interpreted by the courts to mean received in the office of the County Board of Taxation by April 1. A postmark of a mailed petition is not sufficient. Appeals by taxpayers or taxing districts to the County Board of Taxation must be filed by April 1 of the tax year, or 45 days from the date the bulk mailing of Notification of Assessment is completed in the taxing district, whichever is later, on petition forms promulgated by the Director, Division of Taxation. (See, http://www.state.nj.us/treasury/taxation/pdf/other_forms/lpt/petappl.pdf) If the last day for filing falls on a Saturday, Sunday, or legal holiday, then the filing deadline is the first business day thereafter. The deadline for filing a tax appeal is extended beyond April 1 whenever a municipality has not completed the bulk mailing of Notices of Assessment at least 45 days prior to April 1. The extension is based on the date of the certification of the bulk mailing of Notices filed with the County Board of Taxation. The deadline for that municipality, and only that municipality, is to be extended as much as is needed to provide a 45-day period in which to file a tax appeal. If the assessed valuation of the property being appealed exceeds $1,000,000, the taxpayer or taxing district may file a petition of appeal directly with the Tax Court. An appeal to the Tax Court must also be filed by April 1* of the year in question or within 45 days of the taxing district’s bulk mailing of the Assessment Notices. For taxpayers and taxing districts where a municipal wide reassessment or revaluation was implemented the filing deadline for appeals is May 1.

*For residents of Monmouth and Gloucester County using the Alternate Assessment Calendar the appeal filing deadline is January 15.

1105.02 Procedures for Appeal Petition, Proof of Service.

Individual petitions of appeal must be filed for each assessed property. Where an appeal involves more than one property, separate petitions of appeal must be filed for each individual property separately assessed, unless permission from the County Board of Taxation is obtained to use a Multiple Appeal Schedule. Commercial, industrial property or multi-unit dwelling (more than 4-family) appeals must include, an itemized statement showing all sources of income and all expenses for the most recently completed accounting year and for any additional tax years requested by the County Tax Board.

- A. Discrimination appeals. Where a taxpayer alleges discrimination other than the Common Level in his/her assessment it must indicate so on the petition of appeal. Comparable sales of other properties used to establish value must be affixed by a schedule to the petition of appeal and to the copy, giving the block and lot number, the assessed valuation as shown in the current Tax List and the sale price of each comparable property.
- B. Proof of Service - A copy of each petition must also be filed with the Clerk of the taxing district, who is then required to notify the assessor, tax collector and such other municipal officials as the governing body directs. Proof of service upon the Municipal Clerk must be verified by an affidavit of the taxpayer or his/her representative. If the taxpayer is a corporation, the petition of appeal must be prepared and filed by a New Jersey attorney-at-law. Proof of filing may be by receipt stamp of the taxing district or affidavit of service. In O'Rourke v Fredon, the Tax Court denied the Township of Fredon's motion to dismiss twenty-six separate complaints filed by various plaintiffs for failure to comply with the provisions of N.J.S.A. 54:3-21, N.J.A.C. 18:12A-1.6(j), and the rules and regulations of the Sussex County Board of Taxation. The Court held that neither N.J.S.A. 54:3-21 nor N.J.A.C. 18:12A-1.6 (j) imposes a strict April 1 deadline for service of a petition of appeal upon the assessor or Municipal Clerk; to hold otherwise would in effect require the Court to add language to N.J.S.A. 54:3-21 and N.J.A.C. 18:12A-1.6 (j). The Court found that the County Board overstepped its authority when it promulgated its own rule requiring an April 1 postmark deadline for service upon the Municipal Clerk and assessor.

1105.04 Filing Fees.

Upon a taxpayer's filing a Petition of Appeal a fee must be paid. The amount of fee depends upon the assessed valuation of the property. The fees to be charged are:

Less than $150,000	$ 5.00
$150,000 or more but less than $500,000	$ 25.00
$500,000 or more but less than $1,000,000	$100.00
$1,000,000 or more	$150.00

1. For appeals of only the property's classification, $25 is charged for each reclassification.
2. For appeals of both the property's assessed valuation and the classification, the fee applies in accordance with the assessed valuation of the property, plus a fee of $25 for reclassification.
3. For appeals other than assessed valuation, property classification, or a combination of these two, the full filing fee is $25.
4. For Added Assessment appeals the fee is based upon the apportioned valuation on the Added Assessment List (i.e. the prorated assessment).
5. No filing fee is charged for appeals from a denial of a veteran's property tax deduction; a veteran's surviving spouse/civil union partner/domestic partner deduction, a senior/disabled person, surviving spouse/civil union partner/domestic partner, property tax deduction, a property tax exemption for a disabled veteran or a surviving spouse/civil union and domestic partner of a disabled veteran.
6. Where the County Board of Taxation permits the filing of one petition of appeal for more than one property, the fee is the amount which would have been payable had individual petitions of appeal been filed separately for each parcel.

