COLORADO PROPERTY TAX

OVERVIEW

In Colorado, the authority for property taxation is both constitutional and statutory. Article X of the Colorado Constitution provides that all property is taxable unless declared exempt by the Constitution, and that the actual value of taxable property shall be determined under the general laws to secure just and equalized valuations. The specific statutes pertaining to property taxation are found in articles 1 through 14 of title 39 of the Colorado Revised Statutes.

Under the general laws of Colorado, county assessors are required to value all taxable property within their county boundaries except for those properties that are state assessed. The State Board of Equalization (Board) has supervision over the administration of all laws concerning the valuation and assessment of taxable property and the levying of property taxes. The Division of Property Taxation (Division or DPT), under direction of the Property Tax Administrator (Administrator or PTA), coordinates the implementation of property tax law throughout Colorado's sixty-four counties.

The Colorado property tax system provides revenue exclusively for local government services. The largest share of property tax revenue (49.8%) goes to support the state's public schools. County governments claim the next largest share (25.4%), followed by special districts (18.7%), municipal governments (4.8%), and junior colleges (1.4%).

Table 1 lists the percentage change in property tax revenue between taxes payable in 2013 and taxes payable in 2014.

STATE BOARD OF EQUALIZATION

The State Board of Equalization consists of the Governor, the President of the Senate, the Speaker of the House of Representatives, or their designees, and two members appointed by the Governor with consent of the Senate. Each appointed member must be a qualified appraiser, a former assessor, or a person who has knowledge and experience in property taxation.

At the Board meeting held on Tuesday, June 17, 2014, the Board elected new leadership. Effective June 18, 2014, the Board elected Sandra M. Adams as Chairwoman of the Board and Charles Brown as the new Vice-Chairman. The remaining members were Kevin N. Patterson, designee of Governor Hickenlooper, Wally Grant, designee of President of the Senate, Morgan Carroll and Susan Rodgers, designee of Speaker of the House, Mark Ferrandino.

Duties and Responsibilities

The Board supervises the administration of property tax laws and the equalization of the values of classes and subclasses of taxable property. Duties of the Board are found primarily in article X, sections 3 and 15 of the Colorado Constitution and title 39, articles 1 and 9 of the Colorado Revised Statutes.

The Board reviews the findings and conclusions of the annual study contractor and orders reappraisals in counties found not in compliance. The annual study was initiated by a 1982 amendment to the Colorado Constitution to ensure that all assessors value property at the same level of value using standardized procedures and statistical measurements. The study is conducted by an independent auditing firm contracted by the Director of Research for the office of Colorado Legislative Council, § 39-1-104(16), C.R.S. The study and the resulting orders of reappraisal are the primary means of achieving statewide equalization.

The importance of the Board's equalization function is due, in part, to the relationship that exists between assessed values and state aid to schools. Generally, if the property in a school district is under-valued, it is likely that the district will receive more state revenue than it is entitled. When the results of a reappraisal order indicate that the affected school district(s) received too much state revenue, the Board will order the county (not the school district) to pay back the excess funding. During the 1980s and early 1990s, this occasionally required the repayment of substantial revenue to the state. In more recent years however, significant improvements in the quality of county assessments have resulted in far fewer reappraisal orders and smaller repayments of excess state aid to schools.

The Board also reviews county Abstracts of Assessment, decisions of county boards of equalization (county boards) and the policies and recommendations of the Property Tax Administrator.

STATE BOARD ENFORCEMENT

The following is a brief history of recent enforcement actions by the State Board of Equalization.

2014 Enforcement and Repayment

The Board met on June 17, 2014 and considered the payback of reappraisal supervision costs for Saguache County.

Cherice Kjosness of the Division presented a letter from the Saguache County assessor requesting the Board allow the county to utilize the provisions of SB 14-083 giving statutory authority to the Board to waive the payback of reappraisal supervision costs under certain circumstances. This legislation ensconced in statute the former practice of the Board referred to as the "Bledsoe Plan."

The Board accepted the county's plan to retain the approximately $22,000 of direct cost incurred by the state for the 2011 and 2012 reappraisals and use those funds to enhance the assessor's office.

The Board considered a single request from The Union Church to authorize the PTA to consider granting their exemption to a date earlier than that which is allowed to the PTA without Board approval. The Board also considered requests from sixteen exempt organizations for a waiver of their annual report filing deadlines.

Under § 39-9-109 (6) C.R.S., the Board may authorize the PTA to go back an additional time period in cases where the property is returned to the tax rolls by the county assessor as omitted property. Unfortunately, in the case of Union Church, the assessor had added the property back to the tax rolls appropriately upon a transfer of ownership. A representative of the church explained that they had never received the tax notice as it did not come to the correct address. The Board felt the statute did not allow them to waive the application deadline under these circumstances and the waiver was denied.

Two properties requesting a waiver of filing deadline, Iglesia Biblica Bautista and Zion Evangelical Lutheran Church, had been put back on the tax rolls by the counties in which they were located and tax liens had been sold on the properties. The Board questioned if they could require these organizations to pay back the cost incurred by the counties in advertising the properties for tax lien sale and any interest owed by the county to the successful purchasers of the liens. First Assistant Attorney General, Lisa Freimann commented that § 39-9-109 (5) C.R.S., permits the Board to waive the filing deadline when "the interests of justice and equity would be served." This statutory language arguably provides the Board with the authority to fashion a just and equitable remedy. A condition to the waiver of filing deadline requiring the organization to pay the reasonable costs incurred by the county due to the failure on the part of the organization to timely file their annual report should be a reasonable remedy. The Board granted both requests with the requirement that they reimburse these costs to the counties where they were located.

All remaining waiver requests were granted by the Board.

The Board met again on October 7, 2014, to review the findings and conclusions of Wildrose Appraisal, Inc., annual study contractor for Legislative Council. The audit analysis showed no compliance issues for 2014.

Although there were no orders of reappraisal to revisit this year, the Division wanted to make the Board aware of the substantial changes the Saguache Board of County Commissioners made to the vacant land in Crestone. After the values had been updated to include omitted property picked up during the reappraisal, a District Court Case was settled allowing the lowering of some property values. As a result of this settlement, many additional abatements were filed and granted lowering the land values. The values in place following the abatements were very similar to the values before the addition of omitted property; however, the county remained in compliance.

The Board also discussed Saguache County's submitted "Bledsoe Plan" report detailing the expenditures and the receipts for each investment made into the assessor's office rather than reimbursed to the state for the direct costs of reappraisals supervised by the state. The Board accepted the report.

The Division requested and received acceptance of the county Abstracts of Assessment for 2014; sixty-one counties utilizing the traditional appeal period. The Board granted the chairwoman authority to accept the remaining three counties (Denver, Boulder and Jefferson) operating under the extended appeal period unless problems were found.