The County Tax Administrator is responsible for all fees paid and transmits all fees to the County Treasurer.

The filing fees are fixed by law and are to be used exclusively to modernize County Tax Boards' record retention capabilities, for costs in recording and transcribing appeal proceedings, for setting forth Memorandums of Judgment and copies, and for paying by the county any salary which is increased by Chapter 499, Laws of 1979.

1105.05 Settlement Stipulations.

After an appeal is filed with the County Board of Taxation but before judgment is rendered, if appellant and municipality reach an understanding as to the property's assessed valuation, they may enter into a Settlement Stipulation. Any proposed Settlement is required to be in writing, to include the basis for the Settlement, and to be signed by the parties or their attorneys. Stipulation Agreements must also be signed by the municipal attorney. The assessor is not permitted on his/her own authority to sign a Stipulated Settlement of an assessment appeal. It is to be submitted to the County Board of Taxation for its approval. The Board, in its discretion, may require the parties (appellant or taxing district) or their attorneys to appear before it. If the County Tax Board approves the Stipulation, a judgment will be issued in accordance with the terms agreed upon. The Stipulation certifies to the County Board of Taxation the assessment amount and avoids the formalities of a regular hearing and judgment by the Board. No standardized Stipulation form is prescribed for all counties.

However, if the County Board of Taxation disapproves the Stipulation, the parties must be notified of the disapproval and advised of a new hearing date for appeal.

1105.06 Appeal Discontinued.

An appellant may withdraw his/her appeal at any time before a judgment is rendered by the County Board of Taxation. No standardized withdrawal form is prescribed for all counties.

1105.07 Hearing Notices.

The County Board of Taxation must give at least 10 days' notice to both the appellant and the taxing district as to the time and place of a hearing. Notification by mail is sufficient. Some Boards maintain a practice of notifying taxing districts immediately after the April 1 filing deadline of all appeals received for their taxing districts. This allows the taxing district time to obtain copies of petitions and prepare a defense.

1105.08 Hearings.

The procedures for County Tax Board hearings are set forth in N.J. Administrative Code Rules for County Boards of Taxation promulgated by the Director of the Division of Taxation. The Board has the right to compel the attendance of witnesses, to require books and records to be produced, and to examine witnesses under oath. An individual may be subject to contempt proceedings should he/she fail to comply with County Board directives. An individual making a false statement under oath before the Board may be guilty of perjury.

1105.09 Payment of Taxes Pending Appeal.

A taxpayer who files an appeal from his/her property's assessed value is required to pay the tax collector of the taxing district all taxes and municipal charges due up to and including the first quarter of the taxes and municipal charges assessed for the current tax year. If at the time of the hearing taxes are not paid, the taxing district may move before the County Board of Taxation for a dismissal of the appeal. However, the County Tax Board may relax the tax payment requirement and fix the terms for tax payment in the "interest of justice." The tax payment requirement does not apply where qualification for exemption is the subject for appeal, for Farmland Qualified (3B), and other exemptions designated as Class 15D, E and F (see N.J.S.A. 54:4-52).

1105.10 Representation before the County Tax Board.

Taxpayers may represent themselves at the hearing (pro se). Otherwise the taxpayer must be represented by a member of the bar of the State of New Jersey. This requirement may be waived by the County Board of Taxation in cases of extreme hardship such as old age, illiteracy, etc. If the taxpayer is a corporation, it must be represented by a New Jersey attorney-at-law, unless an attorney from another state is permitted to appear by the Board. The municipal assessor is required to attend any hearings, together with counsel for the taxing district, unless the County Tax Board rules to the contrary. No assessor is permitted to appear before a County Board of Taxation as an expert witness against another assessor or taxing district, except to defend an assessment of his/her own taxing district. No person may testify as to an assessment at a hearing of the Board unless he/she has inspected the property.

1105.11 Burden of Proof.

The courts have held that in appeal proceedings before a County Board of Taxation, the valuation is presumed to be correct and the burden of proving differently is the appellant's. Absent some evidence to the contrary, the County Board of Taxation may dismiss the appeal. A taxpayer's nonappearance at the hearing may result in his/her appeal being dismissed by the Board. The fact that the burden of proof is the appellant's does not release the taxing district from the responsibility of preparing a good defense of a property's valuation. The assessor or taxing district's representative should be prepared to justify the assessment as though the burden of proof were on the municipality. If the appellant presents sufficient evidence to overcome the burden, the taxing district must rebut such evidence through competent proofs. Where the assessed valuation was determined by the Income Approach, at the hearing the taxing district is required to produce a copy of the Property Record Card for the property under appeal, showing the value computation based on the capitalization of income. If an appellant relies on expert testimony in attempting to prosecute his/her appeal, three copies of the appraisal must be filed with the County Board of Taxation and one copy served upon the taxing district at least one week prior to the hearing. The appellant has the right to inspect the Property Record Card of the property under appeal at least one week prior to the hearing. The County Tax Board may waive the requirement of a written appraisal.