The State Board entertained discussion regarding requests from sixty-five exempt organizations for the Board to waive the filing deadline for their Annual Report for Exempt Properties as allowed in § 39-9-109(5) and (6), C.R.S. Of those sixty-five cases, eight were presented individually, as all eight had not only failed to timely file in 2014, but in a previous year or years as well.

Following are the eight organizations that were discussed in detail.

1. Medicine Horse Program
2. Highlands Masonic Temple Association
3. Salem Missionary Baptist Church
4. Teach for America
5. Kit Carson Riding Club
6. United States Volleyball Association
7. New Life Worship Center of Fort Morgan
8. La Vereda Foundation

Of the eight cases listed above, two were denied or partially denied; New Life Worship Center of Fort Morgan and the United States Volleyball Association.

The New Life Worship Center of Fort Morgan asked for a waiver of filing deadline back to 2006. But, since their exemption was in effect for both 2006 and 2007, the Board only considered the waiver from 2009 to present.

When the organization originally realized it had not appropriately filed its annual report, it did not initially request a waiver of the filing deadline. Instead, the New Life Worship Center of Fort Morgan opted to file new applications for this and an adjacent property in 2010. When the Division requested additional information during that application process, the organization did not respond. As such, the applications were denied by the Property Tax Administrator. Although the New Life Center of Fort Morgan at the time of the denials could have appealed the PTA's decision to the Board of Assessment Appeals, no such action was taken. The Board concluded that since New Life was unable to establish rights to an exemption during the application process it would be inappropriate to grant a deadline waiver that would be effective prior to the filing of the applications.

The United States Volleyball Association requested a waiver of the filing deadline for tax years 2010 and 2011. But, since the United States Volleyball Association merged with USA Volleyball in December 2010, the United States Volleyball Association ceased to exist. The surviving organization, USA Volleyball, took ownership of the property at that time. As such, the Board granted the waiver for property tax year 2010 only. The request for a waiver for tax year 2011 was denied, as the United States Volleyball Association did not own the property during 2011.

The remaining fifty-seven organizations requesting a waiver of the filing deadline were granted by the Board. The Board directed a letter be sent to each organization conveying a new filing deadline of December 1, 2014, had been granted, as well as a reminder urging them to pay closer attention to the statutory filing deadlines in years to come.

2013 Enforcement and Repayment

The Board met on October 8, 2013, to review the findings and conclusions of Wildrose Appraisal, Inc., annual study contractor for Legislative Council.

The Board began discussion regarding requests from certain otherwise exempt organizations for the Board to waive the filing deadline for their Annual Report for Exempt Properties as allowed in § 39-9-109(5) and (6), C.R.S. The Property Tax Administrator presented the Board with a copy of HB 13-1246 which expanded the Board's authority to allow the property tax administrator to extend an exemption in cases where property was put on the tax roll as omitted due to an error or omission on the part of a governmental entity.

Two such properties were presented for consideration under this provision; Northeast Denver Housing Center and the Lowry Foundation. The Board approved the extension of the timeframe of consideration allowing the property tax administrator to determine if the exemption to both organizations should be extended to property tax year 2010.

Next, the manager of the Exemptions Section discussed three exempt organizations that requested the deadline be waived due to incomplete/incorrect Annual Reports. These organizations were Lutheran Hospital of the San Luis Valley, the Church of God of Cleveland/Igreja De Deus Fonte De Vida and Heritage Baptist Church of Stratton.

According to the manager of the Exemptions Section, the Lutheran Hospital of the San Luis Valley was not the type of case that was anticipated to be allowed a waiver for deadline pursuant to § 39-9-109, C.R.S. This exemption for property tax year 2011 was originally denied because the organization did not provide the necessary information to approve the exemption request. The Board denied Lutheran Hospital's request. The Board approved the remaining two organizations' requests for property tax year 2011.

In the next segment, the Board covered the sixteen petitions that were highlighted for discussion. Of the petitions discussed, one was denied.

The remaining requests for waivers from the filing deadline were presented to the Board. Staff explained that there were no unusual circumstances for any of these requests. Chairman Brown asked for a blanket motion to approve all of the organizations listed. The motion was unanimously approved. All fifty petitions included in the blanket motion were granted.

The Board's considered the Annual Study Reports submitted to the Property Tax Administrator by Wild Rose Appraisal, Inc., on September 15, 2013.

This was the first time in the last five years that Wildrose Appraisal, Inc., did not recommend an order of reappraisal. They did, however, revisit prior orders. One such order was for Saguache County for property tax year 2011 regarding residential property, as the 2011 order had not been completed by the county. In 2012, the board ordered a continuation of the 2011 reappraisal. As such, the auditor had to wait for the relevant data from the 2011 reappraisal order from Saguache County to finalize the 2011 reports.

Upon receipt of the necessary data, Wildrose Appraisal, Inc., reviewed county data as well as the sales file that was prepared by the Division. Analysis of the data submitted showed that Saguache County was now in compliance for the residential class for both 2011 and 2012. Wildrose Appraisal, Inc., submitted the final reports for the Board's approval. All reports were accepted.

There were additional outstanding issues from prior years with regard to Saguache County. The primary issue dealt with omitted property.

According to the manager of the Administrative Resources Section, the 2013 reappraisal order for omitted property in Saguache County was complete. Of the county's 13,000 parcels of real property, the Division inspected over 4,000. County and reappraisal staff worked with the San Luis Valley-GPS-GIS system to find improvements on parcels listed as vacant land.

The reappraisal efforts concluded with verification that the assessor and her employees' have ability to use the computer assisted mass appraisal system and to avoid a similar situation in future years.

The total impact of the two reappraisals ordered by the Board upon recommendation of the assessment auditor was $20,745,746 in actual value. See the table below for the omitted value for property tax years 2011 and 2012.

SAGUACHE COUNTY
Tax Year	Omitted Actual Value
2011	$22,517,937.00
2012	$22,797,269.00

As the 2013 reappraisal order was based upon the recommendation of the Property Tax Administrator under § 39-2-114, C.R.S., there was no payback of state aid to schools nor was there any reimbursement to the Division for the cost of the reappraisal.

The next issue involved payback of state aid to schools in Saguache County for the 2011 and 2012 reappraisal orders. The manager of the Administrative Resources Section explained that since the audit measures were restricted to the single-family residential property, the payback was also based on this subclass. The total actual value of single-family residential property in Saguache County following the 2011 reappraisal was $24,594,465.