1105.12 Hearings Completed.

All assessed value appeal hearings before the County Board of Taxation must be completed within 3 months of the last day for filing appeals. However, in the event the Board is unable to hear and determine any appeals within 3 months, the Board may apply to the Director, Division of Taxation to extend the time for hearing and determining appeals. The Director may grant extensions of time where it is shown by the County Board of Taxation that the number of appeals before it is disproportionate to the number of members hearing the appeals, or the number of appeals has increased sufficiently to warrant granting an extension of time. For appeals where an extension is granted, Director, Division of Taxation is to indicate the amount of tax, if any, the taxpayer must pay during the period of extension.

1105.13 Judgments.

Judgments of the County Boards of Taxation must be entered on all appeals and kept by the Board as permanent records. N.J.A.C. 18:12A-1.12(6) reads as follows: “The County Board of Taxation should endeavor to send out judgments at the time decided or as soon thereafter as practical, and not hold them until the time for hearing and determining appeals has expired pursuant to N.J.S.A. 54:3-26, as extended by N.J.S.A. 54:3-26.1. Earlier disposition will assist the Tax Court in the processing of its caseload.” The Division of Taxation recommends, despite increases in appeal filings and staff downsizing, that County Boards transmit written judgments to taxpayers, assessors and collectors in a thirty-day timeframe to assist taxpayers in gaining more immediate tax relief and to streamline and make uniform the process of issuing written judgments. A written Memorandum of Judgment must be sent to the assessor and the taxpayer setting forth the basis for the judgment. Where the judgment results in a change in the taxes to be paid a written Memorandum of Judgment is also to be sent to the tax collector. If any party to the appeal believes that the judgment of the County Tax Board is incorrect, it may carry a further appeal to the State Tax Court of New Jersey.

1105.15 Binding Effect of Judgment (Freeze Act).

If no further appeal is made from the judgment of the County Board of Taxation, the assessed value set by the Board is "frozen" for the assessment year and for the next two years. The purpose of this law is to prevent a taxing district from harassing a taxpayer by forcing him or her to appeal his/her assessment every year to receive equitable treatment. Exception to this "Freeze Act" may be made:

1. if the assessor demonstrates, at appeal to the County Board, that the property value changed since the assessment date; or
2. if a complete revaluation or reassessment of all real property in the taxing district is put into effect.

1105.16 Freeze Act- Settlements.

The N.J. Supreme Court held that the Freeze Act is triggered not only by judgments on the merits, but by judgments based on settlements. The High Court noted that upon a settlement of an appeal, the Freeze Act may be invoked at the exclusive option of the taxpayer, but not at the option of the municipality. Although the municipality has no authority to waive application of the Freeze Act, it can negotiate with the taxpayer who would agree to waive the Freeze Act as a condition for settlement.

1. Stipulated Settlement of County Tax Board Appeal.

In accordance with the Kentile decision, the County Tax Board, at the option of the taxpayer, may enter a stipulated judgment for that particular tax year. The stipulated judgment would have an effect for that year only and would not trigger the Freeze Act for any of the two subsequent tax years. After entry of said judgment, the assessor would be free to reflect a different property value in subsequent year's Tax Lists.

2. County Board Judgments Which Are Further Appealed = No Freeze Act.

A County Tax Board judgment that is further appealed by a municipality or a taxpayer, is not a "judgment final" and cannot be the basis for application of the Freeze Act for two (2) subsequent tax years. Where the County Board enters its judgment in year 1 and that judgment is further appealed, the Freeze Act does not apply. The municipal assessor is not required to apply the judgment value in year 2 and can reflect on the Tax List the assessed value he/she considers proper.

3. County Board Judgments Which Are Not Further Appealed = "Judgment Final."

When the County Tax Board enters a judgment reducing an assessment which is not further appealed by either party, it becomes a “judgment final” for purposes of the Freeze Act statute. The County Board, in reviewing and revising the Tax Lists (N.J.S.A. 54:4-46 and 47), should adjust any assessment where a “judgment final” entered by the Board is not appropriately reflected. Where a change in value occurs after the previous year’s assessing date so as to negate the Freeze Act, then the municipality, at the behest of the assessor, should file a conventional tax appeal with the County Board as per N.J.S.A. 54:3-21 to prove change in value.

4. Exempt/Taxable Status or Farmland Assessment = No Freeze Act.

The Freeze Act applies to final judgments which are based upon valuation. It does not apply to the exempt/taxable status of a property, nor judgments granting farmland assessment.

“...The evil which the ‘freeze’ statute sought to remedy was repeated yearly increases in the assessed value of property, not related to or justified by any changes increasing its market value, and resulting in harassment of the taxpayer, subjecting him/her to the trouble and expense of annual appeals to the county tax board. It has no application, either by its phraseology or its obvious intent, to determinations of the tax exempt status...” Newark v. Fischer, 8 N.J. 19 (1951).

1105.17 Chapter 123, Method of Relief Available to Appellants.

Chapter 123, Laws of 1973 provides a systematic method of determining whether an appellant in a discrimination tax appeal is entitled to and the amount of property tax relief.

Chapter 123, Laws of 1973 is a procedure for use by tax appeal hearing bodies, (County Boards of Taxation, the Tax Court, and the Appellate Division of the Superior Court) where the relief to be granted may be calculated, once the true value of the property under appeal is determined by the hearing body.

1105.18 True Value.

“True value” for purposes of the appeal process is that value considered to be the “price a willing buyer would pay a willing seller at private contract on October 1 of the pretax year, i.e., year prior to the year at issue,” as determined by the hearing body.

1105.19 Average Ratio and Common Level Range.

On April 1 each year the Director, Division of Taxation publishes an “Average Ratio” and a “Common Level Range” for each municipality.

1. The “Average Ratio” for a taxing district corresponds to the Average Ratio promulgated by the Director on the preceding October 1 for State School Aid purposes, subject to change as the result of appeal and judgment of the Tax Court (Average Ratio also known as Director’s Ratio).
2. The “Common Level Range” for a taxing district is that range which is calculated to be 15% plus and minus the Average Ratio. For example, where the average ratio is found to be 78.00%, the Common Level Range would be: Lower Limit- 66.30%, Upper Limit- 89.70%.

Additional examples in calculating the Common Level Range can be found at:

1105.20 Calculation of Chapter Relief.

A ratio is struck by dividing the assessed value of the property under appeal by the true value of the property, as determined by the hearing body. This ratio is called “Subject Property Ratio.”

1. If the Subject Property Ratio falls within the Common Level Range, no reduction is to be made in the assessed value of the appealed property, subject to (3) and (4) below.
2. If the Subject Property Ratio exceeds the Upper Limit of the Common Level Range, or falls below the Lower Limit of the Common Level Range, the assessment is to be determined by multiplying the Average Ratio for the taxing district, also known as the Director’s Ratio, times the true value for the subject property, as determined by the hearing body, subject to (3) and (4) below.

3. If the Subject Property Ratio exceeds the County Percentage Level (100%) and the district's Average Ratio (Director's Ratio) is below the County Percentage Level (100%), the assessment is determined by multiplying the Average Ratio for the taxing district times the true value for the Subject Property, as determined by the hearing body.
4. If the Subject Property Ratio exceeds the County Percentage Level (100%) and if the district Average Ratio (Director's Ratio) also exceeds the County Percentage Level (100%), the assessment is determined by multiplying the County Percentage Level times the true value of the Subject Property, as determined by the hearing body.

In a recent New Jersey Tax Court decision, North Brunswick Township v. Gochal, Gary and Nancy, 27 N.J. Tax 31(Tax Ct. 2012), the Court held, "While Chapter 123 is not the exclusive remedy for discrimination in assessment, 'a taxpayer's right to relief should be determined in accordance with Chapter 123 in all but the most extreme or severe circumstances'...In other words, N.J.S.A. 54:3-22(c) limits the relief that may be granted by the County Board of Taxation. The Tax Court is similarly limited by N.J.S.A. 54:51A-6a...[I]f the ratio of the assessment to true value is within the common level range, there is no provision for revision of the assessment: no adjustment of the assessment is required or permitted. A revaluation year is virtually the only instance in which a board of taxation (or the Tax Court) may revise an assessment without regard to whether the ratio of the assessment to true value falls outside of a common level range."

Chapter 123, Laws of 1973

EXAMPLE 1

Situation

*Whenever the County Board of Taxation, Tax Court of New Jersey or Superior Court is satisfied by the proofs that the ratio of the assessed valuation of the subject property to its true value exceeds the Upper Limit or falls below the Lower Limit of the Common Level Range, it shall revise the taxable value of the property by applying the Average Ratio to the True Value of the property.