The payback of excess state aid to schools for single-family residences for property tax year 2011 was based on an assessed value for single-family residential properties of $802,584 and $806,785 for property tax year 2012. The interest amounts for both years were calculated at a rate of six percent.

SAGUACHE COUNTY 2011-2012 REAPPRAISAL
Tax Year	State Aid to		Interest	Total
	Schools	Rate
2011	$20,797.94	6.0%	$2,858.15	$23,656.09
2012	$20,934.75	6.0%	$1,885.85	$22,820.60
Total	$41,732.69		$4,744.00	$46,476.69

The total cost incurred by the state for the 2011 and 2012 reappraisals, taxpayer investigation and assistance offered the Saguache county assessor's office totaled $121,876.10. Of the 2012 total cost, $4,053.97 was allocated to the investigation of a taxpayer complaint and $6,243.94 was allocated to the assistance request made by the Saguache County Assessor. The 2013 reappraisal costs were not included in this number as that reappraisal was conducted at the complete cost of the state.

Saguache County directly paid $8,465.03 in equipment costs and $16,701.12 to cover per diem and lodging expenses for Division staff. After applying the payments listed above, Saguache County owed a balance of $86,412.05.

The Saguache County Assessor formally requested a "Bledsoe Plan" for the balance amount owed. This was a provision that had been proposed by former Speaker of the House, Beverly Bledsoe, and adopted in 1984 by Board. It allowed a county to submit a plan to use the funds for improvements to the assessor's office rather than reimburse the state for those costs. This plan had been allowed by former Boards for more than thirty years. The Property Tax Administrator informed the Board that she had asked Lisa Freimann, First Assistant Attorney General, to research the question of the legal standing for the Board to use the "Bledsoe Plan." Ms. Freimann informed the Board that § 39-1-105.5, C.R.S., clearly states the expenses related to the reappraisal shall be at the expense of the county, and that these funds must go the state's general fund. It was her opinion that the Board does not have the discretion to forgive or allow the reallocation of those funds to the county assessor's budget despite the policy of the Board in prior years.

The Property Tax Administrator suggested to the Board that perhaps it was not appropriate to charge the county for the salaries of Division employees involved in the reappraisal efforts, as those salaries would have been paid whether they worked on this reappraisal or on some other project for the Division. She recommended those costs be excluded from the amount the county owes, as it would be detrimental to the county to have to pay back such a large sum. Senator Larry Crowder, designee of President of the Senate Pro Tem Lucia Guzman, requested the Board delay action on requiring Saguache County to pay back the reappraisal costs until legislation could be run giving the Board permission to use a process similar to the Bledsoe Plan. The Board agreed.

The next order of business was the consideration of the Abstracts of Assessment. The Property Tax Administrator asked the Board to accept the Abstracts of Assessment for the sixty (60) counties that used the traditional protest period. All 60 Abstracts of Assessment were accepted. At the time of the meeting, the remaining four counties, Boulder, Denver, Douglas and Jefferson had utilized the alternate protest period and would have to submit their Abstracts of Assessment to the Division by November 21, 2013. As in prior years, if no problems exist, the Board could forego an additional meeting by allowing the Chairman to review and accept the remaining abstracts unless there was a problem with any of them. The Board agreed to allow Chairman Brown to act on its behalf if there were no problems with the remaining Abstracts of Assessment.

2012 Enforcement and Repayment

The Board met on October 25, 2012, to review the findings and conclusions of Wildrose Appraisal, Inc., annual study contractor for Legislative Council.

The Board order for Adams County was based on complaints filed pursuant to § 39-2-111, C.R.S. In 2011, the Property Tax Administrator received two complaints concerning Adams County: one directly from the Adams County Assessor, the other from a group of taxpayers. Both asked for an investigation to determine whether the property values were properly set for tax year 2011. The investigative report and recommendations were submitted to the Board in August 2011. The Board ordered a reappraisal of commercial warehouse properties for the 2012 tax year. The reappraisal resulted in a total increase of $19,000,000 in assessed value for the subclass. After review of the final report and supporting testimony, the Board approved the Adams County Report.

Saguache County's 2011 reappraisal order for residential property was issued based on § 39-1-105.5, C.R.S., and was the result of non-compliance with the Board's statistical requirements. Also in 2011, there were two complaints filed with the Property Tax Administrator concerning property that had been omitted from the tax roll. It was determined that the investigation of the complaints could be coterminous with the Division's supervision of the reappraisal order. The investigation confirmed that there were many improvements that had been omitted from the tax roll for a number of years. Division staff also found sales that had been improperly coded and disqualified, and land values had not been brought to current value. Although the Saguache County Assessor's office hired seven temporary employees to help bring their inventories up-to-date, they were all part-time employees and ultimately did not have enough time to devote to the project.

Division staff attempted to assist the county in the completion of the reappraisal, but because offers of assistance were refused until it was too late, the end result was that the 2011 reappraisal order for residential property in Saguache County was not completed. After consulting with the Colorado Deputy Attorney General, the Board continued the reappraisal order for 2012.

Next, the Board addressed the 2009, 2010 and 2011 reappraisal orders issued to Montezuma County regarding usage of the correct Basic Equipment Lists (BELs) in determining the valuation for assessment of oil and gas personal property. After the reappraisal order was issued in 2009, Montezuma County immediately appealed to the Denver District Court. Reappraisal orders were subsequently issued to Montezuma County for 2010 and 2011 for the same issue.

However, because the Denver District Court had not issued a decision on the 2009 appeal, all subsequent reappraisal orders were held in abeyance and consolidated in Montezuma's appeal. On April 1, 2012, the Denver District Court issued its ruling on the consolidated cases from 2009, 2010 and 2011, and confirmed that the Board orders were appropriate. In response to the ruling, Montezuma County performed the recalculations using the BELs. The final total payback amount for excess state aid to schools, with interest calculated at 3% because of the county's timely payment, was $3,966.30.

The Board heard testimony on the auditor's findings for 2012. Final reports were submitted to the Board for 62 of the 64 Colorado counties. The final reports from the remaining two counties, Adams and Saguache, were not completed as each county was in the process of completing the 2011 reappraisal orders.

Wildrose Appraisal, Inc., recommended an order for reappraisal for Park County for 2012. The recommendation was based on the county's failure to implement HB 11-1146, § 39-1-102(1.6), C.R.S., regarding residences on agricultural parcels that were not an integral part of the agricultural operation. The Park County Assessor testified that he actually did implement the statute. He did not follow the procedures recommended by the Division in the Assessors' Reference Library, Volume 3 to determine if a residence was integral to an agricultural operation. Instead, he exercised what he believed was his authority as assessor to make an alternative determination as to the integral nature of a residence on land classified as agricultural. He testified that he has extensive experience with water law, and he believed the drought conditions in his county caused any residence with a domestic well to be integral to a grazing or farming operation. Therefore, he did not classify any residences on agricultural parcels as non-integral. There was a motion to issue an order for reappraisal of residences on agricultural land for Park County, but it failed for lack of a second.

The next order of business was to review the 2012 Abstracts of Assessment. The Property Tax Administrator requested the acceptance of 62 county Abstracts of Assessment. The remaining two abstracts from Adams and Saguache Counties had been received, but were not included in this submission, as the reports did not include reappraisal information and were still under consideration. The final abstracts of assessment for both Adams and Saguache were to be submitted to the Board by November 21, 2012. All 62 Abstracts of Assessment submitted were accepted by the Board.

The final topic of the meeting dealt with requests from certain otherwise exempt organizations for the Board to waive the filing deadline for their Annual Report for Exempt Properties as permitted in § 39-9-109(5), C.R.S.

The manager of the Exemptions Section submitted a list of those exempt organizations requesting their deadline be waived. He indicated the Division had no objection to any of the waiver requests, but did outline for the Board the filing history of several of the organizations.

The October 25, 2012, meeting was concluded by hearing testimony from exempt organizations present at this meeting requesting a waiver of the filing deadline. In contrast to actions taken by the Board in previous years, the Board denied, either in whole or in part, several requests to waive the filing deadline.

The Board reconvened on November 15, 2012, to review issues not discussed or concluded in the October meeting. Three exempt organizations that had not been in attendance at the October meeting asked for reconsideration by the Board for the waiver of the exempt property filing deadline. The Board agreed to reconsider the denials for all three organizations and rescinded the action taken during the October meeting.

The Board received six new requests to waive the filing deadline during the November 15, 2012, meeting. One of those requests was denied. The Board imposed a 30-day deadline for the return of the Annual Report for Exempt Properties for those organizations that had been granted a waiver.

NOTE: A total of 104 petitions were heard between the two meetings, four of which were denied or continued at the conclusion of the first hearing. Ultimately, the Board granted a waiver of filing deadline to 102 of 104 organizations and denied the remaining two petitions. When issuing their decisions, the Board stressed the importance of timely filing to avoid a similar problem in the future.

The Board then finalized the issues facing both Saguache and Park Counties.

After hearing testimony summarizing the findings of the investigation of the complaints, the Board issued a reappraisal order to Saguache County for each property class that had omitted property for 2013. In order to ensure compliance with these orders, the Board directed the Saguache County Assessor to allow the Division full access to all systems and information used by the assessor. The Property Tax Administrator informed the Board that a reappraisal order issued under § 39-2-114, C.R.S., would not cause payback from the county for the Division's supervision nor would it cause payback for excess state aid to schools. As such, there would be no reimbursement to the state for the reappraisal. The Board also directed the Saguache County Assessor to send out Special Notices of Value on all omitted property as far back as statute allowed.

The final issue brought before the Board regarding Saguache County was a request of the property tax administrator to issue a Finding of Dereliction of Duty on the part of the assessor. After consideration of the evidence, the Board issued a Finding of Dereliction of Duty.

The Board then finalized the open issue regarding the auditor's recommendation for reappraisal to Park County for non-compliance with HB 11-1146. After accepting additional testimony from the Park County Assessor, the Board ultimately chose not to issue an order of reappraisal to Park County for the 2012 assessment year.

2011 Enforcement and Repayment

On August 16, 2011, the Board met to consider the report and recommendations of the Property Tax Administrator concerning a complaint filed pursuant to § 39-2-111, C.R.S. The Adams County Assessor and, subsequently, a group of Adams County taxpayers, had requested an investigation as to whether the property tax laws had in any manner been evaded or violated. More specifically, whether properties owned by certain persons were intentionally valued at a level below that required by the property tax laws of the State of Colorado. Based on the findings and conclusions in the report, the Board ordered a reappraisal of the commercial warehouse property class for the 2012 tax year. There is no repayment provision for a reappraisal ordered under this statute.

On October 5, 2011, the Board met to review the findings and conclusions of Wildrose Appraisal, Inc., annual study contractor for Legislative Council. Based on the findings, the Board recommended an order of reappraisal for the residential class of property in Saguache County as well as Montezuma County's oil and gas production equipment.

JoAnn Groff, Property Tax Administrator, informed the Board that Montezuma County asked that a new order not be issued for 2011, since they previously received orders to reappraise oil and gas personal property using the Basic Equipment Lists (BELs) and valuation grids published by the Division for the prior two years. But, since orders are year specific and not issue specific, that request was denied.

NOTE: The 2011 order was also appealed to the District Court. Any repayment is deferred until the appeal process has been terminated or exhausted.

2010 Enforcement and Repayment

On October 5, 2010, the Board met to review the findings and conclusions of Wildrose Appraisal, Inc., annual study contractor for Legislative Council. Based on the findings, the Board issued a second order to Montezuma County to reappraise oil and gas personal property utilizing the methodology prescribed in the Basic Equipment Lists (BELs) and valuation grids published by the Division in the Assessor's Reference Library, Volume 5. The Board also met in executive session to discuss the pending District Court case resulting from a similar order that the Board had issued to Montezuma County in 2009.

NOTE: The 2010 order was also appealed to the District Court. The District Court issued an order holding the 2010 appeal in abeyance until the decision of the 2009 case has been delivered.

DIVISION OF PROPERTY TAXATION

Under the general laws of Colorado, the Property Tax Administrator (Administrator or PTA) directs the Division of Property Taxation. The Administrator is appointed by the State Board of Equalization to serve a five-year term, and until a successor is appointed and qualified.

A primary responsibility of the Division is to administer the implementation of property tax law throughout the sixty-four (64) counties so that valuations are fair, uniform, and defensible, thereby ensuring that each property class contributes only its fair share of the total property tax revenue. In other words, the Division's goal is equalization of valuation and proper distribution of property taxes throughout the state.

The Division is comprised of four sections: Administrative Resources, Appraisal Standards, Exempt Properties, and State Assessed Properties.

Administrative Resources

Administrative Resources prepares and publishes administrative manuals, procedures and instructions. It conducts a number of classes and seminars regarding the administrative functions of the assessors' offices, including one tested course: Introduction to Assessment. It performs field studies and provides statewide assistance with issues such as tax increment financing, the administration and valuation of manufactured homes, senior and disabled veteran exemptions, classification of property, title conveyance, mapping, production of the Abstract of Assessment, certification of values to taxing entities, and the tax warrant. The section also investigates taxpayer complaints. It is responsible for various studies and reports such as fiscal impacts for Legislative Council, the residential assessment rate study and the Property Tax Administrator's Annual Report to the General Assembly and State Board of Equalization. It also coordinates with agencies having an interest in property taxation. In addition, the field staff works closely with assessors in all areas of property taxation. Administrative Resources is also responsible for approving or disapproving all petitions for refund or abatement of taxes in excess of $10,000.