Assumption

County Percentage Level	100.00%
Average Ratio	95.41%
15% Common Level Range	109.72 Upper limit
15% Common Level Range	81.10 Lower limit

EXAMPLE

Subject Property-true value	$100,000
Assessment	$120,000
Ratio of assessment	120% (exceeds Upper Limit)
Reduce taxable value	$$100,000 \times 95.41\% = $95,410$ (Applying average ratio – 95.41%)

Property – same subject – true value	$100,000
Assessment	$70,000
Ratio of assessment	70.00% (below Lower Limit)
Increase taxable value	$$100,000 \times 95.41\% = $95,410$

(Applying Average Ratio – 95.41%)

EXAMPLE 2

Situation

*If the Average Ratio is below the County Percentage Level and the ratio of the assessed value of the subject property to its true value exceeds the County Percentage Level, the County Board of Taxation, Tax Court of New Jersey or Superior Court shall reduce the taxable value of the property by applying the Average Ratio to the True Value of the property.

Assumption

County Percentage Level	100.00%
Average Ratio	95.41%	(below County Level)
15% Common Level Range	109.72%	Upper limit
15 % Common Level Range	81.10%	Lower Limit

EXAMPLE

Subject property – true value	$100,000
Assessment	$110,000
Ratio of Assessment	110.00% (exceeds County Level)
Taxable value reduced	$$100,000 \times 95.41\% = $95,410$

In this example, Average Ratio is below County Level – 95.41%

Assessment ratio exceeds County Level – 110.00%

Therefore, taxable value is reduced by applying Average Ratio – 95.41%

EXAMPLE 3

Situation

*If both the Average Ratio and the ratio of assessed value of the subject property to its true value exceed the County Percentage Level, the County Board of Taxation, Tax Court of New Jersey or Superior Court shall revise the taxable value of the property by applying the County Percentage Level to the True Value of the property.

Assumption

County percentage level	100.00%
Average ratio	110.41%	(exceeds County Level)
15% Common level range	126.97%	Upper limit
15% Common level range	93.85%	Lower limit

EXAMPLE

Subject property – true value	$100,000
Assessment	$120,000
Ratio of assessment	120.00% (exceeds County Level)

Taxable value decreased to County Level $$100,000 \times 100.00\% = $100,000$

In this example, both the Average Ratio and the assessment ratio exceed the County Percentage Level.

Average ratio	110.41%
Assessment ratio	120.00%

1105.21 Chapter 123 Not Applicable in Revalued or Reassessed Municipalities.

Although district Average Ratio and Common Level Ranges will be published for all municipalities, taxpayers appealing assessments in those municipalities which implement approved revaluations or reassessments may not utilize Chapter 123 calculations. 1106. Chapter 91 Reasonableness Hearings.

1106.01 N.J.S.A. 54:4-34.

N.J.S.A. 54:4-34 provides, in part, “No appeal shall be heard from the assessor’s valuation and assessment with respect to income-producing property where the owner has failed or refused to respond to such written request for information within 45 days of such request or to testify on oath when required, or shall have rendered a false or fraudulent account. The County Board of Taxation may impose such terms and conditions for furnishing the requested information where it appears that the owner, for good cause shown, could not furnish the information within the required period of time.”

1106.02 Legislative Intent of Chapter 91.

Amended May 16, 1979, the amendment added the provision denying appeal rights to owners of income-producing property who fail to respond to an information request notice as a sanction.

The premise of Chapter 91 is that the taxpayer controls the income information. Income information is a good measure of value, and if the taxpayer withholds information as to income, the municipality has no choice but to set the property's assessment without benefit of that income information. Further, the 45-day response period fixed in the statute was considered "necessary to provide for an orderly procedure," Senate Revenue Finance and Appropriations Committee.

The New Jersey Supreme Court in Ocean Pines Ltd. sustained the statute. The Court held this is not a violation of due process nor in any way a violation of the taxpayer's rights. Statute is reasonably related to State's legitimate interest and timely receipt of economic information necessary for accurate valuation of property. Taxpayer does have right to a "reasonableness" hearing. Ocean Pines, Ltd v. Borough of Pt. Pleasant, 112 N.J. 1 (1988).

975 Holdings, LLC. v. Egg Harbor City, 30 N.J. Tax 124 (Tax Court 2017).

1106.03 Role of County Tax Board re: Chapter 91 Request.

If a Chapter 91 dismissal is granted, the County Tax Board should conduct a reasonableness hearing. The taxpayer should have the opportunity to establish that the assessor was not reasonable in determining the assessed value.