Appraisal Standards

Appraisal Standards prepares and publishes appraisal manuals, procedures and instructions. It holds classes and seminars regarding all areas of appraisal. It conducts field studies and provides statewide assistance in agricultural land classification, natural resources and personal property valuation, as well as assistance in the valuation of residential, commercial and industrial properties. The section assists in reappraisal efforts, reviews internal appraisal forms used by assessors, and investigates and responds to taxpayer complaints.

The section conducts four tested qualifying education courses to enable assessment appraisers to obtain an Ad Valorem Appraisal License. These classes are: Introduction to Ad Valorem Mass Appraisal, Basic Appraisal Principles, Basic Appraisal Procedures, and Uniform Standards of Professional Appraisal Practice (USPAP). This section currently offers five additional tested courses: Valuation of Vacant Land Present Worth, Advanced Income, Agricultural Land and Rural Structural Valuation, Possessory Interest (Distance Education), and Vacant Land (Distance Education). The section also offers several non-tested courses and workshops throughout the year.

Exempt Properties

The Exemptions Section is responsible for determining qualification for exemption from property taxation for properties that are owned and used for religious, charitable and private school purposes. This section also reviews reports filed annually by exempt property owners to determine if the property’s exempt status is still warranted. It provides assistance to counties and taxpayers with inquiries about exempt properties, helps taxpayers with petitions to the State Board of Equalization, conducts hearings on exemption applications and revocations of exemptions and defends appeals of its final decisions.

State Assessed Properties

The State Assessed section is the only area of the Division which regularly performs original valuation of property on an annual basis. The section values all public utilities doing business in Colorado as defined by statute, including: rail transportation companies, airlines, non-renewable and renewable energy companies, telephone companies, and pipelines. The company valuations are then apportioned to the counties for collection of local property tax. Both county commissioners and public utilities may protest the value assigned to state assessed property, and may appeal to the Board of Assessment Appeals (BAA) or Denver District Court if the protest is not resolved at the Division level.

2014 VALUE INFORMATION

Taxable real property classified as residential, commercial, industrial, agricultural, and vacant land, is subject to revaluation by county assessors every two years. Assessment year 2014 was a non-appraisal year, and for most properties, the actual values remained the same as they were for assessment year 2013.

Taxable property not subject to the biennial reassessment cycle is valued every year. This includes all property classified as state assessed; land and leaseholds classified as oil and gas, natural resources, and producing mines; and all subclasses of personal property.

For 2014, Colorado assessed values increased $2.9 billion, representing a 3.4 percent increase from the prior year. The statewide increase was primarily attributable to the increase in the value of the oil and gas class of property.

Table 2 displays the percent change to the total value of each property class.

Residential, Commercial, Industrial, and Vacant Land

The Colorado Constitution and statutes specify that real property classified as commercial, industrial and vacant land is valued by county assessors through consideration of the market, cost and income approaches to value. Residential property is valued solely by the market approach. For tax years 2013 and 2014, the actual values established for these properties represent value as of June 30, 2012.

Although 2014 was a non-appraisal year, the values of some parcels were subject to changes as a result of an appeal or abatement petition, the discovery of omitted property or the occurrence of an “unusual condition.” Colorado statute identifies a limited set of unusual conditions that necessitate a revaluation of the property during a non-appraisal year. Examples include new construction, destroyed property, and changes to the property’s use. The new values also reflect the appraisal date of June 30, 2012.

A portion of the commercial and industrial classes is comprised of personal property that is subject to revaluation every year. Personal property accounts for 14.2 percent of the value of the commercial class and 54.6 percent of the total value of the industrial class.

The residential, commercial and industrial classes had more modest increases in assessed value. They showed increases of 1.4%, 0.3% and 2.6%, respectively. According to the S&P/Case Shiller Home Price Indices, home prices nationally “recorded a 4.6% annual gain in December 2014.” Denver showed an increase of 8.1%.

The vacant land class of property was one of the three classes of property to show a decline in assessed value for 2014.

Table 3 provides a by-county comparison of 2014 to 2013 values for the residential, commercial, and vacant land classes.

Oil and Gas

There were 53,024 producing natural gas and oil wells in Colorado as of the close of 2014, an increase of 1,287 wells. Over half of the wells are concentrated in two counties: Weld (41.5%) and Garfield (20.6%). Six counties house 86.8 percent of the total number of wells: Weld, Garfield, Yuma, La Plata, Las Animas and Rio Blanco. The taxable value of real property associated with oil and gas wells is calculated as a percentage of the revenue obtained for the product at the wellhead during the prior year. This makes oil and gas among the most volatile of property classes because the market prices of natural gas and crude oil can change considerably from year to year.

Colorado has experienced an increase of 26.5 percent in the total assessed value of the oil and gas class during 2014. Among the classes of taxable property, oil and gas contains the third highest total assessed value for 2014. The 2014 total assessed value for the oil and gas class is $11,109,318,799, which is 12.1 percent of the state's total taxable value. A recent history of statewide assessed values for the oil and gas class is shown in Table 4.

Other Production Classes

As with oil and gas, most of the value of real property classified as natural resources and producing mines is calculated as a percentage of the income obtained from selling the product. The natural resources class includes properties that produce coal, sand, and gravel. It also includes non-producing patented mining claims and severed mineral interests. All counties, except the City and County of Denver, have natural resource property, but the class comprises only 0.4 percent of the state's total assessed value.

Although similar in total value, the great majority of the producing mines value is associated with only two mines, the Henderson and Climax mines, both located in three counties. The Henderson Mine is underground mine, while Climax mine is an open-pit mine. Both produce high-purity, chemical-grade molybdenum concentrates.

The Climax mine is located approximately 13 miles northeast of Leadville, Colorado. It is a porphyry molybdenum deposit with molybdenite as the primary sulfide mineral. It was restarted in 2012 and has a potential production capacity of 30 million pounds per year.

The Henderson mine, located on the Continental Divide in the counties of Clear Creek and Grand, is the world's largest primary producer of molybdenum. The mine has been in operation since 1976, and has produced more than 160 million tons of ore and 770 million pounds of molybdenum. It has the capability to produce between 30 and 40 million pounds of molybdenum per year.

It is located approximately 42 miles west of Denver, Colorado. The mine and the mill are connected by the world's longest conveyor of its kind; a fifteen-mile elevated belt that passes underneath the Continental Divide through an old train tunnel and then above ground to the ore processing mill near Parshall, Colorado, where it is then treated and shipped to another plant for further processing.

Colorado ranks 4th in the U.S. in gold production; most of which is produced in Teller County. The county's primary mine, the Cresson Mine, is located between the towns of Victor and Cripple Creek.

The value of mining operations in Colorado is sensitive to changes in commodity prices, owners' business choices and decisions rendered on property tax appeals. According to the United States Geological Survey, domestic gold mine production in 2014 showed an 8.3% decrease from 2013. The average price of gold decreased by 10.33 percent for 2014 to $1,270 per troy ounce, down from $1,415 per ounce listed the prior year.

Agricultural Property

The value established for agricultural land is based on a 10-year average of the earning or productive capacity of the land regardless of the property's market value or its highest and best use. As a result, the actual values of agricultural property are often much lower than their market values, and they tend to be relatively stable from year to year.

The 1.8 percent increase in the value of agricultural property in 2014 was due to record highs in the market commodity prices that were incorporated into the 10-year average, as well as the fact that expenses did not keep up with record increases in market commodity prices.

State Assessed Property

Unlike most other classes, property classified as state assessed is valued annually by the Division using unitary valuation procedures. The state assessed property class is comprised of real and personal property that is owned or leased by public utilities as defined by Title 39 Article 4 of the Colorado Revised Statutes. By far the largest portion of this value is attributable to personal property. The State Assessed Section of the Division values each company and allocates a portion of the value to Colorado. That value is then apportioned to the appropriate counties based on the location of the company's operating property or business activity. The county assessor then distributes the value to the appropriate tax areas throughout the county.

Information obtained from the State Assessed Section indicated an increase in assessed value of approximately $168 Million or 2.7 percent in 2014. Continued economic recovery from the "great recession" that began in 2008 is reflected in these increased numbers. Primary upward influences were noted in cyclical companies that benefit most from the improved economy such as airlines and railroads.

Personal Property in 2014

In 2014, personal property accounted for 14.9 percent of Colorado's property tax base, but that percentage varied substantially from county to county. Approximately 42 percent of personal property is classified as state assessed while the remainder is valued at the local level. In 2014, 88.3 percent of the state assessed property value was for personal property. All taxable personal property is assessed at 29 percent of its actual value.

Under the Colorado Constitution and statutes, certain categories of business personal property are exempt from taxation, including equipment used for agricultural purposes, inventory, and supplies held for consumption.

Prior to January 1, 2009, business personal property under common ownership with a total actual value of no more than $2,500 per county was also exempt. However, with the passage of HB 08-1225 per § 39-3-119.5, C.R.S., the amount of actual value subject to the exemption increased or is scheduled to increase according to the following schedule:

- Four thousand dollars ($4,000) or less for property tax years 2009 and 2010.
- Five thousand five-hundred ($5,500) or less for property tax years 2011 and 2012.
- Seven thousand dollars ($7,000) or less for property tax years 2013 and 2014.
- Seven thousand three hundred dollars (7,300) or less for property tax years 2015 and 2016.
- Subsequent adjustments will occur biennially to account for inflation since the amount of the exemption last changed.

Section 39-3-119.5, C.R.S. directs the Property Tax Administrator to calculate the amount of the exemption for the next two-year cycle and in every even numbered year thereafter.

In addition, a provision found in the Colorado Constitution allows any taxing entity to "enact cumulative uniform exemptions and credits to reduce or end business personal property taxes," § 20(8)(b), art. X, COLO. CONST.

Table 6 lists the state assessed, locally assessed and total taxable personal property by county and the percentage of taxable value consisting of personal property.

RESIDENTIAL ASSESSMENT RATE

In 1982, the electorate passed sweeping changes to the portion of the Colorado Constitution that governs the property tax system. One of these changes was the enactment of a provision known as the “Gallagher Amendment,” found in § 3(1)(b), art. X, COLO. CONST.

The purpose of the Gallagher Amendment is to stabilize residential real property’s share of the statewide property tax base. From 1958 to 1982, the percentage of total assessed value consisting of residential property increased from 29 to 44 percent. This occurred primarily because market value increases to residential property greatly outpaced market value increases to non-residential property.

To counter this trend, the Gallagher Amendment requires a review and potential adjustment of the residential assessment rate each time there is a year of general reassessment. This adjustment is meant to ensure that the rate of change to the state’s total assessed value of residential property remains essentially the same as it is for non-residential property. The current residential assessment rate is 7.96 percent of assessed value. In contrast, the assessment rate for most classes of non-residential property is fixed at 29 percent. A history of changes to the residential assessment rate is shown in Table 7.

During years of general reassessment (odd numbered years), § 39-1-104.2(5)(c), C.R.S., requires the Property Tax Administrator to complete a documented study that is used by the General Assembly to enact a new residential assessment rate into law. 2014 was not a year of reassessment. The 2013 residential assessment rate study reports are accessible on the Division’s web site at www.dola.colorado.gov/dpt/publications/index.htm.

* The studies conducted in 1999, 2005, 2007, 2009, 2011 and 2013 resulted in a determination that the residential assessment rate should be adjusted above the rate that had been enacted for the previous two-year cycle. However, § 20(4)(a), art. X, COLO. CONST. (TABOR) prohibits the General Assembly from increasing an assessment rate without statewide voter approval. For these years, the General Assembly chose to reenact the rate that was effective during the prior two years.

Assessment Rate and Tax Burden

Table 8 calculates the savings to residential taxpayers from the inception of the Gallagher Amendment through 2014. It does so by comparing the taxes paid by residential property owners to an estimate of the taxes they would have paid had the Gallagher Amendment not been enacted. The estimated savings to residential property owners is $24,036,848,196. The table begins with 1987, because the residential assessment rate remained at 21 percent until 1987. The contents of each column in the table are described below.

- 1 Tax year
- 2 Hypothetical residential assessment rate of 21 percent
- 3 Enacted residential assessment rate for each tax year
- 4 Savings to residential taxpayers

Table 9 illustrates the effect of Gallagher on the statewide assessed value of residential property since 1983. The percentage of actual value attributable to residential property has increased dramatically since Gallagher's inception, from 53.2 percent in 1983 to nearly 75.5 percent in 2014. At the same time, the adjustment of the residential assessment rate caused the percentage of total assessed value consisting of residential property to remain essentially stable.