If the taxpayer is successful, appeal is re-scheduled for a full valuation hearing. If the taxpayer is unsuccessful, appeal is dismissed. Reasonableness hearings should be determined on a case by case basis and are generally limited to what is reasonable under the specific circumstances. Essentially, what information does the assessor need which is inaccessible without the cooperation of the taxpayer in order to determine the assessment? Information requested should be pertinent to setting the assessment for the tax year under appeal.

1106.04 Timing of Hearing.

Reasonableness hearings can take place immediately or can be separately scheduled.

1106.05 Burden of Proof.

The taxpayer has the burden to prove that the assessor's method of valuation is unreasonable. The taxpayer can only use the information available to the assessor at the time the assessed valuation was made. The hearing is not "de novo" and interrogatories cannot be used.

1107.02 Commencement of Action.

Complaints are filed with the Office of the Clerk of the Tax Court. However, *no complaint may be filed with the Tax Court to review a local assessment unless an appeal was previously instituted before a County Board of Taxation. The Court will not receive a local assessment appeal even when an action against the assessment was instituted before the County Tax Board if:

1. the appeal to the County Board of Taxation was withdrawn;
2. the appeal to the County Tax Board was dismissed by the Board because the appellant failed to prosecute the appeal;
3. the appeal to the Board was settled by mutual consent of the taxpayer and assessor.

EXCEPTION:

*A petition of appeal bypassing the County Board of Taxation may be filed directly with the Tax Court by a taxpayer or taxing district where the assessed value of the property under appeal exceeds $1,000,000 or the assessed value for an added or omitted assessment exceeds $750,000.

1107.05 Complaint Forms.

Complaint forms have been prepared by the State Tax Court, including two complaint forms to be used by taxpayers and taxing districts for local property tax appeals. The complaint must state whether or not it is a Small Claims Case, so that the Clerk of the Tax Court can assign those cases to the Small Claims Division. A case is a Small Claims Case if each separately assessed parcel of property included in the complaint is either a Class 2 residential property (1-4 family residence) or a Class 3A farm residence or the prior assessment year's property taxes were less than $25,000. Each is described below:

- Class 2 residential property – a lot or parcel of land on which a house designed for use by not more than four families is situated.
- Class 3A farm residence- farm property not assessed under the Farmland Assessment Act.
- Prior year's tax – the property tax paid on the subject property for the year before the assessment year being appealed must have been less than $25,000.

A brief statement of the factual basis of the claim and the relief sought must be contained in the complaint. The wording of the form of complaint may be modified to adapt the form to the facts, allegations and the relief sought in a particular case. A copy of the County Board of Taxation judgment or order must be attached to the complaint. The complaint may be signed by the attorney of record and served by an attorney or signed by a party to the proceeding and served by a party to the complaint if there was a hearing at the County Board of Taxation.

1107.07 Filing Fees for Tax Court.

The filing fee must be received with the complaint. For regular Tax Court complaints contesting local property assessments, a general filing fee of $200 is charged for the first parcel and $50 for an additional parcel. Complaints in the Small Claims Division of the Tax Court are charged a filing fee of $35 for one property. Multiple property complaints are charged $35 for the first property and $10 for each additional property which is contiguous and in common ownership.

In cases of multiple causes of action contained in a single complaint or counter claim the following schedule of fees applies:

1. Condominiums – If a complaint includes more than one parcel of real property separately assessed under either the Horizontal Property Act or the Condominium Property Act, the filing fee is $200 for the first separately assessed parcel, and $50 for each additional separately assessed parcel of property of the owner included in the complaint. A Small Claims case is $35 for the first separately assessed parcel of the property owner and $10 for each additional separately assessed parcel of the owner included in the complaint.

Where the question at issue is eligibility for a veteran, or senior/disabled property tax deduction no filing fee is charged. Checks or money orders for fee payments should be made to Treasurer, State of New Jersey.

1107.13 Prehearing (Pretrial) Conference.

Prehearing conferences may be conducted by the Tax Court to eliminate extraneous issues, contentions or arguments that any party to the proceeding might seek to introduce, and to “streamline” the case. At prehearing (pretrial) conference, the judge orders the issues that are to be heard (tried).

1107.14 Tax Court Hearings.

All matters in the Tax Court are heard by a single judge sitting without a jury. A record is kept of all proceedings, and all testimony is required to be given under oath.

1107.15 Submission without a Hearing (on the papers).

A party to a proceeding before the Tax Court, after notice to all parties, may move to submit the case to the court without a trial. This might be done where sufficient facts have been established, stipulated and admitted into the record and a hearing is not required. Such a procedure must be agreed to by the Tax Court, which may still require further information.

1107.17 Hearing in the Small Claims Division.

The general rules of procedure in the Tax Court apply to the Small Claims Division, except that the prehearing conference may be held at the same time the case is scheduled for hearing. Both the prehearing conference and the hearing are informal and the judge may hear such testimony and receive such evidence as he/she considers necessary, but all testimony must be given under oath. All proceedings in the Tax Court, including Small Claims matters, must be recorded.

1107.18 Burden of Proof.

The courts have held in past appeal proceedings before the Division of Tax Appeals and currently before the Tax Court, findings of the County Board of Taxation must be presumed correct. The burden of proving otherwise falls on the party carrying the appeal to the Tax Court level. An appeal from the judgment of a County Board of Taxation brings within the jurisdiction of the Tax Court the entire assessment, not just the aspects argued before the County Tax Board and is a “trial de novo.”

1107.19 Judgments.

The Tax Court is required to put its findings of fact and law in writing and file copies with the parties to the appeal, the County Tax Administrator, the assessor, Clerk and collector of the taxing district. If any party to the appeal believes the judgment of the Tax Court is inadequate, it may carry a further appeal to the Appellate Division, Superior Court.

1107.20 Freeze Act at Tax Court.

The purpose of the Freeze Act is to prevent a taxing district from harassing a taxpayer by forcing him or her to appeal his or her assessment every year, in order to receive equitable treatment.

1107.21 Binding Effect of Final Judgments.

The assessed value set by final judgment of the Tax Court must remain in effect for the assessment year and for the next two years. Exceptions to this “Freeze Act” may be made only:

1. if the assessor can demonstrate at appeal, that the value of the property has changed since the assessment date, or
2. if a complete revaluation or district-wide reassessment of all real property in the taxing district was put into effect.

As a result of court decisions, the Attorney General set forth guidelines for applying the Freeze Act to a Tax Court or an appellate court “judgment final” (a judgment not further appealed) as follows:

- Normally, these judgments are entered when one or both Freeze Act years have already passed. Unlike the County Tax Boards which can prospectively apply the Freeze Act to their own judgments when not further appealed, the judgments entered by Tax Court and higher courts may involve adjustments of Tax Lists and county apportionments which were already adopted. For example, the Tax Court judgment may state that the assessed valuation applies only for a particular year. This statement would likely appear on a stipulated judgment where the taxpayer waived application of the Freeze Act for two years subsequent to the year under appeal.

- In other instances, the Tax Court may issue a judgment establishing a fixed assessment for the tax year or years in question and further note that the Freeze Act applies. In circumstances where judgments state that the Freeze Act applies, County Tax Boards have authority to reflect changes on Assessment Lists for tax years in question and to accord the affected municipality a credit toward its county taxes based on reductions in assessed valuations. County Tax Boards should insist on written confirmation from municipal tax collectors that tax refunds for Freeze years were made so Boards can reflect the credits toward county apportionment on Tables of Aggregates.
- Where Tax Court or Appellate Court judgment is silent as to the Freeze Act, County Tax Boards should not assume the Freeze Act applies. Unless the judgment explicitly establishes application of the Freeze Act, County Tax Boards have no authority to automatically apply the Act. A taxpayer, seeking the Freeze Act at Tax Court/ Appellate Court should obtain a further order clarifying the application of the Freeze Act. Only upon the entry of a clarifying order can the County Tax Boards make Freeze Act adjustments (See Tax Court Freeze Act Application Form).

1107.22 Correction of Errors by Tax Court.

The Tax Court, upon the filing of a complaint by a property owner, a municipality or a County Board of Taxation, is permitted, upon written application, to correct typographical errors, errors in transposing and mistakes in tax assessments either during the tax year at issue or within the next three years. Tax Court has stated the Correction of Errors statute is to be applied to administrative, clerical or ministerial actions only, and not to complaints involving an assessor's opinion of value. The complaint should state the facts concerning the error, and be verified by affidavits submitted by the applicant. Copies of complaints must be served upon the County Board of Taxation, and upon the property owner or municipality as appropriate. Any party receiving a copy of a Correction of Errors complaint may file an objection or other response with the Tax Court in accordance with the Rules of the Court.

1107.23 Administrative Corrections of Errors by Governing Body or County Tax Board.

- Where, by mistake, property, real or personal, has been twice entered and assessed on the Tax Duplicate, the governing body of the taxing district or County Board of Taxation may correct the record and refund the excess payment without interest. This has been interpreted to apply to current year adjustments.
- Where, by mistake, a person has paid tax on another's property supposing it to be his/her own, the governing body, after a hearing on five days' notice to the proper owner, may return the erroneous payment without interest and correct the record, provided no lien or encumbrance was put on the property since the date of payment error.
- Where, by mistake, an assessment is placed on the wrong parcel, the governing body may cancel the assessment and return without interest any payment made by the wrong party and assess and tax the correct parcel after a hearing with five days' notice to the proper owner.