PROTESTS, APPEALS, AND ABATEMENTS

Protests and Appeals

Colorado statutes mandate a process that allows taxpayers the opportunity to challenge the actual value established for their property. The process begins with the taxpayer's protest to the assessor. Upon receiving a protest, the assessor reviews the issues raised, and either adjusts or maintains the actual value for the property. Taxpayers who disagree with the assessor's decision can appeal to the county board of equalization. Taxpayers who disagree with the county board's decision have three choices for further appeal. They can appeal to the State Board of Assessment Appeals (BAA), district court, or binding arbitration. Decisions of the BAA and district court can be appealed to the Colorado Court of Appeals and ultimately to the Colorado Supreme Court. Decisions of an arbitrator are final.

Taxpayers can protest and appeal in either year of the reassessment cycle; the first year or odd numbered year or the intervening year or even numbered year. However, the number of protests and appeals are typically higher during the first year of the reassessment cycle.

The number of protests and appeals vary greatly from county to county. Protest and appeal information is only collected in years of revaluation. In 2013, Larimer County received the greatest number of protests with 8,876 while both Jackson and Kiowa Counties received none. For many counties, the protest process places a significant strain on the resources of the assessor's office.

Table 10 lists the protests and county board appeals for each county during the first year of the last three reassessment cycles, organized according to the county officer pay categories established in § 30-2-102, C.R.S. For the purpose of this table, the Cities and Counties of Denver and Broomfield are placed in category one.

Table 11 provides a statistical summary of protests and appeals.

Abatements

An abatement of tax is a cancellation or reduction in the amount of tax owed by the taxpayer. Abatements may be granted after the tax roll has been printed for an "erroneous valuation for assessment, irregularity in levying, clerical error, or overvaluation," § 39-10-114(1)(a)(I)(A), C.R.S. Abatement petitions may be approved only if they are filed within two years after January 1 of the year following the year in which the taxes were levied. Because abatement petitions are filed on taxes already levied, the abated or refunded taxes constitute lost revenue to the affected local governments. However, § 39-10-114(1)(a)(I)(B), C.R.S., and case law, allow local governments to recover abated taxes through an increase in mill levies. Table 12 displays the taxes abated during 2012, 2013, and 2014.

Information reported by treasurers for 2014, 2013, and 2012

SENIOR CITIZEN AND DISABLED VETERAN EXEMPTION

In 2000, voters enacted section 3.5, article X of the Colorado Constitution, creating a property tax exemption for qualifying senior citizens and their surviving spouses. Voters expanded the program in 2006 to include qualifying disabled veterans. For 2015, legislation expanded the disabled veteran exemption to include the surviving spouse of a prequalified disabled veteran. For both groups, the exemptions as enacted reduce the taxable actual value of a residential property by 50 percent, up to a maximum reduction of $100,000. The reduction in property tax revenue is backfilled by the State of Colorado.

The Colorado Constitution grants the Colorado General Assembly the authority to increase or decrease the amount of the senior and disabled veteran exemptions. For tax years 2003, 2004, 2005, 2009, 2010, and 2011, the General Assembly enacted legislation to reduce the amount of the senior exemption to 50 percent of $0, effectively suspending the senior exemption benefit. The disabled veteran exemptions benefit was not suspended for property tax years 2009, 2010 or 2011.

To qualify for the senior exemption, a senior must be at least 65 years old on January 1 and must have owned and occupied the property for at least 10 consecutive years as his or her primary residence. To qualify for the disabled veteran exemption, a veteran must have sustained a service connected disability that has been rated by the U.S. Department of Veterans Affairs as 100 percent "permanent and total"; and must have owned and occupied the property since January 1 of the year the application is filed.

Applications for the senior citizen exemption are filed with the county assessor no later than July 15, and applications for the disabled veteran exemption are filed with the Colorado Division of Veterans Affairs, Department of Military and Veterans Affairs (DMVA), no later than July 1. If approved by the DMVA, the veteran's application is forwarded to the county assessor for further processing and approval. The application for the surviving spouse of the prequalified disabled veteran is filed with the county assessor where the previously qualified property is located, no later than July 1. Once approved, the senior citizen or disabled veteran, or surviving spouse of the previously qualified disabled veteran exemption remains in effect from year to year until a change in ownership or occupancy triggers its removal. Each year, the treasurer and the assessor are required to mail a notice to all residential property owners explaining the exemption programs.

No later than October 10, the assessor is required to send the Division of Property Taxation an electronic list of the exemptions granted, including the names and social security numbers of each person occupying the property. The Division uses the data to identify individuals who were granted an exemption on more than one property in the state, and denies the exemptions on each property. In 2014, the Division denied exemptions on 51 properties owned by 37 applicants. In 2014, 207,457 properties were approved for the senior citizen exemption, and 4,235 received the disabled veteran exemption.

The senior and disabled veteran exemption programs do not result in a loss of revenue to local governments. Instead, the state reimburses the local governments for the tax revenue exempted. No later than April 1, county treasurers send the State Treasurer an itemized list of the exemptions granted and taxes exempted. No later than April 15, the State Treasurer reimburses the local governments for the lost revenue. In April 2015, the State Treasurer reimbursed local governments $114,234,918 for senior citizen property tax exemptions granted for tax year 2014 and $2,646,364 for disabled veteran exemptions granted for tax year 2014.

POSSESSORY INTERESTS

In 2001, the Colorado Supreme Court ruled that certain possessory interests are subject to ad valorem taxation in Colorado. A possessory interest is defined as a private property interest in government-owned property or the right to the occupancy and use of any benefit in government-owned property that has been granted under lease, permit, license, concession, contract or other agreement. The use of the property must be in connection with a business conducted for profit.

Taxable possessory interests may include but are not limited to:

1. Private concessionaires utilizing government owned land, improvements, or personal property unless operating pursuant to a management contract.
2. Government land and improvements used in the operation of a farm or ranch.
3. Government land, improvements, and/or personal property used in the operation of ski or recreational areas.
4. Land underlying privately owned cabins or other residential property located on government land that is rented commercially.
5. Recreational use of lakes, reservoirs, and rivers in a revenue-generating capacity.
6. Land, improvements, and personal property at a tax-exempt airport.
7. Other government property leased to private parties. However, the property may be otherwise exempt pursuant to Colorado Revised Statutes.

Senate Bills

SB 14-014

Concerning the property-related expense assistance grants for low-income seniors and individuals with disabilities, and, in connection therewith, making and reducing appropriations.

This bill updates the grant amounts and qualifications for the property tax, rent, and heat assistance grant program which is administered entirely through the Colorado Department of Revenue. The grant amount was increased as well as income limits. Income threshold limits are allowed to increase each year by inflation. It allows the executive director of the Department of Revenue to create an electronic form to be used in addition to the paper form. It additionally requires that the Department of Human Services conduct outreach for the grants available including working with county departments and community-based organizations.

Concerning the inclusion of certain land areas used to grow products that originate above the ground within the classification of "all other agricultural property" for property tax purposes.