1108. The Appellate Courts.

Appeals from Tax Court judgments may be carried to Superior Court, Appellate Division within 45 days. Appellate Division forms and instructions are available on-line. Appellate Division judgments are subject to further review by the Supreme Court of New Jersey. Filing procedures are governed by Appellate Division Rules. However, a copy of the appeal should be sent to the opposing party, the assigned trial judge and the Tax Court Clerk/Administrator. Copies of case transcripts may be obtained for a fee by contacting the assigned judge's chambers.

1108.01 Historical Precedents- Traditional Relief Available to Appellants.

Prior to enactment of legislation in 1973 which became effective in 1978 (c.123, P. L. 1973) appeals were divided into two types: (1) non-discrimination, and (2) discrimination. Other than in a year in which a revaluation is implemented, a number of court decisions broadened the relief that an appellate agency can grant in such cases.

(NOTE: These cases are presented for historical background – and are not the rule of law at this time.)

1108.02 The Royal Case.

The Royal case, decided in 1909, established that the only way relief could be granted to a taxpayer in a discrimination appeal was to raise the assessments on all other properties in the taxing district to full market value. Since this was almost impossible to accomplish, relief was almost nonexistent.

1108.03 The Gibraltar Case.

In 1955, the Gibraltar case established that the guiding principle should be equality of treatment. The Court affirmed the right of appellate agencies, such as the County Board of Taxation and Division of Tax Appeals, to set the assessment of any property at the “Common Level” of other properties in the taxing district. However, the case did little to indicate how the Common Level should be proved.

1108.04 The Lackawanna Case.

In the 1957 Lackawanna case, the court ruled that a taxing district’s Average Assessment-Sales Ratio, determined by the Director, Division of Taxation for State School Aid purposes, could not be used by an appellant for establishing the Common Level of assessments in the district. This decision restricted the rule laid down in the Gibraltar case, by making proof of the Common Level a difficult and expensive procedure.

1108.05 The Kents Case.

In 1961, the Court ruled that, in the absence of other information to prove the Common Level of assessments, a “constructed” Common Level, such as the Average Assessment-Sales Ratio determined by the Director of the Division of Taxation, could be used as the Common Level. An appellant who proved that an assessment was at a different level of true value than the Average Ratio may have the assessment adjusted to the Average Ratio.

NOTE: The Court also ruled that aggregate assessment of property, including land and building(s) as a parcel, is the controlling factor in a discrimination appeal. In other words, the land assessment and building assessment cannot be considered separately for appeal purposes. This is still the ruling – appeals must be of the total property value.

1108.06 The Siegal Case.

In the 1962 Siegal case, the Court clarified the Kents case in that individual class assessment-sales ratios, (Residential, Farm, Commercial, Vacant Land Classes) as an intermediate step in establishing the Average Assessment-Sales Ratio for all properties, cannot be used as a basis for claiming a reduction to the level for a given class of property. The Average Ratio for all classes remains as evidence of a Common Level.

REFERENCES:

Siegal v. City of Newark, 38 N.J. 57 (1962).

1108.07 The Tri-Terminal Case.

In 1975, an appellant sought relief by invoking the Kents doctrine and the Court held that a taxpayer in a discrimination appeal must show that relative to other property, generally, in the taxing district, his/her property is assessed on a less favorable basis. The Court said if in a time of generally rising real estate prices his/her property sustained the same enhancement of true value as other properties generally, and if assessments remained unchanged, this would leave the taxpayer in a position of relative uniformity for property tax treatment as was fixed by a fair and accurate revaluation carried out two or three years previously. The Court noted that while it could find no discrimination in this case, it did not necessarily approve of the practice of holding assessments the same year after year, since the law calls for separate assessment of each parcel annually at its true value on the assessing date. The Court went on to say while practicalities preclude most assessors from reviewing every line item each year, there should nevertheless be alertness to changed valuation factors affecting individual properties in the years between revaluations.

Local Property and Public Utility Branch News, January-February, 1976, p. 1, May-June, 1976, p.2.

1108.08 The Piscataway Associates Case.

In this 1976 case the Court, held that Kents case type of tax relief was applicable, and that although a fair and accurate revaluation established a Common Level at the time it was implemented, the carrying of the same assessments for nine years substantially undercut the presumption that values of all properties rose at the same or similar rate. The Court felt property values in a municipality as large as Piscataway Township would probably not increase at the same rate in all neighborhoods over such a period of time. The Court recognized that while Tri-Terminal Corp v. Borough of Edgewater accepted a general revaluation which was effective for 1969 as remaining valid for 1971 and 1972, the correctness of this assumption dissipates with the passage of time.