This bill amends § 39-1-102(1.6)(b), C.R.S., by clarifying greenhouses and nursery production areas are classified as "all other agricultural property". This requires consideration of the three approaches to appraisal in order to value the properties rather than utilizing the more favorable agricultural classification. This "other agricultural" classification corresponds with a 2003 Supreme Court case: Welby Gardens v. Adams County Board of Equalization, et al., 71 P.3d 992 (Colo. 2003) involving greenhouses being denied the agricultural designation. It clarified the test for determining "all other agricultural property" when it ruled that for an agricultural classification there must be a nexus (connection) between the agricultural product that is produced and the land on which it resides.

Concerning the mandatory review of existing executive branch agency rules conducted by each principal department.

This bill added § 24-4-103.3, C.R.S. to the administrative procedures act. This section requires the Department of Regulatory Agencies to establish a schedule for the review of the rules of each principal department. In turn each department is to review its rules to determine "the continuing need for and the appropriateness and cost-effectiveness of" the rules. The departments shall also determine, using specific criteria, whether the rules should be continued in their current form, modified, or repealed.

Each rule-making agency is to provide public notice on its website of its review and give the public an appropriate opportunity to provide input.

Concerning the elimination of the list of certain additional qualifications that apply to property valuation appeal arbitrators.

The bill amended § 39-8-108.5, C.R.S., to provide that arbitrators must be, in addition to other qualifications deemed necessary by the CBOE, experienced in property taxation and a licensed or certified appraiser as provided in statute. The bill eliminated additional requirements that an arbitrator must also be an attorney, an appraiser who is a member of the real estate institute or equivalent, a former county assessor, a retired judge, or a licensed real estate broker.

Concerning reimbursement to be paid by a county to the state for costs incurred by the state in connection with the reappraisal of property in the county.

The bill amended § 39-1-105.5, C.R.S., to provide that the State Board of Equalization may waive reimbursement of the costs of supervision for any county under an order of reappraisal, providing the county submit to the board a plan by which the county will use the funds to improve the functioning of the assessor's office. If the county fails to implement the plan, the board may then order reimbursement to the state for the costs of supervision. The bill clarifies that state employees' salaries and benefits are not included in the calculation for costs of supervision.

Concerning the reauthorization of the regulation of real estate appraisers by the Board of Real Estate Appraisers through incorporating no substantive amendments other than those approved during the First Regular Session of the 69th General Assembly.

This bill reenacts and reformats the rules of real estate appraiser licensing, appraisal management companies, the board of real estate appraisers, and the conservation easement tax credit certificates. There are no significant changes to the rules in relation to assessor concerns.

The following is a summary of statutory reference changes that pertain. The language that exempts appraiser employees of county assessors from disciplinary actions by the board on the ground that they have performed appraisals beyond their level of competency has been moved from § 12-61-706(5)(b), C.R.S., to § 12-61-706(4)(b), C.R.S. The language that exempts county employees from fingerprinting and background checks for the ad valorem licensing application has been moved from § 12-61-706(10)(b), C.R.S., to § 12-61-706(6)(b), C.R.S. The language that exempts any appraiser employed by state or local government from maintaining errors and omissions insurance has been moved from § 12-61-706.5, C.R.S., to § 12-61-708, C.R.S. The language that an appraiser employee of a county assessor who is employed to appraise real property shall be licensed within two years of employment has been moved from § 12-61-714(2), C.R.S., to § 12-61-719(2), C.R.S.

Conservation easement tax credit certificate rules have been moved from § 12-61-722 & § 12-61-723, C.R.S., to § 12-61-726 & § 12-61-727, C.R.S. Consequently references to these rules throughout the Colorado Revised Statutes had to be revised and are available in pages 52-60 of the bill.

Concerning the creation of a property tax reimbursement for a taxpayer that owes property tax on property that has been destroyed by a natural cause, and, in connection therewith, making and reducing appropriations.

This bill concerns real property improvements, taxable personal property listed on a single schedule, and, in very rare cases, site improvements and land. This property must have been destroyed by a natural cause during a tax year. The definition of "natural cause" for this statute is the same as that in § 39-1-102(8.4), C.R.S., and, the Division's proposed definition of "destroyed" is a total loss in value as opposed to a reduction in value.

Concerning payments that a nonprofit owner of a tax-exempt property may receive for reasonable expenses incurred without affecting the tax-exempt status of the property.

This bill amends § 39-3-116(2)(c), C.R.S., which permits exempt organizations to charge other exempt organizations “one dollar per year plus an equitable portion of the reasonable expenses incurred in the operation and maintenance of the property” for the use of the organization’s property. Previously depreciation (and, by rule, capital expenditures) was an expense expressly excluded from the amount the owner was allowed to charge. The new language expressly allows depreciation and capital expenses dedicated to refurbishing the property to be included when calculating allowable expenses. Also added as allowable were long-term maintenance expenses and “expenses incurred to allow the property to conserve energy, water, or other natural resources.”

Concerning the creation of an exemption from property taxes for qualifying business entities controlled by nonprofit organizations that are formed for the purpose of qualifying for federal tax credits.

This bill added § 39-3-127.5, C.R.S., which allows for the exemption of property owned by certain entities created to participate in federal income tax credit programs. Such an entity must have as its general partner or managing member an organization that would otherwise qualify for a religious, charitable or school tax exemption as determined by the Property Tax Administrator and it must have been formed for the purpose of obtaining federal tax credits and it must have obtained such credits.

This replaces parts of § 39-1-102(8.5), C.R.S., which was enacted in 2009 which allowed for exemption for groups involved in specific federal income tax credit programs. The new law is broader and would include those eligible under the previous statute.

The previous law also required eligible organizations to make a payment in lieu of taxes to offset the loss of certain school related taxes. That provision, as found in § 39-3-114.5, C.R.S., has been repealed.

Signed by Governor Hickenlooper May 17, 2014
Applies to tax years commencing on or after January 1, 2014.

HB 14-1371

Concerning property taxation of oil and gas leaseholds and lands, and, in connection therewith, specifying that the wellhead is the point of valuation and taxation for such leaseholds and lands.

The bill amends § 39-7-101(1), C.R.S., by clarifying that the point of taxation is the same as the point of valuation which is the location of the wellhead. Additionally, the bill amends § 39-7-107(1), C.R.S., to specify that any oil or gas that appears to be in more than one county is assigned to the county in which the wellhead is located. Production from wellheads in a group of contiguous lands or leaseholds that are operated as a unit and situated in more than one county, shall be assigned to each wellhead based on the portion of the production value as assigned in the unit agreement. A copy of the statement is required to be sent to each county assessor when the wellheads are located in more than one county.
